in shallow waters, and three boys started out in a rowboat to capture it. They were armed only with a small harpoon. They managed to get close to the shark without attracting attention, and planted the harpoon securely in its back.

The big fish plunged forward when it felt the iron, and in a moment the boat was spinning through the water like made to loosen the rope, but in vain. Meanwhile they hesitated to cut the rope, for fear they might lose the shark.

The boat was towed in this fashion more than an hour. At times the shark would turn so suddenly as to greatly endanger the boat, though keeping all the time in comparatively shallow wat-

The boys began to shout for help, and a yacht was sent to them. Just as the yacht came alongside the shark made a dive for the boat and tore a big hole in the side. As the boat filled the yacht came up and took off the boys, and the shark was killed with a rifle. It measured 15 feet in slength .- New York World.

Paul—he had lifetime sickness which the comhe had lifetime sickness which the commentators have been guessing about for years, not knowing exactly what the apostle meant by "a thorn in the flesh." I do not know either; but it was something harp, something that stuck him. I gather from all this that physical disorder may be of this world as Paradise is ahead of Dry Tortugas, and yet here we stand trembling and fearing to go out, and we want to stay on the dry sand, and amid the stormy petrels, when we are invited to arbors of essamine, and birds of paradise. One season I had two springtimes. I went to New Orleans in April, and I marked the differences between going toward New Orleans and then coming back. As I went on down toward New Orleans, the verdure, the foliage, became thicker and more beautiful. When I came back, the further I came toward home the less the foliage, and less it became until there was hardly any. Now, it all depends upon the direc-tion in which you travel. If a spirit from heaven should come toward our world, he is traveling from June toward December, from radiance toward darkness, from hanging gardens toward leebergs. And one would not be very much surprised if a spirit of God sent forth from heaven toward our world should be slow to come. But how strange it is that we dread going out toward that world when going is from the spear toward lune, from the spear of December toward June-from the snow of earthly storm to the snow of Edenic blossom-from the arctics of trouble toward the tropies of eternal joy.

Oh, what an ade about dying! We get so attached to the malarial marsh in which we live that we are afraid to go up and live on the hilltop. We are alarmed be-cause vacation is coming. Best programme of celestial minstrels and hallelujah, no inducement. Let us stay here and keep ig-norant and sinful and weak. Do not introduce us to Elijah, and John Milton and Bourdalone, Keep our feet on the sharp cobblestones of earth instead of planting them on the bank of amaranth in heaven Give us this small island of a leprous world instead of the immensities of splendor and delight. Keep our hands full of nettles, and our shoulder under the burden, and our neck in the yoke, and hoppies on our ankles, and handcuffs on our wrists. "Dear Lord," we seen to say, "keep us down here where we have to suffer, instead of letting us up where we might live and We are like persons standing on the cold steps of the national picture gallery in London, under umbrella in the rain, afraid London, under unbreila in the rain, afraid to go in amid the Turners and the Titians, and the Raphaels. I come to them and say, "Why don't you go inside the gallery?" "Oh," they say, "we don't know whether we can get in." I say: "Don't you see the door is open?" "Yes," they say; "but we have been so long on these cold steps, we are so attached to them we don't like to leave." "But "I say. "It is don't like to leave." "But," I say, "it is much brighter and more beautiful in the gallery, you had better go in." "No," they say, "we know exactly how it is out here. , but we don't know exactly how it is

So we stick to this world as though we preferred cold drizzle to warm habitation, discord to cantata, sackcloth to royal purple—as though we preferred a piano with four or five of the keys out of tune to an instrument fully attuned-as though earth and heaven had exchanged apparel, and earth had taken on bridal array and heaven had gone into deep mourning, all its waters stagnant, all its harps broken, all chalices cracked at the dry wells, all the lawns sloping to the river plowed with graves with dead angels under the furrow.

