

A SAD AFFAIR.

Two Children Drowned in the Lake Near Black Bear Switch.

One of the saddest affairs that has happened in this neighborhood for some time occurred last evening about seven o'clock, says the Phillipsburg Daily Journal of Tuesday. David Raybould, an Englishman, who came to this country about eight years ago, has for some time lived with his wife and five children in North Phillipsburg, where he owns a little home. Yesterday the mother walked over the hill to Empire Mines to see a friend. In the evening three of the children started to meet their mother. When they reached Black Bear switch their attention was drawn to some water lilies in the lake near by. Albert, aged six years, walked down to the edge of the lake to gather some of the lilies, and reaching after one lost his balance and fell into the water. Alice, aged eight years, attempted to rescue her brother and was pulled into the water and both were drowned before help could be secured. The little four-year-old sister, who stood on the railroad adjoining, taking in the situation, hurriedly ran home to tell what had happened. It was not long until a number of persons reached the lake, and after considerable searching the bodies were found, cold in death, embraced in each others arms. We visited the Raybould home this morning and found the parents overwhelmed with grief as a result of this sad calamity. They were bright, interesting children, and the circumstances attending their death makes the occurrence very sad indeed, and we are sure that the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrow stricken family.

HECKART-TIBBENS.

Miss Carrie Tibbens and Mr. B. F. Heckart United in Marriage.

At the residence of Mrs. Anna Tibbens, in Gregg township, on Wednesday, the 8th inst., her daughter Carrie was united in marriage to Mr. B. F. Heckart, of Morgantown, Pa. At precisely eleven o'clock the minister, Rev. S. H. Eisenberg, gave the signal to the organist, Miss Ida, sister of the bride, and to the music of a lovely march, the contracting parties entered the parlor, where were assembled the intimate friends of the family. Part of the service consisted of the ring ceremony. After the service an ample collation was enjoyed by all. The afternoon was spent in social pleasures.

A True Picture.

Under the heading "Stop my paper" an exchange says that is about the way a newspaper man is greeted every now and then by an irate individual whose corns have been accidentally trodden by an article he read in the paper, and his resultant rage causes him to rush to the editorial sanctum, or if the editor is a big man, he sends a postal card, ordering immediate discontinuance of his paper. Then he feels better, takes a drink and subscribes for the opposition sheet. There is, however, a dark lining to his silver cloud. The editor did not beg him to reconsider his determination, did not turn pale or faint. He simply called out to his subscription agent to scratch that man's name off his list of subscribers, and then he again resumed his work on an editorial giving advice to Cleveland as to how he should conduct his administration. All this strikes the outraged subscriber as curious, but he goes home firmly imbued with the idea that something awful is going to happen that bold rash editor because he discontinued his paper. To his amazement and anger the paper appears again next issue with its accustomed regularity and there is not a line to denote the editor is laboring under a stress of mental anguish because a copy of the paper has been ordered stopped. The paper goes on in the calm, even tenor of its way; it does not have a receiver appointed and does not go into bankruptcy; the editor does not commit suicide; the sun continues to shine, and the disappointed ex-subscriber, after waiting a little while longer for chaos to set in, hurries back to the office and has his name placed once more on the subscription roll. Then he feels that a load has been removed from his conscience.

Decision Under the Sheep Law.

Miles Query, of Cass township, Huntingdon county, notified the township Justice in April of the present year that he had some sheep killed by dogs in June 1893. The auditors assessed the damages at $21 which the county commissioners refused to pay, alleging that Mr. Query should have promptly notified the Justice of his loss, instead of waiting ten months. The Court was then asked for a mandamus to compel payment of the damages, but Judge Bell, of Blair county, before whom the case was tried, refused the mandamus on the ground that where a statute does not limit the time for a thing to be done it must be done within a reasonable time, and that the spirit of the sheep law of 1893 required prompt notice of injury to sheep by dogs to enable the owner to recover damages.

WHAT IS PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Decision Given By the Courts of This State in Regard to Personal Property.

According to the highest authorities and decisions, personal property in Pennsylvania is classed under three heads—property of a purely personal character called "goods and chattels;" property which savors reality called "chattels real," which are called "rights and credits." As it is often difficult to determine whether things found on the premises in case of death are real or personal estate, it is interesting to know just what the courts in this state have decided are personal property. They are: "Purchase money due on a contract for the sale of land, renewable leases and good will of a place of business, the interest of a lessee in an unexpired term, standing timber bought with the intent of immediate removal, fallen timbers, gas fixtures, chandeliers and gas pipes attached to a residence, machinery set up with the understanding that it may be removed, growing crops with reserve at an orphan's court sale, the way-going crop of a farm tenant, growing crops on devised lands, vested legacies and distributive shares due the decedent, land devised to be sold without limitation, rents accruing on a perpetual lease for minerals in the land, the periodical interest coming to a widow on a recognition in partition the income due a tenant for life or for the life of another and arrears of ground rent." There are, of course, many other things, but this case will indicate that "personal property" means more than many people think it means, and is rather a broad and comprehensive term.—Philadelphia Times.

AARONSBURG.

Death of Solomon Winkleblech, a Soldier of the Late War.

The daughters of Maj. Forster, Lizzie and Maude, of Harrisburg, are visiting Mrs. Francis J. Forster. Miss Anna Mingle and her cousin, Miss Bessie Hoy, are visiting at Mr. Yearicks. The bush meeting which was to have been held in Wetzel's grove, east of town has been postponed until later in the month. Solomon Winkleblech, a soldier of the late war died on the 7th inst. He had been in bad health for more than a year, and was one of Uncle Sam's pensioners. He was aged about 70 years. John Bollinger and his sister Mary started for Rock Springs on Tuesday morning, expecting to be away about three weeks. Miss Mary will teach the intermediate school in town during the coming term. Jacob Reed rented his farm now tenanted by Mr. S. Winkleblech to Maj. Absolom Harter, one of the most industrious farmers in the township. Mr. Horace Herring was running lines for different parties in this township, and laying out additional lots in the Reformed cemetery on Tuesday. Since the illness of Squire Relfsnyder Mr. Herring is our nearest surveyor and from appearances is kept very busy.

FOSTER'S LATEST BULLETIN.

His Forecast for the Coming Week.—A Variety of Weather.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from August 4 to 8, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 9th, cross the western mountains by close of 10th, the great central valleys from 11th to 13th, and the eastern states about the 14th. While a general deficiency of rain is expected in August this storm wave and the one following will give a few showers of small extent. During drouth periods the storm waves cross the country so far north that their effects are only seen in the high temperature waves. The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 9th, the great central valleys about the 11th and the eastern states about the 13th. The cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 12th, the great central valleys about the 14th and the eastern states about the 16th. The drouth will do most damage during the first and last weeks in August, and more rain will fall during the ten days, 11th to 20th inclusive.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled. The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit. When I saw an advertisement of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine with similar results in my case as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.
