WHAT WILL THEY DO WITH IT.

The majority of the Republicans in the next national House of Representatives is so large that none are more surprised by the result than the Republicans themselves. While this majority can make no positive step in developing the future policy of the Republican party, it will be obliged to take the initiative and the responsibility of measures involving the current expenditures of Government. During the Fifty-fourth Congress there will be an entire truce to partisan legislation.

One thing, however, is certain, namely, that there will be no negotiation of the tariff question by either party in the next Congress, whose term will not expire until March 4, 1897. The Congress to be elected in 1896 will not meet until December, 1897, and there cannot, therefore, be any legislation on the tariff, at the very worst, till the summer of 1898. So the country is secure from disturbance of the existing tariff for nearly four years. In the meantime trade and manufactures will have so completely adjusted themselves to the new law that no party will take the risk of reviving the tariff conflict by threatening a general revision of duties on imports.

When a man dies then people begin to speak of his good qualities. Since Judge A. O. Furst is no longer upon the bench, all admit that he was an able judge, and this is a just verdict from a now impartial jury.

The highest Republican majority in this county is sported by John D. Decker; he has four times as much as Hastings, and according to the order of things Johnny is entitled to the next Republican nomination for governor.

IT SEEMS to be the fact that the party which elects a president in this country is defeated in congress at the next succeeding election. In 1872 the Republicans gained the presidency and lost congress at the next election, that body in 1874 having 178 Democrats to 114 Republicans. In 1876 they gained the president and congress stood 158 Democrats to 135 Republicans in 1878. In 1880 they elected Garfield and had a plurality of 12 in the house, but lost it in 1882, the Democrats having a plurality of 78. In 1884 Cleveland was elected and the Republicans made a gain of 26 in the house in 1886. In 1888 Harrison won and in 1890 the Democrats got the house by 157 plurality, while in 1892 the Democrats elected a president, and the Republicans have gained congress in 1894. All of which shows that the party in power, no matter what its politics, invariably loses congress at the next election after it gains a president.

The number of applicants for place under Governor-elect Hastings is almost as great as the size of his majority. How to dispose of this great army of office seekers without making personal and political foes and retain his popularity with all factions of the party gives General Hastings much concern. Practical politician that he is it has been a serious question with him ever since his nomination and election was assured.

EDITOR Tom Harter and governor elect Hastings were out hunting the other day. Look out, Tom, so the General don't shoot you for a wild turkey in one of your hunting trips.

The governor elect is being overrun with fellows wanting appointments under him. The disappointed ones will wish Singlerly had been elected.

WITH a right good nature the Democrats take their overwhelming defeat, and the Republicans in looking into their victory find they have little beyond mountainous majorities.

THERE is no going up Salt river this fall. The most of the Democrats voted the Republican ticket, hence they need not go; those who did not vote that way are too small a crowd to undertake the journey.

CHINA wants the war to stop and has asked Uncle Sam to act as peace-maker, and President Cleveland has expressed his willingness to act as mediator. The Japs stand 40 millions to China's 400 millions, but the latter are only so many big babies.

A BIG Democratic majority was given Gen. Hastings last week. The usual majority of his party is 60,000, to it the Democrats added 180,000, by votes and stay-at-homes.

CURTIN MONUMENTS.

There are now conflicting efforts in several localities to have a monument erected to the late Governor Curtin by the soldiers of the state, and care should be taken that the dispute as to locality shall not hinder the success of the movement.

There should be at least two monuments erected to Governor Curtin by the people of his native state. One of these should be at his own mountain home in Bellefonte, and the monument should be erected entirely by the soldiers of the state, in which the soldier's orphans, who have been educated by Curtin's beneficent system of soldiers' orphans' schools, should be among the most active participants. The home monument should be entirely the work of the soldiers of Pennsylvania.

Another monument should be erected to Curtin, and there are two localities that should be considered for it. They are Philadelphia and Gettysburg. We believe that there should be two statues placed in front of our City Hall by the voluntary contributions of our patriotic people. Curtin was the great war Governor of the Union; Hartranft was the greatest of our Pennsylvania soldiers from civil life, and like Curtin, was twice elected Governor of the state. Two imposing statues of these distinguished sons of Pennsylvania should be erected in this city, and it will be done easily whenever the proper organization shall be made to accomplish it.

