

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.-Visitors in and out of town. —George Thompson, of Lemont, was in town Friday and Saturday. —Mrs. Ed. Nearhood and son Harry went to Glen Iron Monday on a visit. —Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Showers, of Tusseyville, were callers at this office yesterday. —J. B. Kremer and Mrs. Polly Meyer were with friends in Rebersburg over Sunday. —Mrs. D. K. Geiss has been quite ill for several days, but shows considerable improvement. —Lloyd Brown, of Linden Hall, favored our sanctum with a call, and had his name put on our list, with a label for '99. —Will Barr and Miss Blanche Miller, of Tyrona, were the guests of friends in Centre Hall and Potters Mills over Sunday. —Miss Nell Woods, of Boalsburg, and Miss Margaret Stuart, of State College, were the guests of friends in town yesterday. —Rev. J. O'Boyle, pastor of the Reformed church at Shenandoah, Pa., arrived here Tuesday looking up his business interests in town. —Our good-looking young friend, George Smith, of Centre Hill, gave our sanctum a brief call, and before leaving moved the Reporter label into '99. —Emanuel Shook, one of Spring Mill's leading citizens, favored our sanctum with a call, and reports matters pretty generally O. K. down that way. —Will Smith, of Smith Bro's furniture firm at Spring Mills, gave us a pop visit and reported furniture business good, and told us some good fish stories. —Lewis Waltz, one of our esteemed subscribers in Gregg twp., gave our sanctum a call, and reports crop prospects good down there; he took pleasure in moving his label into '98. —Mr. and Mrs. Clem Hemphill arrived Tuesday from Philadelphia, and will at once move their household effects into the Runkle property, out towards the station, which he purchased. —William Pletcher, who has been employed as engineer in Poulson's handle factory, has removed with his family to Montgomery, Pa., where he has secured a similar position in a large steam tannery. —Auctioneer, William Goheen, paid his respects to the Reporter, the other day, and looks none the worse for having a campaign of crying sales for every day of this month, Sundays excepted, and to continue thus to the end of the month. —Michael Shaffer, Esq., long a citizen of near Zion, and who for 20 years creditably served as justice of the peace, favored our sanctum with an hour's call. Squire Shaffer is now a citizen of near this place, on the Sam'l Foster farm, now owned by John Eby.

REBERSBURG.

Personal Mention and Happenings as Seen by Our Scribe. Samuel Granley is on the sick list at present. Claude Haines returned home, as his school is closed. W. H. Corman has returned from his trip to the west. Reuben Braucht, of Coburn, was seen on our streets Monday. Samuel Waite, of Pine Grove, was a caller at A. L. Nearhood's on Thursday. Mrs. William Brumgard and son, of Rote, were to call on her mother, Mrs. Bierly. Our old landlord, A. L. Nearhood expects to move to the hotel again on the 1st of April. Samuel Ilgen and son, of Logan Mills, were in our burg Saturday on business. Some of our girls were to Millheim last Saturday to have their pictures taken; a fine crowd. A. L. Nearhood and wife were to Spring Mills, and bought a fine lot of furniture for the hotel. J. L. Boone, of Loganton, and Ammon Meyer, of Booneville, were seen on our streets last Thursday. Ed. Kerlin, of Centre Hall, was seen on our streets Saturday night; must be some attraction for him. Edgar Stoner one of our fine young men, left for East Stroudsburg, where he intends to go to the Normal. We wish him success, but are sorry to have him leave our town.

Summer School.

Prof. G. B. Snyder will open a summer school with ten weeks session in Centre Hall, on May 23rd, offering a splendid opportunity to those who intend teaching to avail themselves of its advantages.

Weekly Weather Report-Centre Hall, (Government Service.)

Table with columns: Temperature, Highest, Lowest. Rows for dates from March 24 to 30.

