STATE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor, WILLIAM M. SINGERLY. For Lieutenant Governor, JOHN S. RILLING. For Auditor General, DAVID F. MAGEE. For Secretary of Internal Affairs, WALTER W. GREENLAND. For Congressman-at-Large, THOMAS COLLINS. HENRY MEYER.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Congress, AARON WILLIAMS. For Senate, MATT SAVAGE. For President Judge, CALVIN M. BOWER. For Legislature, ROBERT M. FOSTER. JAMES SCHOFIELD. For Jury Commissioner, JOSEPH J. HOY. For Associate Judge, THOMAS F. RILEY.

LAST week's Lewistown Gazette was a Maine-lac issue.

THE nomination of Tom Collins, of our county, for congressman-at-large, was the best thing the convention could have done.

"WILD MAN" stories are now on tap, since fish and snake stories are out of season. Queer that the "wild man" is never caught, "he runs too fast."

KEEP in your mind's eye the importance of having Schofield and Foster represent this county in the legislature. Good men we need, and good these are.

THE Clinton county Democratic papers are supporting S. Woods Caldwell for Senator, their conferrees having withdrawn from the conference and nominated Mr. Caldwell.

AARON WILLIAMS has a name beyond reproach. He has filled a number of public positions in our county and never proved faithless. As a Democrat he is of the strictest sect, and as our representative in Congress he will prove competent and true to the interests of his constituents.

BOTH the Democratic and Republican nominees for State Senator, are editors, and live in the same town, Clearfield. Matt Savage, the Democratic nominee, is editor of the Clearfield Public Spirit, and M. L. McQuown, the Republican nominee, is editor of the Raftmen's Journal.

FOR Jury Commissioner the opposition ticket has equipped itself with the name of John D. Decker. They tried John once as Commissioner and found him to suit and now they desire to heap further honors upon him. Decker will get there sure, and he will see that the jury wheel is filled with the best of men.

IF the Orvis rule had not existed, the result in the senatorial conference would have turned up the same, namely, Clearfield three and Centre three for Savage, Clinton three for Caldwell.

SINGERLY and Collins—the Democrats are proud of them and the Republicans have nothing to match 'em. Every workingman, to be true to himself, is bound to cast his vote for his two trust fellows, Wm. M. Singlerly, for governor, and Thomas Collins for congressman-at-large. Neither of these gentlemen ever went back on the workingman and his cause.

IF the laboringmen of Centre county do not pile up from 1500 to 2000 majority for Tom Collins, then let them forever hold their peace. Mr. Collins has been the friend and benefactor of the working class, and all who served under him ever found him straight and a man and friend in every sense of the word. Workingmen, you cannot consistently go back on honest Tom Collins. He is no nabob, nor fop, but a common man of large heart, large business experience, intelligent and in every way fit to represent the people in Congress.

SIXTY-SIX out of one hundred American farmers own their farms. More than half of them have no incumbrance whatever. They are infinitely better off than our urban population and their condition is constantly improving. With good roads and intelligence farmers will be the rulers of the earth, literally.

WHO WILL BE APPOINTED.

Should Judge Furst resign, as he announced he would, from the bench in Huntingdon last week, the Governor will have to make an appointment to fill the vacancy, to serve only one term, November court.

The judge elected at the next general election will take his seat in January, 1895. Governor Pattison will most likely appoint the Democratic nominee for the very brief vacancy. Judge Furst, it must be admitted, was an able Judge, and was rarely reversed in his decisions by the supreme court.

CLOSING HIS EYES TO EVIDENCE.

Governor McKinley set for himself a rather tough piece of work when he went down into Maine to preach poverty and desolation as the result of the new tariff law. All he could offer—all he did offer at Bangor—was his word for it that business and industry would surely go to the dogs now that McKinleyism is abolished. And all the way on his journey from Ohio to Maine Governor McKinley passed through cities and towns in which factories, closed under high tariff "protection," were swinging their doors open again, furnaces firing up, trade reviving and cheerful confidence taking the place of grim depression.

THE NEW TARIFF LAW.

To judge from appearances, the Republicans are not making much headway in their attacks on the new tariff law. The people seem to be pretty well satisfied with that law, barring the trust tax on refined sugar. There are but two classes who find much fault with the measure the Republican protectionists, who declare that it is a free trade law, and the mugwump free traders, who declare that it is the embodiment of protection.

These criticisms from extremists show pretty clearly that it is a conservative law, and that it will meet the expectations of the people. The Walker tariff was made the object of precisely the same criticisms. To one extreme it represented protection—to the other it represented free trade. But the country reached a very high degree of prosperity under that law.

TOM COLLINS should have a rousing vote in Centre county—all Democrats and Republicans, should vote for Collins for congressman-at-large.

THE Republican judicial conference is still in a dead-lock, three for Love and three for Lovell. Next they may fall outside of the district for their man.

EX-SENATOR S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, refuses to consider a Congressional nomination. Mr. Peale is disgusted with much that is done in politics, and the vile things that office seekers will stoop to get a place at the public crib.

EX-UNITED States Senator Charles R. Buckalew, just nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Seventeenth Pennsylvania district, is 73 years old. Congressman Galusha A. Grow is 71.

