THE TEXT BOOK APPROPRIATION.

The five million dollars appropriation now being paid by State Treasurer Morrison to the several common school districts of the state upon warrants issued by Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer are for the year ending the first Monday of June, 1893. At the last session of the legislature this amount was increased to $5,500,000. The general impression seems to have been made by this act of the general assembly that a portion of the appropriation for the support of the common schools was specially set apart by the legislature for the purpose of purchasing text books, supplies, etc. On account of this misunderstanding frequent inquiries have been received at the department of public instruction from school directors and others interested, asking for information on the subject. These have all been answered to the effect that no part of the appropriation was specifically appropriated for such purpose. The increased appropriation will not be available until the close of the current school year, ending the first Monday of June, 1894, the whole amount of which is to be paid for the support of the public schools in the several districts are to be used as the funds raised in the several districts by local taxation for school purposes.—Harrisburg Patriot.

The impression is growing in Washington that congress will adjourn by the middle of September.

The Farmers' Encampment at Mt. Gretna is now in full operation and the number in attendance is large.

Silver Compromise Knocked Out.

The scheme to compromise the issue between full value money and a depreciated currency by adopting a ratio of 20 to 1 has been knocked in the head by Secretary Carlisle's letter to Senator Voorhees. The commercial ratio is at present about 25 to 1; the coinage ratio is 16 to 1, but so far the government has maintained the silver dollars at a par with gold by standing ready to redeem them at their face value in gold. They are treated as treasury notes, and their intrinsic value does not enter into their currency valuation any more than does the value of the paper on which a greenback is printed enter into its value as money.

The number of silver dollars coined since 1878 aggregates 419,332,450. The change of ratio will necessitate the recoinage of this vast stock. Secretary Carlisle estimates that the cost will amount to $112,866,321, and moreover the process will require a long time, during which period the silver coinage at the present ratio will be going out of circulation, contracting the amount of currency in the country. At present the silver dollars received by the government in payment of public dues may be paid out again. If a change of ratio is made the receipts of silver dollars will constitute just so much added to the great stock of bullion in the treasury vaults, and new dollars can be gotten into circulation only as fast as the mint can coin them.

An empty tin can always makes more racket than a full one.

To evince jealousy and a disposition to a harmful tongue betrays the brute.

The fellow who is continual and loudest with blabber in a crowd is the one with least wisdom and the one most necessary to be watched.

The Great Crank Reservation.

Kansas is so multifariously and compoundedly crazy, that we look with suspicion upon assertions which represent her as manifesting new forms of madness. She has run the gauntlet of Bedlam and eaten all the insane roots of the Alliance. All probabilities of alienism indicate that Kansas should now pass through a little interlude of sanity, and so add the one wanting touch of novelty to her straightjacket record. We are reluctant to believe, therefore, that her state officers, although all Populists beyond the hellebore cure, have signed a petition to the Governor of Missouri begging him to call a convention of the Governors of the states west of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio, for the purpose of "arranging for such trade relations as may render this section free of dependence upon the eastern section of the United States in business affairs." A despatch from Topeka intimates that the Populist leaders are talking political, and not merely commercial, secession, and quotes a Populist editor who calls upon his brother cranks to "rise in defense of homes, wives, and children, annihilate the wreckers, save our homes, protect our loved ones, turn back the tide of despotism." All of which shows that now is the time to subscribe. Thus the inmates of the great crankery called Kansas continue to seethe. The Secretary of state sits in his office full of thoughts that smell of brimstone and saltpetre and small coal, and the great Governor, Loraine Lewelling, reads in the lines of his horny hands that he may yet be the boss of a Southwestern republic, a land of plenty and Populists, where pecks become bushels by act of the Legislature and the sun rises in the west, deserting the monarchical and monopolistic East.

If Governor Stone calls the convention, we hope he will choose for its site some city that rejoices in an abattoir. Governor Hector Waite of Colorado has a horse bridge to color.

There may be many states that would be glad to secede from Kansas, but the desire of Kansas to secede cannot be gratified. The United States needs Kansas for a Crank Reservation.—N. Y. Sun.

Prof. Goldwin Smith, in an article in the "Nineteenth Century," has the following in reference to Mr. Cleveland:

Mr. Cleveland is the most powerful president since Lincoln.

I have spoken of Mr. Cleveland's exceptional power. There seems to be a personal interest about him, such as there has not been about any of his predecessors since Lincoln. All his doings and sayings, however trifling, are recorded with the minuteness of a court journal. The sentiment extends to his family, and one is almost reminded of the feeling toward royal families in monarchical countries. Miniature likenesses of the baby Ruth, Cleveland's little daughter, were being sold in the streets of Washington. The nation wants reform. It feels that of late it has been going astray. It desires to be led back into the right path, and believing Mr. Cleveland to be strong and patriotic, it is disposed to give him a free hand.

The Senate Safe on Silver.

