

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

—Landlord Keller, of Bellefonte, was in town between trains Monday.

—Vance McCormick, of Montandon, is spending a couple days in town.

—Arney Lee returned home last Thursday after a four weeks' visit in Altoona.

—Peter and Adam Smith, two of Centre Hill's pleasant citizens, gave the Reporter a call.

—Mr. Charles Thompson, of Lemont, was the guest of his friend Prof. G. B. Snyder over Sunday.

—N. B. Spangler, Esq., one of Bellefonte's rising young attorneys, was in Centre Hall Tuesday.

—Mrs. W. A. Jacobs and daughter Margaret, spent several days of last week visiting relatives in Boalsburg.

—George Homan, of Williamsport, came up Tuesday to see his old friends. He spent several days last week at Millheim.

—John Callahan will become a citizen of Centre Hall this spring, and will occupy B. D. Brisbin's house on Water street.

—Our pleasant friend, Will Neff, of Potters bank, gave our sanctum a call and took pleasure in setting his label out into '98.

—Porter Odenkirk and wife, of Old Fort, went to Williamsport Thursday on a visit among friends. They returned home Tuesday.

—Our former townsman, William Lohr, of Lewisburg, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Annie, came here last week on a visit to their many friends.

—Rev. A. A. Black, pastor of the Boalsburg Reformed church, accompanied by Mrs. Black, spent several days last week among friends in Centre Hall.

—Harry Fleisher, one of the Reporter's regular patrons from Colyer, was a caller and advanced his label. He reports health pretty good in that section.

—John H. Moyer, one of our Tusseyville patrons, gave us a call and marched his label up to '99. Johnny is ever in good humor and a whole-souled fellow.

—Dr. Peter Leitzel, Spring Mills' rising and efficient practitioner, was in town a few days ago. His practice brings him close to Centre Hall at times and the Dr. is frequently seen here.

—Mrs. Erdman, wife of Rev. Erdman, and children returned from an extended visit to her parents at Shamokin. Rev. Erdman spent several days down there too, and accompanied them home.

—Charley Beck, the Atlantic Refining Co's representative for this district, was in town Monday. Charley's visits will likely become less frequent since his company deliver oil by tank wagon from the sub-station at Coburn.

—Wm. Forry, of Hellam, York county, gave us a call and subscribed and paid for the Reporter a year in advance. He was in the valley in quest of walnut timber, for which he offers $20 per 1000, but finds it mostly taken out by previous buyers.

—Miss Helen Bartholomew, a teacher in the Millheim public schools, accompanied by Miss Mary Hartman and Miss Carrie Spigelmeyer, two of Millheim's brightest young ladies, spent Sunday with Miss Helen's parents.

—Mr. A. Harter, of Maple Park, Ill., has been the guest of his uncle, Mr. John Dauberman, for several days. Mr. Harter is a native of Nittany valley, being a son of Samuel Harter, of that valley. He is visiting relatives in this county and will remain some time.

CENTRE HILL.

What Our Correspondent Across the Valley Finds of Interest.

Robert Smith is papa of a bouncing baby boy.

Messrs. Lucas and Decker are seen in our town frequently.

Miss Sadie Condo was the guest of Lydie Smith Sunday last.

A great many of our young folks attend protracted meeting at Spruce-town.

J. F. Stöver is canvassing in Nittany valley this week; he is in the picture business.

Mrs. W. W. Spangler and daughter Gertrude, of Potters Mills, were guests of Mrs. J. B. Strohm last week.

One of Potters Mills' dudes is frequently seen in our town; there is a "Beaver" he would like to catch.

Miss Leota Wilkinson, one of Potters Mills' charming young ladies, spent Sunday a week ago with friends in this place.

Good News.

COBURN.

A Breezy Letter From This Busy Place Down the Valley.

R. F. Vonada made a business trip to Millinburg on Tuesday.

Andrew Harter had business at the county seat last Thursday.

John Waite is at present at State College, taking a course in the Creamery at that Institute.

Joe Platt, of this place, left for Aurora, Ill., last Thursday, where he has secured employment on a farm.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell received the sad intelligence of the death of her sister, who had her home at Shamokin.

