WEAVING.

Daily, hourly, we weave and weave, And whether we sing, or sit and grieve, The weaving goes on without delay, Shaping our robe for the judgment day.

Our smiles and our tears in blended sheen.

All through the woof of the fabric gleam; And the garment glitters with threads of Fold Wrought in by a patience manifold.

The kindness that won an erring soul Strengthens the strands and brightens the whole:

While the deed we deemed not worth a place

In the finished web with joy we trace.

Our very thoughts in the pattern fair, Now light'ned with love, now dark'ned with care,

The weaver's mystical shuttle throws, Till into the robe their likeness grows.

The tangled threads, the knots and the ends.

All into the woof the Master blends: And with a touch of His skillful hand Brings into its place each straying strand

* * * O beautiful garment, thou sheen of pure gold, Reflecting God's glory from seam and from fold!

Environ my soul with thy beauty and light.

That, approved, I may stand in Heaven's clear light.

S. S. EDDY.

A Glittering Temptation.

When Leander Clarke married Mabel being a rich man, but as his affairs appear logic on her-side, that the "Little Catawba" the fact that he took time by the forelock, man fashion, grew angry, and after some the only way poor mortals have of ever hot words reached the penultimate of pasgetting even with him of the scythe and hour glass.

But it is this very thing that is causing making his nights sleepless and threatening to undermine his domestic peace.

Mabel Thorpe laid no claims to social some entertainment, where she rendered selections of classic music in such a mas- ciliation, he suggested that she be doubly terly manner that he, being a lover of careful of her cherished possessions. music, was instantly attracted to her side, and staid there during the evening. For know the people who have fine diamonds, sighted, and having been graduated from succeed." an Eastern college, was rather stiff and pedantic in her manner-a grateful change in the same room. Womanlike, she the Egyptians were commonly made of world-more's the pity-and love goes the rag bag entered into her calculations, were very artistic. where it is sent. Mabel had expected to but places just as inconsistent did. become one of that noble army of martyrs, One night there was a crash in the room teachers, but when Leander proposed she below. reconsidered the matter, and thought she and whispered in his ear: heard the voice of duty bidding her answer "yes," and without more ado she accepted down stairs. The diamonds are in the ligious symbol, a charm, a medal struck him Now Mabel Thorpe did not expect her him-as she had a right to do-a high moral standard, for she had not married him until she had seen, as she believed, his whole past life open before her like a book. There the noise of falling furniture, opening and left hand. is no time when a man is as weekly senti- closing of windows and the rapid firing of mental and religious as when he is trying the revolver after some flying robber. to live up to the standard of a pure young Then regard for her husband's life comgirl's ideal, and Leander became almost an pelled Mabel to hurry to his assistance. angel. There are very few of us capable of making human angels of ourselves. Good and evil are as persistently present in our moral beside him bathed his face and besought nature as light and darkness are in our him to speak to her. atmosphere, and one serves as the complement of the other. To banish night we tried to raise bimself. "Are the diamonds use the light of science, to counteract safe?" wrong we invoke divine help; but so largely is our worldly nature in excess of our wife. spiritual powers, that we are constantly in where ?" danger of erring to be forgiven, in other words, sinning and repenting. uprightness. The command to do evil that good may come was her perverted sistance, before she even thought of her text. She was not aware that there are diamonds. sins of omission, as well as of commission, and that her uprighteous condemnation of sinners, and her severe judgements, were root and branch! And they were the only in themselves of a sinful nature. The self- things stolen. righteous are too often harder to live with than the sinner. Leander Clarke had been a good son, and he intended to be a good husband. He with which she parted from them. She was both proud and fond of his wife, but allowed the usual course to be taken to recertainly regretted that he could not give cover the thief, or thieves, to justice, but her all the luxuries that she could ap- when no results followed, she said she was preciate, not even the grand piano that her glad of it, that the gems had been like an musical talent deserved. But he went to evil eye to them, and for her part she never work with a will to make Ler 'happy, and wanted to hear of them again. hoped in a few years to be able to add all other needful things. Among the wedding presents of the keep anything in my house again to tempt young couple was one that far outshown the cupidity of the wicked or unfortunate. all the rest-a superb set of diamonds sent To that extent am I my brother's keeper." by an uncle of Leander's who was near to death, and gave the residue of a large es- tirely different. Either he caught cold on tate in this extravagant present. Leander that night of the burglary, or his nervous himself was genuinely sorry that such an system received a shock, for he was almost undesirable gift had been made, but he ar- ill from the effects of his tussle with the of the newspaper enterprise and liberality gued that his wife was a sensible woman, burglar. And he could not endure to have and would turn them into something more the subject mentioned before him. Not suitable to their condition in life -- a piano, even the success of the "Little Catawba," for instance, which was a necessity rather in which a friend had invested for him, than a luxury. What was his surprise when gave him the peace and rest he craved.

