THE NEW RACKET

No. 9-11 Crider's Exchange, Bellefonte.

After reading all advertisements, it is no wonder if you could hardly make up your mind, as to the best place to do your shopping in Bellefonte. But if before buying you make it a point to drop in at The New Racket, you will have no trouble to decide. A glance will convince you that you are in a modern store, differing in many important particulars from any store in Centre Co. As to prices, we set the pace, and if any store in the town matches 'em, it's all they care to do. Remember advertised prices are not always low. An article said to be reduced from 69 to 39c, may be 25 or 35c value. Our Fall and Winter Stock is now complete and 6400 feet of Floor Space at your service.

Chestnuting

Time has again returned. These beautiful autumn days we would heartily enjoy a few days off in the woods gathering those tempting little brown nuts as we used to when we were boys.

But as this is, or at least should be, our busy season, we must for bear the pleasure and attend to business.

By the way, this is the season or time to lay in a good supply of

Underwear,

Wool or Cotton.

We have all grades, all prices, and very nearly all kinds. Our lady customers have frequently complimented us on the nice qualities of Combination, or Union Suits.

Children's and Men's Underwear many kinds, sizes and qualities.

W. T. MEYER,

Bush Arcade, Bellefonte.

Died on Saturday.

On Saturday evening at 6 o'clock Miss Annie Tutt, aged 26 years, daughter of Thomas Tutt died at her home on Beaver street, at Bellefonte. Miss Tutt had been ailing for about a year and finally she contracted quick consumption and death came to relieve her of all suffering. The funeral services were held at her late home on Beaver street at 8.30 Tuesday morning after which interment was made in the cemetery at Sprucetown.

Brief Locals.

Maj. Fisher will make sale, Oct. 24, at home of David Sowers, Penn Hall, large farm stock. See bills.

Bowersox & Meyer, of Coburn, disposed of nearly a car-load of peaches at this place, Thursday and Friday last.

A carriage load of Centre Hall's rising aristocrats spent Sunday in Rebersburg and left heaps of money back you bet.

Come now, if back on subscription, pay up, please. St. Paul says, "Owe no man anything."

Try to Save the Trout.

The continued dry weather has had the effect of making all the streams in the county very low and some of them are about dry. This is the case with Fishing Creek in Sugar Valley near its head. There is now only water in the deep holes, and the residents of the valley have placed the trout in these deep places in order to keep them alive. Fishing Creek was fully as low five years ago as it is now, and the trout were cared for that time in a similar manner.

Scarcity of Water in the Valley.

Most of the small streams in Nitany Valley are entirely dried up and the farmers are greatly inconvenienced. To procure water for the cattle and other live stock is considerable of a task and in some places they are driven three miles to water. A rain of several days duration is badly needed.

McCOY-POTTS.

A Very Pretty Home Wedding at Potters Mills.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McCoy, at Potters Mills, last Thursday, when their accomplished daughter, Miss Agnes, was wedded to Rev. A. D. Potts, of Pleasant Unity, Pa.

Promptly at high noon the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Jessie Durst, were struck up, and the wedding party slowly filed into the room where the guests had assembled. The ushers, Mr. Samuel McCoy, brother of the bride, and Mr. E. M. Potts, of Philadelphia, preceded the party. Following them was the groomsmen, Mr. George Gongaware, of Philadelphia, and bridesmaid, Miss Maude Evans, of Potters Mills. The bride and groom came last. They took their places before the minister, Rev. A. H. Parker, of Reedsville, assisted by Rev. Yontz, D. D., of Greensburg, Pa., and the couple were quickly made one.

A delicious wedding feast was served in a large tent upon the spacious lawn. It had been carefully prepared, and it rapidly vanished before the guests.

The bride received a large number of costly and useful presents from her friends. A beautiful gold watch and chain was her present from the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Potts were driven to Centre Hall and departed on the 4.01 train for Pleasant Unity, where Rev. Potts ably fills the pulpit of the Lutheran church.

Over one hundred guests were present, many coming from a distance.

A True Snake Story.

