Found Beer in the Sink.

A peculiar incident occurred in New York on a recent Sunday. While a policeman of that city was trying to see what was going on in a "suspected" saloon he soiled his hands; he noticed a sink in the ante-room of the saloon, and when he turned on the faucet he was surprised to find that he was washing his hands in beer. The keeper of the saloon was, of course, arrested.

Were it not for the intervening mountain ranges, this country, from Northwest to Southeast, would at times in winter be swept by devastating tornadoes. Blizzards seem to arise out of the caves and canons of the plains. Gaining strength and volume over a wide expanse, their force is arrested by the battlements of big hills. Sometimes they rise above the barriers and sweep the Middle States with fury. There you enjoy one day a mean temperature, and the next may be far below freezing. This capital stands where, by its locality and its political influence, it stretches forth one hand toward the North and the other toward the South. and a mighty work of grace starting here would probably be a National awakening. Georgia would clasp the hand of New Hamp-shire, and Maine the hand of Louisiana, and California the hand of New York, and say, "Come, let us go up and worship the God of Nations, the Christ of Golgotha, the Holy Ghost of the pentecostal thousands." It has often been said that the only way the North and the South will be brought into complete accord is to have a war with some foreign Nation in which both sections, marching side by side, would forget everything but the foe to be overcome. Well, if you wait for such a foreign conflict, you will wait until all this generation is dead and restaurant for such as the section of the s and perhaps wait forever. The war that versies is a war against unrighteousness, such as a universal religious awakening would declare. What we want is a baitle for souls in which about 40,000,000 Northerners and Southerners shall be on the same le side and shoulder to shoulder. In no other by city on the continent can such a war be de-clared so appropriately, for all the other great cities are either Northern or Southern. This is neither, or rather it is both.

Again, it would be especially advantageous polities, and occasionally there are men who get into the Senate and House of Representatives and other important places who are fitted for the positions in neither head nor heart, but this is exceptional and more exceptional now than in other days. There is although there were times when Kentucky, faily Virginia, Delaware, Illinois, New York and Massachusetts had men in the Senate or House of Representatives who were maudlin it. Virginia, Delaware, Illinois, New York and Massachusetts had men in the Senate or House of Representatives who were mandling and staggering drunk across those high places. Never nobler group of mer. sat in Senate or House of Representatives than sat there yesterday and will sit there to morrow, while the highest judiciary, with ut exception, has now upon its bench men beyond criticism for good morals and mental endowment. So in all departments of official position, with here and there an exception, are to-day the brainiest men and most honorable men of America. Now, suppose the Holy Ghost power should fall upon this city, and these men from all parts of America should suddenly become pronounced for Christ. Most soul is a soul—one soul worth as much as interesting city ever built since masonry another. I deny it. The soul of a man who can bring 1000 or 10,000 other souls into the kingdom of God is worth 1000 times or 10,000 times more than the soul of a man who can bring no one into the kingdom. A great outpouring of the Holy Spirit in this capital, reaching the chief men of America, would be of more value to earth and heaven than in any other part of the Nation because can bring 1000 or 10,000 other souls into the kingdom of God is worth 1000 times or great outpouring of the Holy Spirit in this capital, reaching the chief men of America, would be of more value to earth and heaven than in any other part of the Nation because it would reach all the States, cities, towns What the resurrected Christ said in my text to His disciples when He ordered them to for the outstretched right arm of God Almighty in the salvation of this capital!