the right to do as I please with my own." science does not upset the whole scheme. "The right-yes; but I thought my wife He would give a great deal to know, what had more discretion. I did not know you no ciairvoyant could tell him, how much cared for gew-gaws, Mabel." or how little Mabel has discovered. My

So the first cloud came on the horizon of own opinion is that she saw through it from their love, but Leander was good-tem- the first, and holds herself equally guilty pered, and Mabe, satisfied and it disan- as accessory after the crime, and with that peared. The truth was that Leander had sweet fickleness which even an upright expected a handsome sum of money from woman employs she will make herself a this very uncle, who was a bathelor, and loving accomplice. For it is a foregone very old. But age had not mellowed an conclusion that Leander Clarke was his ugly disposition to thwart his relatives, own burglar-Detroit Free Press. and after raising the young man's hopes

SACRED BEETLE.

With Rare Powers.

The Egyptian scarabaeus is the most dis-

According to Mr. Isaac Myer the scara-

Three thousand six hundred years before

The Egyptians believed the heart to be when it was removed in the process of The scarabaeus is a beetle of which

It was often portrayed as a passenger in

A great many other powers were sym-

The models of the scarabaeus used by Pharaoh took his signet ring, in which there are many varieties. The insect com-builder of the third pyramid at Gizeth.

he took a malicious pleasure in disappointing them. The young couple began life in a pretty

An Insect That Invested the Wearen furnished cottage on the modern plan of a chafing dish and hand-painted china, and it worked like a charm. Mabel presided tinguished insect in history, just as the over the dainty cuisine, the butler's pantry, American Eagle is the most distinguished the parlor and really did wonders. Leander bird. fell in love with her over and over again. But for the diamonds they would have baeus was the symbol of an elevated rebeen as happy as larks.

ligious idea embracing that of a future life Did they hear a sound at night-it was of the human soul, a resurrection of it a burglar after those precieus gems. They from the dead, and, most likely, of a rewere afraid to leave the house alone lest ward or punishment to it in the future thieves break in and steal, and one or the other of the two was compelled to be the life, based on its conduct in the terrestrial life. Mr. Myer has just written a work on hiding place of the jewels. when they went this subject, which is published by Edwin out together. Mabel did not care to adorn W. Dayton, in this city. herself with diamonds when she went to market or to church, but she could not the birth of Christ, he says, the Egyptians listen to a sermon in pence if the gems believed in Osiris, an eternal, living God, were not about her. And somehow it did as is proved by the tomb of Men-Kau-Ra, annov her to carry concealed wealth, like a king of the fourth or Memphite dynasty, brigand or a smuggler.

But when Leander had a chance to buy shares in the "Little Catawba" Lumber Company, and to make as much in three the seat of intellect and source of life and months as he would in a year by his clerkship, Mabel would not listen to the sug- mummification a model of the scarabacus gestion that the bank would advance was put in its place. enough on the diamonds to enable him to make the investment.

Then Leander discovered that his wife monly represented by the ancient Egyptcould be a very obstinate woman. It was ians is the ateuchus sacer. It had thirty in vain that he laid before her the benefit toes representing the thirty days of the that would result from a transient disposal month, and the movement of the ball, Thorpe, he had no expectation of ever of the gems. She replied, not without which it constructed and in which it deposited its eggs, symbolized, among other at the present time he is on the broad high- might be a failure, and then her precious things, the action of Ra, the Egyptian sun way to future wealth. It all arose from securities would be forfeited. Leander, diety, at midday. The soldier wore the beetle as a charm to increase bravery, and the women to promote fertility. It was supposed that the scarabaeus was exclusion.