It must be admitted that Gettysburg has reasonable claims for a monument to Governor Curtin. It was the great battlefield of the war. It was the conflict that determined the overthrow of the Confederacy and the perpetuity of the Union, and as Pennsylvania was the most potent of the Northern states in both material and moral power against the rebellion, and as Curtin stands out single from even the other patriotic Executives of the war as the grandest of our war Governors, a monument to him on the Gettysburg battlefield would be in every way appropriate.

Whether or not a monument shall be erected to Curtin at Gettysburg, the people of Philadelphia should take early steps to secure an imposing statue of him to decorate the square about our City Hall. Philadelphia was the centre of the loyal sentiment of the state during the great conflict for the preservation of the Union, and nobly strengthened the hands of her patriotic Governor in the darkest days which fell upon him; and now that he has passed away and his achievements belong to history, there is no place where his statue would be more appropriate than in this cradle of civil liberty.—Philadelphia Times.

The office hounds are after General Hastings and he is fleeing from their presence.

The first regular session of the newly elected House of Representatives will not be held until the first Monday in December, 1895, although the members' terms will commence from the fourth of March next. The present Congress will hold one more session, commencing on the first Monday of next month and lasting until the fourth of March, 1895.

THE UPPER HOUSE.

The declarations of Senators Stewart and Peffer render it somewhat uncertain whether the Populist senators or any of their number will unite with the Republicans for the purpose of securing control of the senate after the 4th of March. Without this assistance it will, according to present appearances, be impossible for the Republicans to gain control before 1897, or after the next election. Giving them one of the senators to be elected in the places of Senators Ransom and Jarvis, of North Carolina, and not counting Senator Jones, of Nevada, as a Republican, they cannot hope for more than 43 Republicans in the Senate, and this is two less than will be required for either organization or for the transaction of business.

DEATH has overtaken M. B. Wright newly elected member of congress in the 15 district of this state. Truly, death is no respecter of persons.

McQuown's Majority.

The official votes from Centre, Clinton, and Clearfield counties have been received. For senator the number of ballots cast were as follows:

McQuown's majority over the other two candidates is 4,474.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by Wm. Pealer, Spring Mills, and S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville.

TAKEN UNAWARES.

Much attention has been attracted by the great offer of the Southern Pacific Company of New Orleans. They are making a free distribution of books to advertise their wonderful train now running from New Orleans to the Pacific Coast, an which is said to be the best, fastest and most luxurious service ever constructed. The train consists of a composite car, in which is embraced a barber shop, bath room, library, cafe and smoking parlor, a dining car, in which meals are served at all hours, day or night, passengers paying only for what they order; also, a full complement of Pullman's sleepers and a magnificent drawing-room sleeping car. The speed of this railway wonder, covering the vast distance between New Orleans and Los Angeles and San Francisco in 77 hours, has never been attempted or equaled. Contrary to the usual practice of other great railway lines, no expense will be incurred other than the customary first-class ticket and sleeping-car fare for traveling on this superb train.

"Now westward Sol has sent the richest beams of noon's high glory." And much of civilized America is following rapidly in his trail, seeking homes, wealth and health in California.

The great Sunset Route, Southern Pacific, is now the favorite one to those familiar with the different lines of Western travel, its management, great fully recognizing the ready appreciation which the traveling public has shown their excellent best-train service, embracing through Pullman and Tourist sleeping-car facilities in the past, and which will be continued from Cincinnati, Chicago and New Orleans, have determined to outfit the most splendid railway achievements, and to provide their patrons with a combination of luxury and comfort heretofore unimagined. To this end the magnificent train, "Sunset Limited," taking its name from the solar luminary, whose rays across the mountains and over hills and mountain it follows with the speed of the wind, has been put on between New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Leaving both terminals every Thursday during the season of 1894-95, passing through the balmy regions in all America, delightful even in January, this "flying city" covers gulf to coast in a trifle over two days. Every comfort of home is found in the luxuriously furnished coaches, dining, sleeping, and baggage—each comprise "Sunset Limited," and the scenery along this line is unsurpassed. WHAT YOUR THUMB TELLS. Square Type.

