A CLUB FOR HASTINGS.

When the people gave Gov. Hastings a plurality of 241,000, they intended it should be a big veto club with which to scotch legislative monsters.

The governor, we are pleased to note, has started in to use this club by vetoing three bills passed, two of which would have created two additional judges. These vetoes were right and have the endorsement of the people. There are large numbers of schemes before the legislature to plunder the people, and Gov. Hastings must keep on using his big veto club to smash the heads of the snakes as they crawl from the senate and house into the executive chamber.

The Republicans in the legislature have schemes introduced that will foot up $3 million dollars while the revenues of the state only amount to 19 millions! This is a pretty picture, indeed, and one that raises the sweat on the brow of every tax payer, and if Gov. Hastings does not kill all the proposed monstrosities the people will feel that the 241,000 plurality was given to the wrong fellow.

Gov. Hastings for over fifteen years has been a close and delighted reader of the REPORTER and it was this journal that early brought him into prominence and we harbor the faith that he will prove true to his Alma Mater. The present legislature will bankrupt the state if the governor does not put both his Chicago sized feet down on it. We think he'll do it.

A big job is before the governor in writing veto messages that will turn back the plunder schemes now on foot, and to make the task easy for him we offer to print 500 blank veto messages for him, free of charge, by the use of which he can kill one of these snakes in less than thirty seconds after it is laid upon the executive desk. The blank vetoes would be brief and to the point and read thus:

To the Senate and House of Representatives of Penn'a:

Gentlemen:—Bill No. —, entitled an Act to create new offices and raise the salary of others, has been laid before me for my signature. I hereby return it without my approval. My oath to support the Constitution and my pledges to the people in my inaugural forbid that I should sanction any scheme to plunder the state treasury. Offices and salaries should be decreased and not increased.

DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

MONEY AND WAGES.

A few days ago Mr. Sovereign and other officers of the Knights of Labor were quoted as declaring their intention to apply to the United States Courts to have the recent and possible future issues of bonds pronounced illegal. Putting aside the fact that the bonds already issued are beyond the reach of injunction, it is yet hard to see what they, considered as representative working men, could hope to gain if their prayer should be granted. Under the existing laws there is no other method by which a sufficient gold reserve to insure the redemption of that metal of the Treasury notes and greenbacks now in circulation could be maintained; and wage-workers would be the very first to feel the loss if the money with which wages is paid should fall in value.

There is no class in the country that has so strong an interest in the soundness of the currency as the working people. A decline in the value of the money with which labor is paid would be tantamount to a decline in wages, and would be accompanied by a rise in the price of all the commodities which working people have to buy. It is true that a better method of maintaining all other money at a parity with gold might have been devised had Congress been amenable to reason; but there is no hope of that now, and it is better to pay even 3 1/2 per cent interest on the bonds than to suffer the enormous loss and the derangement of business that would accompany a depreciated currency.

Mr. Sovereign and his associates, if they have been correctly quoted, seem to approve the course which Congress has taken in refusing to legalize any other method by which the Treasury might have preserved its credit; and as they condemn the issue of bonds, it would be interesting to know what course it would, in their judgment, have been advisable to pursue.

A FREE SILVER TICKET.

According to Bland, of Missouri, and Livingstone, of Georgia, the silver men are going to have their own presidential ticket next time. This is the honest way to act. The silver men can confer no greater benefit upon the public than by putting an end to the present duplicity. Party straddling on the silver question must come to an end. It is the chief political issue of the times, and parties must line up on one side or the other. When the division takes place it will be seen how really small and weak is the insolent faction which has been lording it over Congress for so long.

The present strength of the free silver men in Congress is out of all proportion to their strength in the country. The silver faction has a majority in the Senate, but that majority is the creation of the rotten borough system, which makes the delegates of mining camps the equals in voting capacity to the great states of the east and the west. Both in population represented and in electoral votes that majority represents a hopeless minority. As soon as the silver faction comes out as a national party the fact will be demonstrated.

