ELECTION NEWS

CENTRE COUNTY SWINGS INTO LINE AGAIN.

Smith and Singer Elected by Small Majorities.—A Light Vote Cast in Democratic Strongholds.—The Republican State Ticket Elected by Big Majorities.

The election on Tuesday, has fully decided that Centre county still remains under the banner of the Democrats, notwithstanding the light vote polled in the Democratic strongholds.

In the county it was an off year, and there were but two offices to be filled, prothonotary and District Attorney. The Republicans had Abram V. Miller up for Prothonotary, while William J. Smith, the present incumbent was the Democratic nominee.

Quigley and Singer were after the District Attorneyship. The vote was close and the Democratic candidates won by less than a hundred majority. This is conceded by the Republicans to be a great victory. Only last year the county gave the Republican candidates majorities from 500 to 900.

Penns Valley, which usually determines the size of the Democratic majorities, did not do as well as last year, owing to this being an off year, and a big per cent of the vote was not out in some districts.

Smith's majority over Miller, official, is 69, and Quigley is just 65 votes behind Singer on the official count.

BIG STATE MAJORITY.

The Republicans Roll Up Another Big Score.

The Republican State Ticket was elected by big majorities, and easily elected their candidates for State Treasurer and six Superior Court Judges, while the Democrats will be represented by one only on the bench.

The state gives Haywood a majority over Meyers of about 150,000, while for Superior Judges the majority is almost as high.

New York.

New York elected state officers except Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and both branches of legislature. The state gave Republican majorities of about 50,000, and the legislature is overwhelmingly Republican.

New Jersey.

Griggs, R., has a plurality of 22,513 for governor of New Jersey, over McGill, D. The next state senate will stand 18 Republicans and 3 Democrats. In the assembly Republicans will have 41 votes and Democrats 19.

Ohio.

The state of Ohio gave Republican majorities of about 80,000 to 90,000 and will elect a Republican U. S. Senator. It was a landslide in the Buckeye state.

Maryland.

Maryland has elected a Republican governor by about 15,000 majority. In this state the Democrats had two tickets, and the result means the election of a Republican to the U. S. Senate.

Kentucky.

Kentucky elected a Republican governor by about 8,000 majority. The Republicans claim the legislature, and hope to elect their man to the U. S. senate.

Results in Other Places.

John M. Bailey, the Democratic candidate in the Judicial district, of Mifflin and Huntingdon counties, was elected by about 1200 majority.

For the minority judge on the Superior court bench, Smith seems to lead on the Democratic ticket. The result cannot be determined until an official count is taken today. Yerkes and Smith lead the Democratic ticket.

Utah elected a Republican governor by about 15,000 majority.

The landslide struck every state where an important election was held. The result in Kentucky and Maryland was owing to bitter local fights among the Democrats.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been granted the past week:

James Morris, of Houtzdale, Clearfield county, and Martha Hogancamp, of Clarence, Centre Co.

James A. Emenhizer and Lizzie Watkins, of Boggs township.

James Irvin Morris, of Milesburg, and Mary Ellen Ward, of 228 North Duke street, Lancaster, Pa.

Upton L. Hanes and Mary L. Waller, of Penna. Furnace.

TO PREVENT WATER POLLUTION.

Proceedings Instituted at Hollidaysburg Against the City of Altoona.

Proceedings were instituted in the Blair county courts by the boroughs of Hollidaysburg and Gaysport, the Hollidaysburg board of health and twenty land owners against the city of Altoona, to prevent the pollution of the Juniata river above this point by depositing therein the city's sewerage. The proceedings are the result of an inspection of the river by State Inspector W. E. Matthews, of Johnstown, who reported to the state board of health that the emptying of the sewage into the stream would be prejudicial to the public health and comfort of the two boroughs. The object of the proceedings is to compel the city to filter or burn its sewage and the trial of the case will form a valuable contribution to the sanitary laws of the commonwealth.

A Singular Incident.

A singular incident occurred in the Montgomery county court a few days ago. John Shaw was in court to answer for committing a nuisance. The grand jury having ignored the bill for indictment, the bill was returned to the district attorney, who supposing a true bill had been found, arraigned Shaw, who at once pleaded guilty. When it was found that the grand jury, notwithstanding Shaw's subsequent admission had declared him innocent, the accused was discharged after the court recovered from a spasm of laughter.

