DEATH OF MRS. BELL.

At the Home of Her Daughter After a Short Illness.

Mrs. Mary Bell died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Boal, at Earlstown, on Friday night after a short illness. Mrs. Bell formerly lived in Tyrone, but about two years and a half ago she came to make her home with her daughter Mrs. William Boal, where she has remained ever since.

She was quite an aged lady but until shortly before her death was able to be around and enjoyed good health. About one week ago she caught a severe cold and from that time gradually grew worse until Friday night when she peacefully passed away.

Her age was 87 years, 10 months and 2 days. She joined the Presbyterian church when young, and was a faithful member of the same until her death. Her maiden name was Sample, and she was born and raised in Mifflin county. Two children survive her, Thad. Bell, of Altoona and Mrs. William Boal, of Earlstown. Her remains were taken to Tyrone, her former home, on Monday morning, and interment was made in the cemetery at that place.

Bogus Commission Firms.

Now that the harvest is over and crops of all kinds are gathered the sharpers who are after the farmers products begin to advertise under the title of commission dealers, and often reap a rich reward by obtaining much produce of which account sales are never rendered. Several of these bogus firms and dealers have been exposed in the past by the press and reports say that these would-be recipients of the farmers consignments are trying a new scheme and soliciting the station agents on some lines of railroads to use their influence with the farmers in their neighborhood to ship their produce to them, offering the agent a commission for such influence.

The railroads are sending instructions to their agents and cautioning them not to influence shippers in any manner and forbidding them to accept commissions from any one. The country press would be doing its readers a favor if it should take the same course in a measure and inform them of the responsibility of the consignees.

Certified Copy of Ballot.

The county commissioners have received from the secretary of the commonwealth a certified copy of the ballot which will be used at the coming election. There are six columns on the sheet, representing the various political parties. In each column the various offices to be voted for are designated by their respective headings, the state treasurer appearing at the top of the column and the superior court judges second. The size of the ballot will be 10x20 inches, with 4 inch stub.

Were Quietly Married.

A quiet home wedding took place Wednesday morning at the residence of the bride, 308 West Third street, when H. W. Smith and Miss May E. Hitchcock were united in marriage by the Rev. James Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on the 12.15 train for their future home, Madisonburg, Pa., where Mr. Smith is engaged in the mercantile business; he was until recently connected with the telephone exchange of this city.—Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

All Kinds of Winter Promised.

The weather prophets are at work on the weather of the coming winter. It is also to be a very mild winter. It is also to be a very severe winter, much worse than last winter. It will be a moderately cold winter with little or no snow. It will also be an extremely cold winter with deep snows. There are several other kinds of weather promised, but we have no space for any more at this time.

Death of Jefferson Royer.

Rebersburg's oldest citizen, Jefferson Royer, died on last Saturday afternoon aged about 90 years. He was in feeble health for some time. He was a retired farmer, and a much respected citizen, having lived all his years in Miles township. Funeral was held on Tuesday.

No Demand.

At a public sale of horses last week at Millheim, seventeen head were offered. The bidding was spiritless and only three were knocked off to buyers. On the other hand a lot of cows brought fancy prices. The average prices of cows and heifers was $37.50.

Home Prices.

Wheat 60c; corn 30c; oats 20c; winter apples 35 to 40c; butter 20; potatoes 20c; pork 4 and 5c; beef will hold its own while pork will be lower on account of being plenty; fresh lard 9c.

New House.

Harry Dinges has broken ground for a new house to be finished for occupancy by himself next spring. His building lot is on the Brush valley road, just below B. F. Arney's residence.

Winter is coming, and Lyon & Co. want you to decide where you will buy your winter goods. Read their ad. on page five. A price list is the best argument where words fail.

IS NO MORE.

Jonas Condo, a Wellknown Citizen, has Breathed His Last.

Jonas Condo, who for several years has been an invalid and for nearly two has had his home with his son-in-law, Dr. Emerick, of this place, died peacefully at 3 o'clock, on last Sabbath afternoon. Some weeks ago his one side became paralyzed, rendering him helpless, in mind and body, the towards his end moments of lucidness returned to him. His life was mainly spent near Penn Hall, where he was a well-known black-smith and a citizen of irreproachable character, his home was the seat of hospitality and there he reared a large family.

His life was that of a sincere Christian, and with his departed wife he was a great worker in the Lutheran church, kind as a neighbor and a helper to those in need, and a man of honor and honesty. How glorious to pass on earth with such a record!

