EXCITING RUNAWAY.

David Kerr's Horse Creates a Little Excitement.

Last Thursday afternoon Mr. David Kerr, of Centre Hill, came to town and hitched his horse in front of the bank, and proceeded about his business. In some manner Jerry Miller's barber pole was thrown down, which frightened the horse and it stripped its bridle and whirling around made a bee line for its home. The horse and buggy passed the REPORTER office at a gait which would have won the suburban handicap, and continued until opposite Harper & Kreamer's store, when the horse modestly concluded to take the alley for the remainder of the trip, owing to the publicity, it was causing upon the streets, and turned to take the back street at Mrs. Dinges' residence. The turn was too sharp and the horse struck the curbing falling on its side against the fence, which went down, and the horse regained his feet again. Not content with going through the fence he concluded to take two or three steps more and landed up on the porch.

Here he stopped; his race was run, and he was meekly led down the three steps to the street again. The buggy stayed in the game with the horse until it was called down off the porch, and was not broken except the shafts. The occupants at Dinges' homestead were considerably frightened by the horse landing upon the porch. The horse was not injured, and Mr. Kerr soon had the damages repaired and proceeded on his way home.

Furst vs. the Associates.

It seems that the long disputed armor will case is not yet settled, and that it is likely to prove a long drawn out case of litigation by a game of see-saw being played by the President Judge and the two Associate Judges of Centre county, both sides endeavoring to see which has the most substantial authority to back up their various and numerous, as well as voluminous, opinions and decrees. On last Friday the associates again filed a long opinion and decree on the case, overruling and setting aside the last decree of Judge Furst and ordering that the verdict as found by the jury should stand and that judgment in accordance therewith be entered in favor of the heirs. Believing this to be right, Register Rumberger revoked the letters testamentary granted to D. M. Butts, and issued others to Monroe Armor and his sister, Mrs. Amanda Miller as the rightful executor and executrix of the estate. And so the case now stands; but it is not likely it will be allowed to rest at this.—Daily News.

The Gazette No More.

The Bellefonte "Daily Gazette" has ceased to exist, the sheriff's hammer having come down upon it. Perhaps unpaid subscription bills have brot editor Fiedler to this pinch, for he put out an interesting daily. J. M. Dale, esq., purchased the establishment in the interest of his clients and will continue the "Weekly Gazette." Jack has snap and vim sufficient to make a score of bumble-see nests hum, and will be able to make the paper readable, no doubt.

Would Like to Send Us a Horse.

C. F. Tressler, of Kansas, seems to have a surplus of horses, and almost threatens to send us one to pay on Reporter. If our esteemed patron concludes upon doing this, let it be an animal that will cover a mile in 2:20; also send some oats and corn for feeding the steed, and have freight charges prepaid. A silver mounted harness might be added to the shipment.

March Approaching.

March came in like a lamb, but if the weather prophets' predictions are fulfilled it will go out like a lion, which will not be very cheering prospects to those contemplating a change of residence. The entrance of March gives notice that the last of winter is now upon us, as spring is calendared to open about the 21st inst.

DOING WELL.

The Self-Inflicted Wounds Rapidly Healing.

Elias Smith, who made an attempt at suicide last week by cutting his throat with a razor, in the yard of Philip Flory, his wife's grandfather, up in Black Hawk, is on a fair way to recovery at present, and his wounds are rapidly healing. About fifteen stitches were required to sew up the gash he made with a razor. On Saturday evening, while he was pulling on a boot he in some manner broke four or five stitches, and the wound began to flow freely again. Dr. Emerick was summoned and succeeded in stopping the flow of blood. Smith has lost a large lot of blood but he is of a rugged and healthy build, and will pull through all right, if hemorrhages can be prevented.

Did Up the Captain.

Last Sunday two young men passed through the toll-gate on the other side of the station, which is presided over by Captain Snyder. They did not pay tribute to his honor, but on their return the captain had the bars down, and there was no jumpin' that gate. Words ensued and one of them crawled down, and proceeded to jump the captain instead, and do what many a man has ached to do on a cold, blistering day when he must dig down in his pocket, displace all wrappings, to find his change in another pocket, in order to accommodate the captain with the permanent loan of a dime or so, and then waste at least $1.35 worth of profanity on the "d—n toll-gates." When the young fellow came near the captain, who carried a club, he was smote on the cranium, and he fell down, but he soon got up and proceeded to thump the captain before the club got in its work again, and soon had the captain rolling in the mud and howling enough for that time. The bar was then raised and no toll was paid that trip. Snyder has several bruises and could not recognize either of the young men.

A Pastor's Work.

Rev. C. W. Finkbinder concluded his pastorate of three years on the Evangelical charge here on last Sunday, and left for conference on Tuesday, says the Millheim Journal. In that time he preached 602 sermons, officiated at 40 funerals, baptized 69 children and 17 adults, and solemnized 35 marriages. 153 professed conversion, and 136 persons were received into church fellowship. Over $396 were contributed to the Missionary cause, while the other benevolent collections have also been commendable. Rev. Finkbinder leaves the charge in an excellent financial and spiritual condition.

Shipped It Back.

The new bell recently placed on the Presbyterian church did not meet with the approval of the congregation, and about a week ago it was removed from the belfry and returned to the foundry at Cleveland. The bell was purchased on trial conditions, and did not come up to the mark. Another will be purchased as soon as possible, which will be larger and with more volume.

