Special.

It is seldom that the trade that seeks Bellefonte markets has the advantage of such a mark down sale as Lyon & Co. are advertising in another column on this page. It will pay you to look it up.

Murray spent several days last week among friends in Huntingdon county. Taking advantage of the fine weather they went by buggy. Mrs. Myra C. Ishler and daughter Miss Gertie, and Miss Minnie Colyer, of Tusseyville, went to Philadelphia on Tuesday.

Fine Corn.

Contrary to all expectations the corn crop in this valley turned out remarkably well, and there will be a big crop. The corn is large grained and well filled, and as a specimen we were shown an ear on Monday by our townsman, Wm. Koonsman that measured over thirteen inches in length. It was a big one, and he said there were plenty more like it.

No Preaching.

On account of quarterly meeting in Millheim, on Sunday, Oct. 28, Rev. Illingworth will not preach at Centre Hall. His next regular appointment will be Sunday morning, Nov. 11th.

Filled the Pulpit.

Rev. E. Wolf, principal of our borough schools, preached an interesting sermon in the Lutheran church last Sabbath afternoon.

Mrs. Amanda Stover.

Mrs. Amanda Stover died a few days ago at her home in Lapier, Mich. She was the daughter of Dr. P. Smith, and a sister of S. W. Smith of our town. In the Centennial year, 1876, she married Adam Q. Stover, of Michigan, who was a native of Haines township and a son of Martin Stover. Her age was about 45 years. She was well known here and a young lady respected by all. Her mother and brother named above survive her. Her many acquaintances here will regret to learn of her death.

Elocution Recital.

The Society of Christian Endeavor have engaged Miss Bessie Marguerite Swartz, teacher of elocution in Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, and graduate of Boston School of Oratory, who will give an Elocution Recital in the Presbyterian church at this place, on Friday evening, Nov. 9th. Miss Swartz is a fine elocutionist and will delightfully entertain her audience. All who can possibly attend should take advantage of this opportunity. Admission ten and fifteen cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the C. E.

Adam Grenoble.

The funeral of the venerable Adam Grenoble, one of the most respected and upright citizens of Gregg township, took place at the White church, east of Penn Hall, on last Sabbath afternoon. He was an old resident, a farmer in earlier years, and a man of staunch integrity. He was a Christian by profession and practice and a devoted member of the Reformed church. The funeral was one of the largest in that vicinity—101 vehicles were counted following the remains to their last resting place. His age was 79 years, 2 months and 11 days.

Fire in Nittany Valley.

Saturday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock, the barn of Ellis Snyder, east end of Nittany Valley, was destroyed by fire. With the barn about ten tons of hay and a lot of farming implements were burned. How it caught fire is not known, but it is believed to be the work of incendiaries. The dwelling house on the same farm was burned about a year ago. This makes the third fire for Mr. Snyder in about two years—two barns and a house.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. Myra Ishler, of Tusseyville, is now in Philadelphia selecting a fine line of Millinery Goods and will return on Saturday next, and will have her fall opening on Monday. She will return with the latest novelties in trimmings, hats and bonnets, children's caps and ribbons. Her selections will be larger than ever and a full and complete assortment. All are invited to attend her opening on Monday.

Moving Smoothly.

Our schools seem to be moving on satisfactorily for this term—there are no complaints, which is good, as every one is heartily tired of the school quarrels we have had.

Died on Tuesday.

Morris, son of Charles Bradford, aged about ten years, died on Tuesday, of typhoid fever. Mrs. Bradford, the mother, is in a critical condition of the same disease.

To Hold a Conference.

SAVAGE and Caldwell were to hold a conference on Wednesday, and it is likely the end would be the withdrawal of one of the two senatorial candidates.

ARREST OF JUDGE FAULKNER.

He is Charged With Embezzling School Taxes.

The announcement that Associate Judge C. A. Faulkner, of this county, is under arrest and bound over in the sum of $1,000 for trial at the November term of court to answer the charge of embezzling school taxes collected by him for the borough of Philipsburg, where he resides, has caused a sensation. Mr. Faulkner was tax collector for that borough for 1890, 1891 and 1892. Last January he settled with the school board for his duplicate of 1892, when it was found that he was short over $8,000. He claimed that this was due to the taxes that could not be collected. Further investigation, however, showed there were only $1,700 outstanding taxes and that over $6,000 had been misappropriated.

In addition to this, the borough of Philipsburg's attorneys entered judgment for $2,400 due the borough. An attachment execution was issued October 3 against Hugh Adams and Adam Moyer, Mr. Faulkner's bondsmen, to secure the payment of the balance due, and they in turn have had the judge arrested on the charge of embezzlement. Judge Faulkner claims he lost the money in the smash of the Philipsburg bank, but that bank has since paid dollar for dollar.

A Minister's Baggage Stolen.

On Saturday last when Rev. Rarick, of this place, reached Salona, whither he had gone to install Rev. Spangler, he was met at the station, taken into a buggy by one of the brethren, and his baggage placed in the back of the rig. When reaching his destination, the Reverend's baggage was not—it was stolen and has not yet been recovered. This is rough on Salona, and would indicate that preachers are needed over that way to correct the ways of some.

Possibly the minister's satchel had among its effects a powerful sermon, upon one of the ten commandments, "Thou shalt not steal," and lead to this thief's salvation.

A Good Investment.

On Saturday, Nov. 17, a fine little farm of 52 acres, with modern improvements, located just east of Boalsburg, will be offered at public sale by Samuel Gilliland. At the same time a tract of 21 acres will be offered in portions of from 5 to 10 acres to suit those who desire to purchase out lots or build homes near Boalsburg. An excellent opportunity is afforded here for a good and safe investment. W. A. Murray, agent, Boalsburg, will furnish any information desired upon inquiry.

