Brief Local Bits.

Election day opened bright and mild as a May morning.

"Fifty-three cent dollars" taken on subscription for the Reporter.

Och, house cleaning is on hand. "O, for a lodge in some vast wilderness?"

You will find some valuable real estate advertised for sale in the Reporter.

Corn husking, potato raising and picking apples are pretty nearly finished with our farmers.

The next trouble ahead is eating turkey on Thanksgiving; i. e., to know where the turkey's to come from.

The long, winter evenings are coming on; subscribe for the Reporter and the family will enjoy the evenings reading it.

Boob turned out some of the biggest wheels ever seen here; about 24 feet in circumference, intended for wagonwheels in the Jersey sands.

Some farmers are apprehensive this remarkably fine weather may breed the fly in the wheat fields. Let's not fret over that until it is so.

The fine weather we had from middle of last week on, no doubt, was the so-called Indian summer, only that the old-time smokiness was wanting. The smoke was caused by vast prairie fires before the western country was settled.

In this boro we had a quiet election but a full vote was out. In the townships it was about the same; farmers were well on with their work and went to the polls, the highest privilege of an American citizen. It is amusing to listen to some disputing the qualifications of a voter yet know nothing on it and can't even understand the law when they read it.

BRICK FOR SALE.

From 50,000 to 100,000 brick, of the burned Jack house in Boalsburg, are offered for sale in large or small quantities, and good as new. Offered for sale at a bargain. Apply to Frank McFarlane, agent, Boalsburg. Im

—The knack of looking well is due principally to the clothing one wears; to dress well does not necessarily mean that one must own a silver mine or have a "corner" on gold. Inquire at the Philadelphia Branch—what they don't know about fitting you out nobly and at a low figure no one else knows.

WEATHER PREDICTIONS.

How it will be the Coming Month as Predicted by Foster.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 24th to 28th, and the next disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about the 29th, cross the west of Rockies country by close of the 30th, great central valleys 21st to November 2d, eastern states 3d. This disturbance will occur during the high temperature storm period, and the temperature preceding the storm centre will register high in the northern states, which will then be followed by a short, very sharp wave, which will not reach far southward. The warm wave of the above disturbance will cross the west of Rockies country about Oct. 29, great central valleys 31st, eastern states Nov. 2. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about Nov. 1, great central valleys 3d, eastern states 5th.

The second disturbance of November will reach the Pacific coast about 4th, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 5th, the great central valleys 6th to 8th, the eastern states 9th. This disturbance will occur between the high temperature and low temperature storm periods of the months, and, therefore, the temperatures are not expected to go to extremes. It will cause heavy rains in the middle latitudes, heavy snow in northern latitudes, and following light frosts are expected in the middle latitudes of cotton belt. The warm wave preceding this last disturbance will cross the west of Rockies country about Nov. 4, great central valleys 6th, eastern states 8th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 7th, great central valleys 9th, eastern states 11th.

A Change Probable.

For years the holding of the teachers' institute in Bellefonte was an assured thing, but there is a move on foot among some of the teachers to have the sessions held in Philipsburg, and we understand the measure is under consideration. It is claimed that the citizens are unresponsive and unappreciative of the institute, and that a change to Philipsburg would not be detrimental. Philipsburg is putting up some good claims, but being at the extreme end of the county, the location is the only factor against them. A decade back it was customary to hold the institutes in a different town each year, but that was departed from and Bellefonte was the only point selected.

Death of Jeremiah Eckenroth.

Jeremiah Eckenroth, one of the most prominent citizens of Pleasant Gap, died last Thursday morning about seven o'clock after a prolonged illness. He was 69 years of age and leaves to mourn his death a loving wife and one daughter, Mrs. George Wells, of Pleasant Gap. He was a faithful member of the Lutheran church, an honest upright man and will be greatly missed in the community in which he so long lived. The funeral was held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Leg Amputated.

Centre county ministers have been unfortunate this summer. Not three months ago the Reporter noted the amputation of Rev. S. Ditzel's leg. This week we chronicle another minister's sad misfortune. Rev. John Craig, of Julian, had his right leg amputated in the hospital at Johnstown about a week ago. The leg was diseased from a wound received during the war.

Site for Postmaster.

There are likely to be half dozen Republican applicants for post master in this place. Had Bryan been elected there would have been about as many on that side.

Now will begin the wild hunt for office, all around a bitter tug.

Rev. Reaick's Appointments.

Sunday, Nov. 8, at Centre Hall, at 10 a. m.; at Georges valley church, at 2 p. m.; at the Union church at 7. p. m.