The wife of John David Snook, living in New Lancaster Valley, about a mile and a half above Lockes Mills, was one of a party seeking for late huckleberries on Betty's knob last Thursday, and before going home sat down to rest while the others visited a spring near by to quench their thirst. After the party had reached the foot of the mountain a daughter observed an unusual movement under Mrs. Snook's dress and quickly called attention to it. It took but a moment for the alarming discovery to be made that a four-foot black snake had taken refuge in the folds of her clothing, and in shaking it out and getting out of the way Mrs. Snook unfortunately gave her ankle a severe wrench which afterwards was the cause of considerable pain. The reptile was dispatched and its mesurement taken.—Lewistown Sentinel.

Uriah Reifsnnyder.

The above named, from his boyhood a resident of Millheim, died on Monday morning, from an illness of over a year. He was a respected citizen of that town, and aged 64 years. He was the father of Mrs. Wm. W. Boob, our neighbor across the way, and a brother of Millheim's well-known justice of the peace, John H. Reifsnnyder, esq. A widow survives him. Funeral was held on Wednesday forenoon.

Crop of Candidates.

Bellefonte, up to this writing will have three Democrats for sheriff, and one for recorder. Miles and Penn, each will have a candidate for recorder—and there are more to come, both of Democrats and Republicans, for the various offices. Next summer will be a good year for lively men, brass bands, landlords and tollgates, as there will be a whoopen-er-up that will make things lively and make stamps circulate.

New Railroad.

It is again rumored that the railroad laid out from Selmsgrove to Millintown will shortly be built. The road from Millintown down Path Valley is in course of construction and will likely be extended south to connect with the Baltimore and Ohio. This can easily be connected there with the Reading Road at Clement, opposite Sunbury.

Nine Appointments for Centre County.

Centre county, the home of Governor Hastings, has fared exceedingly well by this administration. The county received eight appointments up to last week and on last Tuesday Professor John Hamilton, of State College, was appointed deputy secretary of agriculture, making the ninth plum handed out.

None From Centre Hall.

In the list of jurors drawn for the next November term of court, Centre Hall is about the only district that will not be represented. Apparently the town does not possess the necessary qualifications in citizens who are drawn for jury service.

Putting Up an Extension.

An extension is being built to Brislin's grain house. The building already proved too small and it was necessary to spread out.

A new overcoat will be needed for this cold weather, you will want to keep warm, and that can easily be done by making your purchases at Lewins, Bellefonte. He has everything in the clothing line.

Nary a Centre Haller in It.

We thought our pretty town and valley had some rich men, but we are mistaken, when we consult the register of the earth's wealthy ones.

The six richest men in the world are Li Hung Chang, John D. Rockefeller, Colonel North, the Duke of Westminster, Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Woh Qua, the Chinese tea magnate, whose total fortunes aggregate $1,080,000,000.

Years ago the richest man in Penn's valley, was Daniel Reed, of Haines township, who died over a score of years ago, and was put down as being worth not less than a solid $75,000, which went to his children, Jacob Reed, of Aaronsburg, and Mrs. Noah Stover, of Millheim. We do not think our valley to-day can claim a farmer worth $75,000 to match farmer Reed, nor do we see any prospect of any one from this territory getting his name added as the seventh in the above list of unhappy rich men.

Interesting Local Jottings.

A festival will be held at the home of Daniel Ripka, near Spring Mills, on Saturday evening, Oct. 19, with ice-cream and other refreshments.

Apples for boiling butter are selling at 25c. per bushel; picked winter apples bring 40 to 50c. per bushel. Cider sells at 5c. per quart.

Our grain dealers say they will pay only 30c. per bushel for corn out of the field.

Our active farmer friend Ed. Stump, has more pumpkins in his fields than he knows what to do with. Ed. will gladly let you have all you want for custard and pies, free.

James Smith and his bride on Friday fitted to Madisonburg to begin housekeeping and take possession of the store in the Ocker building. Success to him.

Monday night there was rain enough to lay the dust.

Peaches in this valley were not a success this year. The spring freeze killed the buds.