I am amazed at myself and at yourself for this infatuation under which we all rest. Men you would suppose would get frightened at having to stay in this world instead of getting frightened at having to go toward heaven. This world is as bright to me as to any living man, but I congratminte anybody who has a right to die. that I mean through sickness you cannot avert, or through accident you cannot avoid—you work consummated. "Where did they bury Lily?" said one little child to another. "Oh," she replied, "they buried her in the ground." "What! in the cold ground?" "Oh, no, no; not in the cold ground but in the ground, but in the warm ground, where ugly seeds become beautiful flowers." "But," says some one, "it pains me se much to think that I must lose the body with which my soul has so long companfoned." You do not lose it. You no more lose your body by death than you lose your watch when you send it to have it repaired. or your jewel when you send it to have it reset, or the faded picture when you send it to have it touched up, or the photograph of a friend when you have it put in a You do not lose your body. Paul will go to Rome to get his, Payson will go to Portland to get his, President Edwards will go to Princeton to get his, George Cookman will go to the bottom of the Atlamtic to get his, and we will go to the vil-lage churchyards and the city cemeteries to get ours; and when we have our perfect spirit rejoined to our perfect body, then we will be the kind of men and women that the resurrection morning will make pos-

So you see you have not made out any doleful story yet. What have you proved about death? What is the case you have You have made out just thismade out? that death allows us to have a perfect body, free of all aches, united forever with a perfect soul free from all sin. Correct your theology. What does it all mean? Why, it means that moving-day is coming, and that you are going to quit cramped apartments and be mansioned forever. apartments and be mansioned forever. The borse that stands at the gate will not be the one lathered and bespattered, carrying bad news, but it will be the horse that St. John saw in Apocalyptic visionthe white horse on which the King comes to the banquet. The ground around the palace will quake with the tires and hoofs of celestial equipage, and those Christians who in this wrold lost their friends, and lost their property, and lost their health, and lost their life, will find out that God was always kind, and that all things worked together for their good, and that those were the wisest people on earth who made the best of everything. See you not now the bright light in the clouds?

WAR COST TO DATE.

Abour $3,000,000 a Day the Average Expense of Fitting Army and Navy. Washington, D. C. (Special).—The first wenty-nine days of the war which the United States is waging against the king-dom of Spain cost this country about $80,-000,000, or hearly $3,000,000 a day. The cost of operations in the future will probably not beso great, as quite one-half of the expenditures so far have been in the way of preparation, the acquirement of warships, guns and equipments. The ordinary cost should run about $1,000,000 a day. It is estimated that more than 200,000 persons are actively employed helping the nation's land and sea forces to get into fighting trim.

The persons who derive the most profit from contracts with the Government are those that have ships, guns, commissary supplies, boots, shoes, uniforms, tents, cut-lery, tinware and flannels to sell, and the

Mr. Petch had been a hopeless paralytic for five years. His case has had wide attention. He was confined to his bed, was bloated almost beyond recognition, and could not take solid food. Doctors called the disease spinal sclerosis, and all said he could not live. The Canadian Mutuai Life Association after a thorough examination, paid him his total disability claim of $1,650, regarding him as forever incurable.

Soon he was restored to his old time health.
A reporter for The Monitor recently called on Mr. Petch again and was told: "You may say there is no doubt as to my cure being permanent. I am in better health than when I gave you the first interview and certainly attribute my cure to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. "To these pills I owe my release from the living death, and I shall always bless the day I was induced to take them."

Such is the history of one of the most re

Spread of the English Language. Mr. Gladstone lately expressed himself as believing that English is to be the language of the future. Mr. Gladstone's reasons are based on what has happened within his own lifetime. When Mr. Gladstone was born English was spoken by 30,000,000 of people. It is now spoken by 120,000,000. The number of people in the earth who speak English is doubled every forty years. This forms the basis of a very simple calculation as to when the entire population of the earth shall speak English. The two great English-speaking countries are Great Britain and the United States. Wherever Great Britain goes she carries the English language, and whoever comes to the United States learns it.
