

THE NEWS.

Hawley E. Webster, ex-postmaster of Brookport, N. Y., who was removed from office last September owing to a shortage in his accounts, has been arrested, his bondsman, who made good the deficiency, having concluded to appear against him.

Mr. Morton's Majority Over 100,000—Mr. Wilson Probably Defeated—Full Democratic Delegation to Congress from Virginia.

In every state north of Mason's and Dixon's line, and in Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, south of it, the Republicans have made gains in their members of Congress.

The Congressional gains as far as can be verified at going to press with this side of our paper are as follows: West Virginia 3, New York 20, Massachusetts 4, Maryland 3, Pennsylvania 4, New Jersey 7, Connecticut 3. The total Republican estimate.

The defeat of Tammany in New York has been a crushing one. Hill counted on going to the Harlem with a majority of 50,000. Instead, he has reached there with about 20,000 in the minority.

In New York City his plurality was just 4,401. Grant's defeat was worse. Strong polled 152,692; Grant, 121,257; Strong's plurality, 31,435. John W. Goff, Ind., has been elected Recorder of New York City over Frederick Smyth, Tammany, by a plurality of 54,444 on the total city vote.

In West Virginia, William L. Wilson has probably met with defeat, although it will take an official count to determine the result.

The Republicans have carried New York State by estimated pluralities ranging from 130,000 to 150,000. These figures represent the probable plurality of Levi P. Morton, Republican, for governor, over David B. Hill, Democrat, based upon the vote of New York City and Brooklyn complete and returns from more than one-half of the election districts above the Harlem River.

About one-half the entire vote of California is counted, and the result indicates that Bidd, Democratic candidate for governor, has a plurality of between 5,000 and 7,000. The returns now indicate that the Republicans have elected six of the Congressmen, McGuire, Dem., in the Fourth district, is re-elected, while there is little doubt that (amiegett, present representative from the Second district; Geary, in the First district, and English, in the Third, have been elected. Not more than one-fourth of the vote in the First district has been counted, but Harraam, Rep., continues to gain. It is probable that the successful Congressional candidates will be: First, Barham, Rep.; Second, Johnson, Rep.; Third, Hibbard, Rep.; Fourth, H. McGuire, Dem.; Fifth, Loud, Rep.; Sixth, McLachlan, Rep.; Seventh, Bowers, Rep.

All day long the private carriages of Capitol Hill society leaders have been carrying women voters to the polls. In many cases the ladies owing the turnout went with them to urge the voters to make use of their franchise. A very large majority of these, though not all, are advocates of the Republican ticket, and their energy undoubtedly made many votes for McHenry and his colleagues.

Over a Hundred Persons Who Were Watching a Parade Injured.

The most disastrous accident in the history of Terrell, Texas, occurred as the result of the collapse of an awning crowded with people to witness a circus parade. Four persons were fatally crushed, and 100 others, more or less seriously injured.

People for miles around had gathered to attend Zella Brox circus and witness the parade. About 10:30 o'clock the parade entered Moore avenue, the principal business street of the town. That thoroughfare was crowded by people, and the awnings and windows of the second stories of the business houses were filled with spectators.

On the awning of the Mississippi Store and in front of the drygoods house of Morris Brin an unusually large number of people had congregated to get a good view of the parade. Five hundred more were on the awning and the sidewalk beneath was jammed.

The prohibition against the landing of American cattle has taken another complexion. It has been agreed that Germany leave the decision of this matter to the preponderance of expert opinions. In this connection translation from American veterinarians showing that infections from Texas fever is limited to certain localities, are being prepared for submission to the Imperial Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs Bieherstein.

It is stated that the import of English cattle into Germany will also be prohibited. The reason for this step is not stated.

Mike Dingo, a Hungarian laborer employed on a repair force of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, shortly before quitting time assaulted his foreman, William Breininger, with a sledge hammer and injured him so badly that he will die. The assault was committed at the Mine Hill crossing, near Connors, Breininger had reprimanded Dingo for neglecting his work, who in a fit of temper seized a ten-pound spike hammer and struck him a fearful blow on the side of the head, crushing in the skull in several places. Dingo fled after the deed, but was arrested about an hour later at his home and after a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. H. Butt was committed to jail without bail.

They detailed the manner of the robbery and told of the disposition of the goods. After the hearing they were committed to trial and Kessler was discharged.

Dependancy over his past crime was the cause of his death.

By the accidental discharge of his gun Peter Brots, aged 18, of Mahony City, was shot to death.

Chief of Police Simpson ofScranton, informed the newspaper men that the Italian woman, Serafine Canata, has confessed that the boy found in her company when arrested is the one abducted from Montevideo in 1872 and for whom a search has been made ever since. The chief says that the proper papers will be made out for the return of the boy and his kidnapping to the Argentine Republic. When the woman was seen at the police station by the reporters she was in a state of great excitement and denied having made a confession. She declared that the boy is her own and that his father was a drunken sheik. The boy is delicate in appearance and fair, while the woman is dusky. He in no way resembles his mother, which strengthens the suspicions of the police.

A watchman at the residence of Robert H. Coleman, at Cornwall, noticed lights moving about in the house, and when he went to investigate met two unknown men, who fired several shots at him. They only wounded his dog. It is not known whether or not anything of value was carried away by the burglars, as the Coleman family has been absent for several months.

