Special.

It is seldom that the trade that seeks Bellefonte markets has the advantage of such a mark down sale as Lyon & Co. are advertising in another column on this page. It will pay you to look it up.

PERSONAL.

—Mrs. Olie Maise, an aged lady of our town, is seriously ill.
 —John Zettle, of Gregg, was a caller at the REPORTER office during picnic.
 —Mrs. Bert Shimp, of Lewistown, has been visiting friends in town the past week.
 —Will Barr and sister Elsie, of Tyrone, were among the visitors in town last week.
 —L. G. Burris, of Potters Mills, was a caller at our sanctum, and put his label out to '95.
 —Were pleased to have a call from Rev. Illingsworth, esteemed pastor of the M. E. church.
 —Mrs. J. S. Showers, of Youngdale, Pa., visited friends and attended the picnic last week.
 —George Emerick and John T. Lee are at Lewistown, as delegates to the Lutheran synod.
 —Mrs. Edward Wolf, of Altoona, took advantage of the excursion last week to visit friends in town.
 —Miss Marion Fischer and her friend Miss Garger, of Shamokin, attended the picnic last week.
 —Misses Bert and Carrie Lent, of Lock Haven, were the guests of Capt. George Boals family during the picnic.
 —George B. Orady, the oldest lawyer of the Huntingdon bar, and a power in the Republican party of the state, was in town Tuesday.
 —C. U. Hoffer, of Philipsburg, visited relatives and friends in town early part of last week. He enjoys a lucrative position as bookkeeper.
 —L. H. Davidson, of Milroy, formerly from these parts, gave us a call, and had his name put on our list, because he wanted a good paper.
 —Rev. W. E. Fischer, of Shamokin, attended the picnic, and preached in the Centre Hall Lutheran church last Sunday morning, and at Tusseyville in the afternoon.
 —Matt Savage, our nominee for senator called on Monday, being here to take in the picnic. He feels very hopeful of his election, and we feel just the same about it. He assures us Clearfield will roll in handsomely for him. He made a good impression upon our people, so far as he met them, and is satisfied old Centre will turn up all right. And so it will.
 —H. A. Gripp and family went to Centre Hall last Saturday to take in the Granger's picnic. Mrs. Gripp and the children went by rail and Henry rode over on his "bike." All went well with him until Port Matilda was reached, when a dog got into the line of his wheel and a wreck followed. Henry received a bruised nose and torn clothing but the dog was killed. The wheel escaped injury. He was laid up for repairs at Centre Hall and did not get back home before Wednesday night. Don't ask what happened that he has that patch on his nose.—Tyrone Times.

A COUNTY FAIR.

A Meeting to Organize, and a Committee Appointed.
 Bellefonte business men have made a move to revive the County Fair, and are raising stock subscriptions with that end in view; a meeting to organize and lay plans was held last week, and a committee appointed to select a suitable ground. Whether two fairs can be successfully carried on in this county, remains to be seen.
 Various places were named among them being the Brockerhoff meadow near Roopsburg; the Collins' property on Halfmoon hill; the flat at the east end of Bishop street; the meadow of McCoy & Linn, near the red school house, and two other locations east of Bellefonte on the road to Zion. Among the number mentioned the McCoy & Linn location seemed to be the most favorable.
 On motion the President appointed Messrs. John S. Waite, Al. S. Garman, S. M. Buck, William A. Lyon and L. T. Munson a committee to visit the several locations mentioned, give them a thorough inspection and to inquire of the respective owners on what terms the same could be leased or purchased, and to report same at the next meeting.
 Edwin F. Garman was appointed a committee of one to correspond with the Milton, Lewisburg and Ebensburg Fair Associations with the view of ascertaining the probable cost of putting a ground in a complete and good condition.
 Our county is large, and has enough to make one great, big successful fair; we have the population, and the agricultural products to do it—and this we looked upon as within the efforts of the patrons in their encampment. Still if there are to be two, and each one is worked up, there may be two fairs of no mean proportions.
 Thursday evening, Oct. 4th, there will be another meeting in the courthouse to push ahead the movement for the revival of the county fair. All are invited, farmers, grangers, business men and others. All can have a voice in it by becoming members. The friends of the project think they will have the best fair association of any county in the state. All this is possible if business men and farmers join hands in the matter.
 There are 950 grangers in the county, as we are informed; although there are five times as many farmers, yet what a creditable exhibition does this one-fifth have annually. Then if those who are not in the organization, the four-fifths, wish to have a fair for an exhibition of their products, why would it not be a success, especially if joined by the business class.

