THE TARIFF AND PRICE OF WOOL.

It is argued by protectionists that free wool will ruin the wool industry in the United States and that farmers will suffer loss upon their sheep and wool.

If you will consult the census reports you will find the number of sheep has fallen off during the years of the high tariff on wool—protection did not help sheep raising.

OUR Republican friends can prepare for an awful calamity; the Wilson tariff bill will pass the house this week.

An examination of the prices of wool at Boston the controlling market of the United States, will show that the best average prices were obtained when wool was practically free of duty.

These were the best prices ever known in the United States, and wool was then virtually on the free list.

Under our high McKinley tariff today, wool is eighteen cents per lb.

The prosperity boom is on the increase, and the recent depression is turning into a resumption of mills and factories everywhere.

The house, on Monday, agreed to amendments putting both refined and raw sugar on the free list.

THE case of brutal treatment of the 10 year old boy in the Harmon family at Pleasant Gap, exceeds any thing for fiendishness in central Penn'a.

TALMAGE having resigned, ministers out of a pulpit, can apply to the Brooklyn Tabernacle people.

THE contributions to the Papal treasury, called Peter's Pence, have been falling off for some time, as per intelligence from Rome.

Mark Halfpenny, of Lewisburg, ran off with another man's wife.