Work on the new Reformed church is being pushed with vigor.

Come to the "Reporter" office for your sale bills and other job work, plain and fancy.

Farmers are busy harvesting their corn and the yield is large.

Water Trains Running.

Amidst the cheers of a large assemblage, the first water train pulled out of Hollidaysburg Monday night, conveying 70,000 gallons of water to the relief of the drought sufferers in Altoona. Trains were running all day to supply water to the Pennsylvania railroad shops and the 35,000 residents of Altoona. Monday night the Gaysport borough council petitioned Hollidaysburg's councils for a temporary water supply. The request was granted and a pipe line will be immediately laid to the sufferers in that borough.

The water famine situation in other surrounding towns is alarming, but it is believed that the Hollidaysburg reservoir can furnish relief to all, if needed, until there is a rainfall.

Farmers Protect Trout.

Fishing Creek, the principal trout stream in Sugar Valley, Clinton county, has gone dry for a distance of several miles. To protect the trout the farmers are scooping them out of the deep holes in the creek bed and carrying them to improvised wells and springs on their lands. The farmers in that vicinity have been compelled to lay pipes to the mountain streams in order to get water for their stock.

The Grain Fields.

The wheat fields of Penn's valley, notwithstanding the dry spell, look fresh and promising, while in many sections in other counties the grain is suffering from the drought and pastures are dried up. We are still in better condition than many other sections, thank Providence.

The Twentieth Child.

Mr. John Carmitchell, of Green Ridge, near Shamokin, is now the father of twenty children, the last of which was born on Thursday evening of last week. Mother and child are getting along nicely.

An Old Ticket.

On Tuesday conductor Cook lifted a ticket that was twenty-five years old, given May 2nd, 1870, to a lady who held it until the above time. It was good from Northumberland to Lewisburg, and as nice yet as new, and just as good. Why the lady held it so long a time conductor Cook did not know.

Fine Stock of Millinery Goods.

Mrs. C. A. Moyer, of Spring Mills, has just returned from the eastern cities with the largest and finest stock of millinery goods ever brought to this place. This large stock is now open for your inspection.

Favors Pittsburg.

Senator Quay favors Pittsburg as the place for holding the next Republican national convention and has subscribed $1,000 to the fund to pay expenses.

COUNTY NEWS.

Clipped and Condensed for the Reader. From Every Corner.

Bellefonte Democrat mentions of a little "miss" happening in the family of Judge Love. We think it had more properly be called a big hit.

Thomas Shafer of Madisonburg will move to Dakota, Ill., and make his home with an old Centre countian, B. F. Smeltzer.

Jacob Fiedler, of Haines, brags of a pumpkin weighing 123 pounds. That is just big enough to make 110 pies.

An infant of J. C. Bathgate, of Leont, died a few days ago.

A youngster got too intimate with Charley Long's money drawer, and was finally caught.

Thomas G. Perdue, of Bellefonte, has been appointed to a place in the Reformatory at Huntingdon.

C. P. Long, of Spring Mills, isn't a small potato in business; he has already shipped 8000 bushels. To put on the cap-sheaf Charley should buy that 8 1/2 pound Colorado potato, and have it shipped here.

Surveyor P. G. Meek's family will spend the winter with him in Philadelphia. May they have a pleasant time.

We regret to learn that our esteemed friend, merchant Daniel Korman, of Oakhall, is on the sick-list.

Richard Hall, of near Milesburg, has a siege of affliction; he was down with typhoid fever, his wife ill with stomach trouble, and his son Charles fell and broke his arm. Really, health is the richest blessing.

A 4 year old son of John Swartz, of Milesburg, died a few days ago.

Michael Smith, a Millheim boro pauper, died last week.

Swindler on Wheels.

A smooth talking, well dressed young man is traveling through this state on a bicycle, soliciting subscriptions from ladies for a periodical called the Star Magazine, which magazine is represented as published at Augusta, Me. He claims that the subscription price is only 25 cents a year. To secure this small sum in advance he offers premiums daintily manufactured articles of adornment for the home in the shape of tidies, table spreads, etc., stating that the magazine and premium will be sent by return mail after the order reaches the publishers. He has succeeded in securing a large number of twenty-five cent pieces in this manner, but the subscribers to the magazine have not as yet received their periodical. If the swindler should happen to come this way he should be given the cold shoulder.

