THE DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

For State Treasurer, MICHAEL E. BROWN. For Auditor General, WALTER E. RITTER.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET. For County Surveyor, J. H. WETZEL. For Jury Commissioner, J. J. HOY.

The Hazleton riots will cost the state no less than $125,000.

The expenses of the state under Republican rule are double what they were under Gov. Pattison.

It is a noteworthy fact that the worst, most corrupt and disgraceful legislation of this state, was enacted in a church. Of course, the church was not to blame.

According to the latest statistics available there was in this country during the year, 7,900 murders and homicides, 113 legal executions and 160 lynchings. Every year for ten years the lynchings in the United States have exceeded the legal executions. It is a horrible fact to face, but the statistics are before us.

The greatest, largest, most magnificent and apparently the fleetest steamship in existence sailed into New York harbor a few nights ago, 5 days, 22 hours and 45 minutes out from Southampton, a record never made before. Her name is Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

Senator Hanna has announced, for the benefit of his Ohio boom, that an Immigration bill is to be passed which will protect American workmen from the tramp labor of Europe. But the tramps from Europe are but a handful in comparison with the tramps who have been made such in our own country by acts of Congress.

Expert testimony has received further discredit in the Luetgert trial in Chicago. The fragments of bone which one expert identified as parts of the skeleton of a woman were declared by another expert to be bones of a hog. Until the experts can agree better than this, it seems scarcely worth while to take up the time of the Court with their expensive testimony.

The official ballot this year will contain seven columns, to be used by the Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Socialist Labor, Liberty and Independent parties, and independent voters who may not desire to vote for any of the candidates of the several parties.

The official ballot printed last year in the REPORTER office, contained 11 columns and was the largest ever vo-

LAST week New Jersey voted upon several amendments to the Constitution, one of them being to prohibit gambling and horse racing. At first it was reported that this was defeated. Later returns show that it carried and in future gambling and horse racing will be unconstitutional.

One amendment was for woman's suffrage which was defeated by 10,548.

Speaking of Carnegie's residence lows: abroad, the Providence Journal says: It is noteworthy that Mr. Andrew Carnegie has admitted that he prefers to live abroad. He has announced that he will spend most of his time quent insertion. Other rates made made known there hereafter. This devoted patriot's concern for the American workingman, and for the great fundamental principle of American equality, and for the forging of the best of armor for the ships of the American navy, will not be lessened by his separation from all that he holds dear.

Deputy Attorney General Reeder furnished Auditor General Mylin with an opinion relative to assessments in Clinton county in which he holds that it will not be necessary for the commissioners of that county to make an assessment in the spring of 1898, as hereafter all assessments will be made in the fall, but that they will have to make their triennial assessment for 1898 before December 31, 1897.

A prominent New York clergyman has been making a calculation on the relative cost of the missionaries the churches of America send to foreign lands, and he figures out that the Baptist missionary, is the cheapest. He can subsist in any heathen land for $209 a year, while a Methodist missionary costs $60 more, and a Presbyterian $100 more. The writer pitches into the Christian Alliance because it spends $499 a year on each of its missionaries. Whether one denomination is spending too much or another too little, we presume, will rightly depend on the number of converted heathen to be credited to the respective ecclesiastical systems.

FIRST impressions and early training stick. The Hon. Galusha A. Grow has been for many years a shining light in the Republican party and yet he says "that the greatest evil in our system of government is the tendency to give office to those who are not qualified to fill it, and that there are too many offices, and that it costs too much to govern ourselves." The old leaven of Democracy that was in the man in his earlier and more guileless condition when he was first sent to Congress to represent a Democratic constituency still occasionally makes itself manifest. There is hope for Galusha yet.

LATE news from the Klondike mentions of starvation at Dawson, five thousand miners having food for a few weeks only, and miners fleeing from awful death, some having dared the perils of snow bound trails to escape and rescuers going to get the others. A camp is said to have been seized by pestilence of typhoid fever and scurvy. Prospectors are reported to be stalled on the Yukon and unable to go either Hunger and death are inevitable for the large number of miners at Dawson City. They have waited patiently for the big transportation companies to get food up the river, but by this time have learned that not another steamer can reach even Circle City on account of low water on the Yukon flats.

A winter of terrible suffering is inevitable. In addition to the food famine this winter, the outlook for the health of the people at Dawson next spring is discouraging. Dawson is built on a swamp which in summer is thawed to the depth of a foot. There is no drainage. All offal is dumped in the streets and when the warm sun of May and June comes out disease will rage unchecked.

The Edmunds commission.

The Hanna commission. No mention is made here of probably the most important of all, the Wolcott commission, authorized by Congress and appointed by the President. It is the only one that has an official status. The commission appointed as an outgrowth of the Indianapolis sound money convention, and of which ex-Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, is chairman, is at work, and the various important divisions of the subject has been divided among sub-committees. Their reports will be passed upon by the general committee, and will eventually find their way to Congress, where they will probably be safely shelved.

The subject matters of investigation confided to the sub-committees are, first, "Metallic Currency," which will take in the question of standards and the silver problem. This committee is composed of three radical goldites. Their conclusions may be set forth in advance. The second question is "The Demand obligations of the Government." This committee will undoubtedly suggest a plan for the retirement of the greenbacks and other demand notes-in other words, the conversion of a non-interest-bearing debt of $500,-000,000 into an interest-bearing debt. No proposition of this kind will go down with the American people or be adopted by any party. The gold Democrats are the only ones committed to it, and they don't amount to a party. The third problem is, "The Banking System." It is understood that there will be a report on this branch of the general subject favoring the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax and the re-establishment of a state banking system guarded so as to secure the noteholder, and possibly with Federal supervision, after the manner of the National banking system. Some favor the liberalizing of the National system so as to permit the establishment of banks with smaller capital, and the acceptance of state and municipal bonds as security bonds for circulation. This is to meet the demand, generally conceded to be well founded, for a better supply of banking facilities and currency at the south and west. President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle recommended a plan of this kind, and we believe if it had been adopted the silver question would never have assumed its formidable character, as it would have satisfied the south and west in the matter of better banking facilities. But Congress would have none of it, and thus gave a free and unobstructed way to the free coinage agitation. Aside from the work of these various commissions it is likely that the currency problem of the future will shape itself on two sharp lines of division. On one side there will be a demand for the remonetization of silver and Government paper issues-the retention and extension of greenbacks. On the other side the retirement of the legal tender notes will be advocated, a monopoly of the currency supply by the National banks, and the permanent maintenance of the gold standard, with silver used only as a subsidiary currency. The drift is in the direction of the battles of the future on | SPRING MILLS, these lines. They stand for the radical conclusions of the two money schools.-Pittsburg Post.

The Boy for the Place. An exchange very truly says: Every boy and young man in town is spotted and when vacancies appear in offices and other positions of responsibility they do not go to those who put in their time smoking cigarettes and aping the styles of dudes and mashers but to the lad who has a clean record for sobriety, honesty and industry, or one who will do all in his power for his employer. A straight, clean, manly boy never has to hunt long for a job. He is always wanted."