The meeting at Paradise church is still in progress, with unabated interest. Some of the people, since the melting of the snow, driving there in large two-horse wagons, nightly.

Our portly Justice of the Peace, J. F. Garthoff, had a quiet wedding on Sunday evening, the contracting parties being Robert C. Fryer and Sarah Confer, both of Penn township.

There is a fierce war in prices being waged by our merchants at present, and we, the customers are keeping a respectful distance, and are enjoying the fun. All the while kerosene selling at six cents a gallon.

On Saturday afternoon, commencing at one o'clock the Democratic caucus will be held in the public school building, to place in nomination men to fill the various township offices. There seems to be a lively scramble for the office of assessor, there being several who have acknowledged their willingness to serve the people in that capacity; who the lucky one will be is hard to conjecture. No doubt there will be a good turn out, as three nominations for supervisor will be made.

On Tuesday Reuben Boyer, who had been in the mercantile business at this place for the last eighteen months, removed his household goods and family to Colyer, this county, where he will be engaged in the same business. We are sorry to lose such a citizen from our midst, as Mr. Boyer had many warm friends at this place and his loss will be greatly felt; his uniform kindness and courtesy to all, and his straightforward business principles had won the respect and confidence of all who had any business relations with him. We can heartily recommend him to the people of Colyer, as a man of honesty of purpose, strict integrity, and feeling that our loss will be their gain.

On Friday evening a number of the members of the Lutheran Sunday school met at the house of J. F. Garthoff, and when everything was in readiness Mr. Reuben Boyer was sent for. Imagine his surprise when he beheld this assemblage. After Mr. Boyer had recovered from his surprise, a large chair was brought and presented to him as the gift of the members of the Sunday school, of which he was one of the Superintendents. He thanked them very much in a few neat words, after which the guests partook of refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake, macaroons, etc. The evening was very pleasantly spent, to a late hour, and all expressed a wish that Mr. Boyer's life be spared for many years to come.

Miss Blanche Tressler, one of our bright young ladies, spent a few days with friends in Centre Hall, quite recently.

Miss Lulu Lonberger, the pretty and fascinating young clerk in Mrs. Keller's store, spent a few days with her parents and other friends, at Boalsburg, quite recently.

The Linden Hall Lumber Co. will move their saw mill from Laurel Run to the Wharf, one-fourth mile west of town, the carpenters are busy working at the frame work of the mill. The office of the Superintendent, Samuel Rutherford, of Shamokin, is almost finished; it will be a neat little office when finished, and a credit to the company. Mr. Nogle, president of the Co., was inspecting the work on Tuesday.

On the 7th inst, William Fielding, (or Billy, as he is generally called) and William Zeigler, concluded to take a trip to Clinton county, while the snow lasted. They reached their destination all right, and had a good old time with the fair sex, for those Nittany and Lock Haven girls so well know how to entertain. But on Friday last they realized that the time of their visit had fully expired, but alas there was no more snow on the ground to take them home, so they had to hire a wheeled vehicle to take them home. Moral: boys never get so fascinated with the charms of the fair sex that you do not know when the snow is disappearing.

Koitsch is not Guilty.

The jury in the case of Paul Koitsch charged with assaulting and murdering 6-year-old Edna Crider, tried at Lock Haven, last week, came in with a verdict of not guilty.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, It hath pleased the Great Commander of the Universe to remove from our ranks our beloved comrade, Adam Neahood. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That we bow in meek submission to the will of our Supreme Commander, trusting in the hope that our brother has been mustered out here to be mustered in the bosom of the redeemed.

Resolved, That we will ever cherish the memory of our comrade, who was a brave and faithful soldier while in the service of his country, and, as a member of our post, was regular in his attendance at our meetings, and prompt in the payment of his dues.

Resolved, That in his death, not only our post, but the entire community has lost a friend and neighbor, whose many good qualities were worthy of emulation, and of whom it may be said, he had no enemies.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes; a copy given to be published in the Reporter and Gazette, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.