Communion in the Lutheran church of this place next Sabbath morning. Preaching Wednesday evening and every evening until close of the week.

Quaker Tea.

The ladies of the Reformed church, of this place, will hold a Quaker Tea, in the rooms over Kremer's store, on Saturday evening, November 21st. Lunch fifteen cents. Ice cream and cake will also be served.

An Eye to Business.

Mrs. Shearer, of near Zion, this county, has harvested fifteen bushels of pumpkin seeds for which she will receive $1.25 per bushel from a New York seed firm.

RAIN, RAIN.

Rain set in last evening and from 6 to 7 a. m. this morning there fell 1.60 inches (over 1 1/2 in.) of rain, and still coming down, prospect rain all day.

—The Philadelphia Branch leads in common sense clothing at common sense prices—hard time prices. They look for only a fair profit there. In many of the goods they sell they don't get any.

The Oldest of our Mothers.

Miles township now probably has the most aged lady on this side of the county, in the person of the widow of Jacob Wolf, who resides with her son John Wolf, on the parental farm one mile west of Rebersburg. On last Decoration day mother Wolf attained the age of 94 years, and she is still in fair health for a person of that age. She was born and lived on the farm all her life-time with the exception of seven years. She saw and endured the hardships of the early settlers and was schooled in pioneer life, the clearing of the forest, harvesting under the fear of Indian attacks, and when the architecture consisted in the erection of primitive log huts, a few of which still remain as landmarks "of the days that tried men's souls." She reared a large family of sons and daughters to honorable life. Very few of her day and generation remain, they sleep beneath the green sward of the valley. May mother Wolf round the century mark ere she joins the great majority.

"Good Boys" at Last.

Our town boys let hallow'e'en night go by default this fall, for the first time in twenty-five years. Citizens woke up on Saturday morning to find gates on their hinges, wagons in their sheds, buggy wheels on their axles, and the comb of stables without the dreaded decoration with road-carts, plows, harrows, cultivators, wheel-barrows, and the dickens only knows what not. Cabbage beds were unmoistened, and now that queen of all dishes, sauerkraut, can be served up and warmed up, oftener.

So right here we score one in favor of our boys.

First Wild Turkey Killed.

One day last week Rev. Rarick and Geo. Bushman went to the mountain above town having heard a flock of wild turkeys were seen there. They came across the birds and Bushman had the good luck to kill a 13 pounder and the Reverend made the feathers fly out of another.

Bushman tumbled over another of the birds but it managed to get away. Charles Arney same day also knocked the feathers out of a gobler. Just think of it, our Nimrods dusting the feathers of wild turkeys almost within sight of the Reporter office!

To Kindle Fires.

Here is a suggestion which, if followed, will do away with the use of that dangerous kerosene. Save all the orange peel you may have, dry in a cool oven and store away in paper bags. Some morning when the fire will not burn, throw several pieces of peel into the stove and note the effect.—Exchange.

In our opinion, to buy oranges for the sake of getting the peel for kindling fires, would be a little expensive.

Nothing Disturbed.

The boys did little or no mischief on Hallow'een, and nothing was misplaced or disturbed. Chief of police Charley Arney was on duty all night, and succeeded in suppressing all attempts. He was determined that there should be no changing of gates and dragging old wagons and boxes about. He had several clashes with the boys, which were exciting for a while, but there it ended.

Died at Tytersville.

James Schreckengast died of consumption at his home near Tytersville Tuesday of last week, of consumption. Deceased is survived by two children, John A., post-master at Green Barr, and Mrs. Mabel Wolf, school teacher at Booneville. Aged 67 years.

Late Mills County Deaths.

In Belleville, Sylvester Bergen, age 17 years. In Allensville, Eli Kurtz, age 67 years. In Armagh twp., O. P. Smith, age 82 years. In Union twp., widow Teresa Stator, age 77 years. In Reedsville, Mrs. E. E. Symonds, aged 31 years.

Aged George Conser Dead.

George Conser died on Wednesday of last week at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Rote, in Lock Haven, after a brief illness; he was 81 years old.

Wasn't Observed.

Saturday last, 31st, being designated as Flag Day, the town was not gaily decorated with bunting. Very few flags were out, and every one had almost forgotten that such a day had been designated.

Under Roof.

The new United Evangelical parsonage is rapidly getting under way. The frame work is up and under roof. The building will be rushed through before cold weather sets in.

Death of an Infant.