Got a Pension.

John Martz, a veteran of the last war, was granted a pension last week by the Department, of $6 per month and received $105 back pay. John was a good soldier and his friends are glad that he has been placed on the roll of honor. He is deserving of it.

Ref. Church Notice.

My appointments at Tusseyville and Centre Hall, for next Sunday, are withdrawn, and there will be no services. Services on 24 inst., at the usual hours. S. H. EISENBERG.

OUR Dan, in his stumping tour in Ohio, has taken the M'Kinley fever very badly and twice nominated the high tariff champion for President. With our Dan in favor of M'Kinley and Quay in favor of Reed, there is not likely to be much honey for the Ohio high tariff-tax apostle in this state.

HENRY FRY FOUND

SUICIDED—SHOT HIMSELF IN THE SEVEN MOUNTAINS.

Body Found by Two Lumbermen While Out Deer Hunting.—Touched the Trigger with His Toe and Sent a Load of Buckshot Through His Heart.

The mystery is solved at last by the finding of the dead body of the old man, Henry Fry, who disappeared from his home at Potter's Mills, on the 22 of October without any trace of his whereabouts, until Tuesday afternoon of this week, when his dead body was discovered by two men, named Searfos and Valentine, who were in the mountains hunting deer, and came across his dead body accidentally. The two men belonged to a lumber camp on the main stream about 2 miles south-west of Pat Garrity's. The hunters were taking a short cut, up the steep ravine, leading from where Rev. J. K. Miller had his saw-mill to the little bridge on top of the mountain, and along which a road for mules had been cut, but the floods a few years ago had badly torn up the road and gully. Half-way down this gully the hunters came upon the dead body lying close to a large log that lay across the road.

Word was of once sent into the valley and towards evening a party of eleven, among them Dr. Alexander, the overseer and Adam Ripka, left for the spot, reaching there just about dark and returned to Potter's Mills with the body.

It would seem Fry shot himself at the log, placing the butt-end of the gun on the ground, the muzzle against left breast, having taken off his one shoe, used his big toe to pull the trigger and sent a load of buckshot thro his heart, killing him instantly. The powder set his clothing on fire, burning it all from his body except such parts as were saturated with blood, the body being badly scorched, but was otherwise well preserved, weather having been cold; mice had gnawed on parts of the body.

The remains were taken in charge by the overseer of the poor and buried yesterday at Egghill cemetery. He leaves a widow and two daughters, one living at Millheim and the other at Williamsport. His age was about 70 years.

One fact worthy of note in this sad affair, is that the old gentleman was last seen, on the afternoon he disappeared, at Allison's dam. To follow the road to the top of the mountain a distance of several miles, he would have had to pass a dozen of houses, but as he was not observed by any one, it is likely he took some only by-path to reach the place where he took his own life.

What Gossip Has Done.

Gossip! How she runs about on every street; in every store, in all the churches and societies she finds a foothold. Gossip has made a home a hell upon earth. Gossip has parted husbands and wives. Gossip has blackened and sullied the character of many pure girls. Gossip has parted lovers who would be very happy if it were not for gossip. One little misstep or one little indiscretion will cause gossip to arise with new strength and start out on her mission. Her, did we say? We ought not to, for we have our male gossipers, and, as a rule, they are ten times more venomous than the females. A good, healthy man gossipier is about as mean and low and dangerous as the meanest thing on earth.—Ex.

DAVID BOLLINGER.

Born in Millheim, Died in Altoona.—Well Known.

Altoona has suffered the loss of an aged and highly respected citizen in the death of David Bollinger, which occurred at his home, 1812 Eight avenue, at 3 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Bollinger has been failing for the last two years but the most intimate friend had no thought that the reaper was so near. Being of an exceedingly industrious nature he kept at work up to within a few days of his demise. Sunday morning last he arose as usual intent on attending the services at the Eighth avenue Methodist Episcopal church, of which he had been a consistent member for twenty-four years. Against the remonstrances of the family he started for the church in a greatly enervated condition. Reaching there he could not mount the stairs without aid. Returning home he sat down to dinner, but after serving the others he declared his inability to eat and left the table. Neuralgia pains seized him at once and for eight hours his suffering was intense, but the end was peaceful.

