ANOTHER INDUSTRY.

A Large Fruit Evaporator in Course of Erection.

The town is having another industry added to its number in a large fruit evaporator being erected at the station by Chas. Miner, of Rose, N. Y., and Chas. H. Ford, of Clyde, N. Y.

The new firm have leased the large Colyer building occupied by Poulsons handle factory, and a large building 16x40 is being erected in addition to handle the product and for the kilns. The plant will have a capacity of between 300 and 400 bushels of apples daily. Three kilns will be erected and should the business favor it several more will be added. During the season the plant will be operated night and day. A force of six men and eight women will be started.

The machinery is expected to arrive at once, and an effort will be made to start the plant by Monday next. Apples and other fruits will be evaporated, and the gentlemen have been busy scouring the country purchasing the product of the orchard. They will use up all grades and kinds of apples and heretofore what has been a dead loss can now be utilized by the farmer, and turned into money. The industry will be a great boon to the community, and is one which the farmer will and should encourage.

Gerbrick, J. L. Montgomery, Harry Gerbrick, Curtis Wagner, Bellefonte; Fred. Bortorf and Joseph Ard, Pinegrove; William Allison, Spring Mills; J. L. Thompson, Lemont. Henry Brockerhoff, of Bellefonte, is secretary of the committee. The program will include addresses by Gov. Hastings, Gen. J. A. Beaver and President Atherton, of the State college. Papers will be read by E. T. Noble on "The Leifer Corner and its Effect on Pennsylvania Millers;" by Thos. R. Burgner on "Competition Among Pennsylvania Millers and its Effect;" by H. J. Taylor, State deputy F. O. M. A., on "The Practical Side of Milling." Three hundred delegates will be present at the meeting.

Either a Big Lie or a Big Fish.

The Millheim Journal says a large German carp was caught in Elk Creek on Tuesday evening of last week near the iron bridge at Swartz's saw mill. It was caught by John Condo and Jack Maize and weighed 13 pounds. This is no doubt the same fish that Ezra Auman had the tussle with some two weeks ago in his mill race. This is no fish story, as many who saw it in a tub at Condo's store on Main street can testify. Length, 28 inches, girth, 21 inches.

Make 'Em Work.

It is alleged that the Clearfield county officials do their farm work with the aid of the jail prisoners. This recalls the happy days that Centre county prisoners used to have under Sheriff Ward between 1830 and 1833. He would permit his prisoners to go down town to spend the evening, and if they failed to return by the hour he set, usually 9 o'clock, he would lock them out of the jail for the night and that was considered severe punishment.

Has a New Charge.

Rev. D. J. Mitterling has accepted a call to the Presbyterian church of Quincy, Mich., and he writes, "one of the most delightful towns in Michigan. Have a good church. Took quite a step upward in the change. Excellent fishing half a mile from town—ten lakes in one chain. Come and enjoy a fishing trip."

Send one of the lakes in here, Rev'd.

Sick Brought Home.

Among those who were brought up from Chickamauga camp on the hospital train, Monday, bringing home the sick and disabled volunteers were the following members of Co. B, 5th Reg.: D. O. Hazel, Axeman; D. N. Brown, Milesburg, and L. A. Walker, Rebersburg. The 5th Regiment has been moved from Chickamauga to Lexington, Ky., where they are now encamped in a more healthful locality.

Sent Up for a Year.

The tramp who forced an entrance to Samuel Durst's house, west of Old Fort on Aug. 11th while the family away attending a picnic, was tried last week, and he plead guilty to the charge of larceny. He was sentenced to one year in the Western penitentiary. The man gave his name as William Smith, and had stolen a gold watch, and a suit of clothing.

Raked It and Lost.

John Rothrock, of near Lewistown, undertook to ride his wheel on top of a 20 in. rail on the Newton Hamilton railroad bridge last Sunday, and only rode a few feet and lost his balance and fell 60 feet, crushing himself terribly and died shortly afterwards.

Truth wears well. People have learned that De Witt's Little Early Risers are reliable little pills for regulating the bowels, curing constipation and sick head ache. They don't gripe; for sale by Smith & Crawford.

BACK FROM SANTIAGO.

George Dellett Returns from Fighting the Spaniards.