"I wish," he said, in tones of invective, sively of the male sex, but this was a de-"that burglars would get the hateful lusion. In this capacity it represented the him such a lot of mental anguish now, stones. They might at least be of some creator of the world-self-begotten and use to them ! conceived by no female.

It is said that curses, like chickens, come home to roost. After Leander had asked a boat holding the sun in its claws, repdistinction when Leander met her first at forgiveness for his rudeness and Mabel had resenting the sun god. The other deities sweetly extended the olive branch of con- prayed to it. bolized by it, including Ptah, the creative

"The town is full of burglars, and they power. It was also used as a seal for the receptacles of valuable things, so that the rest she wore glasses, being near- and if they once set out to get them they'll they could not be removed without destroying the sacred emblem.

Mabel did not sleep with the diamonds from the ordinary frisky young creatures thought if she secreted them in some place such stones as green basalt, granite, lapis with whom Leander had been associated. where they would never be detected, they lazuli, jasper, cornelian, amethyit, sar-It takes all kind of people to make a would be safe. Neither the ash barrel nor donyx, agate and onyx. Many of them number of children employed is something "They were a gill to me, surely 1 have | tune and happiness if -II-Leander's con-WATER LIFE IN CHINA.

FLOATING HOUSES OF MILLIONS have visited in the East or South, and in OF PEOPLE.

Numerous Craft of Queer Shapes -- ventilated and unsanitary rooms, and the Express Boats--Cormorant Fishing Vessels.

Julian Ralph has in Harper's Magazine mills, where they employ little children and an interesting article on Chinese life. "The compel them to work eleven hours a dayactivity on the water," he writes, " is a custom which was abolished years ago in marvellous. The craft are as numerous every other community. The factory inand varied as the water will hold or the spection law of that State is a howling mind can fancy. The most impressive are | farce. the junks, with preposterous sails that "At the big bottling works at Milwauhide everything behind them from earth to kee they have 900 boys and girls, ranging savey, how can walk?' Then there "I aim to get both sides of a story when little cabin, or can be pulled out, end to factories than anywhere else I have been." end, to cover all the cargo. There are

Many Brave Feathers Takes a Long wonderful. In the town of Oshkosh they had more children employed in proportion to the population than in any city I many factories the condition is simply

"The children are crowded into poorly long and short of it is their lives are coined into dividends for the company that employs them. Then there are the cotton women fish with nets. And there are in-"Kahmeeschetookeehewup, will you numerable other small boats, wherein men, ride a fine horse once?" women and children are working those

The Cree chief looked at the handsome tools, like oyster tongs, with which they black mare the chief factor was leading totear up the weeds that grow beneath the ward him; then he called one of his braves. water. These are spread on the farms, " Bring my painted buffalo-robe and my and thus raise all central China higher and bow and feathered arrows," he said. higher above the water of the creeks and

He mounted and rode back some way canals, which is where the ocean water along the trail which stretched over unonce was, though the land now rises from dulating prairie and on far to the south, four to six feet above it. The express where the buffalo fattened numberless on boats are very interesting. They are slen- the rich grass. He would " run " the mare der, long row-boats roofed over with mats, as though he was running buffalo; he for one or two passengers, and carrying in would show these white men how Many the stern a muscular Chinaman, who pro- Brave Feathers hunted !

pels a big-bladed oar with his feet. With He turned and gave her her head. On a small oar in one hand to steer with, with he came like the hawk, shooting his arthe other hand holding a parasol or fan, rows at the little poplars in the bluffs along the while he may be puffing at his pipe, he the trail as he rode. A crowd had assemtoils carmly on, all night or all day, seatbled to see the run; part were his own peoed on the point of his spine, and describple, the others the staff of the Company at ing endless circles with his muscular legs old Fort Ellice.

He was riding very fast. As he neared the stockade he tried to pull the mare in. smallest, are the only homes of the people | But she declined to be pulled in; she was just getting nicely going.