Mr. Bollinger was born in Millheim, Centre county, Pa., March 2, 1823, and was aged 72 years, 8 months and 2 days. He learned the coachmaking trade in his native town; then removed to Millheim, Union county, where he met and married Miss Catharine B. Auble, near fifty years ago. The results of this union was a family of nine children.—Altoona Tribune.

Local Jottings.

George Emeric having laid galvanized iron pipe to conduct water to his farm premises near town, is adding, as the next improvement, a wagon-shed to the east end of his barn.

The slating of the roof on the new Reformed church is finished.

The hallow e'en fiend was about last Thursday night. In the square on Friday morning there was a big barricade of buggies, spring-wagons, carts, sleds, and sicks, gathered from the alleys and sheds of the town, which made a formidable looking mess.

Some families have done their butchering already—which means "frishey brotwarsh."

Bring your job work to the "Reporter" office, such as sale posters, circulars, letter and bill heads, fine wedding invitations, &c. Prices reasonable.

John Krumbine now is an assistant in Dauberman's furniture establishment.

Rev. Goodling has had a very successful protracted meeting in progress at Linden Hall, excellent order prevailing.

Don't spend your life studying out petty schemes to injure others.

We have had a succession of sharp frosts, and Sunday morning's was the sharpest yet.

Several families intend moving out of town between this and next spring. One says there's too much little spite here. Bad, we're sorry to say, but you find those weeds everywhere, to the dislike of decent people.

Turkey Bone Pipe Stems.

A corn-cob pipe with a turkey bone stem, would be exclusively agricultural, and as Thanksgiving is only about three weeks off, the reader of the "Reporter" who smokes will have an excellent opportunity to provide himself with a turkey bone pipe stem. And, if he chooses to send the gobble to this office, we will feast on it, and promise to send him the pipe stems.

An old smoker says there is nothing like it. It is porous and yields to the teeth. Smoke drawn thro the turkey bone stem is cool and sweet. The structure is porous, and it is supposed that the outside air gets thro and takes off the hot, biting taste. There is no danger of a man getting his tongue burned if he uses a turkey bone stem. Wild turkey bones are the best.

The editor of this paper don't smoke, but he eats turkey—when he gets a chance.

It is said that the oldest living man and wife in the United States are Louis and Amelia Darwin, of Black Falls, Wis. The husband was born in 1788, or one year before the inauguration of the first president of the United States, and the wife was born in 1794. They have been married 80 years. Wonder if the grand-parents are living.

A cough which persists day after day, should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

A new overcoat will be needed for this cold weather, you will want to keep warm, and that can easily be done by making your purchases at Lewins, Bellefonte. He has everything in the clothing line.

SILLY WAR TALK

PESSIMISTS PREDICT A CONFLICT WITH ENGLAND.

Wise Sages Who Demand that We Fight or Abandon the Monroe Doctrine.—A War Ship Rejected.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The distinguished war prophets who have been on the rampage in New England, Washington, and other parts of the country should bag their heads and lock their jaws for a while. Instead of the red-handed ultimatum, demanding that we should either abandon the Monroe doctrine or fight, which these self-made prophets have declared was in the course of preparation by England, the English Ambassador has, through Secretary Olney, approached President Cleveland with an olive branch in the shape of a proposition that the United States should form an alliance with England for the protection of English and American citizens and interests in Turkey. True, this proposition has nothing directly to do with the maintenance of the Monroe doctrine in Venezuela, which has inspired all the war prophecies, but even a school boy can see that England would not be asking an alliance with a country that she expected soon to be at war with. Whether President Cleveland sees fit to accept this alliance or not the fact that it has been asked for should be sufficient to cause Senator Chandler and Hon. Don M. Dickinson to stop sitting up o' nights to prevent Canada sneaking New Hampshire and Michigan away from us. Notwithstanding President Cleveland's known aversion to "entangling foreign alliances" the impression among those who ought to know is that he will accept this invitation to act jointly with England in protecting English and American citizens in Turkey, owing to the threatening aspect of affairs in that country.

The Bath Iron Works, of Bath, Maine, the builders of the Ammenram Katahdin, are in a hole, so to speak. The naval trial board has reported to Secretary Herbert that the vessel fell below the speed required on her trial trip. According to the contract the vessel now stands rejected. The ground is taken by some naval officials that unless Congress comes to their release, the Bath Iron Works will have to sell the Katahdin wherever they can. But the matter is complicated by the fact that about $700,000 worth of armor belonging to the U. S. is on the vessel. No official action has yet been taken by Secretary Herbert. It is the belief that he will gladly accept the vessel if any legal way of doing so can be found.