THE Breckinridge contest slopped over into Sunday at Paris, Ky. Deacon Miller and Deacon Butler argued about it. Deacon Butler jabbed his umbrella into Deacon Miller's ear, and Deacon Miller conferred upon Deacon Butler a hand-painted black eye. It is not known how long the controversy would have raged had not friends separated the disputants.

SOME of the Repubs are vain enough to think they will carry Centre county in November. Not by a long shot. We think these people should show less greed; if we allow them Johnny Decker for jury commissioner, surely they should be satisfied—the Democrats intend to scoop in the balance.

SINGERLY and Collins—the Democrats are proud of them and the Republicans have nothing to match 'em. Every workingman, to be true to himself, is bound to cast his vote for his two trust fellows, Wm. M. Singlerly, for governor, and Thomas Collins for congressman-at-large. Neither of these gentlemen ever went back on the workingman and his cause.

Maine Roads.

He who travels through Maine cannot fail to notice one interesting fact. All of the old fashioned houses, the real old landmarks, are located on hill-tops, and past them run the old roads, the ancient turnpikes. That was the old-fashioned way of locating roads and houses. The builders picked out the hills, and over them in toilsome and tortuous ascent and descent went the roads, with the old-time dwellings by the side thereof. Even where there was a good opportunity of going around it was ignored by our forefathers. They evidently didn't figure that it was no farther around a pail ball when it lay horizontally. It is along the modern highway that you work among the hills by way of the valleys, and it is the modern farmer who locates his farm so that the haul is down hill.

And it is pretty much the same in Centre and other counties of our state—roads were invariably made to cross the hills because the levels and low lands were better for farming. So the team must jog up hill and down, with half a load and great fatigue, on a false principle of economy in road construction of years gone by. Let our modern road builders hitch on to the new idea of level roads and good.

A Pointer for Girls.

A girl who deliberately marries without understanding the art of cooking is committing a—well the law of the land does not call it a crime, but the unwritten law of the home certainly does constitute it a crime. Especially is this true of those in modest circumstances, who cannot employ efficient cooks. Burnt fingers, sour bread, leathery steaks, wishy-washy coffee and disordered stomachs are not conducive to the happiness that one imagines the honeymoon should be filled with.

There are so many reasons, logical and philosophical why cooking should be included in the accomplishments of young girls that it is useless to enumerate them. Good cooking is the basis of happiness, health and success in the home life. One may thoroughly understand art, music, architecture, science and philosophy, be familiar with astronomy, mythology, the mythology, the mysteries of evolution, politics and literature, yet if the chemistry of a loaf of bread has been neglected the education is sadly incomplete, so far as the home mother is concerned.

Judicial Turns.

A Lehigh county jury last week found a man guilty of assault and battery, and the facts surrounding the case practically put a new interpretation on the law. The gentleman and a lady occupied apartments which were divided by a frame partition. The cracks were pretty wide and the lady would peep through to see what the young man was doing. He tired of this and when she was watching him he expectorated tobacco juice in her eye. He was arrested and the jury found him guilty of assault and battery.

This reminds us of a case where a lot of men who went swimming, were watched by some females with spy glasses and then the latter had the gentlemen arrested for exposing themselves.

Death of Abram Snyder.

Friday morning Abram Snyder died at his home a short distance north of Casstown, Ohio. He was found dead in the cow stable by his wife who thought that he had some kind of a stroke. He was born in York county, this state and a number of years ago he moved to Houserville, Centre county. After leaving there he located in Ohio. He was married twice, and he is survived by his second wife, (formerly Mrs. Barbara Houser, of Centre county,) three children and a step-daughter. He belonged to the Lutheran church and was nearly 79 years old.

Union County Fair.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Co. will sell Excursion tickets to Brook Park September 25th to 28th good for return passage until September 29th 1894, inclusive at reduced rates on account of the Union County Fair to be held at Brook Park near Lewisburg, September 25th, 26th and 28th, 1894. Special trains will be run between Coburn and Brook Park and between Lewisburg and Brook Park. Ticket agents will furnish information as to rates, trains, etc.

Died of Small Pox.

John Frieze, father of the family stricken with small pox in Carroll township, Perry county, died from that dread disease on Saturday morning and was buried as soon as possible in a field near by the house, but difficulty was experienced in procuring help to inter the body. Four of the members of the family are down with the disease.

Death of a Physician.

Dr. J. E. Wasson, of Spruce Creek, a well known physician, died at his home in that place on Friday morning last, after a few days' illness. Dr. Wasson was born in Centre county, and was aged about 39 years. His wife survives him.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclist, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by Wm. Pealer, of Spring Mills and S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville.

The Railroad Man, The Clergyman, The Business Man, and all other men who have to look neat while at work, should know about "CELLULOID" COLLARS AND CUFFS. They look exactly like linen, wear well and being waterproof do not wilt down with heat and moisture. They do not soil easily and can be cleaned in a moment by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. Do not confuse these in your mind with composition goods. Every piece of the genuine is stamped like this:

Ask for these and refuse anything else if you wish satisfaction. Remember that goods so marked are the only waterproof goods made by coating a linen collar with waterproof "Celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. If your dealer should not have the "Celluloid" send amount direct to us and we will mail you sample post-paid. Collars 25c. each. Cuffs, 50c. pair. State size and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.
