CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS. July 14

Spain wants peace and our navy is making pieces of her.

Since the repeal of the fence law, Jim Kerr strayed out of his pasture field.

If you earnestly desire to wipe out corruption and Quay methods, Jenks is the man who'll do it, if elected.

Hon. George A. Jenks is not near as old a man as reported; instead of being 70, as reported, he is only in his 63 year.

The Philadelphia Record turns in strongly for Jenks lauding him highly. The Record also gives the platform high praise.

The Pittsburg Dispatch, Ind. Republican, pays a glowing tribute to the honesty, ability and worth of Geo. A. Jenks.

Spain is anxious that some foreign power shall ask Uncle Sam to make peace. Samuel ain't doing business in that way.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, rabid Quay organ, don't like the nomination of Jenks for Governor, knowing his election will stop the looting of the state treasury.

The Philadelphia Press, leading Republican organ, speaks highly of Geo. A. Jenks as a man of honor and ability, and as having faithfully filled important positions.

The Independent, or Wanamaker Republicans, show an inclination not to nominate a candidate for governor since Jenks is good enough for any honest man's vote.

The Sandwich Islands now belong to the United States. Both houses of Congress passed resolutions annexing Hawaii, and on last Thursday evening the President signed the same.

The Philadelphia Times, the past few years supporting the Republican party, turns in strongly for George A. Jenks, for Governor, and sees in his election the only protection against the state robbers.

The most absurd thing, for want of any thing else, intimated against Mr. Jenks, is that he is a favorite of Quay; might as well say Dewey is secretly for Spain. Bring even the shadow of proof or shut up.

The nomination of George A. Jenks for governor, has called forth remarks of praise from all parties. He is one of the ablest and purest men in this commonwealth—his private life and public record are without a blemish.

George A. Jenks will start out early in the campaign to stump the state. The citizens of every county in this commonwealth, and the Republicans will not dare meet him in joint debate.

A new point brought up in the war tax matter is that every carrier, or person engaged as a carrier, must issue a receipt for every package or bundle or article transported, and must affix a one-cent stamp to each receipt, under a penalty of $50 for each neglect. This compels every local expressman, truck or drayman, to pay the tax on every object carried by him as a transporting agent.

The Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph, a stiff Republican organ, says: Mr. George A. Jenks, the nominee for governor, is an able and popular citizen, who has discharged with ability and credit the public duties with which he has heretofore been entrusted, and he is in every way personally fit for the office.

For one thing the present war settles the fate of the old-fashioned black powder for military use. Not the least of the advantages possessed by the Spaniards is the smokeless powder with which they are supplied and which enables them to fire at our ships and troops without disclosing their own positions, while their aim is not obscured by the smoke of their own guns, as is the case on the American side very frequently. If we would go on winning victories, both fleet and army must be supplied with smokeless powder hereafter.

The public will be interested to learn that stamps must be placed on telegrams, chewing gum and marriage licenses. On every telegram a one-cent stamp must be affixed by the sender; on every dollar's worth of chewing gum a four-cent stamp must be attached by the dealer, and marriage licenses must be embellished with a ten-cent stamp at the expense of the contracting parties. The sending of telegrams, the chewing of gum and the wedding of loving hearts will be greatly interfered with by these regulations of the internal revenue department, and the patriotic people will be glad to know that the tax is for the purpose of raising money to fight the Spaniards.

Whistling for your dog requires no stamp; the surest way to kill a snake is by stamping it; a dish of ice-cream needs no stamp since it wouldn't stick; to call a fellow a liar needs no stamp unless the fellow called it does the stamping; if a girl gives you the mitten, no stamp is required.

Levi Z. Leiter, father of the young wheat dealer, is paying about seven million dollars for him, and has completed negotiations for a loan of $3,000,000 for 10 years at 4 per cent. Mr. Leiter informed the agents that he would probably require further advances of near $4,000,000.

This money will go toward the liquidation of the debt incurred by his son, Joseph Leiter, in wheat speculation. The share of Joseph Leiter in the immense estate of his father will be nearly, if not entirely, consumed by his speculation, besides his private fortune, estimated at from one to three millions.