"How a fish raises," is the heading of a half column article by a scientist, and copied in the "Keystone Gazette." We are surprised that a fisherman like Harter should stop to listen to a scientific explanation as to how a fish raises in water when the simple two-line fact is a you take a line, hook with a bit of bait at the end, throw it in the stream, pull, and the fish raises right up.

The orange crop having been killed by the severity of the winter, no one need be murky over not having any of the fruit to squeeze. In the absence of oranges you can get a much sweeter squeeze by taking to the girls as none of them have been frozen.

CRYING babies are a nuisance in a church during services, interfering with the devotions of parents as well as the audience. At Sharpville, Pa., one day last week, Rev. Demster, addressing the Free Methodist congregation, caused a sensation by ejecting from the church all babies that cried. Any mother of good sense will go out of church if her baby has a crying spell, simple courtesy to the audience and minister requires this; yet how often is it the case that during the entire service a bawling child will be allowed to annoy the congregation.

SIX young men of Pottsville have clubbed together and have pledged each other to marry within 6 months. That's proper, but they should be bound not to club their wives afterwards.

To be drunk but once in a life-time may be thought a small affair, but it may depend upon the period covered by the spree and we give a case in point:

John A. Hampton, 48 years old, of Brooklyn, fell, the other day, and broke his leg. He was taken to the House of Relief, where he said: "I don't want to stay here. I have been drunk for 20 years. Confinement in the hospital might make me sober again." He begged for a drink. Surgeon Sanger says he'll make a sober man of his patient for a few days, at least.

We have known Centre county toppers to be on a long spree but never knew one to be in the soak as long as Hampton.

LET a few days tell whether the Republican legislature has the manliness and courage to order a Lexow investigation of Philadelphia.

Not Correct.

The daily papers of the 20th published dispatches sent from Pittsburgh, stating that our fellow townsman, General James A. Beaver, had met with a financial windfall and was again worth $500,000. Much as the ex-governor's many friends would wish this it is unfortunately not true and we are extremely sorry that such a report should be put into circulation, as it can only serve to further embarrass General Beaver in his heroic struggle against the tide of adversity.—Gazette.

To Change the Method.

The house committee on education has reported a bill changing the method of granting certificates to teachers. Instead of permitting the teachers' institute to select the committee, as is now done, the bill provides that the county superintendent and two teachers, with two others to be selected by the state superintendent, shall constitute the board of examiners.

Encouraging Reports.

Reports from the iron and steel manufacturing districts convey the intelligence that a number of steel rail mills are enlarging their facilities for the manufacture of steel rails. The demand is growing, and from present indications it would appear that the street rail trade will constitute an important factor in the street rail business of 1895.

Colorado Courtesy Illustrated.

A disgraceful row occurred in state senate on Thursday. Senator Mills, in the course of debate, called Senator Peace a liar. Mills then threw a paper weight at Peace and then the Senators clinched and fought furiously. The result was four black eyes and a lively flow of blood. The contestants were finally separated. The senate ordered an investigation of the fracas and adjourned.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced in the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health.

The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be termed, is to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the brain and conveys the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble. The noted specialist, Frank M. Miles, D. M., L. L. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nerve cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee, and many other gifts, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, or 5 bottles for $5, express prepaid.

The Conical Type indicates energy, enjoyment, literary attainments of Demorest's Magazine. The Artistic Type indicates a love of beauty and art, which will give more pleasure in the magnificent oil-pictures of living flower-painters, which will be given to every subscriber to Demorest's Magazine for 1895. The cost of this superb work of art was $250.00, and the reproduction cannot be distinguished from the original. Besides this, an exquisite oil or water-color picture is published in each number of the Magazine, and the articles are so profuse and superbly illustrated that the Magazine is, in reality, a portfolio of art works of the highest order. The Philosopher Type is the thumb of the thinker and inventor of ideas, who will be deeply interested in those developed monthly in Demorest's Magazine, in every one of its numerous departments, which cover the entire artistic and scientific field, chronicle every fact, fancy, and fad of the day.
