TWO-LEGGED DOGS.

An Entire Family of the Quecrest Ca-

Just think of a collection of five dogs, each canine possessing only two legs, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. That is the remarkable possession of C. W. Zinn, a switchman in the employ of the C., H. and D. Railroad Company. Mary and John, the head of the family, were ushered into the world two years ago minus their front legs. Handicapped as they are most dogs would lie down and grieve themselves to death. But Mary and John didn't do anything of the sort. When but a few weeks old they displayed wonderful agility, and it was not long before they proved themselves equal to the emergency which nature had forced upon them. They soon learned to stand erect and hop along as easily as their more fortunate four-footed companions would. Last July Mary become a mother. and her offspring proved to be also of the "walk-standing" variety. This puppy was named Colonel, the details of whose birth were printed in the Enquirer at that time. The Colonel became quite famous, and hundre's of visitors went to his kennel to & the youngster and his biped parents. He grew to be quite a husky youth, but departed his two-legged life on the 31st of last December in a fit of

Mr. Zinn felt his loss keenly, but last Sunday his grief gave way to joy, for Mrs. Mary, like the good mother that she is, presented her master with three puppies, two males and a female, each one having only two legs. They have been named Pat, Dan and Bridget. Pat is a brindle, the exact counterpart of his father, John, while Bridget is a pocket edition of her mother. Dan is a sort of composite of the parents-neutral, as it were, in color.

The news of the youngsters' arrival has caused considerable interest in Cumminsville in the neighborhood of Mr. Zinn's home, and hundreds of people called Sunday and Monday to see the curious little animals.

The parents of the queer little family are brother and sister. John is a brindle, and Mary's hair is a delicate shade of yellow. They are quite small. Their mode of locomotion is remarkably graceful, and from all appearances Mary and John are never inconvenienced through being "short" in the matter of legs.

MONTANA HAS AN ICE MINE.

Prospectors Using It as a Refrigerator and Ment Safe.

An "ice mine" is reported from New York Gulch, Meagher County, Montana. In early days the gulch turned out $2,000,000 worth of gold, but of late years it has been nearly deserted. Last summer, says the Northwest Magazine, two prospectors uncovered the mouth of an old shaft and glanced curiously down it. They saw the ice, which reached up to within four feet and eight inches of the surface. They considered it curious, and thought what a good place it would be to ke their meat, butter and other food from spoiling while they were working in the neighborhood. They lowered their provender into the ice ally they told of their find to other miners, with the result that for a radius of three or four miles around the miners came to the ice shaft, lowered the beef and other provisions into the mine, putting their tag on it, and hoisting the rope from time to time as provisions were needed. It is a godsend to the miners, as it enables them to keep meat fresh in the very hottest weather. The miners are unable to give any solution of this strange phenomenon. The formation of the guich is shale, reddish in color and full of fissures. It is supposed that gusts of air from a cold cave may have underground connections with the shaft, and rapid evaporation near the top may explain the continued formation of ice there as it is cut away.

Queer Facts and Thrilling Adventures Which Show that Truth is Stranger

Than Fiction "ONE of the best pieces of detective work I ever saw," said James C. Sutter, of San Francisco, "was done by a private detective of little or no reputation at the time in our city. His planning involved some little expense and seemed so far-fetched that he had some difficulty in persuading the proprietor to adopt the idea. He had his own way at last, and then, when everything was ready, he arranged to have a little more silverware than usual scattered around and made his observations. He caught three men on the first day, but rightly supposing the work was being done by a gang, who were doubtless operating other houses, he had the three shadowed and continued his observations the following day. He finally captured seven, and traced their operations to nearly every hotel and restaurant in the city. He has never made public the exact secret of his angles in the looking-glasses, but has popularized himself so much

If a baking powder is not uniform in strength, so that the same quantity will always do the same work, no one can know how to use it, and uniformly good, light food cannot be produced with it.

All baking powders except Royal, because improperly compounded and made from inferior materials, lose their strength quickly when the can is opened for use. At subsequent bakings there will be noticed a falling off in strength. The food is heavy, and the flour, eggs and butter wasted.

It is always the case that the consumer suffers in pocket, if not in health, by accepting any substitute for the Royal Baking Powder. The Royal is the embodiment of all the excellence that it is possible to attain in an absolutely pure powder. It is always strictly reliable. It is not only more economical because of its greater strength, but will retain its full leavening power, which no other powder will, until used, and make more wholesome food.

His Destructive Bump.

It isn't often that you see such a high development of destructiveness in a man as I observed while on a Fitchburg train the other day. The man was about 40, well-dressed, with clipped mustache. When he had finished reading a letter he had in his hand he tore it into small pieces. That was all right. But he to k a newspaper out of his pocket and tore that up, too, spreading the fragments over the car floor. When he came to his last cigarette be tore the box up with a vicious movement. Mr. Prosser's usefulness, was, for a long time, greatly time peired by a distressing, obstinate disease. How his malady was finally conquered we will let him tell in his own language. He says: "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia, and I had suffered so long that I was a wreck; life was rendered undesirable and it seemed death was near; but I came in contact with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his 'Pleasant Felleta'. I took twelve bottles of 'Discovery,' and several bottles of the 'Pellets,' and followed the hygenic advice of Dr. Pierce, and I am happy to say it was indeed a cure, for life is worth living now."

For dyspepsia, or indigestion, "liver complaint," or torpid liver, stomach and bowels, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it. It has a specific tonic effect upon the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels. As an invigorating, restorative tonic it gives strength to the whole system and builds up solid flesh to the healthy standard, when reduced by "wasting diseases."

Mr. J. F. Hudson, a prominent lawyer of Whitcherville, Sebastian Co., Ark, writes: "Having suffered severely, for a long time, from a torpid liver, indigestion, constipation, nervousess and general debility, and finding no relief in my efforts to regain my health, I was induced to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' Under this treatment, I improved very much and in a few months was able to attend to my professional duties."
