SCHOOL DAYS.

Happy, happy school days have again returned! By next week many boys and girls will be hopping, skipping, jumping, running, shouting, laughing, singing, cheerfully and gleefully on their way to school. Glorious days, those school days! We older people look back with pleasure upon those happy days when we were school boys and girls.

Just at this time the thoughtful

MOTHER

Is wondering what to get for her girl's school dresses. If you will come to our store we will soon help you to solve the worrisome question. We have beautiful Plaids from 12 1/2 to 65c per yard. Just what you need. Also plain and figured goods, some half wool, others all wool. They may be in need of several pair of good stockings. WON THE FIGHT.

The Telephone Company Grants the Three Dollar Rate.

The Penns Valley patrons of the telephone company who petitioned the company to grant a $3 rate, same as given the Bellefonte phones, have won and the phones stay in. The petitioners have been paying $4 per month on a line with ten phones, while in Bellefonte a private line with only one phone is granted the same rate at $4 per month, and residences as low as $18 per year.

The patrons in the valley did not take kindly to this discrimination and petitioned for a reduction or phones to go out. The company hearkened, as without the valley lines the system in Bellefonte would be comparatively useless to many, and the company saw it in this light.

The phones stay and the patrons for the time are content.

Entitled to the Medal.

A paper in Kansas is entitled to the medal, for telling its readers tall corn stories. The following, clipped from its columns, is our reason for saying so: "The horrible news comes from Vineland that a young man the other day climbed a corn tree to see how the ears were coming along, and now the corn is growing faster than he can climb down. Three men began work today to chop the stalk down, and it is hoped the young man may be rescued before starvation overtakes him."

Man Murdered.

Tyrone has a sensation. On Friday afternoon the dead body of a Hungarian was found in an adjacent cornfield. No trace of whom the man was or his murderer has yet been discovered.

Open for Discussion.

The columns of the REPORTER are always open for discussion of all matters local or general. Each communication must be accompanied by the name of the author as evidence of good faith, though not for publication.

KILLED AT ZION.

Isaiah Struble Killed by Being Trampled by his Run-away Team.

Mr. Isaiah Struble, a well-known farmer and prominent citizen of Walker township, living near Zion, met with a fatal accident on Monday morning which ended his life inside of an hour from the injuries sustained.

Mr. Struble's team on the aforesaid morning was hitched to a plow and left standing near the watering trough untied, when from some unknown cause the team took fright and ran off. Mr. Struble managed to get in the way and grabbed the team by one of the bridles hoping to check it in its furious dash, but the horses kept on and he was dragged quite a distance and trampled by the horses. He was picked up unconscious and carried to his house where it was found that he sustained severe bruises and such internal injuries, that he survived only about an hour after the unfortunate occurrence. His funeral will be held on Friday morning. He leaves a widow and three grown up children, a daughter and two sons, to mourn his loss. His age was about 60 years.

Mr. Struble was a good and upright citizen and will be greatly missed in that community.

The Picnic Rage.

Picnics are still all the go, and over one half the people are on the go all the time, and seem to care for nothing else. How some of them make ends meet is a mystery—but they manage to get to the picnics all the same and are happy, even if the grocer's and butcher's and milliner's bills are not paid. That is a small matter when backed up against the matter of being on a constant run to picnics. The crop of picnics has always been large in our county, but we dare say this year the crop has doubled. Well, we may as well wind up by saying there's nothing like having pleasure, if one can afford it.

After Road Supervisors.

The road supervisors of Fayette county are being hauled over the coals for not maintaining good roads. Over 100 indictments have been returned to court, and will be heard at September term.

Some townships of Centre county are noted for bad roads, the result of supervisors not being fit for the place or neglecting to do their duty. The intent of the law is that the public shall have good roads, and where this duty comes short, supervisors can be cited before court and will have the penalties of the law as their reward. Give the public good roads—everybody wants good roads.

Wish Good for Evil.

A young lady from Cato writes the Keystone Gazette of killing 224 rattlesnakes in one season with a little help and that there are thousands of rattlers left yet in the same territory. We wish this young miss may have a good husband with a strong leaning for truth who will say "down brakes" when she takes to lying. In fact you can't believe any snake-story nowadays unless its one you read in the "Reporter."

