PRESENT SILVER COINAGE.

We have been asked for information about the recent order of Secretary Carlisle setting the mints at work coining silver at the rate of $3,000,000 a month, which will be continued during the remainder of the present year. It is due to the narrow margin of silver coin available under the Sherman silver purchase law for the redemption of the treasury notes issued under that law for silver bullion, which notes are made payable in silver. These treasury notes are retired and canceled when redeemed in silver dollars, and the dollars are released for general circulation. The amount of silver dollars coined from the bullion in the treasury, received for the treasury notes, has not kept pace the last six months with the redemption of such notes. Redemption of treasury notes in silver are heavy during the summer and autumn, because of the demand for silver dollars to pay the cotton hands at the south. This is the explanation given by the treasury department, and it states the facts of the increased coining of silver dollars which is to go on at the rate of $3,000,000 a month for the next five months. The amount of these silver treasury notes in circulation is $101,000,000 and in the treasury there are $32,000,000. The amount of uncoined silver bullion in the treasury on the 1st of May was $120,939,560. It is from this bullion the silver coinage is going on.

It is a fact of some interest that these treasury notes, payable in silver, have been redeemed in gold on demand of the holders of the notes. This policy was commenced under the Harrison administration, by direction of Secretary of the Treasury Foster, in an order issued to the assistant treasurer at Boston, dated October 14, 1891. Until that order no one dreamed they were redeemable in anything else than silver. Foster redeemed $34,000,000 of these silver notes in gold before he left office, thus depleting the gold reserve. He did not redeem a dollar of them in silver, but Secretary Carlisle, while deciding they were redeemable in silver and did redeem $20,000,000 in that metal, held subsequently that under the parity clause they should be redeemed in gold, and has so redeemed large quantities of them in gold, over $50,000,000.

NOT "FREE" BUT EQUAL

Much misapprehension has grown up in the minds of the people on the money question from the use of the term "free coinage" in the sense of equal coinage. The enemies of the silver coinage on terms of equality with gold, persistently use the adjective "free" as if it meant a gift or making something out of nothing. The mint laws have always required the payment of a sufficient sum by the owners of silver or gold bullion to bear the expenses of the mint. The restoration of the law of 1837, signed by Jackson is all that is demanded by the Democratic platform. This does not mean, as Director Preston of the mint is quoted as saying, that all the silver of the world is to be dumped upon Uncle Sam's mint and that paper or gold is to be paid out for the bullion, as it was under the Allison and Sherman purchasing laws. It does mean that congress shall run the mint according to law and not that any director shall run it according to Morgan-Rothchilds. Then under the restored conditions, Mr. Preston and his vagaries will go. The mints will only give silver coin for silver bullion as fast as they can coin it—and the owners thereof will have to put the coin in circulation themselves by purchase of labor, manufactured goods and farm produce. This is the Jackson plan as now represented by Bryan and Sewall. There need be no fear of swamping the mints with old coin and silver plated ware, as Signor Preston the vicegerent of Baron de Rothschilds seems to apprehend. The silver plated spoons and Communion services and the bridal gifts have all a greater value as they are, where they are, than the silver that could be scraped off after melting them in the crucible. These gold vagaries all disappear as each one is subjected to logical analysis.

WHEN the oats is cut and all hauled in, then politics will begin.

THE Lewisburg Journal states that there is a large free silver element in both parties in Union county.

UTAH is clamoring loudly for 16 to 1. That was not Brigham's ratio, he stood for 19 to 1 and only the 19th kicked.

THE spread of the "silver craze" is amazing and the M'Kinley leaders are loosing the "yellows" and taking the blues.

During the past six weeks showers have come along without sighing for them, and, you bet, they have had a booming effect on all growing in field and garden.

THERE is no hitch on the Democratic county ticket this year; it will go thro' o. k., top, centre and bottom. The people know a good thing when they have it.

A good cow now brings as much in market as an average horse. Beef cattle will never drop in price as the consumption of meat keeps pace with the increase in population and the grazing area is becoming less from the encroachments of agriculture.

THE Populist and the silver party, are each holding national conventions in St. Louis, this week. It seems certain the Populists will endorse Bryan for president and that the silver party will likely do the same thing. This is making prospects look blue for M'Kinley.

GLOOM has entered the families of two prominent personages in the late Chicago convention. Ex-Governor Russel, of Massachusetts, was a delegate and a prominent candidate for president, while with a camping party in Canada, was found dead in his bed on Friday morning when he was being called for breakfast.

A daughter of ex-Governor Tillman and now a senator of South Carolina, while out driving with an Episcopal minister, on Saturday, was instantly killed by a stroke of lightning. Her father was also mentioned as a candidate for president and was a delegate in the Chicago convention.

If there was less bad feeling shown than in the past few years over the selection of school teachers it would be a creditable thing and altogether becoming to have the education of the heart as well as the head in aim. Our schools are not to be manned to serve the caprice of jealousy and favoritism—spare them, for the good of the cause, from being prostituted to such low motives. Some persons never care for what is right if they are interfered with in their wrong notions and it is these who are a constant source of trouble in communities which they infest, whether it be in schools, church or social circle. Pity 'tis so.