Fine Weather.

The weather, thus far, this month, has not been altogether according to the prophecies of St. Hix. It has been delightful overhead and mild. Under such weather it will not be long until vegetation begins to start up and the fields turn to a beautiful green and the buds begin to smile on trees and bushes, but—March may go out like a lion yet.

Dedication—Over $10,000 Raised.

On Sunday, 25 ult., the Methodists of Millifflinburg had a red-letter day in the dedication of their handsome new church. The cost of the edifice was $10,500. On the occasion there were $3,101.10 raised which wiped out the indebtedness. The style of the church resembles that of the Centre Hall Lutheran church.

SPECKLED TROUT.

Only a few Weeks Until the Season Will Open for Anglers.

Only a few weeks remain until the opening of the trout season. It is morally certain that long before that time hundreds of trout will have been captured contrary to law. This section contains a number of trout streams and they should be looked after, and violators of the law prosecuted to the full extent of that law. The penalty for catching trout out of season is severe. The act of 1885 the last legislation on the point, reads as follows.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to catch, kill, or expose to sale, or have in his or her possession after the same has been caught or killed, any speckled trout, save only from the 15th day of April to the 15th day of July, under a penalty of $10 for each trout so killed or had in possession, but this act shall not prevent any person from catching trout in nets in waters owned by himself to stock other waters." Half the penalty goes to the informer.

What is in Store for Us.

W. T. Foster, the western weather prophet, makes these predictions: "One of the severest storm periods of recent years will prevail over the United States and Canada from March 7 to April 13. In many parts of the country unusually heavy rains, or snow, will fall and floods may be expected. Seven principal low-barometers or storm centers will cross the continent within that period, moving eastward. Tornadoes may be expected in those parts frequented by these destroyers. Temperature will go to great extremes and frosts will damage early crops far southward. Electric storms will precede and cold waves follow some of these blows. Those crossing the continent from March 7 to 11, 12 to 24, 25 to 28 and April 4 to 8, should be carefully watched."

Dogs Running Deer.

Tuesday Dr. Riter showed us the foot of a deer which had been killed near Huyet's saw mill, near Linden Hall, by dogs running it down. He said he saw a terrible racket and saw a deer breaking through the brush with a pack of dogs after, and it soon dropped. By the time he got to the deer the dogs had torn its throat and the flesh from the side and it was dead. Deer are still to be found on the mountains, but they will not remain very long if the dogs are allowed to exterminate them. A dog in pursuit of a deer should be killed, as the law calls for.

Registration Law.

On Thursday, March 1, a new law relative to the state board of medical examiners went into effect. Section 14 of the act provides that from and after the first day of March, 1894, no person shall enter upon the practice of medicine or surgery in the state unless he or she has complied with the provisions of the act and shall exhibit to the prothonotary in the county in which he or she desires to practice medicine or surgery a license duly granted by the state board. After exhibiting the license and upon payment of one dollar the applicant shall be registered.

A Good Shampoo.

For shampooing the hair nothing is better than plenty of tar soap and hot water. It is better than castile even and makes a fine soft lather. A little borax or a tablespoonful of ammonia in the water is also good for oily hair, but too much of either turns the hair gray.

A New Trial Refused.

On Tuesday Judge McPherson, of Harrisburg, filed his opinion on the motion for a new trial of the case of Geo. W. Jackson versus the Nittany Valley railroad company, which was argued before him while in attendance at the January term in this county. The case was to recover damages from the railroad company for right of way through plaintiff's ore operations on the Barnhart property, three miles east of this place. It being claimed that the bed of the railroad was laid over valuable iron ore deposits, making them a total loss. A board of viewers gave Mr. Jackson damages to the amount of $4,000, but the railroad appealed from their finding and the court, at the January term, laid aside the finding of the commission and would allow no damages. Mr. Jackson's attorneys then moved for a new trial, and the argument was made before Judge McPherson. He reserved his opinion until Tuesday, when it was rendered and refused a new trial of the case.

Smallpox Dying Out.

The Tyrone Herald says: It is reasonably believed that the smallpox has been effectually stayed and that there is little further danger of an epidemic here. No new cases have appeared at Tyrone Forges for nearly three weeks, and the afflicted ones there are all rapidly recovering. The inspectors and physicians have agreed that it will be perfectly safe to lift the quarantine partially on Monday, and after that day the restrictions will be taken from the Tyrone forge district, except the houses in which the disease is still present. Families in which smallpox has been prevailing will still be under quarantine for some time.

The Small Boy's Description.

A small boy got off the following composition a few days ago: "A schoolmarm is a verb because she denotes action when you throw paper wads at the girls. Switch is a conjunction and is used to connect the verb schoolmarm and the noun boy. This is a compound sentence of which boy is the subject and switch the object. First a person, plural number and awful case. A schoolmarm's different from a boy; a boy wears pants and a schoolmarm wears her hair all banged on her forehead. Ma says a schoolmarm never gets older than 18 before she gets married."

Same in Both Cases.

"Why don't you publish a paper like that?" said a merchant, throwing down a copy of a city daily. "Why don't you advertise like that?" said the publisher of the country paper as he turned to a full page advertisement that brought the publisher of the city paper $50 per issue, and the merchant went home, prepared to saw wood and take anything the publisher saw fit to give him.