Do Not Appreciate the Band.

Milesburg's band is the crack band of the county, it having secured first place at the tournament last year. The town council of the town do not appreciate their efforts and last week fired the band out of the council building because it had become a nuisance. The council's nerves were evidently not made of clothes line wire, and could not stand the strain.

Still Doing Business.

The report printed in several papers that the Centre Hall Implement shops had closed entirely, is erroneous, and they only quit manufacturing. The business will continue as heretofore so far as pertains to machine work, wood work and repairs, and will continue to sell plows and plow shears, wagons, &c., and do all kinds of repair work.

Don't Cut a Banana.

Never cut a banana. According to Spanish superstition it brings ill luck. In preparing always slice or jag with a fork. Using a knife cuts through the cross, and in that land it is deemed a sacrilege. Besides, it gives the fruit what the French call "taste of the knife."

Sunday School Picnic.

The Lutheran Sunday school of Centre Hall contemplates holding a basket picnic tomorrow, August 30th, in the Fort woods. All the other schools and their friends are invited to join.

THIS IS A MODEL RAILROAD.

Farmers Own it and Thousands Hold a Picnic in Its Honor.

The annual picnic of the Kishacoquillas Valley Railroad, a great event in the social history of that famous and fertile valley, was held Friday in Gibboney Park, and there was a great outpouring of the farmers, business people, candidates, wives, sweethearts, children, and picnic lovers generally. More than 3000 people were on the grounds.

The railroad in honor of which the picnic was held is an independent line, nine miles in length, extending from Reedsville to Belleville, and was constructed a few years ago to facilitate the marketing of the products of the valley. It is owned and controlled entirely by the farmers and business people of that section. In economic and careful management it is a model corporation. It is most frequently called the "Hook and Eye" Railroad.

Prominent among the speakers this year were ex-Governor James A. Beaver, a native of the valley, and Rev. Dr. J. Hervey Beale, of Philadelphia. The picnic extended into the night, and while the heads of the families went home or gathered on the central seats and discussed crops and politics, the young people joined in the mazy waltz.

A Woman With Some Courage.

Ridgway has a "new woman" whose courage should be eulogized in song and story. Some women scream and flee at the sight of a mouse, but Ridgway's new woman actually went to her chicken coop the other night, caught a skunk by the hind legs, pulled it out of the coop and held it until her daughter brought the hatchet and then deliberately chopped the polecat's head off. Talk about courage that would face a canon's mouth, but where is there a man who could pick up a skunk when its mouth was turned from him, and execute it with a hatchet. This is positively a true story, and we defy any town in the state to equal Ridgway's new woman.

Church Dedication.

The United Evangelical church at Tusseyville, Centre county, Pa., is about completed, and will be dedicated to the service of the Triune God on September 8th, 1895. Rev. H. A. Benfer, of Lock Haven, and Dr. A. E. Gobble, President of Central Pennsylvania College, at New Berlin, will officiate. Preaching on Saturday evening at 7.30; Sunday morning at 10 a. m.; Sunday afternoon at 2.30 and in the evening at 7.30. All the ministers and members of the different churches in the community are cordially invited to attend all these services.

Veteran Club Picnic.

On account of the Centre County Veteran Club Picnic at Hunter's Park, Saturday, Sept. 7, the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. will run special train, Bellefonte to Coburn, leaving Bellefonte 6.30 p. m., stopping at intermediate points.

Agents at Coburn and intermediate points will sell excursion tickets to Bellefonte and return, limited to day of issue, at a single fare for the round trip.

Sold the Cave Property.

The sale of the famous Penns Cave is reported by the proprietors, the Long Bros., to a Williamsport man named Warner, consideration $9,000. The property will be handed over on April 1st next. The purchaser intends to boom the place as a summer resort. The possibility of a branch connection with the railroad is being talked of, but as yet none of the plans have been made public. This property has been reported sold so often that any rumor is given little significance.

Built the First Locomotive.