Mr. Prime, of Dwight, Ill., publisher of "Prime's Crop Reports," denies that the farmers of the West are in poverty. He said to a New York Sun reporter: "In all of the farmers' meetings and conventions which have been held during the last six or eight months there has never been passed a resolution of denunciation, nor has there been made any unnatural demands upon the powers that be." This statement may seem irreconcilable with many that were put forth with much heat at Chicago; but the explanation is easy. There are two sorts of farmers—the political farmers, who are much in evidence at national conventions, and the real farmers, who stay at home to guide the plow and tend to the live stock.

A Handsome Bouquet.

A large and handsome bouquet was placed upon the editor's desk, made up from a variety of the choicest flowers from the lovely beds of Mrs. M. B. Richard, planted with her own artistic taste. She knows we admire the beautiful in nature, and we offer thanks as large as the bouquet sent.

Then it was Dry.

Last summer, about this time, the greatest general dry spell known, set in; we are happy to say that we have no scarcity of water now, nor did we have, thus far, this summer. In the past two months we have had rains every few days, which kept up the streams and supplied wells and cisterns to a fair degree.

INTERIOR FURNISHINGS.

The Pews and Heater for the Reformed Church Contracted for.

The committee in charge has ordered the pews for the new Reformed church and it expects the contract to be completed some time in September. The pews proper are of solid oak, circular, with a special conformation adapted to the comfort of the body. The ends are large and heavy, made out of quartered red oak, paneled, with a high and heavy arm-rest, making an impressive and handsome appearance. The pews in the main audience room will seat 250 people; but the whole church can be converted into one room with a seating capacity of over 500. The pews are to be purchased at the cost of $450 from the Globe Furniture Co., Northville, Mich. The windows of the church promise to be very fine. Twelve of the larger ones will be put in as memorials, and fourteen will be presented; they will be purchased from a firm in Allegheny, Pa., and are to be figured and opalescent glass. The heater, purchased from Miller Bros., Bellefonte, is the latest improvement in that line of the March-Brownback Stove Co., of Pottstown, Pa. The system of ventilation will be perfect and complete, the best modern theory being employed in this work.

POTTERS MILLS.

P. P. Long's Store Invaded by Burglars.—Gov. Hastings and Col. Fred Reynolds breakfast at the Reish House.

Gov. Daniel Hastings and Col. Fred Reynolds took breakfast at the Reish House on Saturday morning, while on their way to the encampment. Sunday was bicycle day for Potters Mills, there were about fifty of them went through, bound for Lewistown. Flint Solidy, of Williamsport, passed through here on Thursday on his way to Lewistown, run a hack to and from the grounds. There were six men with four hacks stopped at the Reish House on Friday night, among them were D. R. P. Rissel, Wm. Williams, C. W. Clark, John F. Butler, W. Knickerbocker, and Boyd Jackson, all from Williamsport. Abe Baum, of Bellefonte, went over on Friday and came back Saturday; said they wanted to tax him too much for his hacks.

Last Tuesday night burglars invaded the store of P. P. Long and raised general havoc, scattering shoes, shirts, and other small articles over the floor. They evidently were in search of money and valuables. The exact amount of goods taken cannot be definitely ascertained. No clue has as yet been discovered.

Stolen Goods Found.

On the night of June 7th, the post-office at Snow Shoe was broken into and stamps and supplies to the amount of about $100 were taken. Four men were arrested for the crime, but on being searched no goods were found upon them. However they were bound over to court and lodged in the jail at Erie. On Saturday several children were playing with a toad near a stone wall on the estate of James Gates one mile this side of Snow Shoe. The toad jumped into a hole in the wall. The children examined the wall and found a lot of stamped envelopes, etc., taken from the postoffice, but all the valuables, amounting to over $80 were not recovered.

Hale Ross made a business trip to Fairbrook last week. Wallace Kline, son of John and Ellen Frazier, died on the 15th inst., near Linden Hall. In the few last years evident signs of an approaching crisis appeared. A complication of troubles brought on rapidly the end. During the last year Wallace tried to live for God. His faith in God sustained when his sufferings became excruciating; he found relief in having God's word read to him. Wallace was a young man of noble character; a few days before death he expressed a desire to connect himself with the church and his request was granted. His death leaves a vacancy in that family which cannot be filled, but adds one to the family where sorrow is unknown. All things are for good; we cannot always see it in that light, yet we know that God can heal all our sorrows. His age was 15 years and 2 months. The funeral was held on Saturday morning, interment being made in the cemetery at Tusseyville. Rev. Eisenberg conducted the services.

And the Band Played. John Wetzel, of Howard, and Clarence Cook, of Bellefonte, had a disputed account for a number of years. Finally Cooke sued Wetzel for a settlement before a justice of the peace. The settlement occurred Monday and while the principals were inside the Howard cornet band was outside playing. After all was satisfactorily arranged it leaked out that Wetzel had hired the band to come to the 'squire's office and play as long as they were inside.
