CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS. Nov. 11.
The crop of murders and suicides as chronicled in the dailies is enormous.
It seems to go very hard with the Quay plunderers to swallow Swallow's vote.

THE steamer Idaho, foundered in eight fathoms of water on Saturday morning off Lone Point on Lake Erie. Nineteen lives were lost.

By late intelligence from Ohio it goes that enough of anti-Hanna assemblymen will unite with the Democrats to elect Gov. Bushnell to Hanna's seat in the senate.

THE talk of war between our country and Spain as on the eve of breaking out, is all bosh gotten up by speculators in grain and stocks. There is no present danger of a war between the United States and Spain.

Senator Hanna accounts for the Republican breakdown in Ohio by saying that "good times have made the people careless." It is strange that good times should put ginger into the Democracy while operating as an opiate on the other fellows! thinks the Record.

Chairman Jones, of the Democratic national committee, says:

"I regard the results of the elections as particularly favorable to the Democrats everywhere. It is all they could ask and more than many of us expected."

Wharton Barker, and other prominent Republicans in favor of clean government, have urged Rev. Dr. Swallow to run for governor, next year, as a Reform candidate. The Doctor replies that he is willing if it is desired.

THE recent election in this state shows the Republicans to be a minority party, since the Democratic and Swallow-Thompson vote is 10,000 larger than the corruption ticket polled. Combining these elements next year in favor of honest government, will result in the election of an anti-corruption governor.

Gov. Hastings has appointed Thursday, November 25, as a day of Thanksgiving, for the bountiful gifts of Providence in the past year. It would also be fitting that the people offer thanks for showing by their votes at the recent election, Democrats and Republicans, by a large majority condemn robbery in high places.

Judge Frazer handed down an opinion in quarter session court, Pittsburg, Saturday, in which he declared that a North Dakota divorce is worthless in the state of Pennsylvania. Then if a party is divorced in North Dakota, they are single, but getting into Pennsylvania would be considered married. Funny laws!

HANNA is not near certain of plucking the senatorial plum in Ohio. On Tuesday 8, Charles L. Kurtz slipped quietly into Cincinnati and conferred with Senator Foraker on the senatorial question. It is reported that Kurtz and Foraker carefully surveyed the situation and reached an understanding unfavorable to Hanna.

Gov. Taylor, of Tennessee, made a speech in Texas a few days ago, in which he said: "Texas is the biggest waffle on the griddle of North America. It is sweetened with the honey of happiness pouring from the bungalow of prosperity and buttered with pure Democracy."

THERE is a tribe in Central Africa among whom speakers in public debates are required to stand on one leg while speaking, and to speak only as long as they can so stand. A good rule like that adopted in civilized countries would work admirably upon long-winded orators and tiresome sermons.

The commercial and scientific expedition to the south pole, under Herr Borchgrevink, will start from England next July. Inquiries are now being made for a suitable ship in Scotland and Norway. The object will be to reach Cape Adair and proceed to the south pole on snowshoes. The party will include several scientific men. Herr Borchgrevink will go to Norway at Christmas, and with some Norwegian friends, practice snowshoe running.

Gov. Hastings is alarmed over the turn the elections have taken. In fact the entire Republican shanty is badly scared.
Gov. Hastings said the other day the result of the election on Tuesday 2nd:

"There is no use in hiding the cause of the formidable opposition to the Republican party in this State, and unless we get together we will be beaten next year." As to the vote cast for Swallow, he said it had no significance as far as his personality was concerned, that any other candidate, running under like circumstances, would have made as good a race.

THE National Grange is now in session at Harrisburg with a large attendance from the different states. J. H. Brigham, of Ohio, is master of the National Grange. There are a number of prominent agriculturists present, who take an earnest interest in whatever will benefit and elevate the farming class, and the able appeals they put forth in this direction are founded upon justice. Our great agricultural interests are the mainstay of the Republic.

The State Grange also met at Harrisburg this week.

A correspondent of the New York "Evening Post" argued an election day that the loss of the Greater New York by the Republicans meant the loss of the next House of Representatives, and presented good reasons for it. The present House, elected on the McKinley tidal wave, has 55 Republican majority, and a change of 25 members will make the next House Democratic. The loss of New York means the loss of nine seats in the southern part of the State, below the Harlem river, and these, with the inevitable losses in the south and west, will more than wipe out the Republican majority that elected Mr. Reed speaker. It is stated that Mr. Reed appreciated this fact when he declined to speak for the Platt ticket.

