Special.

It is seldom that the trade that seeks Bellefonte markets has the advantage of such a mark down sale as Lyon & Co. are advertising in another column on this page. It will pay you to look it up.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Dr. McGeehon departed last week on a visit to friends at Pittsburg.

Dr. Kohler and Harry Camp, of Milroy, were in town a day or so this week.

Commissioner George L. Goodhart was circulating about town Wednesday.

Squire M. L. Rishell, of Farmers Mills, transacted business in town on Monday.

Ex-Commissioner John Wolf and family, of Miles township, attended the Heckman-Kreamer wedding yesterday.

Mrs. R. B. Spangler arrived last week from Hastings, Pa., on a visit to her father-in-law, John Spangler, on Church street.

Insurance agent Wm. Grauer, of Bellefonte, has been booming his business in Centre Hall several days of this week.

Miss Helen Bartholamew, who has been spending her vacation with her parents, returned last week to Millersville State Normal.

Mr. M. B. Duck, of Spring Mills, favored the REPORTER with a call a few days ago, and reports everything in good shape in his vicinity.

Jer. P. Heckman and J. D. Gentz, of Georges valley attended the annual meeting of the Lutheran charge the other day, and gave the REPORTER a call.

Will Stiver, of Potters Mills, and Capt. G. M. Boal, of near this place, were among those who went to Pittsburg to attend the G. A. R. Encampment.

Mr. John S. Auman, the manufacturer of the excellent flour at the Linden Hall roller mills, made a business trip to Centre Hall on Tuesday, and favored the office with a call.

Sumner Hosterman left yesterday morning for Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, where he enters the Freshman class to take a full collegiate course.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Lindley, of Winnebago, Ill., arrived last week on a visit to her brother, B. D. Briablin, and other friends in the east. They will remain until after the picnic before returning.

Lowell Meyer came home last week from Williamsport, where he underwent treatment in the hospital for a peculiarly affected left wrist. The treatment did him much good and he expects to soon recover the use of his arm.

James Coldren arrived home on Saturday last. He uses crutches, of course, but expects soon to have a cork leg in place of the crutches. His leg was amputated, as we noted at the time, as the result of a fracture at Hastings, about a year ago.

HYMENEAL

A LARGELY ATTENDED AND HAPPY WEDDING.

Mr. Samuel Heckman, of Lock Haven, and Miss Jennie Kreamer United in Marriage.

In response to invitations issued the residence of Mr. H. W. Kreamer was filled with happy guests yesterday at which time a most delightful event transpired. It was the giving away of his daughter, Jennie M., to Mr. Samuel Heckman, of Lock Haven.

At 12 o'clock, noon, to the strains of music beautifully rendered by Miss Mame Kreamer, of Boalsburg, cousin of the bride, Mr. Allen Groover, of Lock Haven and Miss Tracy Kreamer, sister of the bride, entered the room and were immediately followed by the bride and groom who took their places and the ceremony was performed by Rev. S. H. Eisenberg, of the Reformed church. The bride was attired in a traveling suit of green, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The room was handsomely decorated with fern and golden rod.

Immediately after the ceremony the guests, numbering about sixty, were seated around tables scattered through the rooms and bountifully served with the most tempting viands, of which all heartily partook.

The bride was the recipient of many costly and handsome presents which gave evidence of the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends.

The happy couple took the three o'clock train for Niagara, where they will remain about a week, after which they will return to Lock Haven, their future home.

The bride is one of Centre Hall's most charming and highly esteemed young ladies and will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends. The groom is one of Lock Haven's most intelligent and industrious young men, and holds a responsible position in the firm of VanDyke, Quigley & Kauffman.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. VanDyke, Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Heckman, father and mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heckman and Mr. and Mrs. John Heckman, and Mr. and Mrs. Bartges, all of Lock Haven, and Mrs. Carrie Barr, of Lewisburg.

The bride and groom have the best wishes of their many friends for their future happiness and prosperity.

Waste of Water.

Last week the quantity of water used in this place, would average five barrels per day for each family. Now as the actual need of each family would not be one barrel per day, on an average, it goes to show that there are four barrels of it wasted to one that is needed. This useless waste is caused somewhere by persons who should be more careful to prevent waste. That water at times is scarce here, is often owing to persons being careless about their hydrants than to a low stage of the water supply.

Quick Building.

Calvin G. Bottorf, foreman, got up a small barn for Colyer, at the railroad station in quick order. The frame for the barn was brought on the ground on Monday, 3d, and Monday of this week the barn was completed inside and out, and roofed; size of building, 18x50. Mr. Bottorf certainly made a quick and good job of it. Assisting him were Wm. Ishler and Howard Homan and son George.

Phillipsburg's Centennial.

It is a hundred years this fall since Phillipsburg was settled, and the Reliance Fire company of that place have taken the matter in hand and will celebrate the centennial anniversary in grand style. Preparations are being made for a grand celebration. The date is not yet fixed, but it will be about September 15.