Mr. Condo was born Nov. 14, 1820, died Oct. 27, 1895, aged 74 years and 13 days. His wife, Harriet, died Nov. 16, 1893. The sons and daughters living, are, Michael M. Condo, Centre Hall; Mrs. Frank Sinkey, Ohio; A. C. Condo, Ohio; Robert Condo, Montana; Mrs. Annie E. Montgomery, Ohio; Mrs. Carrie Musser, Penn Hall; Miss Susan S. Condo, Ohio; John H. Condo, Penn Hall. Those who preceded the parents to the other shore, Emma S., Harriet Catharine and Sarah Rebecca.

Funeral at Penn Hall, yesterday, Wednesday.

Local Briefs.

We are informed that pork is plenty and likely to be cheap this fall.

Sunday evenings sign for rain only brot a sprinkle, just enough to lay the dust; Monday opened with a clear sky and all signs of rain vanished.

Slaters are busy roofing the new Reformed church.

Water has nearly played out at Josh Potters.

A second child of Walter Whippo, at Bellefonte, died of diphtheria—both within a week.

Fine and plain job-work done at the "Reporter." If you want elegant wedding invitations, letter heads, envelopes, bill heads, sale posters, etc., give us a trial.

The fallen leaves were kept waltzing all day by Monday's high winds.

Stolen Horses Recovered.

Felix's stolen livery team was recaptured at Potter's Mills on Monday morning, where it had been in charge of a gentleman for a couple of days. A week before a stranger had hired the team, a spotted bay and a black, and as he did not return a search was instituted. Word received from Tyrone took Charlie Felix to that town only to find that some one had stolen a pair of horses similar to his and left them there. Finally it was learned that such an outfit was on the other side of the Seven mountains and Officer Garrett went to Potter's Mills and Monday afternoon brought back the animals to their owner.—Lewistown Free Press.

A Good Farmer—Big Crop.

P. Y. King, one of Menno township's (Mifflin county) expert farmers, has just harvested his huge corn crop. From thirteen acres he harvested 1,250 bushels and from twenty-five shocks, 6x8, he harvested forty bushels of No. 1 corn.

Can't any of our Centre county farmers match brother King of Menno? This county, for years, has been grange headquarters, which means better and more thrifty farming, and we should note with pride an evidence of it by a report of results that would redound to the credit of our grangers, and put them at the head of the column, where they could smile down upon the good omish of Menno.

House Burned.

On Friday afternoon last the dwelling and outbuildings on the premises of Jesse Snyder, opposite the Reformed church, about two miles west of Millheim, were destroyed by fire. The fire was accidental. Most of the household goods were saved. We are informed the house was insured in the Sugar Valley company.

An Old Citizen Near His End.

Our aged and esteemed friend, Hon. Samuel Gilliland, is lying ill at his home near Oak Hall, and it is believed his recovery is beyond hope. Mr. Gilliland belongs to a past generation, and has seen more than man's allotted days.

Bigger Than "Toby."

The Millheim Journal says that W. A. Tobias raised a rutabaga turnip on his lot on North street, which weighed 8 1/2 pounds. This truly was a monster.

One Day More.

To accommodate the patrons of Shook's cider press, who have been unable to get to the press, the season will be continued until Thursday next, November 7th.

WILL START AGAIN.

The Foundry Will Resume Operations in a Short Time.

Centre Hall's most important industry will resume operations again after a discontinuance of manufacturing for several months, and the shops will be started as soon as possible.

Mr. E. M. Huyett has retired from the firm of Huyett & Rearick, and Mr. W. O. Rearick will carry on the business himself. He will manufacture the corplanter, and other farm implements, and work will be given several men.

The shops will be started next week, and as soon as possible every department will be in full operation.

Destructive Forest Fires.

The most destructive forest fires known in the history of the county are now raging in the vicinity of Huntingdon. The town is completely surrounded by burning forests, the fire reaching on one side to within a quarter of a mile. The flames have destroyed over ten miles of timber on Warrior Ridge alone, and about the same amount on Jack's mountain and Lick Ridge.

The once famous summer hotel at Warm Springs, on Warrior Ridge, five miles north of Huntingdon, is in imminent danger. A large flock of sheep belonging to Rudolph Cahagan, in Oneida township, were burned last week. Over 500 men are fighting the fires and endeavoring to save the farm properties in the line of the flames.

He Won't Need an Overcoat.

We frequently receive notice from the postmasters of different towns saying "your paper addressed to so and so is not taken out, but remains dead at this office" giving as a reason "refused" or "moved away from here." This is about the meanest way for a subscriber to beat the publisher out of the price of subscription, and there is not one case in a hundred in which he does not owe from one to two years at the least. We don't know of any treatment that would do justice to a man of this type. However, we have one consolation in the fact that when he dies—well, he won't need to take an overcoat with him any way.—Phillipsburg Journal.

Boiled Applebutter.