It is a great leap from the old fashioned doses of blue-mass and nauseous physics to the pleasant little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cure constipation, sick headache and biliousness; for sale by Smith & Crawford.

COBURN.

Interesting News of the Past Week Gathered by Our Correspondent. James Burd, of near Lewisburg, was here on a business trip Monday. Parties are already scouring the mountains in search of the fragrant trailing arbutus. Merchant Reuben Boyer, of Colyer, was in town on Monday. Adam Rote, his father-in-law, will move to Colyer some time next week. The heavy rains of last week and of this week, have swollen the stream in this vicinity very much; but no damage has been done. John Stonebraker went to Booneville on Monday to visit her mother who was seriously hurt a few days before, by a fall down a high flight of steps. Our school directors have purchased land from the George Wert estate near the present site of the Elk Creek school, and will build a new school house during the summer vacation. The old building will then be torn away. Daniel Eisenhuth, who has been living at this place for many years, and who is one of its pioneers, is going to try his hand at farming, having bought the Rupp property in Haines township, of Jacob Winkelblech. He moved into his new home Tuesday. John Heckman and wife, of Spring Mills, were visiting at the home of Frank Hackenberg last Saturday; on Monday Mrs. Hackenberg received word from Spring Mills that Mr. Heckman had died on Sunday night. This proves again how uncertain this life is. For some time Joseph Shaffer of this place has been suffering from throat trouble. Last Sunday Dr. Frank performed an operation upon the gentleman's throat, by removing part of the palate; it was a delicate operation to perform, but since then Mr. Shaffer has been improving, and it is believed that he will be entirely relieved of the complaint. This week two of our business men, R. O. Braucht, the hotelist, and John Hoffa, grain merchant, packed their goods and left for other places. Braucht to Millinburg, and Hoffa to Huntingdon. Andrew Harter will take charge of the grain house on the first of April, he having bought it from Hoffa; Simon King will take charge of the hotel also on the 1st. We hope these two gentlemen who have left us will succeed in their new fields.

SPRING MILLS.

Graphic Accounts of Interest from Our Near-by Neighbor. Edward Confer, of Millheim, will move into the residence now occupied by Charles Miller. On Tuesday next, 5th prox, the Spring Mills bakery will commence serving the people of Centre Hall with bread, cakes, etc. The wagon will be in Centre Hall every Tuesday and Friday after that date. The Spring Mills Planing Mill Co. expected to commence business on 1st prox, but owing to the recent heavy rains, were delayed in the erection of their buildings. The company will hardly be in operation now until about the 20th. H. B. Miller, who had charge of the hotel hack and carried the mails to and from the railroad station has retired from that position, and is now engaged with the milling firm of Allison Bros, of our village. Doctor Peter Leitzeit the popular young physician of our village, joyfully reports the present condition of the neighborhood as being distressingly healthful. The doctor by his pleasant and agreeable manners in the sick chamber, and his success in mastering several very severe and difficult cases, has "won golden opinions from all sorts of people," and of course is enjoying quite a large and lucrative practice. The report that a gentleman from Baltimore has purchased the old hotel property now occupied by Smith Bros as a furniture establishment, seems somewhat premature. Smith Bros. know nothing about it, and have received no notice to vacate the premises nor have they any positive information that the property has been sold, and only know of it through vague rumor. Not much plowing in this neighborhood at present. The earth is so full of moisture that it is only necessary to dig about an inch or two most anywhere to obtain water. Of course plowing is out of the question, but farmers are always anxious, and when they hear the familiar nightly songs of the frogs and the drowsy hum of the shard bone beetle no matter how early in the season, they think all plowing should be done. Professor D. M. Wolf will commence in our Academy building, on the 4th prox, a select school—a session of ten weeks for advanced scholars and those preparing themselves for colleges and other institutions of learning. As an instructor of rare erudition and great ability. Professor Wolf is too well known to require any eulogium or special comment. The care exercised in imparting knowledge to students, the studies, and the general discipline of the school during these special sessions is of such a character, that it might be said to rank with a college.