Farmers' Institutes.

Secretary of Agriculture Edge has issued a thirty-six page pamphlet containing the names and addresses with their topics of about 250 persons who will participate in the farmers' institutes to be held in the state during the season of 1895-6. The faculty of the State college and numerous members of the state veterinary association will also assist in the work of making the coming season a successful one. The total amount available for institutes is $7,500. Professor John Hamilton, the director of farmers' institutes, under the direction of Secretary Edge, will be in charge of the arrangements. About 150 institutes will probably be held throughout the state.

The Harvest Moon.

The moon was full at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, and being the full moon nearest the autumnal equinox is known as the harvest moon. After the moon is full it usually sets about an hour later each evening. The harvest moon, however, by reason of the small angle made by the moon's orbit with the horizon, rises at nearly the same hour every evening for several days. The extra light is especially valuable to those engaged in harvesting. Hence the name harvest moon become attached to the earth's satellite during the time it gave extra light.

No Game Killed.

The deer season opened a few days ago, and several parties were out in the Seven mountains looking for game, but were not successful. Deer do not seem to be very plenty, and are growing scarcer almost every year. The game will be exterminated in a few years if legislation is not passed protecting them.

Taking Care of the Fish.

Fishing creek, the principal trout stream in Sugar valley, has gone dry for a distance of several miles. To protect the trout the farmers are scooping them out of the deep holes in the creek bed and carrying them to improvised wells and springs on their lands.

Farms Knocked Off.

At public sale, last week, the farms of Henry Korman, dec'd., in Miles twp., the one occupied by James Korman was purchased by Harry Haugh for $40 per acre. The farm occupied by Cyrus Zeigler was purchased by Henry Wolf, also at $40 per acre.

Gents furnishings in all lines at Lewins, Bellefonte. A dollar goes a great ways at this store.

A Serious Accident.

John Hoy, son of Benjamin Hoy, was aiding to raise a building on the farm occupied by Henry Shuey, near Centre Furnace, on Tuesday, when he met with a serious accident that might have cost him his life. He was up on the building about ten feet and had a large stick of timber over his shoulder when he made a mis-step and fell on the joist below. When picked up it was found that his injuries consisted of several wounds on the head and three or four ribs broken. It is quite likely that he also has sustained internal injuries. He is a young man about 29 years of age, and has a wife and two children. He was taken home where he is getting along as well as can be expected.—Gazette.

Death of Mrs. Annie Toot.

At nine o'clock Monday evening Mrs. Annie Toot died at her home on Reynolds avenue, Bellefonte, from a stroke of paralysis a few days previous. She was eighty years old at the time of her death and was one of the best known residents in that neighborhood. She was the mother of Mrs. J. A. Miller, Thomas Tutt, John Tutt, of Clearfield, and Miss Walters who has been making her home in Bellefonte for some time. She will be interred in the cemetery at Sprucetown.

No Fighting in Texas.

The anti-prize fight bill with an emergency clause was passed by the Texas senate on Wednesday afternoon by a vote of twenty-seven to one. The bill also passed the house by an almost unanimous vote. Governor Culbertson has thus been sustained in his efforts to stop the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight and it will not now take place within the borders of that state.

Good Home at Private Sale.

A good home is offered at private sale, situated three miles west of Centre Hall. Good dwelling house and outbuildings. Inquire of oct10-4t A. W. GARVER.

Sawmill Burned.

The saw mill of McClain & Co., in Snair's hollow on Tussey mountain, was burned one day last week with 75,000 feet of lumber. The men knew nothing of the fire until they went to work the next morning.

The cold weather coming on will require heavier and thicker clothing, as protection against the wintry blasts. Lewins, Bellefonte, has a full new line, and the prices are lower than any in the county. He has never been undersold.
