Mrs. John Dauberman, of this place, has been quite ill for several weeks from a liver complaint. We trust this most estimable lady will have a speedy recovery.

Esq. Houseman, from Tusseyville, having been in town Tuesday afternoon with a two-horse sled, indicates that the road in that direction has become "navigable" again.

J. E. Royer, head clerk in one of Bellefonte's dry-goods stores, gave our office a pleasant call and set his label to '95. He had been at his home over here several weeks to rid himself of an attack from measles.

James B. and Mrs. Strohm were pleasant callers in our sanctum, during one of the cold mornings of the recent frigid snap and got the benefit of an hour aside of a comfortable stove, and then proceeded to their destination at Centre Hill, their former home.

Hess-Sweigert.

Our handsome young friend, Frank Hess, late mercantile appraiser, and one of Phillipsburg's popular business men, has taken Miss Annie Sweigert, an accomplished young lady of Beulah City, for his wife. The happy event took place on Wednesday of last week. The REPORTER extends the newly wedded pair its fondest congratulations with a sincere wish that a life of happiness is in store for them.

More Snow—the 14th.

The 13 snow of the season set in on last Thursday evening 7, on the wings of the greatest and coldest blizzard for years. The depth of this 13er was about 6 inches, added to the 49 inches of the 12 snows that preceded, makes 55 inches of snow up to that time.

Tuesday night an inch of snow fell—making the 14th snow, and total depth 56 inches.

A Kind Word for the Reporter.

An esteemed minister of the M. E. church, of this valley, closes a letter to us with the following kind words: "Send me the 'Reporter' regularly, as I know from a perusal of it, that it is healthy in morals, independent in opinion, and readable in matter."

The Correct Name.

The correct name of the post-office at Hecla, in Nitany valley, is not "Mingleville," as mentioned last week, but "Mingoville," and persons having correspondence in that direction will do well to bear this in mind.

A storm coat this weather is almost necessary if you wish to be comfortable. There is a big assortment at Lewins', Bellefonte, and a sale made by him is bound to be satisfactory.

SILVER WEDDING

AT THE HOME OF MR. AND MRS. GEORGE GOODHART.

About Seventy-Five Invited Guests Meet With them to Celebrate Their Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

On Monday evening, the 11th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Goodhart, near Centre Hill, was the scene of a brilliant affair. It was the celebration of their 25th marriage anniversary.

Owing to the blizzard which struck this place a few days previous, the roads were so badly drifted in some places that many were prevented from getting there on that account, while some walked a distance of several miles over the snow banks in order to get there, not being able to get through with horse and sleigh. But notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads about seventy-five persons gathered at their pleasant home to celebrate with them on this festive occasion.

Rev. J. W. Boal, of Port Carbon, the minister who was to officiate was prevented from getting here on account of the storm, which was quite a disappointment to all, although, fortunately, this did not necessitate a postponement of the happy event, as it would have done had the same thing occurred twenty-five years ago.

About seven o'clock the guests were all assembled; at this time Mr. Elmer Royer, of Bellefonte, entered the room with Miss Jessie Durst, of Pottery Mills, whom he escorted to the organ, and a most appropriate wedding march was rendered while their two daughters, Misses Ada and Anna and their two sons, James and Bruce entered the room followed by the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Goodhart, looking youthful and happy and perfectly satisfied with the choice each had made twenty-five years ago.

In the absence of the minister, Mr. D. F. Fortney, Esq., of Bellefonte, made an appropriate address, after which the happy couple were congratulated by their many friends, all wishing them many more years of married bliss.

The guests were all comfortably seated in groups, when a most elaborate supper was served which was heartily partaken of and enjoyed by all. The remainder of the evening was spent in social chat and games until a late hour, all feeling reluctant to leave the happy family who were entertaining them so royally.

They received many handsome and costly presents consisting of silverware, linen and china. Their children and Mrs. Goodhart's sisters presented them with a handsome dinner set.

