ANNOUNCEMENT.

SHERIFF.

We are authorized to announce that Jacob L. Reagle, of Bellefonte, will be a candidate for the office of Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention.

RECORDER.

We are authorized to announce that A. R. Alexander, of Penn township, will be a candidate for the office of Recorder, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention.

The valiant Republicans in congress are afraid to tackle any thing. They have a big majority but lack courage and patriotism.

WITH a county ticket next fall composed of good, clean men, the Democrats will carry the county beyond a doubt.

THE coming statement of the county finances will show creditable management on part of the board of commissioners.

IN his inaugural address the other day Gov. Bushnell, of Ohio, enforces the necessity of road improvement upon the people of the State over which he is called to preside. Since Gov. Beaver set the example in 1887 few Executives in the progressive States of the Union fail to give the good roads movement the benefit of their approving indorsement. It is no easy task to make the farmers believe that the old roads are not the cheapest for them, but with the campaign of education going steadily on the farmers and other taxpayers as well as the Governors will soon be strenuous good roads advocates.

THE insurgents practically have obtained possession of Cuba. Gomez's words have come true. The whole island is involved in war. If carrying out the general's plan constitutes victory the rebels are really triumphant. There have been no pitched battles, no surrenders of armies checkmated in untenable positions, as in other wars; but the insurgents have done, so far, all they threatened. There are now eighty-six cannon around Havana pointing in the direction from which the rebels might come.

In reality the Government does not know where the rebel columns are. Almost every point approached by the troops reveals the presence of insurgents, skirmishing west of Havana with General Navarro's column. At the same time Suarez Valdez finds no lack of them in Matanzas, while the railroads and sugar plantations are at a standstill, and in the far east the two generals, Pando and Martin, are kept busy by Jose Maceo, Aguirre, Rabi and other rebel chiefs.

THERE WILL BE NO WAR.

There will be no war between England and the United States over the Venezuelan question, and there will be no war between England and Germany over the Transvaal dispute, says the Philadelphia Times. There was very heated discussion in the public journals and by politicians and alleged statesmen who wanted to air their views for the sake of notoriety on the Venezuelan issue, and stock gamblers rushed in to depress values by proclaiming the probability of war, but there is not any more likelihood of war between England and the United States than there is between this country and China.

There will be no war between this country and England for the reason that the good sense of the people of both countries would prevent it. A war between the first two civilizations of the world would be a crime of immeasurable magnitude, and the statesmen of both countries well understand that however grave the dispute may be it must reach a peaceful solution. This country will ask nothing of England that would compel her to declare war, and England will ask nothing of this country that could compel us to summon her to the arbitrament of the sword. The dispute between them is one entirely within the range of diplomacy, and that it will be peacefully settled in the fullness of time is just as certain as the rising and setting of the sun.

There will be no war between Germany and England. The young Emperor of Germany is intensely German and as intense a hater of all that is English, including his own mother and grandmother. He is impulsive, headstrong and has a burning desire to lead the German army to victory on bloody fields, but there is a great deal of sound common sense among the German people as well as among the people of England and America, and the Hotspur Emperor will be compelled to count the cost of war before it is engaged in. His intervention in Transvaal affairs is much like the intervention of this country in Venezuela, and England is quite likely to adjust both disputes by treaties with the people who claim to be aggrieved. When that shall be done there can be no pretext for war, or even for further dispute on the part of the United States and Germany.

Let financial and business interests rest easy about war. A war between two great nations has become so much more grave than it was even a quarter of a century ago, that no nation can afford to engage in it unless it can command the considerate approval of the civilized world. A war between any of the great nations would be ten fold more destructive now than was any war of the past, and the sweeping desolation and incalculable sacrifice which must attend war in these days is the best guarantee of peace. There will be no war between England and the United States, or between England and Germany, simply because in the nature of things such war is impossible.

A Sufferer Cured

"Every season, from the time I was two years old, I suffered dreadfully from erysipelas, which kept growing worse until my hands were almost useless. The bones softened so that they would bend, and several of my fingers are now crooked from this cause. On my hand I carry large scars, which, but for AYER'S Sarsaparilla, would be sores, provided I was alive and able to carry anything. Eight bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me, so that I have had no return of the disease for more than twenty years. The first bottle seemed to reach the spot and a persistent use of it has perfected the cure."—O. C. DAVIS, Wantona, Wis.

CURED OF DYSPEPSIA

Commander Dean writes: "As Chief U. S. Mail Agent of the U. & D. R. R. good health is indispensable. I found myself however all run down with Dyspepsia. I doctored and doctored, but I grew worse. I suffered misery night and day for fully two years. My case was pronounced incurable. I chanced to meet Dr. Kennedy about that time, and told him of my condition and he said, try a bottle of take it morning, noon and night, and it will cure you. I took the medicine as directed, but had no confidence in a cure, as my case had been tried by so many. After using it a week I began to feel better, and in a short while after that I was entirely cured. That terrible distress, everything I ate, breaking up sour in my throat had all gone and I have not had a moment's discomfort since. Today there isn't a healthier man and my appetite is grand."