The five-weeks-old infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kremer died last Saturday. It contracted a cold and death ensued.—Interment was made in the cemetery at this place Sunday evening.

—Clothes do not make the man,—but they help. The Philadelphia Branch knows just how to increase your personal appearance 100 per cent. without paperizing you.

WILD CHERRY RAILS.

Will Last 100 Years—Have Shown up as Good Yet.

There are two kinds of wild cherry the soft and the hard wood, the latter of which will make fence rails to last a century. We have evidence of this on the farm occupied by ex-commissioner John Wolf, in Miles township, who informs us that there are rails in fences on the place, made of the hard wood wild cherry; these rails were in the fences when they occupied the farm 65 years ago and have every reason to believe they were put into the fence 100 years ago. These rails on recent examination were found well preserved. On this tract, at an early day, were many spots overgrown with wild cherry trees, from which fence rails were made. Some of these trees are still on the farm.

Farmers might profit by using this kind of wood for rails; with such durability fence rails would not need replacing every 15 or 20 years.

LOW RATES.

Winter Excursion Tickets on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On November 1 the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will place on sale at its principal ticket offices excursion tickets to all prominent winter resorts in New Jersey, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Cuba. The tickets will be sold at the usual low rates.

The magnificent facilities of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with its many connections, make this the favorite line for winter travel.

An illustrated book, descriptive of winter resorts, and giving routes of travel and rates for tickets will be furnished free on application to ticket agents.

Hogs Fed Broken Glass.

During the past two or three weeks hog cholera has been prevalent throughout some portions of this county and a number of farmers have lost valuable stock with the disease. A few days ago a poor man in Bellefonte, James F. Gregg, lost two large hogs, which would weigh nearly three hundred each. On their death the symptoms did not indicate cholera or any other disease, and Mr. Gregg secured the services of a veterinarian to examine the animals to find out what caused their death. On being opened it was discovered that the hogs had been fed broken glass and that their entrails were literally cut to pieces. This is a penitentiary offense if the villain who did the deed can be found out.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been granted the past week: S. Webb Kerstetter, Bellefonte, and Millie M. Farey, Spring twp.

Geo. Mitchell and Mary J. Spangler, of Snyder county.

Rufus P. Haugh, of Gregg, and Elsie Vonada, Madisonburg.

Walter T. Wrye, Halfmoon, and Anna M. Blackline, Ferguson.

Geo. Heller, Philipsburg, and Daisy Hemer, Chester Hill.

John H. Gramley, Spring Mills, and Rosa B. Zeigler, Penn Hall.

J. C. Grassmire, of Wingate, and Annie Dale, Houseville.

Samuel Butler, Boggs, and Millie Miller, Gordon Heights.

Wm. D. Asteley, Rush, and Mary Cadwalader, Philipsburg.

Newton F. Stover, Aaronsburg, and Maggie Guisewhite, Haines.

Bagged the Rabbits.

On Monday morning Rev. Rearick, Chas. Arney, John Van Pelt and Jim Sando started out on a rabbit hunt and returned a 2 o'clock in the afternoon with fourteen cotton tails dangling from their belts. So proud were they of their good luck that they went to the photographer and had a picture taken of the whole business, hunters and rabbits.

We learn since a tith Dr. Hosterman and G. Mingle also belonged to the party.

Stole His Corn.

Last Wednesday morning an ex-sheriff Spangler was on his way to the Reporter office to hear how far McKinley had got away with us Democrats he observed that during the night some fellow had got away with about 15 bushels of corn from his crib. The sheriff labored under the belief that during election night no one would steal hence he didn't lock his crib.

As Usual.

We are proud of Penn's valley, in which territory the REPORTER gets in its main work, and in which the Democracy always remain true to the ancient faith and to whose fidelity the party owes its majorities in the county.

Won the Game.

State College foot ball game with Bucknell, at Williamsport, on Saturday, was a defeat for State College. The score stood, Bucknell 10, State College 0. State College can stand it, her past record of games won is 16 to 1.

Good advice: Never leave home on a journey without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by Wm. Pealer, Spring Mills, S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville, and R. E. Bartholomew, Centre Hall.

AT THE RING

School Bell

Tens of thousands of the men of the next generation pack up their books and turn their steps towards the school house. Happy days are they for the boy who is well-clothed and well shod; and that reminds us that we have, for various reasons, been the recognized leaders in boys' footwear in this town. Special attention has been paid to shoes for the little men, and this Fall we are better fixed than ever before to clothe their little feet. And we don't forget their little sisters, either.
