ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce the name of William F. Smith, of Bellefonte, as a candidate for the nomination of Frothington, subject to the rules and regulations of the Democratic county convention.

We are authorized to announce the name of William J. Singer, of Bellefonte, as a candidate for the nomination of District Attorney, subject to the rules and regulations of the Democratic county convention.

THE bill pensioning judges was killed in the senate. The "Reporter" and a large number of other papers in the state raised the alarm and it had its good effect upon the senate.

AN effort is being made to pardon Bardsley, the biggest embezzler of public funds in the state. We expect the Republican pardon board will set him at liberty as it did the convicted Kemble.

THE clerks in the auditor general's department the other day presented Auditor General Gregg with a handsome gold watch and chain. Gen. Gregg was one of the few public officials that did not need watching.

OUR Senator McQuown's bill favoring the book trust was defeated again in the House. Senator McQuown will have a hard time making satisfactory explanations to his constituents in this district for his overweening desire to father this measure. The defeat of the bill is a merited one, and is also a deserving rebuke to the Senator from the Clinton-Centre-Clearfield district.

THE "Farmer's Friend" lauds our representatives, Womelsdorf and Curtin. From that we conclude that this grange organ endorses the coal oil monopoly, pensioning judges, making new offices, raising salaries, and the like, just as these gentlemen do. But to the credit of the grangers and the farmers we can say, they do not support these inequities, and think their "big leaders" may be trying to pull the wool over their eyes. Grangers and farmers, let us watch a little for our own good.

MONDAY's papers brought the news of the death of Col. James Young, at Middletown, Pa., known as "the king of farmers," who did more real good for the farming interest than any man in the United States and without seeking office. Col. Young's twelve farms near Middletown are said to be the finest in the world. His death was the result of being thrown from a buggy in a run-off.

LET all foreign nations take notice and tremble that representative Focht of Union is opposed to having a foreign flag planted anywhere on this continent and in Nicaragua in particular. Now as the house refused to pay any attention to his resolution we would advise him to resign, take an old broom stick and start off for Corinto and make ugly snoots at the British gun boats. That would be more genuine pluck than offering buncombe resolutions five thousand miles away.

AH, and here comes representative Womelsdorf too, slopping over with patriotism and sympathy for the Cuban revolutionists in their efforts to throw off the Spanish yoke. Now see here Womelsdorf, if you really are red-hot and sincere about this Cuban business, what's in your way to prove it by going down to Cuba instanter, entering the ranks of the insurgent army and fighting valiantly for Cuban freedom? Mr. Cassanova, of Philipsburg, will tell you how to get there quick, and our friend will pay your passage down. This thing of offering claptrap resolutions in the legislature will not kill a single blasted Spaniard, but you must go down there and do it with a musket.

THE break in the ranks of the rural members of the house is fatal to their interests and the chances are they will get very little legislation, thinks the Patriot. Fortunately for them, they have gotten thro' and had approved their pet scheme creating a department of agriculture and the forestry law. They have also succeeded in passing a trespass law to protect berries and nuts. The farmers have numerous bills of vital importance to them on the calendar of the senate and house which they will not be able to get thro' on account of the the division in their ranks.

There are some "big fellows" loafing around Harrisburg bawling "farmer" and playing petty lobbyist for monopolists in the hope of getting a little filthy boodle, and these big farmer leaders are consequently getting very small favors for the farmer. When the pipe line monopoly worked to get a choke on the oil consuming farmer and the bill to pension judges was up, the "big leaders of the farmer" were as dumb as oysters. Farmers, watch a little.

THE STATE SCHOOL MONEY.

The present system of apportioning the money given out of the State treasury to the local school districts is unfair to the country districts, and this Legislature ought to correct it. The large cities—including our own—get more than their equitable share, and one section cannot get more than its share without some other section getting less. The Times is a very loyal Pittsburger, but the demands of plain justice cannot be ignored.

Under the present system of sharing the fund according to the number of taxables in each school district, the large floating population in the cities is counted, with the result that Philadelphia gets about $8 per pupil, Allegheny county about $6, and the average country district about $3, some of them falling as low as $2. Under an apportionment according to the number of children of school age, the state appropriation would give about $5 per pupil all around, country and city alike. The cities pay more than their relative share of state taxes, but they are better able to.—Pittsburg Times.

SCHOOL-BOOK BILL DEFEATED.

The McQuown school book bill went to its last sleep for this session of the legislature and the trust received a well-merited defeat in the House. An effort was made to pass finally this proposition of the school book trust, but the opposition was too strong. The bill originated in the senate and went through that body with practically no opposition. Its sponsor was Senator McQuown, of Clearfield. The measure prohibited school boards from changing text books oftener than every five years after their adoption.

McQuown is the Republican Senator from this district, and is strongly accused of having gotten up his bill in the interest of a school book monopoly.

May Qualify Each Other.

In the organization of a school board it shall be the duty of the person chosen to act as secretary to qualify the person chosen to act as president, and the president in turn shall qualify all the other members of said board.
