

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS. Oct. 21.

THE RACKET.

No. 9-11 Crider's Exchange, Bellefonte.

We can truthfully say that our stock has never been so complete as it is now. It's early for Fall and Winter goods, but heavy purchases last Summer previous to change of tariff when prices were the lowest on record, accounts for it and assured U low prices for the season.

Utopia, Imported Germantown, and Saxony Yarns, all colors, at last year's prices, (worth 15 to 20c per lb. more now.)

Blankets.

All wool, part wool, and Alabama wool (that's cotton U kno), 25 per cent. less than last year's prices, thanks to a lucky purchase.

Underwear.

For men, women, children, one ton, R. R. manifest weight, just in. Best for the money we've ever seen and U kno we have seen a few.

55 Boys' Suits.

4 to 14 years, prices 98c, $1.29, $1.69, $1.98. Can't be matched in this city for the money.

Willis A. Holley Gets Married.

Willis A. Holley, colored, known to all hereabouts, having been raised in the family of the editor of the Reporter, was married last Monday to a colored lady in Juniata county. Willis, the past 18 months had his home with Wm. L. Kurtz, at Lewisburg, but now expects to reside in Juniata county.

Willis' training has been such as to enable him to be a very useful man in many ways, and we wish him success.

Bogus Electricity.

An examination of some electric belts sold by a street fakir in Warren revealed a layer of dry mustard beneath a strip of thin gauze. A slight perspiration in the wearer moistened the mustard and gave a tingling, burning sensation, which the deluded victim supposed to be a current of electricity passing through him.

May Expect Meteors.

About this time the October shower of meteors may be expected. They radiate from the constellation Orion which rises about ten o'clock at night. At an earlier hour than this a number of persons report having seen a large and very bright and beautiful meteor falling toward the earth Tuesday evening.

C. E. Entertainment.

The Society of Christian Endeavor will give an interesting entertainment, in the Foundry hall, on Friday evening, October 29th. Refreshments will be served after the entertainment. Admission 10 cents.

Tax Collector Arrested.

Joseph Casselberry, who has served as tax collector of Howard township, was arrested on Monday for embezzlement and lodged in jail at Bellefonte. The exact amount of Casselberry's alleged shortage is not yet known.

—For Sale—An elegant self-feed heating stove, burns either chestnut or pea coal; price very low.

THE INJUNCTION.

The injunction case against the boro for attempting to erect a new water plant, had a preliminary hearing before Judge Love, on Saturday afternoon.

Attorneys Reeder, Orvis and Bower, represented our boro council, and C. P. Hewes, esq., represented the water company. The council had quite a large number of witnesses with them to swear to things that did not belong to the case at all hence not one of them was heard. The water company subpoenaed no witnesses as the matter was purely a question of law.

J. D. Murray, a charter member of the old water company, was called and testified as to the origin of the old company, its difficulties and losses by expenses to keep it up and supply the town with an abundance of pure water, that the company had planted fire plugs on every street corner, free of charge besides furnishing large hose for use in case of fire, also free of charge, and that these plugs were gradually damaged under some pernicious influence and that the company at all times furnished an abundance of absolutely pure water.

Councilman Deininger was then called by Mr. Hewes and sworn, and identified some of the council's ordinances and contracts.

Secretary Luse was then sworn to identify some documents for the water company, and on cross-examination by Mr. Reeder was requested to show from the minutes what action the water company had taken as to the increase of stock, which was immaterial, but after some search Mr. Luse stated it did not appear to be on the minutes from a seeming neglect of the former secretary.

Mr. Kurtz, president of the water company was then called and sworn simply to identify some documents.

After a brief argument by Mr. Hewes on one side and Mr. Orvis on the other the hearing was closed by His Honor announcing the injunction to stand until he may decree differently.

The court has continued the injunction and, of course, no further work has been done on the part of the boro for the new water plant.

New Grange Hall.

Ground was broken last week for the foundation for the new grange hall to be erected by the patrons of the local order. It will be quite a large building and brick will likely be used in the construction. Along with the rooms of the order on the second floor, the building will have a large room suitable for a store. The proposed cost will be about $5,000. Architect Cole, of Bellefonte, is the designer. The building will be completed by next spring if the weather permits.

A Rise in Rents Sure.

For two consecutive years the boro taxpayers have had an increase in taxes, and the one to be collected for the next year is sure to be another increase owing to the heavy expenses. To meet these taxes there is a strong sentiment among landlords to raise the rents. This will strike the tenants and much grumbling is sure to follow. From the present prospects the citizens will have a load to carry for years to come, and then there will be a revolution, but too late.

Petty Thieving.

Of late there has been much complaint of petty thieving in town. Granaries and feed bins in stables have been relieved of their contents night after night. Where the buildings have been locked the staples have been pulled. Chicken coops have been raided, and the work has been going on so long that some of those visited have become tired of it all. There will likely be a funeral if the thief is caught in the act.

Will Have a Few Attractions.

Our town, ere long, may have a few attractions in and near it. There is the cave, the pic-nic park, fine churches, the Potter's Fort site to be resurrected, enclosed and beautified by the Daughters of the American Revolution and, maybe, two water plants. We are looming up at the foot of grand old Nittany mountain.

Remember the Game Laws.

Hunters must remember that the new game laws say that "one person shall not kill more than ten pheasants, fifteen quail, or ten woodcocks or two wild turkeys, in one day. The penalty for shooting in excess of the above number is a fine ranging from fifty to one hundred dollars.

Chestnuts Scarce.

The attendance at the churches and Sunday schools promises to be normal this fall. The crop of chestnuts on the mountain is slim, and you'll not find so many of our good people "just taking a walk," and coming home with suspicious bulges about the pockets in the clothing.