George Dellett, of the 17th Infantry, U. S. regulars, arrived here last Saturday morning from New York, and is now domiciled at the home of his parents on Church street. He is just out of the hospital in New York, and has fully recovered his health. On July 1st, his three years enlistment in the army service expired, but owing to the non-arrival of his regimental papers he has been over two months in the service. He was granted a thirty days furlough, at the end of that time he expects his discharge. George was in the fight at Santiago. He landed on Cuba on July 22nd, and was in the battles with the Spaniards. He has heard the sing of the Mauder balls, and like the rest of the men, he says he dodged them too after they were past. He was a witness of the Johnstown flood, but the horrors of that deluge did not impress him as did the dead, wounded and mangled on the battle fields in Cuba. The sight was harrowing to him and one that will never be effaced from his memory. He was in a Gatling gun squad. They were entrenched within two hundred yards of the Spanish lines and kept up a constant mowing fire, popping away at every Spaniard who showed his head above the entrenchments. For thirty-six hours he lay in the rifle pits and contracted malarial fever and rheumatism. He was sent north on the transport Olivette on July 8th, and when he landed at New York his clothing consisted of that worn by Adam, in that Biblical story of the Garden of Eden. He was wrapped in a blanket and taken off the boat to the hospital. George describes the Cubans as being of very little service to our men in warfare. They are small of stature, fat, sleek, and showing few signs of starvation. What was more noticeable almost every warrior was the possessor of a large round protruding stomach. But they were always around when rations were issued or the soldiers would lay aside blankets and coats owing to the fierce heat of the sun, when going into battle. Everything would be stolen.

In several fights George was right in the midst of flying bullets. Men were killed aside of him and when going into action the bullets struck the timbers and wheels of the Gatling gun equipment. He had some close calls but said he seemed to enjoy a charmed life. He was not able to see any of the destroyed ships of Admiral Cervera's squadron, but during that memorable sea fight heard the thundering roar of the vessels at a distance of about four miles.

The only mementos he brought back were a couple Spanish coins. He was so ill when he left the island that he had no thoughts other than getting away. He left after the surrender of Santiago, but was not allowed in the city.

He is quite attached to army life and may re-enlist again for active service after a brief respite. However, he does not care to be assigned to Cuban soil.

ANOTHER SOLDIER DEAD.

Charles Garis, of Co. B, 5th Reg., Dies at Chickamauga.

Charles H. Garis, whose home is near Pleasant Gap, died in the division hospital at Camp Thomas, Chickamauga, Ga., last Sunday morning at nine o'clock, after weeks of illness from typhoid fever.

His was the second death in the ranks of the soldiers who were sent from Centre county to the front. He was taken ill several weeks ago with typhoid fever. His wife at once left to nurse him and he was recovering when he suffered a relapse and death ensued.

He was aged over thirty years, and was the color sergeant of the 5th Regiment, when Co. B, of Bellefonte, of which he was a member since 1889, went to the front at the first call for volunteers with the company. He was a stone mason by occupation, and leaves a wife and three children. Byron Garis, of Centre Hall, is a brother of the deceased.

Mrs. Garis started north from Chickamauga with the remains of her husband on Sunday evening and arrived in Bellefonte on Tuesday morning, and was taken to his home at Pleasant Gap, where the funeral was held from his late residence Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery at Pleasant Gap.

Frightful Accident to Lewis Ettinger, Formerly of Aaronsburg.

Lewis Ettinger, of Milton, a son of William Ettinger formerly of Aaronsburg, on Thursday morning, 18, had a frightful experience at Milton.

He is foreman of the machine shops of Shimer & Sons, and at 11 o'clock attempted to throw a belt, when his clothing caught on the line shaft and in an instant he was being whirled around at the rate of 200 revolutions a minute. The wonder is that he was not killed outright.

The engine was stopped as soon as possible, when it was found that Ettinger was very seriously hurt. His left leg is broken below the knee, the left shoulder blade is broken, the left arm fractured in two places below the elbow and in one place above, one rib is broken, the right leg is badly bruised and he is otherwise seriously injured, although there is a possibility of his recovering.

Ettinger was taken to the residence of John Jenkins, his folks being away.

Lewis is a nephew of the editor of the Reporter, and had his home with his mother. His father, William Ettinger, died about two years ago. Lewis was a skilled mechanic and for years has been manager of the extensive shops of Shimer & Sons. He is one of the most respected young men of Milton.

From card, we obtain the following later information: All the broken bones have been successfully set. The doctors think he will pull through—his case is very serious. He suffers a good bit, but is under influence of opiates all the time.

Plenty of Game.

Sportsmen are longing for the opening of the small game season. Every indication now points to a remarkable plentifulness of all kinds of game. In some parts of the country squirrels are so plenty that they are becoming destructive to fruit and corn fields, while great damage is being done along the mountains by raccoons, pheasants and wild turkeys preying on the new corn. The abundance of the berry crop has been very favorable to game of all kinds, and even deer seem plentier in the mountain fastness than they have for some years.