The Pennsylvania School Teachers' Association, in session at Bellefonte last week, adopted a resolution calling on the Legislature to increase the school term in rural districts from six months to nine, and make attendance compulsory through the whole term. Is that quite wise? There are many who hold that the generation now rising is getting more education, such as it is, than it can assimilate. This may not be the case in the rural schools; the complaint comes principally from Philadelphia, says the Ledger, where the term is ten months; but the rural system of a plain, "wholesome" education, and not too much of it, has produced some magnificent citizens in the past. High pressure education is not always the best. There is an old saw, which says:

"Learning to have and wisdom to lack is a load of books on an ass's back."

An important decision, and of general interest, has been rendered by Judge Lyons, of Juniata county, who was on the bench in the Columbia county court, at Bloomsburg, when the now celebrated case of John H. Eisenhower, the deposed principal of the Centralia public schools, was tried. Eisenhower was elected principal for a term of three years, and when he had served one year he was ousted without any charges being brought against him. The court awarded him nine months' salary, $765, with interest, and costs, and under the decision he can recover pay for the full term of three years. Previous to going to Centralia, Mr. Eisenhower was principal of the schools at Mahoning City.

An interesting question has arisen as to whether the honor of the destruction of Cervera's fleet belongs to Admiral Sampson or Commodore Schley. The admiral is responsible for the conduct of general naval operations and is entitled to highest praise, but he was miles east of the mouth of Santiago harbor when the Spanish vessels poked their noses out, and Commodore Schley was in direct command of the attacking ships clustered about the mouth of the harbor. Schley pushed the fighting, and Sampson in the New York did not get back until the affair was practically concluded. Resolutions have been introduced in both branches of Congress rendering the thanks of the Nation to Commodore Schley.

The English naval authorities have become alarmed for the safety of their warships in the event of a conflict with some other powerful nation. The manner in which the American armored vessels have passed almost unscathed through the hall of shells from the Spanish ships and fortifications has opened the eyes of the Englishmen and shown them that their own vessels would have been unable to withstand the terrible ordeal with safety. The fact is that there is no other nation in the world which can compete with the United States in the strength of its armor plate.

In the fight off Santiago harbor on Sunday the Brooklyn was struck forty-five times by Spanish shells, and yet she was not disabled.

Naval circles in Berlin regard the brilliant victory at Santiago as the highest possible testimony to the excellence of American naval architecture, armor-plating and artillery outfit. The American warships proved themselves phenomenal. To the excellence of their construction is due the infinitesimal loss.

The uselessness of torpedo boats is regarded as established, since these appear to be almost impotent against the well-directed fire of ironclads.

If the Spanish soldiers are an hungry, why not feed on that dainty, roast pig, some 25,000 of them were sent to Cuba by Uncle Sam?

QUAY—JENKS. The idea put out, previous to the Altoona convention, that "Jenks is a good man but he is having Quay help for his nomination," carries its self-evident absurdity—no "good man" goes to bargaining with Quay, and not at all would it be George A. Jenks who is the very antipodes of Quay and Quayism. Quay wouldn't go near a pure man like Jenks, nor would Jenks bask within the corrupt shadow of Quay. Hence Quay had nothing to do with bringing out Mr. Jenks.

To Centre alone belongs the credit for bringing out Mr. Jenks as the very best man to nominate for governor. His name was originally urged by the Centre Democrat; it at once was seconded by a score of Democratic papers and spread like a prairie fire among the masses to the dismay and consternation of Quay. Centre was the first county to instruct for Quay, followed by county after county. No, Quay had nothing to do with it, and Jenks is the man he fears most of all.

THE MAN FOR THE OCCASION. There is no use for further search in Pennsylvania for a man fitted to lead the assault against Quayism. In the person of George A. Jenks the Democrats have presented an ideal champion of popular rights. He has thorough equipment for the service required of him. He is one of the ablest lawyers in the State. He has no injurious commitments. He is his own man; and as Governor he would act for the interest of the whole people. He would not submit for a moment to machine dictation.

If it be really the purpose of independent and reformers to put the executive office in the hands of a man at once competent, incorruptible and thoroughly alive to the necessity and thoroughly equipped for the task they propose to accomplish, why should they not fall in with a will behind this strong and honest leader? Take down the list of the twenty-one men who have been chosen Governors of Pennsylvania since Thomas Mifflin was elected in 1790, and there will not be found among them all the superior in profound acquirement of George A. Jenks. Very few of them were his equals. And like the best of them he is a simple, unaffected gentleman; one of the common people and a sturdy defender of their rights.

The above, from the Philad. Record, is the truth in a few words. Men who are for honest government should vote for George A. Jenks, or forever shut up.