Dropped Dead.

Philip Gramley, a well known resident of East Sugar Valley, Clinton county, fell over dead while in his yard last week. Apoplexy was the cause of death. He was over 65 years old and leaves a wife and three grown daughters.

Counterfeit Dollars.

Some cute fellows attended the New Castle fair last week purchasing many little trinkets in order to spend their money. The people there now find that there is at least several hundred counterfeit dollars circulating among them.

Got $500 Damages.

In a case tried in court last week, a citizen of Bellefonte, James Solt, was awarded $500 damages for injuries caused by a defective board walk. Centre Hall and other towns take notice.

New Goods.

I have received a nice lot of Fall Hats, Children's Caps, Children's Coats, etc. Come and see them; lowest prices. Mrs. C. B. BOOB.

THOMAS WILSON.

Died Suddenly, of Bright's Disease, on Tuesday at Noon.

Thomas Wilson, a soldier of the late war, died suddenly on Tuesday noon, at his home west of Centre Hall. After the war he entered the regular army, and leaving that he worked on Mr. Rhone's farm. He was a quiet and well behaved citizen, against whom not a word of complaint could be brought. He was of industrious habits and upright, and lived a christian life. Bright's disease was the cause of his death. At the veteran reunion, at Hunter's Park a few days ago, he was present with his comrades, apparently in his usual health. His age was about sixty years. He leaves a wife and a son to mourn his demise.

Making Things Straight.

The present borough council seems to be straightening out some of the blunders of earlier councils, which obstinately refused to do what duty required, foolishly thinking they would bring harm to the water company, the best institution in this town. They would not establish a street line, and ordered folks to put down walks without warrant of law, and built crossings to correspond. Now citizens are expected to change walks at useless expense, and the town is to foot bills for moving and changing crossings put down only three or four years ago. That's the wisdom of some of the statesmen in former councils; and the people pay for a double set of work. Attention was called to the blunders at the time, but obstinacy and spite ruled a few of our statesmen.

Yard fences have been built, walks built and trees planted—now all is to be done over again on a different line, all as a result of malignancy of three or four persons who have been off and on the council heretofore, and thus wasted at least a thousand dollars of the money of our people, because for sheer spite these officials, would not do what was right.

A Merited Custom.

It is seldom that one will find a larger stock than that in Fauble's clothing house, Bellefonte. The firm have enjoyed greatly increased patronage each year as evidence of their fair dealing with customers, and their success is well merited. Their method of doing business is fair and a dissatisfied customer never leaves the store, hence the prestige they possess. The stock they show is large and there is much from which to select. It is an unbroken custom with the firm to refund the money where satisfaction is not given and they are bound to please.

Would Kick Anyhow.

An exchange shoots the following at the kickers: "If there was an ice cold lemonade spring on every farm and every village garden, if bread grew on sunflower stalks and every blade of grass was tipped with a $10 gold coin, a certain class of cranks would kick because there were no sticks in the lemonade, no butter and preserves on the bread, and because the grass did not produce $25 instead of $10 cents on the blades."

Services by Rev. Reark.

Rev. Reark will preach in the congregations named as follows: At Union church, Oct. 7th, at 10 a. m. Georges Valley, afternoon, same date, at 2 p. m. Spring Mills, same day, evening at 7 p. m.

Rev. Reark will enter upon his duties in the Centre Hall charge, October 1st, and his family will move from Rebersburg to this place about the second week of October.

Another Bank Officer Gets It.

John M. Bowman, the aged and white-haired president of the wrecked Muncy bank, was tried and convicted on Monday, at Williamsport, of making fraudulent reports and statements to the comptroller of the currency. The case did not occupy over six hours for trial, and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty in twenty-one minutes after retiring.

Nominated for Congress.

Dr. D. G. Smith, of Freeburg, nominated for congress in the Union, Snyder, Huntingdon and Mifflin district, by the Democrats, is a son-in-law of farmer Wm. Heckman of this place, and a native of Penn Hall, and is as firm a Democrat as Mr. Heckman himself. Dr. Smith is a young man, but he stands well with the people.

Misinformation.

Prof. W. T. Meyer informs us that the profits of the Hecla Band Tournament were $485, and not $1000 as we were erroneously informed. Pretty good, too, which goes to the Bellefonte band's benefit.

Eclipse.

A partial eclipse of the moon will take place September 14, tomorrow, beginning at 9h. 36m. A total eclipse of the sun, invisible in America, will take place on Sept. 28.

A light summer suit from Lewins, Bellefonte, will do much keeping cool this hot weather.

WILLIAM REEDER'S THROAT CUT.

Was Killed by A. Winchester While Attempting to Act as Peacemaker.

Wednesday afternoon Lock Haven was thrown into a state of excitement over a sensational murder and the affair was the chief topic of conversation in that place.