"Ay-ay-yuh !" yelled the spectators, giving the war-whoop as he shot past, and he kept on and circled the fort.

Now a bad thought came into his head; labor. The family cat or dog, or the melan- he would run away with the mare !

choly chicken perched on an outrigger and The chief factor's face did not entirely watching the family duck at his ablutions, dissemble the feeling of chargrin with tail up in the water, with a string tied to which he beheld his favorite beast vanish his leg to keep him at home-these were over a slope in the south under the sailing some of the assurances we had that certain buffalo-skin. Then he went to his quarters, was probably set a scarab, and put it on of the craft were floating homes. Often, The features of the other on-lookers wore on the cargo boats, the dwelling place was a big general smile as he disappeared. The beneath a great square mat in the stern. genial sun smiled broadly too, in the summer sky; in fact, everytning seemed smil-

HE LEFT IT OUT.

She Wanted No "Obey" in Her Marriage Ceremony.

Mayor Strong, of New York, recently had an experience that amused him very much-a bride who wouldn't say "obey." The couple were from Philadelphia. They were Charles F. Sessinger, a widower, aged 29, and Pauline E. Beckler, a widow, aged 27. The groom was short, with a goodnatured face, brown mustache and dark hair tinged with gray. He said he was connected with a financial news agency. The bride was taller and thinner, with light brown hair, a prominent nose and a firm mouth. She wore glasses, a light tailor-made suit, and a straw hat with a black band. She used her maiden name, though, calling herself a widow, and told Clerk Burrows that she had ideas of her own. They came in talking earnestly. He evidently coaxing and she unrelenting.

"Will you please let me see that a moment," she said, turning to her companion, as the Mayor picked up the marriage formula to begin the ceremony, and ran her eye over it. 'Yes, there it is," she said. Then there was more whispering between the two. The young man looked annoyed and embarrassed, but it was a case of 'if she won't, she won't." Turning to the Mayor the woman pointed to the word "obey" and said : 'Please leave that out. We have agreed on it." The Mayor's eyes twinkled with fun, but he took the book and the ceremony began. "To love, honor, and," he read, then there was a pause, "as a faithful woman 's bound to do."

"I am not a member of any woman's rights association," she explained afterward, "but I believe in the equality of sexes. That word 'obey' is a relic of barbarism, coming down from the time when women were slaves.

"Screaming Colors " in Fashion.

I don't think the present screaming colors are due to French influence, but I do think art and artists have had something to do with them. A couple of years ago Mr. Sargent painted a wonderful portrait of a lady in a magenta dress. That was the beginning of it. Every one talked of the picture, and every woman talked of the dress, and before the season was well on the detestable color was fashionable. The following year Mr. Hacker painted a number of sleeping girls in a wood. The sun streamed down through the green leaves, and purple poppies were growing in the grass. The poppies were not as daring as the pink magenta, but they were more becoming. Last year the same painter gave us abother green and poppy picture. Then the milliners took it up, only they changed the poppies for roses, and they added the screaming magenta to the purple and set the ball going. That ball is going at a mad rate now; cornflower blue and peacock green, pink magenta and violet, emerald green and lavender, these combinations screamed from coaches in the park this morning. This is not French taste-it is English taste.

sky. These junks ride low in front, and in age from 11 to 19 years, employed, and are built up behind like the Pinta, Nina, that is the toughest sight of all, for the and Santa Maria. They have great gog- roughness comes right out on the surface. gle-eyes painted and carved on their bows, | The children are employed at bottling beer, and turned to look down at the water. and there is no limit to the amount they no can see, how can savey? If no can the rottenness appears on the surface.

awful

THE MARE WAS RETURNED.

Ride.

other long narrow boats, laden high with garden truck, with potatoes or pease or beans or rice straw, and looking like so many Flatbush farm wagons atloat. There are little sampans, from which men and are large cargo-boats shaped like long bar- a complaint is made, that of the employrels or large cigars. Their rounding tops ees as well as of the employer. Besides I are made of bent mats that can be piled on made some personal observations, and the top of one another in one place to make a conditions were worse in the Wisconsin

Every European in China loves to tell a are allowed to drink. stranger why nearly all the boats, of every "The match factories are just as bad, shape and size, are thus ornamented. It though of course the employees are not is because, 'if no hab eye, how can see? If half drunk all the time and not so much of of everything beautiful in art and nature.