It was discovered that systematic attempts had been made to poison John Webber, a Butler county farmer, by placing whisky doused with arsenic in his corn and wheat shocks. He lives near Bentrew Station. Some weeks ago Webber found a bottle of whisky concealed in a wheat shock, but was suspicious and did not drink any of it. Subsequently he found two more bottles of whisky in a corn sack. One of the bottles was sent to the Allegheny police and analyzed. The chemist's report states that the whisky was heavily doused with arsenic and one drink of it would kill a man. Several attempts have been made within the past year to burn Webber's barn, presumably by the same person who tried to poison Webber.

Harrison Lightly, a one-armed veteran, fell from a box in the cellar of Calvin Fagely of Pottstown, where he was white washing, and on descending his ear was caught in a meat hook and held until help came and released him.

BURNED IN A BARN. Bad Fate of Two Young Children--Freaky of a Fath.

Two children, aged about five years each, were burned in a barn at Timberville, Va. They were playing in the barn, and it is supposed their fooling with matches set the hay on fire. The fire sprang up between them and the opening and they were unable to escape. Outsiders rushed to the scene but were unable to render any assistance.

The father of one of them, Mr. Daniel Beam, had to be restrained from rushing into the flames to certain death.

The reputation of the capture of Tallenwan by the Japanese has not been confirmed. The reports have been confirmed however, that the Japanese are steadily repulsing detached bodies of Chinese, and that they have taken Fort Kiechuan. The Japanese force that landed on October 23rd north of Elliott Islands first marched eastward, probably to intercept the army of General Sung, which was retreating from Fung Wang Chang. They then turned westward toward Tallenwan, advancing 5 miles daily.

FEUD ENDED IN DEATH.

Lexington, Kentucky, Politics Leads to Another Tragedy.

A bloody political tragedy occurred in Lexington, Ky., when John Traynor, marshal of Athens, Ky., cut Law Sharpe, probably fatally, and about Ike Davidson to death. Sharpe and Traynor were both Democrats, Davidson was an Owens man and Traynor a Breckinridge supporter. They met in front of the Leland Hotel. Sharpe accused Traynor of having voted for Denny, the Republican. Traynor denied it, when Sharpe called him a d--- liar. Traynor struck Sharpe, who is badly crippled as the result of having been shot in the knee during the war.

The blow knocked Sharpe to the sidewalk, and before he could get up, Traynor drew a knife and legs cutting the old soldier. Pat Toomey, a young friend of Sharpe, rushed to his assistance, and knocked Traynor down. Ike Davidson jumped in and tried to separate the men. Traynor scrambled to his feet, and, apparently trying to get away, went down the street with two pistols in his hands. He then turned and fired, the bullet striking Davidson in the stomach. He died in an hour. Sharpe was taken to the hospital, where he is suffering greatly, and it is more than likely he will die. Traynor was locked up. Davidson was a well-known dis liver.

The origin of the had feeling between the men dates back some time. On election day, John Green, who was Marshal Traynor's deputy, shot and fatally wounded George Toomey, a brother of the man who took part in this affray. Pat Toomey, Sharpe, and Davidson came to town to have Traynor arrested as an accessory to the shooting of Toomey, as the latter is likely to die. Traynor had been arrested and released on bond, when Sharpe met him in front of the hotel.

There is already a great deal of bad blood between the Owens and Breckinridge men, and it is feared that this will not be the last of the trouble. Green, who shot Toomey, was a Breckinridge man, and Toomey an Owens follower. Sharpe is closely related to Stephen Sharpe, ex-Treasurer of Kentucky.

TALMAGE HAS RESIGNED. He Severs His Connection With the Brooklyn Tabernacle.

Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, which was recently for the third time destroyed by fire, has written a letter to the elders of the church tendering his resignation. Following is a copy of the letter:

Brooklyn, N. Y.,--To the Session of the Brooklyn Tabernacle--Dear Brethren: I hereby ask you to join with me in a request to the Brooklyn Presbytery that they dissolve the past relationship now existing. The congregation of the Brooklyn Tabernacle has built during my pastorate three large churches which have been destroyed. It is not right that I should call on them to build a fourth church during my ministry.

"I advise that you do one of two things--either call a new pastor, under whose leadership a church might be built, or remain in organization until you can give certificates of membership to our people, so that they may in usual form join other churches.

"As for myself, I will, as Providence may direct, either take another pastorate, or go into general evangelistic work, preach the Gospel to all people without money and without price.

"Thanking you for your ever-increasing kindness to me and mine, and hoping to be re-associated with you in the heavenly world together with the multitudes with whom we have worshipped during the last 25 years, I am yours in the Gospel. "T. DE WITT TALMAGE."

The session, according to an intimate friend of the famous preacher, met Dr. Talmage and agreed to request the Brooklyn Presbytery to dissolve the pastoral relations now existing. This is a practical acceptance of the resignation.

FIVE PERSONS CRUSHED. Caught Under a Falling Wall in Louisville--A Panic Averted.

Fire broke out about 5 o'clock, in the building occupied by the Louisville branch of the Singer Sewing Machine Manufacturing Company, at 552 Fourth avenue and before the flames could be extinguished did about $50,000 worth of damage.

Just as the fireman had the fire under control the rear wall of the Singer building fell and five firemen were caught under it and badly hurt. Two of them, Valentine Riehl and James Mannix, may die.

The Singer Sewing Machine Company's loss will be $30,000, on which there is no insurance. T. N. Lindsay, picture frames and wall paper, 534 Fourth avenue, was damaged $10,000; the loss on the building was about $8,000; other smaller losses will aggregate $2,000.

At the time of the fire there was a large audience present at the Avenue Theatre, which adjoins the Singer Building. The fire was discovered by the people on the stage and the curtain was dropped in the middle of the last act, and in less than twenty minutes the house was emptied of its occupants and a panic averted.