A sled load of their friends drove over from Bellefonte; they were Mr. and Mrs. James Strohm, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Fortney, Mr. and Mrs. T. Frank Adams, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gramley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter, Mr. H. Holtz and Mr. Charles Kurtz. Those expecting to come by train were unable to get here.

Mr. Goodhart says there was a blizzard, though on a smaller scale, on their wedding eve twenty-five years ago, so that this one coming just at this time would make the anniversary complete. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all and will long be remembered by Mr. Goodhart's family and the guests whom they entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodhart are very popular among their many friends and acquaintances, all of whom congratulate them on their happy wedded life and hope they may live to celebrate many more anniversaries.

Fire at State College. Wednesday afternoon the dwelling house at State College owned by Chas. Snyder and occupied by William Carl, caught fire and was totally destroyed with all its contents. The loss was about two thousand dollars, on which there was no insurance.

DEATH OF S. D. TOBIAS.

He Had Been in Ill Health for the Last Thirty Years.

The subject of this notice, Snyder D. Tobias, son of Rev. S. Tobias, now deceased, a minister of the Reformed church, formerly of Bloomsburg, latterly of Rebersburg, Centre county, was born at Bloomsburg, Columbia county, Pa., on the first day of August, A. D. 1840, died at Millheim, Centre county, on the 30th day of Jan. A. D. 1895, aged 54 years, 5 months and 29 days. He was sick about thirty years, and for the last fourteen years his sickness and sufferings were of such a character as to incapacitate him from performing much of any kind of business. In July last his lower limbs became entirely paralyzed, suffering intense pains. About ten weeks prior to his death he took his bed and lay in one position, never moving unless moved by his nurse, entirely helpless, and had to be handled like a child. For four weeks he took no nourishment except water and a little milk.

What is Zero? This question was asked us a few days ago by a citizen living a short distance below the REPORTER office.

And why is zero 32 degrees below freezing instead of having zero start at the freezing point?

We will endeavor to explain: There are three thermometers in use, namely, Fahrenheit, Reaumur and the Centigrade. The Fahrenheit is used in the United States and England; it has 32 degrees below freezing for 0. This 0 is the temperature obtained by mixing snow and salt, or 32° below freezing. In Fahrenheit the scale between freezing and boiling is 180°; 32° being the freezing, and 212° the boiling point.

On Centigrade zero is the freezing while 100 is the boiling point, the degrees being larger than Fahrenheit.

On Reaumur zero is also the freezing point and the boiling point 80°.

Fahrenheit having less space for degrees is the most convenient as it avoids fractions thereby, but it has the awkwardness of starting zero 32° below freezing, while the two latter take freezing for zero (0).

Another Wreck. The second wreck since the great storm occurred on the railroad. On Tuesday morning while three engines with a snow-plow were being worked against a drift about one mile east of Old Fort, near the Indian lane, the drift proved too solid, the snow-plow broke, and the engine was run up an embankment with only one of the hind wheels remaining against the rails. By noon another wreck train, consisting of two engines, coach and caboose, arrived on the spot from Sunbury to get the disabled engine out of the way.

Hold Up by the Stormking. The bliz caught Rev. Goodling at Lenont, 10 miles from here. He started for home afoot on the snowbound railroad bed, and, including time lost for dinner at Linden Hall, he got there in 3 1/2 hours, on Saturday with ears frosted.

Commissioner Goodhart and Shannon Boal tried to drive from Bellefonte to this place Saturday morning, but a few miles proved it couldn't be did, and Goodhart drove back, while Boal trusting to Providence and his legs, continued a-foot and got here with ears frosted. Mr. Goodhart and several others managed to get to Centre Hall by tough tugging, Saturday evening.

Lumberman Huyett, of this place, was caught by the bliz at Sunbury, and was obliged to remain over several days.

Geo. B. Haines and M'C. Gramley, jurors of Miles, managed by close shaving to get from Bellefonte to Centre Hall, Saturday evening, and had to remain over here until Tuesday. They could see into Brush valley but they couldn't get there, a little like Moses looking into the promised land of Canaan but couldn't get there.

