Entire School Board Arrested.

Here is a fresh warning: All the directors of the West Mahanoy township schools, in Schuylkill county, were arrested the other day and are now under $500 bail to appear at court. The charges are fraud and favoritism to relatives. An instance is cited where T. E. Flanagan is said to have been paid $75 for attending to school supplies when he was secretary of the board. The same law applies to overseers, supervisors, councilmen and other officers. Let the warning be heeded, such doings are a penitentiary offense.

THE CORNELLY CASE.

New Developments said to Have Arisen that may Result in the Withdrawal of His Motion for a New Trial.

During the Cornelly trial here last week, says a dispatch from Bellefonte, to the Philadelphia Times, an attempt was made by the attorneys for the defense to asperse the character of A. W. Gillespie, the 19-year-old detective from Pittsburg, who was instrumental in bringing Cornelly to justice, by intimating that he himself set fire to the armory, and further endeavoring to show that his alleged talks with Cornelly were all false, the latter so swearing in his evidence. Since the trial, however, facts have come to light bearing out the testimony of the detective in most every particular, while the district attorney now claims to be in possession of facts which would clearly convict Cornelly of firing the Court House. These developments may have much to do with the application for a new trial now pending. Argument of the same will not take place until next month, and it is now the general opinion that prior to that time the application may be withdrawn.

In the meantime, an extra watch is being kept in the jail that no prisoners escape. New locks have been placed on the cell doors, and a night guard paces the corridor from dark to sunrise. Cornelly himself is very much broken up over the outcome of his trial, as he anticipated being cleared. For days he refused to eat and slept very little, and even now is extremely dejected. The extreme penalty of the offense of which he was convicted is seven years in the penitentiary and $2,000 fine, and though he may get the extreme limit, there is a belief prevalent that he will be given about five years. Should such be the case, it is very doubtful if the man would ever live to complete his sentence, as he never was very strong.

Bold Burglars.

On Monday night Mr. Kessler's clothing store, on the corner of Main and Penn street, says last week's Millheim Journal, was burglarized and clothing taken to the amount of about $100. The thieves gained entrance into the back room through one of the windows fronting on Penn street, and then left themselves into the main store room. From appearances on the next morning they were very choicy as to style, fit and quality, as they had ransacked nearly the entire stock, and scattered the neatly piled clothing in search of what they wanted. There is not the slightest clue to the perpetrators of the theft.

A Principal Elected.

The school board met last Friday evening to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Shannon, of Turbotville. He is a graduate of State College and has been teaching for several years.