A farmer, from College township, called on Saturday to tell a good joke on Prof. John Hamilton, the champion farmer and recently appointed Dep. Secretary of Agriculture. Mr. Hamilton lives on his farm in College township which, he carefully superintends.

Mr. Hamilton, as the story goes, decided to make some applebutter; he secured the best cider and pared the best apples; got a neighbor's copper kettle and put all the stuff on and began boiling over a vigorous fire. After several hours boiling the mixture was taken off. To his dismay found the bottom of the kettle almost burned out and the mixture spoiled. He did not know that it must be continually stirred. It was necessary also to pay the neighbor the full price for the ruined kettle.

Wonder if the Prof. will give any addresses this winter, while holding farmer's institutes, as how to boil apple butter without burning.—Centre Democrat.

Counterfeit Nickels.

Exchanges in several places state that many counterfeit nickels are in circulation. They are made of babbitt metal, with nickel finish, and are lighter in weight than the genuine article. If thrown with some force on a hard substance the nickel covering breaks off and the counterfeit is discovered.

A Plenty and all Good.

Farmers have gathered in their last crop—corn—in fine condition. This was true with all other this year's crops, hay, wheat, oats, and potatoes—the weather having been favorable for all and the harvest bountiful, for which let there be thanks to a kind Providence.

A Fatal Fall.

George Moyer, a prominent farmer of Sugar Valley, died at Loganton Saturday from the effects of injuries to his head, which injuries were received by the gentleman falling backwards off a wagon. Deceased was 78 years old and is survived by his wife and four children.

Not Improving.

The venerable John McCoy, of Potters Mills, who had three fingers torn off by getting his right hand caught in a corn husker last Wednesday, is suffering greatly from his lacerated hand. The hand and arm are swollen to the shoulder, and he is scarcely able to be about.

Reformed Class.

The classis of the Reformed church convened in the Evangelical church, on Wednesday. A number of ministers and delegates were present.

ROBBED AND SHOT.

George Potter, a Former Phillipsburgh, Held up and Shot by Highwaymen.

George Potter, a former resident of Phillipsburg, and whose sister, Mrs. Ira Howe, still resides in that city, was robbed and shot near Johnsonburg about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning.

As he was crossing the Clarion river bridge alone a stranger approached him and asked what time it was. Potter pulled out his watch and told the time of night and at that the highwaymen drew a revolver and told him to give up his watch and roll too. Potter tackled the robber although he was over matched in size, and threw him down on the bridge. While Potter was on top the under man managed to use one of his hands and shot Potter through the side. The ball entered in front and came out well around towards the back, putting a hole clear through him. But the bullet missed the intestines and other vital organs apparently and it is believed at this time that he will recover, although a letter received by Mrs. Howe last Tuesday evening from her mother states that he is very weak from loss of blood.

After the shooting and the robbing Potter was left lying on the bridge, but managed to crawl on his hands and knees to a house which stood near the bridge, where he was taken in and a physician speedily summoned. During the day he was taken to his home, where he is receiving best of attention.

Unfortunately the robber escaped.—Phillipsburg Journal.

Live Advertisements.

One reason why people never pay any attention to signs and advertisements daubed on old fences and bridges is because they do not know whether they are reading the advertisement of some firm that is still in business or one that has been dead for years. When people read advertisements in a newspaper that is up to date they know the advertiser is alive and doing business.—Ex.

Mifflin County Deaths.

KATZ & CO., LIMITED. Bellefonte, Pa.

Notwithstanding the enormous advance in hides, and consequent rise in leather and shoes, we are selling all our goods at old prices.

WE anticipated the advance, and filled our store room and basement with staple footwear, which cannot now be bought for less than 20 per cent. advance.

THEY go at the old price while they last, which in many cases is less than we can buy them for.

Mingle's Shoe Store.

Bellefonte.

Its Blanket Weather. The sharp air between night and morning tells you that a woolly warm blanket wouldn't be amiss. We've a stock of several hundred in which there isn't a single amiss, and the price is just at that point where economy and quality meet. GARMANS.

We are Trying to better This Business. By giving you better goods, better service, better everything that ought to go in a first-class establishment. Perhaps you are not yet acquainted with this better way of selling Dry Goods. Isn't it something to come where the same measure of attention goes, whether you buy a package of pins or a silk dress? GARMANS.

We Are Opening the New Goods. For that matter, we are always opening new goods; but these are the season's biggest purchases and include all those pretty novelties that you are so eager to see. We are ready now to show them. Buy or don't buy, just as you choose—either way, we won't be offended. GARMANS.

Why We Sell The best Gloves. You can well judge a dry goods store by the gloves it sells. Poor gloves, poor store, and vice versa. We started to make the best dry goods store you ever knew, and part of it was selling the right gloves—Try them. GARMANS.