Whose Body is It? Undertaker C. H. Mauk, of Harrisburg, has the dead body of a person at his rooms awaiting orders to ship it to some western state. He embalmed it one year and a half ago. It is yet in a perfect state of preservation and life-like. Mr. Mauk says he will keep it two years, and then if not sent for will bury it in his cemetery plot. It would have been buried long before this but he wanted to see how long he could keep it.

Got Ahead of the Bliz. The REPORTER and the "Centre Democrat," being mailed on Thursday afternoon of last week, were about the only county papers that got to their destination ahead of the blizzard; all others mailed later were snowbound and didn't get out of their offices.

Want Big Damages. We understand, says the Middleburg Post, that the Romigs intend to enter a suit to recover $50,000 or $75,000 damage from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the killing of Isaac D. and Chas. A. Romig in the recent collision at Kreamer.

Liability to a Fine. In the house at Harrisburg a bill has been introduced providing for the punishment of persons who willfully furnish newspapers with libelous matter by a fine not exceeding $500 and imprisonment for two years, or either.

Death in a Stove Explosion. A fatal accident took place on last Friday, at Altoona, in W. K. Calvert's kitchen. The water-back of the range blew up and killed one of Mr. Calvert's children, broke both legs of his father-in-law, Mr. Daniels, of Centre county, and wrecked the kitchen.

Religious Items. Installation of Rev. Rearick, pastor of the Centre Hall Lutheran charge, on Sunday forenoon, February 24, with appropriate services and music.

Rev. Rearick resumed his protracted meeting in the Lutheran church on Wednesday evening, to continue the rest of the week.

Six Dollars a Month. A bill has passed the United States senate to abolish all two and four dollar disability pensions, and to make the minimum of them all six dollars per month.

Train off the Track. Wednesday afternoon's passenger train east ran off of the siding at Coburn, causing the up-train to be late three hours.

Owing to the fact that Lyon & Co., of Bellefonte, must make room for a large stock of spring goods, they now offer their entire winter stock at such prices never before heard of in this county. See their advertisement in another column on page five.

A FIRE.

House Occupied by Harvey Rossman, with Most of Contents Burned.

On Tuesday evening about 5 o'clock the two story dwelling occupied by Harvey Rossman, near Brush mountain, about 4 miles east of this place, was burned; the fire originated on the 2nd floor from a defective flue.

Everything on the 2nd story was burned; on the first floor all was gotten out except a cupboard. The house was on the farm belonging to Mrs. Neidigh of Haines tp., and Mr. Rossman was the tenant. There was no insurance so far as we can learn.

This will be a severe loss for Mr. Rossman, as he has suffered much in pain and expense for many months from an injured arm.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

A Native of Aaronsburg Perished in Iowa in the Storm.

We noticed in our last week's issue the death by freezing, of Dr. Stover, of Iowa, while on his way home from attending a patient.

We have since been reliably informed that the unfortunate physician, was Dr. Perry Stover, a native of Aaronsburg this county, and a son of Major Isaac Stover, de'd, of that town.

Young Stover went west over a dozen years ago, and graduated in medicine in the University of Michigan, after which he located at Weymouth, Iowa, and has lived there since as a successful practitioner. He was a grandson of Col. Jacob Stover, of Aaronsburg, and upwards of 36 years of age.

Pickings Put Short. The believer in the ground-hog has zero marks and blizzards to renew his faith.

Bellefonte is paying 55 for wheat, says the "Democrat."

The "Watchman" has a new power press and folks now won't look at common folk printers anymore. Glad, anyhow, it was able to get a new machine.

Our Sam Kreamer, we find, is a close reader of political events. Sam don't bother about girls, altho a bakers dozen have their eyes on him.

The "Magnet" groweth because the commissioners only gave it 400 supplements, whereas it claims a circulation of 864. As the annual elections show the temperance vote in the county to be only 290 to 300, this "Magnet" must have an attractive power for support from the anti-prohibition side.