THERE are some very interesting facts shown in the annual report of the interstate commerce commission.

We have in this country 182,776 miles of railroad, 35,950 locomotives and 1,297,649 cars in use. There were 511,772,737 passengers carried during the year, of whom only 181 were killed, or only one in 2,827,474.

Could figures better illustrate the extreme safety of railway travel and the success of invention in overcoming danger?

There are 886,260 employes in the service, and their wages amount to 60 per cent. of the total operating expense. This means more than half a million homes made prosperous by this one industry.

As for the effect of railway operation in enriching all the rest of the people, bringing to their doors the products of a continent at inconceivable cost, and carrying their grain and meat and manufactures to the sea on their way to foreign markets—all that is a beneficence that cannot be expressed in figures or words. It is a crowning glory of civilization.

Dr. Swallow's vote for State treasurer is a revelation of what a good many people of Pennsylvania are thinking of when it is studied. Of course it had nothing to do with prohibition. He received probably 125,000 votes and carried nearly a dozen of counties, some hitherto Democratic and others Republican. Dr. Swallow represented the spirit of hostility to the Republican machine at Harrisburg. His vigorous attacks on it had subjected him to libel suits and other forms of persecution. A good many people wanted just such a man in the State treasurer's office. He had demonstrated ability and courage to deal with the bosses and their works. If the thing were to do over again, Dr. Swallow standing for opening the books and not for prohibition, could probably be elected. As it is his vote is the most remarkable thing in the Pennsylvania result. It marks the issues for next year.

PENNSYLVANIA'S WARNING.
Pennsylvania remains Republican but sounds a warning. The Republican majority is big enough, but it is less than half that of last year. This is due partly to a light vote and partly to defection, and both of these explanations may be traced largely to the same anterior cause.
That original underlying cause is widespread dissatisfaction with the management and fruits of the Republican Machine. The result is a Republican success, but it is the smallest success since parties, issues and times took their later form. It is all the more marked since there is no Democratic party in the state worth the name. Had there been a decent and vigorous opposition the Republican majority would have been much narrowed.
The striking, significant and impressive feature of the election is the heavy vote for Dr. Swallow as a candidate for State Treasurer. He was ostensibly the Prohibition candidate; but his vote multiplies the last Prohibition vote five or six times over. The accretion is not Prohibition but independent Republican. A hundred thousand Republicans voted for Dr. Swallow as a warning. He carries such counties as Dauphin, Berks, Clinton, Lycoming, Northumberland and others. It was the obvious way for remonstrating Republicans to enter a protest, and they seized it. Add the independent vote for Mr. Thompson, and the revolt assumes portentous proportions.

This is the response of the state to the iniquities of the last Legislature. It is the answer of the people to the flagrant and defiant audacity of machine rule. It will be heard—will it be heeded? It means much today—it will mean more next year unless it be heeded by wise and sane action. There is an independent spirit abroad. The Republican managers will do well to put their house in order and prepare to meet the plain public demand.—Philadelphia Press.

PENSION LIST GONE UP.

The total number of pensioners on the rolls at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, was 978,014, a net gain during the year of 5,336, notwithstanding the loss to the roll, by death and statutory causes, during the year was 41,122. The number of new names added to the rolls was 51,101, and 3,971 pensioners who had been previously dropped were restored to the pension roll. The amount disbursed by the pension bureau during the year for pensions and the expenses of the system was $141,990,936.

These are the essential figures set forth in the report of Commissioner Evans. The commissioner, however, makes two very sensible suggestions. The first is that a law be passed that no pension be granted to a soldier's widow who shall remarry. The second is that provision be made for the publication of a complete list of pensioners.

The business of marrying soldiers' widows for the sake of pensions has been somewhat extensively carried on in the country. It is a pretty low form of shiftlessness, and it is one which the Government ought not to encourage or permit. According to the precedents of the revolutionary pension list, veterans of the late war will be leading to the altar young and blushing brides up to the year 1925, and there will be surviving widows on the pension rolls in 1975. It is pretty well understood how many of these marriages are engineered. It has become a business to secure women a pensionable status by marrying an aged veteran. Deathbed marriages are not uncommon. Commissioner Evans does not mince words in pointing out the abuse, which will cost the Government many millions and is one of the most shameful tricks of the many that abound in the pension system.