The thumb is an unfailing index of character. The Square Type indicates a strong will, great energy and firmness. Closely allied is the Spinalized Type, the thumb of those of advanced ideas and business ability. Both of these types belong to the busy man or woman; and Demorest's Family Magazine prepares especially for such persons a whole volume of new ideas, condensed in a small space, so that the record of the whole world's work for a month may be read in half an hour. The Copical Type indicates refinement, culture, and a love of music, poetry, and fiction. A person with this type of thumb will thoroughly enjoy the literary attractions of Demorest's Magazine. The Artistic Type indicates a love of beauty and art, which will find rare pleasure in the magnificent oil-pictures of roses, 10 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches, reproduced from the original paintings by De Longpre, the most celebrated of living flower-painters, which will be given to the entire production of Demorest's Magazine for 1895. The cost of this superb work of art was $250.00; and its reproduction cannot be distinguished from the original. Besides this, an exquisite oil or water-color picture is published in each number of the Magazine, and the articles are so profusely and so simply illustrated that the Magazine is, in reality, a portfolio of art works of the highest order. The Philosophic Type is the thumb of the thinker and inventor of ideas, who will be deeply interested in those developed monthly in Demorest's Magazine, in every one of its numerous departments, which cover the entire scientific and scientific field, chronicling every fact, fancy, and fad of the day. Demorest's Family Magazine, and was long ago crowned Queen of the Monthlies. Send in your subscription; it will cost only $2.00, and you will have a dozen Magazines in one. Address W. J. Fox, Manager, Publishers, 15 East 14th Street, New York. Though not a fashion magazine, its perfect fashion pages and its articles on family and domestic matters, will be of superlative interest to those possessing the Square Type of Thumb, which indicates in its small size, slenderness, soft nail, and smooth, rounded tip, those traits which belong essentially to the gentler sex, every one of whom should subscribe to Demorest's Magazine. If you are unacquainted with its merits, send for a specimen copy (free), and you will admit that seeing these THUMB has put you in the way of saving money by reading one Magazine everything to satisfy the literary wants of the whole family.

TOWN TOPICS, The Journal of Society, (24 PAGES.) NEW YORK. (THURSDAY.)

It is universally recognized as the most complete weekly journal in the world. Its "Bambling" columns are infallible. Its society news, especially of the doings of the 400 of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and over the world, is not equaled by any newspaper. Its Financial Department contains the latest news of bankers and brokers. Its "Literary Show" notes on current literature—is by the clearest of reviewers. Its "Adieu" column makes it the most interesting paper for all lovers of sport—racing, football, polo, and everything that is "in" on the turf" except all other racing notes. Its sketches, poems and specially prepared "Tales" are by the best writers—among them Annie Rice, F. Marion Crawford, Julian Hawthorne, Edgar Lawrence, Gilbert Parker, Henry Spenser, George Falconer, Barry Pain, Paul Bourget, Howard Kipling, Ambrose Bierce, and many others. It is a trifling price, yet always clever, bright and pretty. In addition to all this there is each week a supplement, portrait of some man eminent in his walk of life.

Tales from Town Topics

Quarterly, first day of March, June, September, December: 50c pages; 12mo. Contains in each number, in addition to short stories, poems, burlesques, etc., from the old issues of Town Topics, a complete, original prize story of 120 to 150 pages. No one who enjoys the highest class of fiction, and would be so conversant with all that pertains to good society, can afford to be without Town Topics every week. There is so much interesting reading in it and in the "Tales," that a club subscription to both will supply any family with abundant reading of the most entertaining character all the year.

RATES: Town Topics per annum, $1.00. A trial subscription for three months, $1.00, and a specimen copy of "Tales" free. Tales from Town Topics, per number, 50 cents. Per annum, $2.00. Each Clubbed, per annum, $5.00, and any two previous numbers of "Tales" you may specify FREE.
