

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

—Ed. Allison and Samuel McCoy, of Potters Mills, were doing business in town yesterday.

—Mrs. Uriah Reifsnnyder, of Millheim, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. W. Boob.

—Mrs. Jared Kremer spent several days this week with her daughter, Mrs. Frank, at Spring Mills.

—Prof. C. M. Gramley and wife, of Rebersburg, were the guests at the home of Simon Harper Tuesday night.

—Mrs. Rob. McClehan and two sons, of Tyrone, arrived Monday, and will spend several days visiting among friends.

—Mrs. Jane Love, on Church street, is still confined to her bed, and shows no improvement in her condition.

—Ira C. Korman, of Oak Hall, was in Centre Hall Tuesday. He is pushing the implement business and reports big sales.

—F. F. Royer, of Potters Mills, a mighty good man in every way, was in to see us last week, while transacting business in the town.

—Mrs. F. F. Christine returned home again, having been called to Northumberland county several weeks ago by the illness of her father.

—Emanuel Smith, the merchant at Potters Mills, gave us a call, and reports prosperity not having fallen very thick over there yet.

—Chas. Seibert, one of the prominent and active Democrats of State College favored our sanctum with a call and reports things o. k. up there.

—M. B. Duck, one of our valued farmer friends from Gregg, gave us a call to fix his label, and reports the cool weather has checked the growing crops.

—Dr. A. S. Alexander, of Potters Mills favored our sanctum with a call and put his label in good position; he informs us there is considerable sickness in that section.

—Harry, the son of Joshua T. Potter, is visiting among relatives in Clinton county. He made the trip overland by horseback, and undoubtedly will have a good time.

—Mrs. Margaret Harper and Mrs. Joseph Atlee, two Tyrone ladies, are visiting friends here. They were among the guests at the Wolf-Durst wedding near Potters Mills last night.

—E. M. Huyett came up from Wernersville, yesterday, to look after his business interests. His health is quite good now, and will soon begin operations on his extensive lumber job across in the Seven mountains.

—Hon. Jno. T. McCormick was a pleasant caller in our sanctum and is full of life and sound Democracy so characteristic of the Centre county McCormicks, and as noble in honorable record as any.

—Miss Florence Rhone, who has been in Wichita, Kansas, arrived home the last week, after an absence of over a year. She was accompanied by a friend, Miss Emma Hill, of that city, who will spend some time in the east.

—James Gregg and wife, of Milesburg, are spending several weeks with the family of Porter Odenkirk at the Old Fort. James had charge of the Milesburg schools the last year, and was very successful in his work.

—John Meyer left last Friday for Lancaster, having ended his senior vacation. The graduation exercises will be held in about two weeks. He was accompanied by his mother, who has gone on a visit among friends in Lebanon, and other places in that part of the state. She expects to remain several weeks.

—David Runkle, of Pittsburg, arrived here last week and expects to spend a few days yet at his old home and see all his friends. He brought with him a very fine horse and the animal is a beauty. David is an admirer of fine horse flesh and takes great pride in showing the best to every one.

—Ex-Commissioner Goodhart, now a farmer in Potter township, was in town on Wednesday. His name has been mentioned by some of his friends as a good man for jury commissioner. He could fill the position in an admirable manner, but then he may not want the office.—Centre Democrat.

—Mrs. Jane Love, on Church street, is still confined to her bed, and shows no improvement in her condition.

—Ira C. Korman, of Oak Hall, was in Centre Hall Tuesday. He is pushing the implement business and reports big sales.

—F. F. Royer, of Potters Mills, a mighty good man in every way, was in to see us last week, while transacting business in the town.

—Mrs. F. F. Christine returned home again, having been called to Northumberland county several weeks ago by the illness of her father.

SPRING MILLS.

A Heroic Effort of a Mother to Save Her Son from Drowning.

Decoration day was observed here as usual. The old veterans, accompanied by the children of our Sunday schools, preceded by the Citizens band, of Spring Mills, marched to the cemetery and decorated the graves of the heroic dead. After an invocation by Rev. D. M. Wolf, Capt. Taylor, of Bellefonte, delivered a very appropriate address; a few remarks were also made by Mr. Gettig, from the same city. The attendance was unusually large, notwithstanding the weather was blustery and chilly—more like fall than being on the verge of summer.

G. H. Long, one of our active merchants, has had his residence, adjoining his business establishment, known throughout the valley as the "brick store," entirely remodeled. The building has been raised several feet, internally completely changed, and externally decidedly improved. The old-fashioned narrow window has been replaced with the modern style of today, and several new ones added. A very handsome wide portico is on two sides, forming an L, with lattice work from the ground to the flooring, and in front is the flower garden surrounded with a very neat piece of fencing. In going up the pike, the property faces the road as the pike here takes a sudden turn to the right, the residence presents a very beautiful and striking appearance.

Since writing the above I learn that one of Mr. Long's children had a very narrow escape from drowning. On Sunday last one of them, next to the oldest, a bright little fellow of about five years of age with others, was playing at the foot log located at the head of the creek above the mill dam, evidently a dangerous play ground. Mrs. Long had just passed them on her way to the spring, possibly fifty feet above the foot log, when a splash and a cry caused her to look back, when she discovered that her little son had fallen into the creek. Quick as thought she returned and jumped in after him, the water reaching to her neck. Fortunately the accident was observed by persons some distance off, who immediately started on a run to their assistance. Harry Allison, an employe of the mill arriving, succeeded in placing both safely on terra firma. It was a narrow escape.

Our junior base ball team expected to have a lively contest with the junior club of Rebersburg, on Saturday last, but the latter team failed to materialize; possibly a misunderstanding as regards the date of playing. The festival held here on Saturday evening last, by the Citizens band, for the purpose of raising funds to purchase uniforms was fairly well patronized. The original intentions were to have an out-door festival, but the weather proving inauspicious, chilly and fall-like, they were forced to entertain their friends in the Grange building. The receipts of the evening were quite satisfactory.

During the last week or ten days we have had several rather severe frosts down this way. We were a trifle apprehensive that the next move would be a freeze, and then good bye to our promising fruit crop. But fortunately so far no serious damage has been done.

By the way—now this is a profound secret, one of our students had made arrangements to have his lady love make him a visit, so arrayed in purple and fine linen, and as smiling as a huge sun flower, on Tuesday last he appeared at the station to meet her. The train arrived and departed and he was left entirely alone; vexed and out of humor, he returned to his rooms and gave vent to his spleen. On the next day he again appeared at the station, just as captivating and happy as he was the day previous, but only to be disappointed again. This was too much like child's play, too trifling, he now resembled Ajax defying thunder, he returned home disgusted and determined not to visit the station again. On the following day his lady love was really on the train, of course never dreaming of the wreck of hopes she had caused, but waited patiently for Spring Mills to be announced, and as Rising Springs was not her destination, she remained in the cars and was not apprised of her mishap 'til arriving at Coburn. Of course at Coburn she was obliged to hire a team to return here. Our student was appalled and horrified when he beheld her driving through our village with a lively team in company with quite a handsome driver. He could scarcely believe his eyes, he was utterly dumfounded, and an excellent illustration of confusion, worse confounded. Of course explanations followed and soon all was serene again. It is not to be presumed however, that in addition to his studies, he made any mention of the marked attentions he was extending to one of our village beauties, or if she had been advised of it and stood on her dignity; possibly the old dodge of second cousin was indulged in. At all events, on Sunday last, he accompanied one of the young ladies to church, and after the services he gallantly escorted the other to her home. This looks as if the second cousin business was being successfully played.