AARONSBURG.

The Correspondent Has an Interesting Letter This Week. Billy Korman, who moved to Brush valley, had the misfortune to lose one of his horses. The horse took sick about ten days ago, and died on Saturday night. Rev. Brown sold his horse. We suppose he will see one how that can step at a gait that wont compel him to take the dust. The horse he drove was fat and gentle but oh, so slow. Mrs. George Kraighbaum died on the 28th inst, at the age of 38 years. She leaves a husband and four small children. She came with her husband from the coal regions about twelve years ago, and they bought the Ketter homestead east of town. Wilmer Stover sold his property in the western end of town to D. H. Rote and has purchased several lots of ground from his father, George M. Stover, on which he will erect a dwelling house and large planing mill. Wilmer is a good mechanic and all he wants is room to spread himself, so he can accommodate his customers. He has purchased a cider press and will run that in connection with his mill. Frank Holloway, of Brownstown, Wis., who brought a car load of horses to this neighborhood, had sale on the 21st inst. at Millheim, and sold all but two, they being high priced and fast horses and did not come up to his figures. He had brought with the lot a blooded stallion, that took cold and died for him. He valued the horse at $900. Frank J. Weaver, who has started out extensively in the peach orchard business, has rented his meat market to Ira Gramley, who will conduct the business during the coming summer. Ira is a first-class butcher and one who always tries to please his customers; now what will you have, ram, lamb, sheep-meat, or mutton. Miss Laura Brown was visiting friends at Lemont over Sunday. Mrs. Maggie Love, of Tusseyville, is the guest of the Ross family at present. Frank Wieland will occupy the store building vacated by J. H. Ross, after the 1st of April. The great dedication day is over and the U. Ev. church will worship in a home of their own. Wm. Agnew of Pittsburg spent a few days of last week as the guest of H. C. Gettig, of this place. Miss Anna Corman, of Farmers Mills, was the guest of Henry Zeigler's family a few days of last week. The birthday party of Miss Jennie Weibly passed off very nicely and all present seemed to enjoy themselves. Mrs. Clara Smith and daughter of Pine Grove Mills, were the guests of J. H. Ross and family over Sunday. J. B. Wagner wears a broad smile since Tuesday last week when his wife presented him with a big baby boy; Jimmy is now papa. Misses Ida Rhoads and Katie Shrefler, two bright young ladies of Centre Hall, were the guests of their friends, Lizzie and Katie Zeigler Saturday and Sunday last. Merchant J. H. Ross is now occupying his new store building; the post-office was moved on Monday last to the new building, which brings it more into the center of the town. James Raymond, who had been making his home with friends in Lebanon arrived here on Tuesday, and will farm for Daniel Wieland this summer. Glad to have you in our midst again Jim. Misses Anna and Alka Musser, of Pine Grove Mills, are the guests of their sister, Mrs. Hale Ross, and while here will assist her in preparing the feast for moving day an art to which they are so well adapted. Tuesday is a day long to be remembered for its big dinners on account of the many movings going on in our town. J. H. Ross moved his family and household goods to the dwelling house on Rose's block, West Main street. Mrs. Ross with the aid of some of her friends had prepared such a feast that would tempt a king. They had their friends from far and near invited to partake of it. The weather was very inclement throughout the entire day but moving went on all the same. P. H. Bradford will occupy the house vacated by Ross, and A. E. Meyer will occupy the house vacated by Bradford; Frank Tharp moved to Boalsburg and James Wagner will occupy the house; James Ross moved to Oak Hall, and Jacob Young is occupying the house vacated by him. M. L. Yocum, Cameron, Pa., says "I was a sufferer for ten years, trying most all kinds of pile remedies, but without success. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me. I used one box. It has effected a permanent cure." As a permanent cure for piles DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal; for sale by Smith & Crawford.
