Will Drill to Go Deeper.

A meeting of the Clinton county gas and oil company was held on Saturday afternoon to consider the advisability of drilling the test well in Gallaher township to a depth of 3,500 feet. When the drilling was suspended on Friday evening the well was 3,007 feet deep and the drill was working in hard rock. It was decided at the meeting to continue the drilling until a depth of 3,500 feet is reached unless gas or oil is found at a less depth.—CL Republican.

SHOT IN THE BREAST.

Harry Nevil, of Colyer, Hurt in Millin County.

Harry Nevil, a son of Jacob E. Nevil, of Colyer, is lying in a dangerous condition at Yeagertown, Millin county, with a bullet in his left breast, and the chances for his recovery are very slim. There are several stories afloat of the shooting and no credence can be given any report. One is that Nevil was trading revolvers with a companion, and the weapon was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the left breast and through the lung. Nevil is aged about thirty years and has borne an unsavory reputation, having served a three-year term in the penitentiary for stealing a horse from Wm. Colyer.

A week or more ago he was traveling with a man named Hoover, who lives in Ohio. By flattering inducements they succeeded in persuading Wm. Weaver, at Colyer, to dispose of all his household goods to move to Ohio, where he was promised an excellent position at good wages. Weaver sold his furniture and stock, and turned it into cash. Hoover in some way secured the greater part of the cash on some pretext or other, and Weaver now has neither cash nor job. Hoover and Nevil then started for Lewistown, and got as far as Yeagertown, where the shooting occurred.

Making New Streets.

The council is still at work making new streets through town and the work will continue until all the money secured from issuing the bonds for $1000 has been expended. This week they are crushing limestone in B. H. Arney's field back of the Reformed church, and using it for a top dressing on the foundation made of crushed mountain sand stone. At the station the grade was raised over three feet. At present it looks very narrow and high, but several car loads of furnace slag will be placed on each side of the fill and make it wider. The work will be rushed through as lively as possible, but to complete the work started it will require another issue of bonds.

Shad-fishing on the Juniata.

One hundred and two shad and a 16 pound snapping turtle were caught at Wright's fishery Tuesday night. Shad are selling at prices ranging from 25 to 40 cents. They are all fine and the fame of the food has spread so that there is considerable demand for it from Juniata and Snyder counties. Yesterday and last night four men from Selingsgrove fished the river wherever they could drop in between town and the Millerstown dam, using a short seine and this morning they went home with 50 fine shad in their possession. Fully 500 or 600 shad have been caught this season and shad are said to be more plentiful than any year since 1873.—Newport News.

Working on Plans.

Architect Cole, of Bellefonte, the designer of the Reformed church, has been engaged by the local grange to prepare plans for the new hall the order proposes erecting on the lot recently purchased. The order propose to erect a creditable building, suitable for their own purposes, along with accommodations for business purposes. A new hall will go up, that is sure, but how soon the grange is as yet unable to say.

Nittany Valley Barn Burned.

The large barn on the farm in the east end of Nittany valley, occupied by John Burrell, was entirely consumed by fire a short time ago. The flames spread so rapidly that very little was saved. The last year's crops, three cows and a lot of farming implements were destroyed. The fourth cow was so badly burned that it is feared it will be necessary to kill it.

A Needed Purchase.

Our esteemed town council has done wisely in purchasing a volume on borough laws, and we are in hopes will do what is wiser yet, study it. Hereafter we expect to see all done in accordance with law, and errors of the past will be forgiven. The past steering has been like that of the mariner without a compass. Throw aside favoritism and all feeling to be unfair, follow the law and the oath, and all will be happy yet.

Treatment of a Bruise.

To prevent a bruise from becoming discolored, apply immediately water as hot as can be borne comfortably, changing the cloth as soon as it loses its heat. If hot water is not to be had at once, moisten some dry starch with cold water and cover the bruised part with it.

Decoration Day.

The Memorial services will be held at this place next Saturday evening at six o'clock. The procession of veterans and Sunday schools, headed by the Pleasant Gap band, will proceed to the cemetery where the services will be held. Rev. Eisenberg will deliver the address.

Will Purify the Room.

A small dish of charcoal kept upon a shelf in a dark closet or in a refrigerator and renewed every week, will absorb all odors and help keep things fresh and sweet.

WHAT COUNCIL DID.

street Commissioner Elected and Bills Paid at the Last Meeting.

The town council met in regular session last Friday evening in the council room in the bank building. Bradford, Emerick, Wolf, Deininger and Riter were present.