Attorney General Harmon is still getting letters from lawyers and business men, in Indian Territory, endorsing Judge Kilgore and the manner in which he has conducted the business of the U. S. Court which he presides over in that territory. Judge Kilgore's answer to the charges made against him by Mr. Davis has been in the hands of Attorney General Harmon for nearly a week, and the impression is general that the explanation will be satisfactory as far as the Department of Justice is concerned, but it is understood that Mr. Davis will use the same charges to try to prevent the confirmation of Judge Kilgore's nomination by the Senate.

Senator Harris, of Tenn., president pro tem of the Senate, is confident that the Republicans will not control the Senate during the fifty-fourth Congress. Speaking of changes that must necessarily be made, he said: "I am in favor of the two parties appointing committees which shall meet and agree upon a just and equitable organization of the Senate with a view of conducting the business of the body properly. The vacancies on committees must be assigned to committee places. I would have the organization do full justice to the populist party, but I am not in favor of making a combination with the populist party for the control of the Senate, by which their demands are to be met. I do not think the Republican Senators will be willing to make such a combination. In a Senate where no party has a majority it is right and sensible for the two dominant parties, in fact for the Senate itself, to agree upon an organization just and equitable to all, and that I am confident the Senate will do in a manner creditable to itself as a legislative body.

The attention of those who are suffering with the Cuban recognition colic is respectfully called to the following weighty words of Hon. John T. Morgan, chairman of the Senate committee on Foreign Relations: "Any recognition of belligerency on our part would result in causing our merchant vessels to be subjected to search, and that would give a great deal of anxiety and trouble, and there is no doubt that eventually such a course would result in a war between the United States and Spain. It may as well be understood that when we recognize the belligerency of the Cubans we should draw the sword." Senator Morgan thinks that if the United States wants Cuba it ought to go about getting it in an open and manly way, not by provoking war with a comparatively weak power like Spain, but by offering to purchase the island.

COBURN.

Clayton Duck Died Sunday Evening from Attack of Typhoid Fever.

A. J. Campbell of Shamokin Pa. and W. W. Braucht of Glen Union, came home on last Saturday, and remained to attend the election on Tuesday.

Edward Boob and wife of near Aaronsburg were visiting at the home of O. J. Stover's on Sunday.

The Quarterly Conference held in the United Evangelical Church on last Sunday was well attended. The Lords Supper was administered in the forenoon by Rev. Stapleton, P. E. assisted by regular pastor Rev. Lohr, and Rev. Kepner of the Brushvalley charge.

Frederick Aumon an old citizen of this township is lying dangerously ill at his home of typhoid fever.

Chester Kerstetter of this place is also ill, with symptoms of the same dread disease.

W. J. Rote has torn his mansion down, across the creek, and will build a larger and more commodious one, near the same place.

The election on Tuesday was fairly well attended, polling 211 votes out of 259 on the Registry list.

Mr. Mayes and wife of Granville Pa. are visiting at present, at the home of James A. Koonce, Mr. Mayes was one of the "Bays in Blue" and lost a leg in the service.

Mr. Clayton Duck, who for the last several years lived on his father's farm a short distance west of Millheim, died on Saturday evening of an obstruction in the bowels superinduced by a severe attack of typhoid fever, of which he had been suffering for about two or three weeks. Deceased was in the prime of life, and before his illness full of vigor, and the hope of a long and useful life. He was an exemplary citizen, a kind husband, and a loving father. He creditably filled various township offices, and at the time of his death was Superintendent of the Millheim Lutheran Sunday school, and a member of St. John Lutheran Church at that place. He will be greatly missed in the church in the Sunday school and in the community in general. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. He was aged about 35 years. His remains were interred at Millheim on Wednesday forenoon.

AND now it has been Rome's turn to be shaken by an earthquake, last week. And from all accounts the shock was a pretty severe one, altho there were no fatalities. Earthquakes evidently are no respecters of cities and will give the holy city a shake with the bad cities.

STATE elections were held in eleven States and one Territory, last Tuesday, as follows: Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Nebraska, New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania and the Territory of Utah.

IT WAS a Democratic victory in the county. 900 Republican majority to Democratic victory shows a Republican loss of over 1000.