Benjamin F. Junkin, ex-judge of the courts of Perry and Juniata counties, and recently convicted of wrecking the New Bloomfield bank, built the first locomotive that ever crossed the upper Mississippi. It was a miniature engine but complete in all its complements. It was built in 1844 while Judge Junkin was a student at Lafayette College, Easton, of seeing the first locomotive that ever run on the middle division of the Pennsylvania railroad. It was taken to Muscatine, Ia., in 1854, by Junkin's father.

Opens Monday.

The schools open next Monday morning. Once more will the curfew ring, the boy stand on the burning deck, and Mary's little lamb follow her to school.

WEATHER PREDICTION.

Foster Predicts that Next Month Will be Cool and Frosty.

Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 29th, the great central valleys 31st and eastern states September 2.

Brief Locals.

The cider mills have begun operations and fresh apple butter will soon be a dainty upon our tables.

Apples appear only in spots and will only be half a crop.

The best offered for new oats is 23 cents, when a little older price will go up to 27 or 30.

The corn crop in this county is safe for a large one, and if no early frost sets in the ears will be well ripened.

Have your friends outside the county subscribe for the "Reporter," it will bring them all the home news and save you much letter writing and postage.

There were fears of a rot in the potato crop, but those taken out thus far remain in excellent condition so far as we can learn.

Found $9,000.

Some time ago a farmer named Hallemann, who lived nearly all his life in a hut in Northumberland county, died. A few hours before his death he told his son that there was a lot of money secreted around the old cabin. On Sunday last a search was made and in nearly every corner gold and silver was found. The money all told aggregated $9,000. The fortunate son has never been more than thirty miles away from home and never knew what it was to have any large sums of money.

Died in Illinois.

Charles Reesman, brother of 'squire A. J. Reesman, of this place, died at his home in Plainfield, Illinois, on Thursday last, 22nd, of bronchitis, after a lingering illness. He was aged about 42 years, and was born near Mackeyville, Clinton county, and removed to the west about thirty years ago. He was ticket agent and operator at Plainfield on the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railroad. He leaves a wife.

Where are They?

The Bellefonte papers report the Centre Hall band as passing through Howard and serenading ex-Sheriff Cook, who dropped a V into their slot. Mistake. Haven't had a band for years. If Cookey dropped that fiver with the idea of bolstering up the Centre Hall delegate when he next runs for sheriff, he missed his calling.

Deaths Continue.

Typhoid fever continues unabated at Coleville, near Bellefonte, and several deaths occurred recently. The Bellefonte board of health has taken charge of the epidemic, and will endeavor to stamp it out. Last spring the disease started and has kept up since. Bad water is attributed the cause.

Buried at Spring Mills.

The four-year-old son of John Kuhns, killed by being run over by a manure wagon last Wednesday, at the Old Fort, was buried in the Spring Mills cemetery last Friday morning.

Teachers' Institute.

The Centre county teachers' institute will be held in the court house, Bellefonte, the week in December beginning the 14th.

Good in Quality.

According to the report of Bellefonte millers the new wheat is of unusually good quality and makes excellent flour.

—The merchant tailoring establishment at Lewins, Bellefonte, is turning out more and finer work than any in this part of the state. The prices are just right, and once a customer always customers there.

LOST TO STATE COLLEGE.

The Centre Hall Boys Got Taken In by the Farmers.

The State College ball team defeated the Centre Hall boys last Saturday on the State College grounds by a score of 7 to 3.

The Centre Hall team was slightly weakened by the absence of one or two players, but nevertheless played the better game of the two teams, and lost only by the hardest kind of luck. The boys batted the ball harder than College and made two hits more, but College won through errors which were very costly. An overthrow at one time allowing two men to circle the bases and score. Skip Smith and Sum. Hosterman were the battery for Centre Hall, while the Hartwick brothers did the elegant game for College. Skip pitched an excellent game and had he had good support the boy would have won hands down. The umpire was good in balls and strikes, but made several decisions which were questionable. College drove a ball plainly foul along right which brought in two runs which the umpire allowed. Another time when Centre Hall drove a ball down left ten feet inside the line, also bringing in two runs, the umpire called it foul and sent the men back. This disheartened the boys, and winning the game was too much odds. All close decisions were given in College's favor, along with the umpire directing the play of the home team.