As to the other recommendation, in regard to printing a complete list of the pensioners, with the amounts they receive, it is a kind of information the public would delight in, in realizing how many of their athletic and well-to-do neighbors are drawing pensions for total or partial disability. The Post a few years ago printed a list of pensioners drawing from the Pittsburg office, and it had a wide circulation and was studied with much curiosity. An official Government publication, accessible to all, would be of much greater value. No man fairly entitled to a pension would object to the publicity. A pension is a badge of honor, if deserved. Otherwise, quite the contrary.—Pittsburg Post.

Slighted the Governor.

A special from Pittsburg, 3 inst., says: Few people who observed the ceremonies surrounding observance of Founder's Day at the Carnegie Library, this afternoon, failed to note that Governor Hastings was ignored in the affair.

The President and Governor were both guests of the city and the Carnegie Library Commission. The Governor was hardly treated as such. Besides being compelled to ride in the second carriage of the procession he was not given a chance to make an address. These slights were prominent throughout all the ceremonies. Ill feeling is bound to develop over the affront.

LINDEN HALL.
A Breezy Letter from Our Correspondent Up the Valley.

J. H. Ross shipped a car load of baled hay Wednesday this week. Wm. Coble, who had been very ill with typhoid fever, is again able to be out.

Clyde Stamm and George Gattig took a trip to Centre Hall Tuesday on business.

Henry Meyer and daughter Myra, of Tusseyville, were seen in our town Tuesday last.

Thomas Coble, of Clearfield, spent a few days with friends at this place quite recently.

J. Irvin Ross and wife, of Lemont, spent Tuesday of this week with their son Hale, at this place.

Wm. Frazier accompanied by his niece, Edith Frazier, were visiting friends at Pleasant Gap Sunday.

John Stover and wife, of Pleasant Gap, were the guests of their son Wm. at this place over Sunday.

The hunters who go to the mountains for wild turkeys should not go in another direction on a "dear" hunt. Henry and Wm. Zeigler and Clyde Stamm attended the corner stone laying of the new U. Ev. church at Penn Hall.

George Swabb and sister Maggie, of Pinegrove Mills, were visiting some of their many friends at this place a few days this week.

J. H. Ross broke ground for his new store building on Main street, Monday. Our town is beginning to boom; there are several dwelling houses also to be erected in the near future.

Dr. A. E. Goble, Principal of the New Berlin College, will fill the pulpit for the United Evangelical congregation Sunday afternoon, the 14th, at 2:30 o'clock. All who wish to listen to a good and able discourse should come and hear him.

A. E. Zeigler who has been clerking in J. H. Ross's store for the last three years, has secured a good and permanent position in the United Evangelical Publishing House, at Harrisburg, and left for that place on Monday morning. He was also superintendent of the U. Ev. Sunday school at this place, and in his departure for a more useful field we lose a good and efficient Sunday school worker.

J. H. Ross has purchased the property belonging to A. E. Meyer, which consists of the following: The Roller mill, the dwelling house occupied by Mr. Meyer, the blacksmith shop and dwelling house now occupied by David Snyder, and several acres of land. There will be a great change in our quiet little town when the snow goes away next spring.

Murderer Makes a Queer Contract—To Serve the Devil Until January.

Arrangements are being rapidly completed at Dover, N. H., for the trial of Joseph E. Kelley, the young Somersworth murderer and bank robber, to begin next Monday.

The defense will be insanity. During the past three months both the prosecution and the defense have subjected the prisoner to examination.

Kelley himself says that he is not insane; that he never has been, and that he was in a perfectly sound mental condition when he killed Cashier Joseph Stickney behind the counter of the Great Falls National Bank, April 16 last.

Kelley says he committed the deed and expects to pay the penalty for it. He asks, however, that the death penalty be not carried out until later than January 15, 1898.

He says he is under a personal compact made several years ago to serve the devil without reservation until his twenty-fifth birthday, which is January 15. He says that if he should die before the time referred to the compact would be binding forever, whereas, if he lives until the day after, the agreement will have been fulfilled and the devil will have no further control over him.