Building Operations.

Ollie Stover has his new dwelling under way and about under roof. He wants it completed before the cold weather sets in that he can move in. John Shunk's new dwelling will be completed in a week or two.

HANGING FIRE.

The New School May Not be Started this Year.

During the brief history of the boro, there has always been a contention or quarrel either with the council or upon the school board, but there has not been one year, that both bodies furnished the citizens with a topic for curb-stone and around-the-stove discussions. The school board was the bone of contention for a while, then the council came into prominence and of late has been front with the water question, upon which there is a wide difference among some citizens. According to all precedent, school matters should have taken a back seat, but they are gradually looming up, and once the water question is settled the town will be within the throes of a hot school fight. The board decided on an additional school. A teacher was to be selected and there it hangs, and likely will so long as a set of men are put into that position who hold personal animosity above the public good. A contract was made for furniture, but now it is being held for further orders. Those orders depend largely upon the time the directors get their heads together and make a choice. They are divided and ballot after ballot taken leaves it just as before.

If the fourth school is doomed it will be because a teacher cannot be elected, and it will be useless to make any further moves until they know "where they are at."

Any director who allows spite and personal grudges to rule his range of intelligence and retard the cause of education, deserves severe public condemnation. He should be requested to resign and a place made for him in the present council.

Weather Forecast.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 19th to 23d, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 23d, cross the west of Rockies country by close of 24th, great central valleys 25th to 27th, and eastern states 28th.

A warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about the 23d, great central valleys 25th, and eastern states 27th. A cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about 25th, great central valleys 28th, and eastern states 30th.

High temperatures will prevail in the northern states during the week ending October 23, and severe storms with heavy rains will occur. A great fall in temperature, a cold wave, will occur in northern states not far from 23d.

In the southern states the temperature of the above mentioned week will average below normal. Light rains, principally in Texas.

Married at Scranton.

Yesterday, at noon, Miss Lillian daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Shoop, of Scranton, Pa., and Mr. Marvin Steenback, of Scranton, were united in marriage, at their residence, 317, Madison Avenue. A large number of invited guests were present to witness the ceremony. The bride and groom departed in the afternoon train on a wedding tour, and arrived in Centre Hall today, where they will spend some time among their friends.

The Material Here.

The material for the boro's new water plant under course of erection is on the ground awaiting final disposition. All the cast iron pipe, valves, fittings, fire hydrants, etc., necessary, arrived during the last week. In all there were seven car loads of material shipped. This is the part of the contract awarded to R. D. Wood & Co., Philadelphia.

Fire Insurance.

The board of directors of the Farmers' Mutual F. Ins. Co. held a special meeting at Runkle's hotel, on Tuesday. Insurances to amount of $40,184 were taken.

The loss by the burning of the Philip Hubler barn in Brush valley was adjusted and ordered to be paid in full. The patrons of this company will be gratified to learn that this loss will be met without laying an assessment.

A Peculiar Accident.

Several days ago James Durst injured his knee in a very peculiar manner. He was driving a nail through a board. The nail went through the board and went into the knee to the depth of nearly a half inch. The pain was severe and James suffered greatly for a few days, but will soon be all right again.

Oak Hill Mill So'd.

The Oakhill roller mill, John Rupp late owner, was knocked off to Thomas Meyers, at sheriff's sale on Saturday for $3400, subject, no doubt, to judgments.

Bought a Property.

D. J. Meyer purchased the property now occupied by W. O. Rearick, at the foundry, from John Wolf, of Rebersburg, for $1,000. He will occupy it himself next spring.

—When you want a suit to fit, of good quality and at a low figure, there is but one store in Bellefonte that can touch all these points. Lewins, at the Philad. Branch is the place.

Murderous Assault of a Phillipsburger.
Samuel Gillam, a resident of Phillipsburg, committed a murderous assault on his wife last Saturday evening in the Pennsylvania railroad station at that place.

Gillam had separated from his wife for some time and returned to Phillipsburg Saturday. Meeting his wife in the station he asked her to take a walk with him. She refused and he became so infuriated that he drew a revolver with one hand, and catching her by the head with the other, he fired, the ball lodging in the neck. During the excitement that followed Gillam made his escape. The wounded woman was removed to the hospital. Several hours later Gillam was found on the steps of the hospital waiting a chance to gain an entrance. When arrested he declared his intention of still killing his wife and that it was his purpose to complete his designs. Gillam was brought to Bellefonte Sunday morning and lodged in jail. Mrs. Gillam will recover from the effects of the wound.

Corner Stone Laying.

The cornerstone of the new United Evangelical church, at Greengrove, will be laid Nov. 7, at 10:30 a. m. The Rev. A. E. Gobble, D.D., of New Berlin, will be master of ceremonies. Services to be held in the school-house close by the church lot.

A cordial invitation is extended to the friends in general to attend. A. Stapleton, Presiding Elder, W. H. Brown, pastor in charge.

New Millinery Goods.

Mrs. Lucy Henney has returned from the eastern cities with a very large stock of Fall and Winter Hats and Bonnets, and a line of Trimmings which comprises the latest and most stylish for the season. The new stock is on display at her store, and an inspection is asked of the new goods, which are sure to please.

Gets Hurt by a Thresher.

Charles Frazer, while assisting in the operations of a thresher, at Mr. Kline's, near Tusseyville, on last Thursday evening, was accidentally caught by the belt, resulting in his receiving some very severe bruises.

Rev. Rearick's Appointments

Sunday Oct. 24, at Centre Hall, at 7 p. m.; at St. Johns church at 2 p. m.; at Georges valley at 10 a. m.