Missionary Convention at Aaronsburg.
 The ninth annual convention of the Missionary Society of West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church was held at Aaronsburg, Centre county, on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, September 11th and 12th. The opening sermon was preached by M. L. Flor, of Williamsport, and was an eloquent discourse. The convention was well attended, most of the delegates being present, and was a success in every way. The officers for the ensuing year are, Rev. A. A. Black, Boalsburg, Pres., Mrs. C. M. Bower, Bellefonte, V. Pres., Mrs. Mary E. Whitmore, Millinburg, Rec. Sec., and Rev. W. A. Haas, Selingsgrove, Treasurer.

Has Made Its Appearance.
 The new paper, the Howard Hornet has made its appearance, and is of a creditable make-up, hence it deserves success. We shall strive not to stir up the Hornet's nest, we do not want to have its stinger put into our tenement of clay. When a hornet goes for you it comes like lightning and stings like the devil. May you salt down lots of dollars.
Rev. Rearick's Appointments.
 The following appointments for services by Rev. Rearick, take the place of previous announcements, and he will preach as follows: At Centre Hall, Sunday, Oct. 7th, at 10 a. m.; at Tusseyville at 2 p. m. At the Union, Sunday, Oct. 14, at 10 a. m.; Georges Valley at 2 p. m., and at Spring Mills in the evening of same day.

Has Gone Under.
 The Evening Journal, Williamsport, gave up the ghost last Friday, aged two months. This is James A. Fiedler's paper, and lack of advertising patronage caused him to suspend publication. We are sorry for him, and that he could not keep it afloat.
Schools Opened.
 Monday morning the borough schools opened with average attendance. Ed. J. Wolf, Robert Foreman, and Miss Maggie Hannah are the instructors.
Death.
 Harry Martin, infant son of Luther and Phoebe Emerick, of this place, died on Friday, 21st inst., after a short illness; aged near four months.

HE ASKED FOR ADVICE.

A Church Member Requests his Departing Pastor to Elucidate.
 The Lewisburg Saturday News furnishes the following tale, which we give for what it is worth: Recently in preaching his farewell sermon, Rev. Rearick, of Hebersburg, Centre county, admonished his hearers not to commit suicide by worrying and fretting about bridges of trouble that are never reached. Just as he was concluding his touching farewell remarks, and as he stood surrounded by numerous presents that were brought by the now sobbing congregation in token of their high esteem, there arose in the back part of the audience a member named Condo. Brother Condo had been annoyed all summer by the depredations of a cow belonging to a neighbor named Garret. The bovine had been breaking through his fence nearly everyday and foraging on his cabbage, turnips, etc., and when the owner of the lot called Garret's attention to the damage his hungry cow had been doing, he only laughed in his face. As may be imagined, Condo feels sore on Garret, and as stated, when the preacher was talking softly to the brothers and sisters, and the handkerchiefs were all out, Condo stood up, and in a voice that was plainly heard, and manner not misuderstood, remarked in Pennsylvania Dutch, "Say, brother Rearick, if I am allowed to ask a question, I would like to know what power there is to keep a man from committing suicide when a fellow like my neighbor Garret allows his cow to come into my garden every day and eat up my vegetables?" There was a chorus of laughter, and the tears were dried, and after Rev. Rearick had given brother Condo a little advice about forbearance and turning the other cheek around, the audience was dismissed.

Wandered Off.
 A son of Mr. Treaster, living at Old Fort, wandered from the picnic ground last Saturday. He is about twenty-two years of age and weak minded. He became bewildered while on the ground, no doubt from the confusion and the movements on the ground, and being weak minded, was unable to find his way home in the evening, not over one-half of a mile of the ground. He was led to within a short distance of the station, and left to himself, under the supposition that he would not miss the way to his home; he got off the course, however, and not appearing at home, search was made Sunday and Monday without getting any track of him. On Monday evening a telephone message from State College announced that he had been found beyond the College, whither he had wandered, a distance of some twelve miles from home. Mr. Treaster and family, of course, were overjoyed at the information, and that the lost one had been found.

Merry-go-round in Trouble.
 The merry-go-round, which had the exclusive privilege for the picnic ground, did not rake in as many sheekles as it expected, on account of the bad weather last week seeming to be unable to pay the $150 stipulated for its privilege, and offered $100 to be let off. The grange authorities did not accept the offer and made a levy upon the apparatus. How the matter was finally adjusted we did not learn. These merry-go-rounds some weeks reap a harvest of $800, to $1000, when the crowd is large and weather favorable.