Senator Quay, who is one of the most careful calculators in the Senate, now says that the unconditional repeal of the part of the Sherman silver law requiring the purchase of silver, will be passed by the Senate. Senator Quay expects a hard battle in the Senate and some delay, but he is now entirely confident that repeal will pass without any condition for free silver coinage on any basis.

Mr. Quay will stand squarely by the President for a sound financial policy, and leave party issues to be met when the money issue is settled.

The Harrisburg Patriot has been exposing the police force of that town for taking illegal fees. The entire force has been obliged to resign in consequence, and likely will be made to disgorge the boodle, which would be right. It is the duty of a public journal to watch the local government and expose the wrongdoing of officials. There are other localities where local officers violate the law and their oaths and frequently have been hauled up before court for it and fined, removed and imprisoned.

Hard times and low wages, says the Philad. Press, are made the excuse for laziness by hosts of tramps, like those who refuse to work in the Northwest. The like kind are in our streets, where the paving contracts now running will give any man a job and wages who chooses to work for it. There is absolutely no excuse for giving a penny to any beggar.

A strange mania for self-destruction is seizing many victims almost daily in both London and Paris and every issue of the papers contains columns about this sudden epidemic. The peculiar feature of the craze is that most of the victims are men and women under 30, who end their lives without any discoverable causes of the ordinary sort. Several boys of from 15 to 18, happily situated within their own families without any signs of despondency destroyed themselves last week.

Senator Voorhees has deserted the silverites; he always heretofore advocated the silver cause. He spoke in the senate on Tuesday giving his reasons for the change.

George Benner is about to put up a wagon scale near his store at the station for the purpose of opening a coal yard.

Widow Ulrich, an aged lady living near the Red mill, is seriously ill.

THE MEN in Colorado and elsewhere, says the Altona Tribune, Rep., who are hanging President Cleveland in effigy were all his supporters last November, either directly or indirectly, and yet there has been no change in his views on financial questions. Before his nomination he boldly declared himself opposed to free coinage and that fact contributed powerfully to his election. Possibly, the silver advocates imagined they could bulldoze Mr. Cleveland into supporting their wild schemes, but we imagine they are mistaken in their man.

There is great concern in some quarters for the interests of the silver kings, who are more than three millionaires, and they can take care of themselves. The farmer and the laborer need caring for.

The farmers are suffering; The laboring men are suffering; And the silver kings are on top of the pile reveling in luxury. This as plain as the REPORTER can state the case.

Gov. Tillman's South Carolina liquor law has again been pronounced unconstitutional.

Too Wretched.

Some of the board walks in town are wretched even where our respected borough officials pass over. Our borough government seems to be unbalanced—too loose at one end and too tight at the other. By a little less fussiness and more practical ideas of duty things would move with every cog right. We again put in a plea for uniform action on the matter of board walks and "no discrimination on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude." The REPORTER has done a heap for the interests and upbuilding of the town and win for it a reputation, and naturally feels like having it go right along in the same groove.

Clinton County's Democratic Ticket.

The county Democratic convention on Tuesday nominated the following county officers: Sheriff, D. I. McNaull; prothonotary, J. K. Heckman county treasurer, J. A. Wensel; commissioners, John S. Baily and James P. Roach; auditors, W. A. Riesel and S. F. Walker; coroner, Dr. J. H. McGinness. W. H. Mayer was elected county chairman. The delegates to the state convention are A. Moyer, Logantown; J. E. Martin, Lock Haven; J. W. Smith, Renova.

Farewell Services.

Rev. Fischer will deliver his farewell sermon in the Lutheran church at Tusseyville on next Sabbath morning at ten o'clock. His last regular service at Centre Hall will be held on Sunday afternoon next, at 2.30 o'clock. These services will be the last held at Centre Hall by Rev. Fischer, who will sever his connection with the Centre Hall charge after an eighteen years' pastorate. On September 1st, he will depart for Shamokin, where he has accepted a call from the Trinity Lutheran church of that place.

Marriage Licenses.

The following is a list of marriage licenses granted the past week: Edward J. Eckenroth, of Bellefonte, and Carrie M. Austin, of Boggs township. William H. Houtz and Mary C. Fishel, of Lemont. W. M. Sauer and Mary E. Biddle, of State College. Samuel L. Irwin and Ida Moran, of Unionville.

Brought From Kentucky.

A couple days ago Boozer Bros. being in need of a new team of horses, Henry went down to Kentucky, where he purchased a fine team of bays and had them shipped to Centre Hall for use in the livery. The Bourbon steed is a fine breeding ground for stock, and Hen. seems to have struck some of it.

Berks for Hastings.

The Berks county Republican Committee met at Reading on Saturday and September 2 as the day for holding the county primaries. The convention will meet one week later. It was intended to indorse General Hastings for Governor, but action was postponed until the convention shall meet.

Rain Has Come.

We have rain at last, it set in last night, and to-day it looks as if it would continue. Everybody welcomes it, and hopes it will continue a couple of days. Never was rain more welcome, and no doubt Providence sent it at the right time.