"But these have no associations," said her husband, "they are not heirlooms."

"They will be; all diamonds were new at some time. And are they not associated with the dear old man who gave them ?"

The dear old man had been a terror in the family, and had only given the dia- them. monds to Leander's wife because he hated that nephew a little less than the others. whom he hoped to make horribly jealous and angry and-had succeeded.

When Leander asked his wife to keep her diamonds in the bank, she promptly declined.

"But you surely will not wear them dear ?" he suggested. "Why not ?" she asked.

be consistent with our position."

"Burglars! Get your revolver and go bottom of the clock."

all his armor on, but she did demand from clothes, and taking his revolver ran softly of stone made it money. down the stairs. Mabel remained where she was, shivering with fear.

There was a fearful commotion below, of gold or worn on the forefinger of the She found him lying on the floor grasping his revolver.

She did not faint or shriek, but kneeling

"Where am I?" he asked feebly, as he hath built up from tears.

"Never mind the diamonds," said his "Are you mortally wounded anyfeebly, and, to her credit, be it recorded. Mabel Thorpe believed in an inflexible Mrs. Leander assisted her husband to a couch and sent off, or rather called for as-

Then the open door of the clock told the is the post of duty. whole story. The diamonds were gone,

If Leander had been surprised at the he was astonished at the calm indifference life, because it reaches into the beyond.

"I wonder," she said, "that I did not ment. see it in that light before. I will never

But the effect upon her husband was en-

A little incident that happened at that "I never was so pleased in my life. Dia- time did, however, help to restore hun to monds represent to me the crystallization his normal condition. His wife received a secure new subscribers to the Journal, and small package, accompanied by a soiled now offer to send the Journal one year to-I never dreamed that I should possess such and dilapidated note, which, upon being gether with a beautiful brown Turkish opened, read :

"honord madem :

mons i no yure laidy an i am a retch if i Springs, Penn., and receive the towel at giu them up pra fur me.

"an unnone frend." And in the package Mabel found her offer and is open to new subscribers only. diamonds, exactly as she had last seen

She was pleased-where is the woman throw in a cake of soap is more than we who would not have been ?---and she at can understand. once showed her confidence in her husband by placing the gems in his hands for safe eping in the bank.

"I wish I had taken your advice earlier." she said gracefully; "it would have saved us so much trouble."

Leander murmered something about all up to pickle growing in the vicinity of the being well that ends well, and at noon town of Camden. The crop is a profit-"It would injure our prospects, and not brought her a certificate of deposit.

There we leave them, on the way to for. $100 to $150 an acre.

Mabel shook her sleeping husband | the hand of Joseph to confer authority on him.

The stone scarabaeus was variously a rein honor of some event and a coin. The Leander was startled and confused, but Egyptians were troubled with no coinage hero to swim the Hellespont of life, with as the noise continued, he hurried on his question, for a sacred image on any piece breasts of mummies suspended by a wire

Mirrors of Thought.

Men will forget what we suffer but not what we do.

To struggle again and again to renew the conflict, this is life's inheritance.

The rainbow-see how fair a thing God

The woof of life is dark, but it is shot with a warp of gold. A wide, rich heaven hangs above you, but it hangs high; a wide, rough world is "I don't know," answered Leander around you, and it lies very low.

Goodness has slowly proved itself in the world-is every day proving itself-like a light broadening in darkness.

In every sphere of life the post of honor

If there is a virture in the world we should aim at its cheerfulness. Cheerfulness creates hope, which is the manner of his wife on receiving the jewels, foundation of faith, and faith is more than

The world is shadowed or brightened by our own heart rather than by anything itself. Our joy makes the cloudiest day glad, and our grief finds night in the sunset sky.

The truly noble heart bears no resent-

Many a man who now lacks shoe leather would wear golden spurs if knighthood were the reward of worth.