About 5.30 o'clock a young man named A. Winchester, of Wayne Station, and Joseph Moore, of Lock Haven, became involved in a quarrel, while in the Opera House pool room. William Reeder, who was present, stepped in between the two, intending to act in the capacity of peacemaker. This interference as Winchester considered it so incensed the latter that he whipped out a dagger and cut Reeder's throat.

Reeder dropped to the floor, his death being almost instantaneous. Winchester turned on Moore and stabbed him in the back, side and arms; Moore fell unconscious to the floor. Intense excitement was created, as the scene of the murder is in the most prominent business section of that city, and in a few moments a large crowd gathered. Chief of Police Keller arrested Winchester and he was at once lodged in jail.

The body of Reeder was taken to his home. He was about thirty years of age and leaves a wife, but no children. He was a lineman and was in the employ of the electric light company in Lock Haven. Those who knew him say he was whole souled and honorable and his many friends regret his violent death.

Joseph Moore was removed to his home. He is the son of Councilman E. L. Moore, who conducts a large grocery and provision house on Bellefonte avenue.

It is understood that the trouble was brought about by Winchester accusing Moore of borrowing five dollars from him and refusing to pay the money back. The parties had been drinking together.

Winchester purchased the dagger, with which he did his bloody work, from Harder's sporting goods house, Lock Haven. When he was questioned, after the murder, as to why he had purchased the weapon, he said that he intended to protect himself from being robbed.

At 12.25 o'clock Thursday Joseph Lutz and Joseph Kellenbaugh, arrived home after having spent Wednesday in Lock Haven. They were among the first to arrive in the pool room after the murder had taken place. Reeder lay on the floor in a large pool of blood, with his head cut, face cut, throat cut, and stabbed and a deep wound in the chest. He did not die until five minutes after having been stabbed. Moore was also badly cut up, the wound in his side being a particularly ugly one. From what they could learn Moore is in a very critical condition.

Winchester escaped from the place and ran, but was later on captured, and placed in jail. About ten o'clock that night he became greatly sobered and asked what he was in for. He was told that he had been fighting and then he wanted to pay his fine. When informed that he had killed a man he completely collapsed.

Rain at Last.

Showers set in early on last Saturday morning, and there were six or seven during the day, one in the morning and one in the afternoon being quite brisk. Farmers had done very little seeding, the ground having been too dry for it, but Saturday's showers brought the needed moisture. Sunday afternoon we had another good thunder shower. Streams have been raised, cisterns filled, and springs helped some. Saturday forenoon there was a heavy fall of hail in the south precinct of Potter, some as large as hickory nuts, as we are informed by Dr. Emerick.

Fast Work.

This week George S. Clements started to dig a well on Hiram Durst's farm, east of town and did some rather fast work with his machine. The drill went down 40 feet when it struck water which rose in the well 27 1/2 feet, standing. In two days, from the time he started, Mr. Clements had the pump in and the job finished, which, with the splendid strike, did much toward pleasing Hiram.

Supervisors Take Notice.

Road Supervisors Patrick Sharkey and Daniel O'Connor, of Hazle township, are under arrest for embezzlement, because they charged, it is alleged, 50 cents a day more than the law provides as their salaries. Their wages are fixed at $1.50 a day.

Death.

On Thursday, August 30th, Mrs. Sarah Gray, relict of the late Samuel Gray, died at her home near Gray's church, in the 87th year of her age.

Purchased the Hardware Store.

F. O. Hosterman and S. E. Stover have purchased J. C. Smith's hardware store at Millheim. Success to our friends of the new firm.

Special trains will be run between Sunbury and Centre Hall and Bellefonte and Centre Hall for the accommodation of visitors.

True Business Enterprise.

We copy the following from the Grange Park Edition of the Farmers' Friend: "Messrs. Wolf & Crawford, Centre Hall, are just now striking a rich business lead in the elegant display they are preparing for the Picnic and Exhibition at Grange Park, September 17th to 22d. Those who noted their rich and varied assortment of articles last season will be more than surprised this year. They contemplate adding to their large and varied assortment of groceries and merchandise usually kept in store, a variety of novelties, suitable souvenirs, as well as useful and beautiful in the home. They further propose to have their delivery wagon compass all parts of the camp to secure orders and insure prompt delivery of goods required in camp. Business energy is always to be commended, but this time this firm proposes to go beyond the ordinary, and not only command success, but deserve it. Let everybody give them a call, and their splendid display and low prices will surprise you.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been granted the past week:

Henry C. Shultz, of Liberty borough, Tioga county, and Maggie Winslow, of Liberty township, Centre co.

Herbert H. Askman, of Three Springs, Huntingdon co., and Ellen W. Tressler, of Philipsburg.

Samuel H. Heckman, of Lock Haven, and Jennie M. Kreamer, of Centre Hall.