Some of us remember 1857, when at the close of the worst monetary distress this country has ever felt, compared with which the hard times of the last three years were read some words, written at that time by the Washington correspondent of a New York paper. He wrote: "The First Presbyterian Church can scarce contain the people. Requests are daily preferred for an interest in the prayers offered, and the reading of these forms one of the tenderest and most effective features of the meetings. Particular pains are taken to disclaim and exclude every-thing like sectarian feeling. General astonlesser that takes America gloriously in. Can you not see that if America is not taken for God by His consecrated people it will be taken for Apollyon? The forces engaged on both sides are so tremendous that it cannot be a drawn battle. It is coming, the Armageddon. Either the American Sabbath will parish and this Nation be haded over the force of inhabitants now than then. Why should it be especially advantageous if a mighty work of grace started here, "beginning at Washington?" First, because this adjourns senates and disbands cabinets and adjourns senates and disbands cabinets and adjourns senates and disbands cabinets and adjourns senates and dismisses generations. It commingles the two climates, It is together the two styles of population, not only right, but beautiful that people should have especial love for the latitude where they were born and brought up. With what loving accentuation the Alabamian speaks of his orange groves! And the man enter the churches to spend their last days on earth in supplicating the salvation of this that he comes from the land of the Adamses Samuel and John and John Quiney. Did who have been in furnaces of trouble, as you ever know a Virginian or Ohioan whose was Shadrach, and among lions, as was Daniel, and in dungeons of trouble, as was himself from the Southern or Northern Jeremiah, to join in the prayer, and let State of Presidents? If a man does not like the church of God everywhere lay hold the Almighty arm that moves Na-ns. Then Senators of the United tions. Hallelulah, the Lord is coming. I hear the rumbling of His chariot wheels. I feel on my cheeks the breath of the white horses that draw the Victor! Oh, will not some of those giorious souls of the past come Again, it would be especially advantageous if a mighty work of grace started here, because more representative men are in Washington than in any other city between the oceans. Of course there are accidents in politics, and occasionally there are men who get into the Senate and House of Representative men and Earle and Knapp and Inskip and Archibald Alexander—that Alexander the Great of the Christian churches. Come down! How can you rest up there when the world is dying for lack of the gospe? Come down and agonize with us in prayer. Come down and help us preach in our pulpits. Come down and inspire our courage and faith. Heaven can ge! along without you better than we can. But more than all, and push and the consecration requisite. First of all, we ministers must get right. That was a startling utterance of Mr. Swinnock when he said. "It is a doleful thing to fall into hell from under the pulpit; but, oh, how dreadful a thing to drop thither out of the pulpit." That was an all suggestive thing that Paul wrote to the Corinthians, "Lest that he any means when I have no seen that the control of the corinthians." that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." That was an inspiring motto with which White-field sealed all his letters, "We seek the stars," Lord God, wake up all our pulpits, and then it will be as when Venn preached, and it was said that men fell before the word like slacked lime. Let us all, laymen and clergyman, to the work. What Washington wants all is an old fashioned revival of religion but on a vaster scale, so that the world will never be compelled to say as of old, "We never saw it on this fashion." But remem-ber there is a human side as well as a divine side to a revival. Those of us brought up in the country know what is called "a raising"-the neighbors gathered together to lift the heavy frame for a new house after the timbers are ready to be put into their places. It is dangerous work, and there are many accidents. The neighbors had gaththe men who were lifting it. It had already begun to settle back. The boss carpenter shouted: "Lift, men, or die! All together!

Yo, heave!" With mightier push they tried to send the beam to its place, but failed. Still they held on, all the time their strength lessening. on, all the time their strength lessening. The wives and mothers and daughters stood in horror looking on. Then the boss carpenter shouted to the women, "Come and help!" They came, and womanly arms became the arms of giants, for they were lifting to save the lives of husbands and fathers and sons, as well as their own. Then the boss car-penter mounted one of the beams and shouted: "Now! Altogather! Lift or die! Yo, heave!" And with a united effort that almost burst the blood versels, great beam went to its place a wild huzza was heard. That is way it sometimes seems in the churches. be reared, but there is a halt, a stop, a catch somewhere. A few are lifting all they can, but we want more hands at this raising, and more hearts, more Christian men to help-aye, more Christian women to re-enforce. If the work fail, it means the death of many souls. All together, men and women of God! Lift or die! The top stone must come to its place "with shoutings of grace, grace unto it." God is ready to do His part: are we ready to do our part? There is work not only for the knee of prayer, but for the shoulder of upheaval.

And now I would like to see this hour that which I have never seen, but hope to see-a whole audience saved under one flash of the Eternal Spirit. Before you go out of any of these doors enter the door of mercy. Father and mother, come in and bring your children with you. Newly married folks, consecrate your lifetime to God, and be married for eternity as well as time. Young man, you will want God before you get through this world, and you want Him now. Young woman, without God this is a hard world for women. One and all, wher-ever you sit or stand. I lift my voice so that you can hear it, out in the corridors and on the street, and say, in the words of the Med-iterranean ship captain, "Call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not." Oh, what news to tell, what news to relate to your old father and mother, what news to telegraph your friends on the other side of the mountains, what news with which to thrill your loved ones in heaven! It was of such news that a man read in a noonday meeting in Philadelphia He arese, and unrolling a manuscript read:

Where'er we meet, you always say: Pray what's the order of the day? What's the news? What's the news?' Oh, I have got good news to tell-My Saviour hath done all things well, And triumphed over death and hell-That's the news! That's the news!

Society men of Shellyville, Ind., attended a novel reception at the house of Mr. John C. De Prey, a wealthy business man. It was called a "Limburgerette," and was intended as a rebuke to the society ladies who insist on ignoring the men at afternoon teas.

Two hundred men most prominent in business and social circles attended. They went in full dress, but used as conveyances carts, drays, trucks, push carts and all manner of outlandish vehicles, until the assemblage blocked traffic around Mr. De Prey's residence. The reception was a take off on the usual afternoon tea. Limburger sandwiches and stogies were served by winsome dudes, who presided at their respective tables, and conversation turned chiefly on "horrid" girls and neckties. Coffee was served out of coal oil cans, and the guests ate off tin plates. All manner of pranks were indulged in. The affair was an immense success.

This formula was examined by the Medical Committee at the World's Fair with the result that while every other make of sarsaparilla was excluded from the Fair, Ayer's Sarsaparilla was admitted and honored by awards. It was admitted because it was the best sarsaparilla. It received the medal as the best. No other sarsaparilla has been so tested or so honored.