The secretary was authorized to make a written offer of $2500 to the Centre Hall water company, for its water works and that the offer stand good for five days.

Hoffer street adjacent to the picnic ground does not seem to be properly drained of surplus water and the committee on streets was ordered to give the matter its attention. The election of street commissioner was held and Samuel Durst was chosen on the fourth ballot. The other applicants were George Floray and R. D. Foreman. The following bills were ordered paid, for work done on the streets:

A Violin Maker.

Rev. W. W. Rhoads, the pastor of the United Evangelical church, puts in his spare moments, when not occupied in church work, in making violins, and has disposed of a number to prominent musicians all over the county. At the Worlds Fair, where he exhibited several, he was awarded the highest prize, and has received many flattering testimonials on the fine tone and excellency of his instruments. The making of the instrument requires several months before it can be completed for service. When once ready for the varnish, the last finishing touches, he tells us that it requires three months at least before the instrument has received a thorough finish. He receives from $40 to $100 for each instrument, and from the length of time required to make one, the price does not seem excessive.

Saved by a Chicken

Nathan Amole, a well known farmer near Potstown, was bitten in the hand by a copperhead snake one day last week. He hastily cut the throat of a chicken and stuck the finger that was bitten deep in the incision, holding it there for some time. When he withdrew it the poison had gone into the chicken, which died, leaving its flesh a black color. Mr. Amole suffered no trouble from the bite.

Constable's Mileage.

Judge Scott, in an opinion handed down at Easton, decided that constables were entitled only to mileage for making returns to court, and attending the polls on election day, and gave judgment to the plaintiff, Peter S. Hulsizer, in the amount of ten cents. The action was in the nature of a test case, the county commissioners having refused to pay for such services in accordance with an act of assembly, with reference to fees.

Dog Saves a Boy.

At Ridgway a little boy named Jas. Hanscom, while fishing, tumbled into Hyde's dam. He caught hold of a log as he came up the first time, but it turned, and the boy went down again. A dog, an English spaniel, then jumped into the water, caught hold of the boy's clothing and kept him afloat until help arrived.

The Howard Hornet no More

The office material, including presses, type, etc., of the Howard Hornet were sold recently to a party in Lycoming county for about one-third its original cost. The outfit was shipped to Eagles Mere summer resort, where it will be used in publishing a paper during the summer season.

Painful Fall.

Samuel Kreamer, of near Fiedler, is having his house repaired and re-roofed. The stairways in the building have been torn out, the upper step of the attic stairway alone remaining. Mr. Kreamer, while assisting in taking off the old roof, stood upon this step, when it broke off, precipitating him to the cellar, a height of probably 25 feet. His face was badly mutilated, his arm broken and his body considerably bruised.—Journal.

A Good Man.

The position of street commissioner in the boro has become an office of much importance with the improvements and work that is being done, and council made a good selection when they appointed Samuel Durst to the position. He is a man of good ideas and practical sound common sense, and we do not expect to see the "farming" that was allowed heretofore.

Locusts Due in 1906.

The impression prevails among many that this is the year for the appearance of the 17-year locusts in this section. Yony Deininger who kept a record of the locust years, informs us that this is a mistake and that the locust year is due in 1906. When we think over it we believe Mr. Deininger is correct, as he is a careful observer.

An Attempt to Burn the Armory.

An attempt was made early Friday morning to burn Company B's new $15,000 armory at Bellefonte. A large roll of oily waste was stuffed under the door of the mess room in the basement and set on fire, but the flames were extinguished before great damage was done.

These in connection with a determination to succeed will explain, why in the short space of two years, we have become the Leaders of the Trade and distanced all competitors.

We have almost doubled our last season's business, and are turning out as stylish headwear as can be seen anywhere. We have not only set the pace, but created the styles for Bellefonte.

Our Millinery ideas are extensively copied by others, which is certainly a tribute to our vanity, but they are like all other imitations. They generally fall far short of the original.

As we are not depending like other Millinery establishments on a three months business to make enough profits to keep us going for a whole year, we can afford to sell our Hats at a much lower range of prices, and we do it.

Our prices on our Millinery if fully one-third less than any other Milliners in town. We make no charge for trimming Hats. All Hats are trimmed free when you buy the material from us.

We also ask your attention to our WASH DRESS GOODS. We have the greatest line ever shown here. The assortment is good, and the prices run from a handsome printed Challie at 4c a yard to the most exquisite French Organdies at 35c a yard.
