—Sumner Hosterman left yesterday morning to resume his studies at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster. "Host" is a senior and graduates next June. He is captain of the college foot ball team and goes back early to get his eleven in shape.

Potters Mills.

Potters Mills is booming; two store buildings are being erected, one by Mrs. Kate Carson, and one by Alexander McCoy, they are about 200 yards apart.

Alexander McCoy took charge of the postoffice on the first of the month.

J. R. and S. Strong have leased a piece of ground from Allison Bros. and expect to put their cider and shingle mills on it this fall.

Selling peaches is a paying business this season, there were eight loads of peaches came across the Seven mountains on Tuesday.

Ed. Allison has gone away on a short business trip.

Ed. Evans, of Williamsport, arrived here on Tuesday evening; he came through on his wheel, and reported a very pleasant trip.

Katie and Leaton Wilkinson, of this place, have been absent for two weeks; they have been visiting friends in Bellefonte and Zion.

The farmers have their seeding done and are ready for the grange picnic next week.

—There are yet several months of warm weather and Lewins, Bellefonte offers a most excellent chance for one to save several dollars in purchasing of him. All summer lines have been reduced. The counters must be cleared, and the price they have marked the goods at will move them.

SPRING MILLS.

Our Versatile Correspondent Writes an Interesting Letter.

During last week painters were busily engaged in painting the M. E. parsonage. The new portico looks particularly well, but the board walk in front of the dwelling is still invisible.

The bricklayers have about finished their work on the residence just erected by C. P. Long, on the new avenue to the railroad station, and will now be transferred to the carpenters. When finished the building will be quite a handsome one.

Miss Laura Barner, a very accomplished young lady from Williamsport, a niece of Wm. Pealer of our village, is here visiting relatives and friends, and admiring the beautiful and romantic scenery of Penns valley.

The Reformed Sunday school here held a picnic in the park on Saturday last. The weather being delightful the picnic was largely attended. As the REPORTER'S man passed through the grounds he observed that all were enjoying themselves immensely, especially the little people.

Howard Rossman, one of our popular young men, who has few equals and no superior as a clerk in a country store, is no longer an employe of C. P. Long. Whether Mr. Rossman "expects" to engage with another merchant, or commence business on his own account I am unable to say.

Shook Bros. proprietors of the Wood-lawn Stock farms, located in this neighborhood, are making a very fine display at the State fair in Johnstown, Pa. Charles Grim, of Madisonburg, and B. F. Kenney, of our village, two very capable gentlemen, are assisting one of the firm, Emanuel Shook in the management and disposition of the stock, etc.

Frank Long, the efficient clerk of his brother P. P. Long, whose store at Potters Mills was recently destroyed by fire, is at present in our village clerking for C. P. Long. The destroyed building at Potters Mills is being rebuilt by Mrs. Carson, but will not be again occupied by Mr. Long, who has now quite a large and flourishing establishment at Punxsutawney, Pa. If I am correctly informed, Mrs. Carson's son Frank, will commence business at the old stand.

The Democracy of this section are perfectly satisfied with the recent proceedings at Reading, and approve the action of the committee in declaring the seat of Mr. Harry vacant. Of course the little coterie of Republicans we have here are delighted, and predict all kinds of absurdities as a result. Mr. Harry being apprised of the measures adopted by the regular Democratic organization, and advocating its defeat, what business had he to occupy a seat in the national committee. He should have resigned, and not have made such a miserable imitation of Ajax defying thunder. Of course there was but one remedy—his removal.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller have just returned from Lock Haven, having been visiting relatives and friends in that locality. Mr. Miller, the well-known wool merchant of our village, reports business and general trade in that city as not being even feverish, but simply dull. This is evidently another section of the country which the "advance agent of prosperity" neglected to pay his respects. In these valleys we have been waiting very patiently for his advent for a considerable length of time, as prosperity here. With $2.00 a day and roast beef so largely promised last fall, still continues to be about as far off as the dog star.

Michael Shires, one of our prominent citizens, and an active insurance agent, is home again, for a little recreation. Mr. Shires has very little time to spare from his business. He is almost continually on the move inspecting applications, and attending to the numerous demands of the several companies he represents. He says that in his opinion, to judge from what he sees and hears in his travels, that business is becoming decidedly brighter; Of course he remarked that it might all be owing to the advance in wheat, and if so would be only temporary, but still he thought otherwise; thought it was resting on a more solid basis—perhaps.

Last week in speaking of the numerous improvements in our village, I neglected to mention those of William Pealer, one of our most prominent and enterprising merchants—the memoranda having been mislaid, of course it was entirely overlooked. Mr. Pealer is erecting a very handsome and capacious portico on the north and east of his residence. All the old fashioned window sashes have been removed from the dwelling and the more modern style introduced containing only two panes of glass, a very decided improvement. The front yard has been extended about four feet north towards the pike, inclosing a row of four large beautiful shade trees, which formerly stood isolated, with a very substantial and tasty fence in front. This conforms with the fencing of his neighbors, all having extended their front yards the same distance. This locality, a short walk down the pike, just on the verge of our village, with its third of a dozen of very charming and home-like dwellings, also our imposing academy, with beautifully planned gardens intervening, presents a very attractive and inviting appearance.

SPECIAL FEATURES

OF The Osborne Columbia Corn Harvester.

Reciprocating feeding jaws reach well ahead of the knife and force the cut. Will not pull corn up by the roots.

Machine is narrow, can drive through between the rows and open up field without running over the standing corn.

Can be successfully operated with two horses.

All levers in easy reach of driver. Perfectly balanced, no side draft, and no weight on horses' necks.

It has two speeds of chains, front pair running fast enough to straighten up all leaning stalks and incline them a little toward the machine before they are cut off, the rear chains running at a lower speed in unison with the butts conveyors.

The side extension hugs on the powerful drive wheel prevent it from slipping and gives the greatest possible traction power.

Gearing on binder attachment is high above the ground, well protected from dirt.

The binder floor or bottom can be raised or lowered by a lever within easy reach of the driver for binding long or short corn.

The Columbia Corn Harvester gathers, cuts and binds corn in a vertical position.

Weeds, grass or pumpkin vines will not wind about or clog the Columbia Corn Harvester.

Machine can be set to cut a low or extremely high stubble.

Will bind a large or small bundle.
