THERE is enough of Democratic material in the county to roll up 800 ma-

NEXT week there will be another large lot of defeated candidates turned loose to say Republicans are ungrateful. It is regretable we do not have a poor-house for the defeated ones; or, why not pension them, since they also went thro a campaign without being wounded, except in their feelings?

THE best thing the Republicans of Centre can do now, since the Democrats are going to have a walk-over, would be to let their county convention slide and on that day all of them attend Weaver's revival services, and get religion, instead of nominating a ticket to be defeated.

THE farmers will enter the pending the Republicans. Under the rule of Friday. that party every farm lost one-half its value; new and useless offices were created; salaries already too high were | she is slowly improving. raised still higher; the price of the farmer's coal oil was doubled and monopolies and trusts were fostered. How a farmer can consistently vote the Republican ticket, is a query.

MUCH slashing, scratching, and tugging is looked for in next week's Republican county convention. There's bargains and set-ups among many of the patriots who are spoiling for an office, that black eyes and bloody noses may be some of the interesting features of the circus. It will hardly be as harmonious as the Democratic convention of last week.

A BILL has been introduced into the Ohio Legislature by James A. Garfield which ought to be passed and one of like sort adopted in every state in the Union. It limits the amount of money a candidate for office may spend and compels him under oath to tell what he himself has contributed. The people have a very serious right to every detail in a matter of this kind, and should keep everything in connection under effective mastery, for here is one of the chief fountain heads of corruption.

THE great trouble among the Republicans at the St. Louis convention, was over the money question. M'Kinley and Mark Hanna his manager, made a strenuous effort to have a straddlebug money plank that could be ex- sold. plained as meaning gold or 50 cent silver dollars. Tom Platt of New York, and other sound money leaders, however, came along and insisted that there shall be no straddle and that the platform shall read for gold outright. M'Kinley and Hanna, from latest advices, have been cut off on their proposed straddle, and the Ohioan must to be around again. run on a gold platform, nolens volens.

THE Republican national convention is now in session at St. Louis to nominate candidates for president and vice president. All signs point to the nomination of M'Kinley for president, on 1st ballot. For vice, several names are mentioned, and among them our Dan from Centre county. The rivals of M'Kinley are making an effort to down M'Kinley. There is almost certain to be a rub on the money question, whether the this side the county and creditable to platform shall have a sound money plank, or a straddle. M'Kinley occupies a straddle and is mum; his past utterances lean towards silver. There

SOME Democrats have made the inquiry why our county convention was smaller in number of delegates than in former years. The apportionment is made after each gubernatorial election, based upon the Democratic vote for governor. At the last election Singerly's vote went elsewhere, hence we lost a corresponding number of delegates. For example, take our own boro, here we had two delegates; but a pretended Democrat traded off Singerly and by that trade we lost a delegate-this offense against our party has been frequently committed here, and is working to the injury of the

THE men talked of mostly for vice president, at St. Louis, are Hobart, of New Jersey, Morton, of New York, Reed, of Maine, and some mention of Hastings of this state. Morton and Reed say they are candidates for president and will not accept the tail end of the ticket. Either Hobart or Hastings will accept if the nomination is tendered. Other prominent names are talked of, but it is difficult to say who will get the second place.

FREE COINAGE IN A NUTSHELL.

TALKING of free coinage of silver, worth of silver shall be coined and stamped as one dollar, why not take 50 cents worth of gold, have it coined and stamped as one dollar? Here is a sumes to double its value, but it would be "free coinage."

Further, say we have free coinage; say the government takes the entire silver product and coins it into dollars, how is any reader of the REPORTER to get any of those dollars unless he first earns them? There are 50 million dollars of coined silver in the U. S. Treasury, stacked there for years, with no one wanting them; why don't the free coinage advocates call for them so as to make room for new silver coinage? Why shall the Government make its citizens pay the silver kings one dollar for silver that in no part of the world is worth more than fifty cents? This is the silver question in a nut shell.

SPRING MILLS. A Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival on Saturday Evening. The little disappointments which cropped out here and there immediately after the Democratic nominations of Tuesday last, have apparently died out, and now, no doubt, the ticket will receive the cordial support of the Democracy. The Republican primary elections will be held on Saturday and on Tuesday next the convention meets after which our county campaign will be in full blast. On this side of the mountain the Republicans are particularly interested, as here is conceded the nomination for the treasurership, although candidates are pretty well scattered on both sides of the "hill" and naturally all are very anxious and a little nervous. Of course their policy will be to nominate a popular candidate on the Penns valley side of the mountain, to counteract and off-set the Democratic nomination if they have any hopes, or expect to have the ghost of a chance for success. A candidate fully capable and sufficiently influential to divide the honors, if that is possible, with C. A. Weaver, the Democratic nominee. The question to puzzle them will be whom to nominate, who will be able to cope with Mr. what would be wrong about having Weaver in this Democratic Giberaltar the question settled thus: If 50 cents with any possibility of success. In the western part of the county, of course their candidate will poll his regular party vote, no more, possibly no less; but here, right here in these valway to maintain the parity of gold leys are the Democratic rocks which and silver.