Look Out for Him.

Hon. S. Gilliland, though old, is wide awake. He wrote us a few days ago; "There is a stranger visiting this neighborhood, (Oak Hall) soliciting money for a building association and has taken considerable money. I heard of his being in the neighborhood of Centre Hall." Persons should be on their guard when strangers want money for any project, and be sure that all is straight.

Terra Cotta Clay.

John Q. Miles, Treasurer of Centre county, has found on his farm near Port Matilda, a bed of terra cotta clay that covers twenty-seven acres and is from five to ten feet in depth. He had it analyzed and the chemist pronounced it an excellent article. Mr. Miles is making arrangements to mine and ship the clay.

A Lumber Boss Found Dead.

A lumber boss named Sturtevant, was found along the railroad near Abottsville, Clinton county, last Saturday with his head crushed. It is supposed that he was murdered as he had received money on Saturday to pay his men.

Robbed the Barbershop.

On Monday night last some fellow entered Jerry Miller's barbershop, by breaking one of the large windows on the north side. Jerry was away from home at the time, and only some cigars are missing so far as known. The burglar, however, left a pretty good overcoat back which may more than pay for all that was stolen.

Look Out Boys.

Complaint has been made that some boys are breaking windows in the picnic buildings, by throwing stones in them. Their names are known and if they repeat the act there will be arrests made. Boys, don't do it any more.

The Falling Leaves.

The falling leaves are giving our good women lots of broom exercise just now—each morning has a new lot down, and its sweep, sweep, and not near all down yet.

Only the Spasmodical Splurge.

The 4 to 5 splurge, to have four-foot walks changed to five, turned out moonshine; the borough dads wilted on it, as some predicted.

A good warm overcoat is necessary this weather and you can get just what you want, and at the right figure too, at Lewins, Bellefonte.

SILVER IN BLAIR COUNTY.

A Mining Company Formed to Develop Tussey Mountain's Hidden Riches.

The Tussey Mountain Mining and Smelting Company was organized to develop the hidden veins of silver ore in Tussey mountain, this county. Expert assays pronounce this ore equal to the output of the Colorado mines, and a real estate boom about the mountain has started. The officers are: Daniel Morrell, Henrietta, president; William Nicodemus, Martinsburg, secretary and treasurer; W. S. Taylor, Huntingdon, manager; George B. Orady, of Huntingdon, ex-Mayor John Law, of Hollidaysburg, and Dr. Francis, of Harrisburg, are leading spirits in the enterprise.

As the Tussey mountains run into Centre county south of here, we may get an attack of the silver fever too. What a good thing it would be to get 50 cent's worth of the white metal coined into a dollar.

Drove a Horse to Death.

A young man has been held to $500 for his appearance at court for driving a horse to death; the case will come up at Nov. term at Bellefonte.

How frequent are the acts of inhumanity to dumb brutes to be witnessed upon the highways. Overdriving, making a horse pull an overload, or brutally whipping or clubbing a horse are all indictable offences, and punishable under the laws whether the offender be the owner of the horse or one who hires the animal. The law protects the dumb animals against cruelty and any one can appear as prosecutor.

Fine Weather.

We had lovely weather from Thursday of last week, up to Monday. The sky was bright and Old Sol's rays came down almost with a July warmth. It was warmer than suited farmers for husking corn. In short, we are having a delightful fall.

Fly in Wheat.

The present warm weather breeds fly in wheat. We notice some fields that were sown early this insect has already got in its work, and is doing considerable harm in killing the growing plant. The late sowing generally escapes the ravages of the fly.

The Fit is Over.

House cleaning by our good housewives, is about over with most of them and like the lawn mower, the rattle of the tackhammer was heard abroad in the land.

Lap and fur robes, a fine and complete assortment at Boozer Bros.

Centre Countian in Trouble.

Thomas C. Lucas, whose parents reside at Howard, is accused of swindling a lady in Valparaiso, Ind.

While engaged as the principal of a short hand school at Chicago, Lucas was a frequent caller on Lilly Irwin, who lived with her grandmother at Valparaiso. The grandmother, Mrs. Johnson, entrusted money to Lucas from time to time to invest for her. He made profitable investments and was to have divided with Mrs. Johnson, but she was pleased to have him reinvest the profit as long as he was courting the granddaughter.

When Lucas secured $2750 he left his Western home and was next heard of in Boston, where he married an accomplished young lady and moved to that city. The marriage took place about five weeks ago and the broken hearted bride was in court the other day. Lucas had a profitable engagement in the School of Mines and Engineering.

Died in Kansas.

We have just received intelligence that S. K. Working died at his home in Abaline, Kansas, of consumption, in August. Mr. Working was born in Centre county and was 54 years old. He was a member of the 46th regiment, P. V. I. and was in the service three years. A wife and four children survive him.

Mr. Working at one time lived at Centre Hall, and was employed in the foundry here. He was a brother of Mrs. Uriah Osman.

Will go to Philadelphia.

Our worthy and much respected farmer friend, Howard Fetterolf, thinks he will visit Philadelphia to get the aid of skilled physicians in a cancerous soreness on the lower side of the chin. His many friends wish him all success.

Death at Pleasant Gap.

On last Thursday morning at eleven o'clock Mrs. Furey, wife of John M. Furey, died at her home near Pleasant Gap, after quite a lingering illness with dropsy. Deceased was aged about 68 years. She was interred Saturday.

Will Rebuild.

W. W. Spangler, of Potters Mills, is making arrangements to erect a new barn on the site of the one recently burned. His insurance having been only $800, he still sustains a loss of near $1000.

A complete line of horse blankets from 75 cents up at Boozer Bros.