Towels, but No Soap.

A recent and noteworthy manifestation toward subscribers in the matter of premiums is to be recorded to the credit of our esteemed contemporary, the Journal, of Beaver Springs, Penn. It says:

TURKISH TOWELS FREE.

We are making every honest effort to towel, size 12x22 inches, two ply goods, fancy color, for only 15 cents. Send this "i gets no sleap sence I stoal yure di. amount in stamps to the Journal, Beaver once and Journal regularly every month for a year, all postpaid. This is a great Surely a great opportunity for the people of Pennsylvania, but why the Journal don't

Raise a Crop of Pickles.

A great proportion of the cucumber pickles used in the East are grown in one Main County. Over 160 acres are given able one, usually yielding an income of

There the man slept, the woman cooked the rice and fish, and the tiniest children ing-except the chief factor. worked the yoolo to send the boat ahead. and clothes chests. On the chop boats, they sauntered back. which are for the best grade. Small scarabs are usually found on the solemn looking mustachioed old grandees. as well as nurses and children.

and his dexterous feet.

"Thousands of the vessels, even the in them. In them men take wives; in them children are born and reared; in them death pursues his rounds. In them we saw woole families at work making baskets, making lanterus, busy at many sorts of cormorant fishing boats. These are the Creek in the buffalo country. size of a Whitehall row-boat, and are all very like the fish hawks of the Atlantic coast; but they are dirty birds, with ragwith mottled or creamy or even white bosoms. They have long, narrow, curved the birds a good foothold. When fishing factor's hand. is done their master tightens the noose that water. When they have caught fish enough or, more likely, have become so soaked that they must be taken aboard to dry, he rows among them and lifts them back on their perches. Their skill lies in their greed, and their greed has doomed them to servile labor. "They are caught on the sea coast when Experimentin Foster-Mothers Whereyoung, and are trained by their purchasers un'il they become worth ten dollars.

Mexican, apiece. Their training consists in starving them all day and in throttling them so that they cannot swallow what they catch. When they are in the water they not only dive for tish, but are said to swim swiftly under the water after their prey. When a fish is caught, the bird rises to the to wrest his prey from him. The fisherman hurries to the spot, beats the other greedy birds away, and lifting the successful cormorant into the boat, takes his fish from him, loosens his throttling string, and pokes some food into his ravenous beak as and flap their wings to dry themselves, and he prepares for them a fairly good dinner of rice and small fish, or whatever is relsome. CHILDREN WHO TOIL.

Shocking Conditions Found in Wisconsin Factories.

ington, who is looking up labor strikes from 1887 down to and including the American Railway Union Strike of last summer, in an interview with the St. Paul, (Minn)., Dispatch, said :

"You talk about the sweatshops and homes in the big cities, but I have seen places over in villages of Wisconsin that are about as bad in every particular. I was amazed in the first place to learn of the immense number and variety of factories in tory of which I know anything and the United States.

"Well if that ain't a good un!" re-

Many Brave Feathers passed the night but then it was afternoon when he started. Next day he arrived at a camp of his own "Most of all were we interested in the tribe and Assiniboins on Broken Shell

All that fall and winter he staid out on open within, to permit the fisherman to the plains, running buffalo with the stolen. walk from bird to bird between bow and horse, though he never lent her to any one stern. Often he is alone; often he carries except his sweetheart, who used to ride a boy or a wife to work the yoolo. The her when they moved camp. In the spring, birds sit at the sides of the boat, on pro- when the grass was green, the camp, with jecting sticks over the water. They perch its store of robes and cured meat, journeyed in pairs, and there may be ten of them or toward Fort Ellice. Many Brave Feathers two dozen. They are the size and look ordered one of his men to catch him three horses out of the band. He came to the fort riding the mare and leading the three ged wings, plucked to keep them from other horses, and asked for the chief factor. flying. In color they are a metalic black. He had had the mare seven moons, but she had been well cared for and was fat.

bosoms. They have long, narrow, curved bills of the flesh-tearing character. Their The mare is very fast," he said, as he put perches are wrapped with straw, to give the lines of the four horses into the chief "Blamed if I wouldn't like some abeach wears round its neck, and, putting a original Augustus to borrow my pinto stick before each one, lifts it down to the cayuse for six months on the same terms !" exclaimed the clerk. He thought the old man had the best of it after all .-Harper's Weekly.