Displacement.
 The new street lamps of our town, by an oversight, have been wrongly placed, having been set up inside the walks; all other towns, big and little, properly have them on the corner outside the walks. Placed outside they render more service to the opposite side of the street, and can be seen a greater distance, as the inside shrubbery does not hide them near as much. A mistake, sure.

Becomes a Presbyterian Minister.
 By a unanimous vote of Presbytery, Rev. D. J. Mitterling, of La Grange, Ind., has been accepted into the ministry of the Presbyterian church. Rev. Mitterling is a native of Potter township, this county, and was formerly a minister of the Lutheran church.

They Fired Him.
 A man by the name of Corn was married in Indiana county to a lady by the name of Wheat. The choir sang, "What shall the harvest be?" A boy in the audience yelled "nubbins" and they fired him out of the church.

A New Field.
 Rev. A. A. Kerlin has become pastor of the Lutheran church at Glasgow, Cambria county. He is a native of Potter township, and a brother of A. S. Kerlin, of our place.

Jack Frost.
 There was a light frost Tuesday morning, followed by a sharp one Wednesday morning—reminders that fall is here, and that winter is not far away. Coal bins will need filling up.

—Price, quality and style are prominent factors when you are buying clothing. Purchasers will find these to their advantage at Lewins, Bellefonte. No shoddy in the house.

APPOINTMENTS.

Bound Over.
 On last Saturday Wm. Horner arrived in Bellefonte from Pittsburg, where he attended the G. A. R. convention, says the Centre Democrat. He met Joshua Folk at the Brockerhoff house; they soon became warm friends. Mr. Horner, not feeling well, was persuaded to go to Mr. Folk's home for a short nap. He slept about an hour and got up. He claims that he was then missing about $6 in money. A warrant was issued and Joshua was soon before Justice Keichline on the charge of taking his friend's money. Witnesses proved that Horner had about $6 before he met Folk. Folk claims that Horner gave him $1.50 for taking good care of him. The justice considered the case sufficient and Joshua Folk was bound over for appearance at court, where he can explain more fully how everything happened.

Died in Kansas.
 Alfred Wolf died in Minneapolis, Kansas, a few days ago, aged fifty-three years. He was a son of Jacob Wolf, deceased, of Aaronsburg. His death was caused by an attack of grip last winter. He was a printer by trade, having learned the art preservative under the editor of the REPORTER, and at the time of his death was foreman of the Minneapolis Messenger.

Extending His Shops.
 Carriage maker Boob, opposite the REPORTER office is increasing his working capacity by enlarging his shops, and is building an addition. He will place several machines in the building to be run by his engine which will greatly facilitate his work.

New Coal Yard Open.
 Brislin's new coal yard on north side of the railroad, Centre Hall, is now open for business. All coal kept in rain-proof sheds, and convenient for loading. Every variety of coal constantly on hand, woodland, soft-coal, pea coal, nut, stove and lump coal—by car loads or in small quantities. Mr. Brislin by fair dealing asks, and will strive to merit a share of public patronage.

FOSTER'S WEATHER.

The Prophet Gives his Forecasts for the Week.
 Foster, the weather prophet, says: My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from Sept. 20 to 24, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 24th, cross the western mountains by the close of the 25th, the great central valleys from the 26th to 28th, and the eastern states about the 29th. This disturbance will be of more than usual force and will develop its greatest energy east of the Mississippi. It will probably be accompanied by destructive storms, and followed by killing frosts, the latter north of latitude 38. The first October storm wave will reach the Pacific coast about Sept. 30, cross the western mountains by the close of Oct. 1, the great central valleys from the 2d to the 4th, and the eastern states about the 5th. General rains may be expected from the two storm waves mentioned above. Warm waves will cross the western mountains about Sept. 24 and 30, the great central valleys Sept. 26 and Oct. 2, and the eastern states about Sept. 28 and Oct. 4. Cool waves will cross the western mountains about Sept. 29 and Oct. 3, the great central valleys Sept. 29 and Oct. 5, and the eastern states Oct. 1 and 7. My calculations for October are not complete, but indications are for warm, dry weather in the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys—north of St. Louis; warm weather average rain in the Ohio valley and Tennessee, and warm, dry weather in the eastern states.