Last Friday's blizzard blizzed like blazes and beat any blizzard that ever blowed in these peaceable diggins.

What Blizzards are For. A fellow sinner desires the REPORTER to explain "what blizzards are for." Whether in earnest or jokingly, no matter, it's a fair question.

Blizzards are a good thing. They act as renovators, fumigators, purifiers, disinfectors, scavengers, fresh-air-suppliers, miasma killers, shake chestnuts from trees, start rusty windmills, pull down rickety buildings saving the owner the expense of doing it, pile up snow in some places so it don't get too deep in others, make work for the poor by playing smash,—these are a few of the blessings that ride in the lap of a blizzard.

They Voted "Nay." When the bill increasing the salary of superintendent of banking from $4000 to $6000 a year and increasing the number of clerks came up before the legislature five Republicans voted against the bill on general principle. Among them were Messrs. Womelsdorf and Curtin, the members from Centre county. The bill carried, but all the same those who supported it will have some trouble to excuse their position when they go home and meet their indignant constituents.

Bellefonte's Jubilee. Bellefonte is preparing to celebrate her centennial anniversary on June 5, 6 and 7 next. On June 5 the cornerstone of a monument to ex-Governor Curtin will be laid.

This Bellefonte centennial will be of no mean proportions, and we will all take a hand in the celebration.

Death in a Stove Explosion. A fatal accident took place on last Friday, at Altoona, in W. K. Calvert's kitchen. The water-back of the range blew up and killed one of Mr. Calvert's children, broke both legs of his father-in-law, Mr. Daniels, of Centre county, and wrecked the kitchen.

People call this an old-fashioned winter. Gosh! we don't see anything old-fashioned about it.

The snow banks have been packed as solid as earthworks by last week's unprecedented storm.

The railroad company gave all that wanted a job a chance to shovel snow from the tracks last Sunday.

Last fall a sinner came into our sanctum and predicted we were going to have a mild winter and offered to trade his mittens on three months of the Reporter. Like the groundhog, this prophet has crept to the farthest part of his hole and not been seen since.

The railroad company paid all hands along this line 10 cents per hour for shoveling snow from the track, except for Sunday and night work for which 12 cents per hour was paid.

Installation of Rev. Rearick, pastor of the Centre Hall Lutheran charge, on Sunday forenoon, February 24, with appropriate services and music.

Rev. Rearick resumed his protracted meeting in the Lutheran church on Wednesday evening, to continue the rest of the week.

BLIZZARDS STILL TO COME.

Foster Says that the Severest Storms of the Winter Will Soon be Here.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from Feb. 12 to 16, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 16th, cross the western mountain country by close of 17th, the great central valleys from 18th to 20th and the eastern states about the 24th.

This storm wave will initiate a most remarkable period of weather and the country will experience almost everything from the tornado to the blizzard. Extremes of weather in nearly every respect may be looked for, but more cold than heat, more rain and snow and sleet and hail than drought.

In the north particular attention should be given to the protection of live stock during the last half of the month, and in the south the early crops particularly of gardeners, will suffer from cold rains, sleet and hail. Tornadoes may be expected in the southern states and severe cold waves in the north. A cold wave of some importance will also cross the continent from 9th to 11th.

The warm wave will cross the western mountain country about the 16th, the great central valleys about the 18, and eastern states about the 20th. The cool wave will cross the western mountain country about the 19th, the great central valleys about the 21st, and the eastern states about the 23d, and will give the eastern states a blizzard.

The unusual weather of the 1895 crop season will take farmers and others by surprise, especially those who do not carefully read and study these weather bulletins. Intelligent farmers and dealers will study the future of the weather, the former planting that which will best succeed in yield and price, and the latter arranging his stock in trade to correspond.

Coldest Day in Iowa for Years. On Friday was the coldest experienced in this state for years. The thermometers along the line of the Burlington railroad marked 22 to 24 below zero. Trains are all late.

Why not go to Lyon & Co. and get yourself well supplied with good, warm clothing? The reductions made are wonderful. Look up the large reductions in another column, on page five.