A CAT'S QUEER KITTEN.

in a Young Hare Took Part.

An interesting experiment in the rearing of animals is recorded by a German journal. A country gentleman, having captured a young hare a few days old, conceived the idea of giving it as foster mother a cat which had just had a litter of kittens. The cat showed no objection to this curious adsurface and gasps and chokes to get the fisk down. The other birds rush at him mirsling seemed to take very well to the renursling seemed to take very well to the regime to which it was so unexpectedly subjected. The hare throve and grew, and the cat soon thought it time to begin the education of her foster child.

For the catching of mice, however, the hare showed not the slightest disposition, a reward of merit. At last the birds are and at each fault committed the adoptive all returned to their perches. They yawn mother administered vigorous correction with her paws. This produced but little improvement, and the relations between the two animals were becoming somewhat together on the lawn in front of the house. The hare at once proceeded to nibble at the vegetation with remarkable avidity, to the evident astonishment and indignation of the cat, who could make nothing of such conduct. Finally, perceiving that she had nourished anything but a kitten,

Rise and Fall of a Town.

Red Mountain, Col., which four years ago was a prosperous camp of several thousand people, and did the largest money order business of any camp in the San Juan country, is now without a postoffice.

Temple Emanu-el, of New York City, is Wisconsin. They had every kind of fac- the richest Hebrew congregation in the #### Coal Production of the World.

According to the latest reports upon the coal industry, England is the largest producer in the world, her output during 1894 having been 188,278,525 tons. This was mined by 705,244 persons. The United States comes second in the list with 164,000,000 tons. Germany produced during the same year about 73,000,000 tons, exclusive of lignite. The other coal-producing countries mine practically the same amount from year to year. as follows: Austria-Hungary, 10,700,000 tons; France and Russia, 6,250,000 tons each: Australasia, 4.000,000; Japan, 3,250,-000; Nova Scotia, 2,250,000; Spain, 1.300,000; British Columbia, 1,200,-000; Italy, 300,000; Sweden, 200,000. The consumption of coal per head of population is lowest in Austria, where it is only one-sixth ton per annum, and highest in Great Britain, where each person averages three and three-tenths tons each year. In the United States the average is two and one-fourth tons a year.

The Mustang Has Endurance.

The Mexican mustang popy will very likely be introduced into the United States Army. The mustang is a small, tricky animal, mostly used by cowboys in running down stock. Recently the War Department made a series of tests and the official reports show that it is stronger, faster, cheaper, and can endure more than the large cavalry stock of the East. One of the tests included a horseback ride from Santa Fe, New Mexico, to San Antonio, Texas. The animal averaged forty miles per day, and once went without water or food for forty-eight hours.

Was Misunderstood.

A professor who visited the Russian town of Vitebsk for the purpose of making anthropometroc studies of the local inhabitants narrowly escaped with his life. The measurment of the heads gave rise to the conviction that he was the evil one in person affixing his seal to their foreheads. and the more courageous among them resolved to attack him and, if possible, to deatroy him. Fortunately the Ispravnik of the district prevented the infuriated peasants from carrying out their intentions.

Greatest Bridge in the World.

The greatest bridge in the world was planned by a Chinese engineer and built by Chinese workmen. It is of stone, and reaches across an arm of the China Sea by 300 arches. Over the pillar of each arch reclines a lion carved from a block of marble twenty-one feet long. The roadway is seventy feet wide .

and beat one with a cane if one is quar-cheapest, stopping now and then to scold strained, when one day they were placed Ethelbert Stewart, special agent of the the disappointed nurse withdrew with an United States Labor Department at Wash- expression of unmistakable disdain.

Baskets hanging behind served as closets marked the clerk to the rest of the staff as we saw pots of pletty flowers, and kitch- at Moose Mountain. Moose Mountain is gns and cooks, and gentle ladies and only seventy-five miles from Fort Ellice,