About Canceling Stamps.

Commissioner Scott, of the internal revenue bureau, has issued a circular regarding the manner in which documentary and proprietary internal revenue stamps are to be canceled. It prescribes that in any and all cases where an adhesive stamp shall be used for denoting any tax imposed by the war revenue act the person using or affixing the same shall write or stamp thereon with ink, the initials of his name and the date in which the same shall be attached or used, or shall by cutting and canceling said stamp with machine or punch which will affix the initials and date as aforesaid, so deface the stamp as to render it unfit for reuse. The canceling by either method could not so deface the stamp as to prevent its denomination and genuineness from being readily determined.

Who's To Blame?

Says Sternberg: "Ah me, I'm sure I hired doctors enough And gave 'em quinine and other stuff. 'Tain't me." Says Alger: "Just see! I sent 'steen million pounds of meat For the soldier boys to eat. 'Tain't me." Says Shafter, says he: "My business down there was to fight, And not to see that the grub was right. 'Tain't me." Says McKinley: "It can't be, My commissary officers all Had famous papas and lots of gall. 'Tain't me."

COBURN.

Interesting Items of the Past Week as Gathered by Our Correspondent. Rev. Brown of the Reformed church preached his Harvest sermon at this place Sunday afternoon. John Hosterman and family, spent Sunday visiting his parents and other friends at this place. Jacob M. Harter was housed up for several days with a swollen tongue, but is again able to be out. Prof. A. J. Harter, of Altoona, came to this place on Monday evening to visit his parents for a few days. P. H. Stover still continues to ship potatoes by the car lots. He is paying 40 cts. per bushel on track. John Helwick, of Millinburg, came to this place Tuesday evening, and will attend picnic before returning. Mrs. T. F. Meyer was called to Bellefonte Saturday to attend the funeral of her grandmother, Mrs. Garbrich, of that place. T. B. Everett, of Trout Run, came over on his wheel on Monday, and will remain a week, and in the meantime attend the picnic. N. F. Braucht, of McElhattan, Clinton county, attended the funeral of his brother, Dr. H. S. Braucht's child, which was buried at Spring Mills on Tuesday. G. R. Stover, station agent at this place, is negotiating the purchase of a lot at this place, for the purpose of building a dwelling house thereon. Grandmother Frank, an aged lady, who had her home with one of her daughters, Mrs. W. H. Smith, near Millheim, departed this life on Sunday at a ripe old age. "Old Glory" still continues to float between the two mountain peaks south of town, although a little dilapidated from the effects of the storms of the past few weeks. And may it continue to float until Dewey returns, and hostilities are completely at an end. Frank Rupp, who left Aaronsburg shortly after hostilities between this country and Spain had broken out, and who served upon the U. S. S. St. Paul, until that vessel went out of commission, came home on Tuesday evening on a ten days' furlough. His visit to his home at this time must have been an agreeable surprise, as the members of his family had not heard directly of him since June. His face showed the tan of his cruise in tropical waters.

Rev. Huges, of Lewisburg, a retired Lutheran minister, preached in the Lutheran church at this place Sunday evening. He came here in the interest of the Lutheran World, and secured a large number of subscribers to that periodical at this place and among the members of other congregations in this charge. The reverend gentleman formerly had charge of a large congregation in Williamsport, until compelled to discontinue active work on account of declining health.

A Farmers' Co-operative Telephone.

Michigan farmers are taking kindly to the telephone, and it is probably but a matter of a few years when the telephone will be as common in the country as it is in the cities now. In Allegan County the farmers have an exchange of their own and they maintain it by annual assessments. The line runs from Holland, through Saugatuck, Ganges, Douglas and Fenville to South Haven, and it is used chiefly during the fruit season to facilitate the handling of berries and peaches. About 130 farmers and fruit growers built the line and maintain it, and the annual assessment upon each is about $10.

Every township in Oceana county has telephone connections with Hart, the county seat, and this system is essentially a farmers exchange, and is owned and maintained chiefly by the farmers and fruit growers. The Oceana county system, as also the Allegan county fruit growers' line, are being connected with a State exchange, and before the peach season fairly opens the farmers in both sections will be in easy talking range of the commission and railroad men and the steamboat men at the lake ports.

Gratiot county has another farmers' exchange which, with Ithaca as the centre, has connections with every township and many farmers. The system gives free service throughout the county to its subscribers and will soon be connected with the outer world. It is a great advantage to the farmers in marketing their products.

David Bilmeyer, a Milton Lumberman, Found Dead.

David Bilmeyer's body was found on morning of 3, on a railroad track. It is the general opinion that he was murdered about midnight in the south portion of Milton, and his body was afterward placed on the tracks for the cars to run over in order to mislead the officers. His home was at Milton, and he with his brothers operated a large saw mill at Orleans, Northumberland county. He came to Milton the day before his death and was drinking. He was 45 years old. The Bilmeyers are very wealthy.

EMPRESS MURDERED.

An Anarchist Stabs the Austrian Empress to the Heart. Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 11. Elizabeth, empress of Austria, was assassinated at about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon as she was walking from the hotel Beauvillage, where she had been lunching, to the steamboat dock, where she intended to take a small steamer to castle Chillon at Terriet. She was accompanied only by some women of her suite, as she delights to go about incognito.

As the empress was passing the F unswick monument a man rushed at her and struck her a violent blow in the chest which knocked her to the ground. The women of her suite picked her up, and with the aid of some persons nearby carried her to the boat, while her assailant ran away. The empress was unconscious, and the captain of the steamboat did not wish to start, but on the insistence of the women in attendance, who thought her majesty had only been rudely knocked down, he put the steamer under way. After endeavoring for some time to bring the empress back to consciousness the women in attendance were horrified to discover a little stain of blood on her undergarments. The boat was at once put about and returned to the dock.

The empress was carried on an improvised litter to the hotel, and everything possible was done to save her majesty, but she expired at 3 o'clock. An examination showed that she had been stabbed to the heart with a three cornered stiletto. After dealing his death blow the assassin ran along the Rue Alps, but was caught by two coachmen, who handed him over to a gendarme. He possessed an Italian anarchist from Paris named Ladcheni. When arrested he exclaimed: "I have struck well. She must be dead. I purposely came to Geneva to assassinate her."

While Europe rings with the news and words of vengeance are uttered on all hands, the assassin laughs in a security known to few regicides. There is no capital punishment in the Swiss code. Even for killing an empress Ladcheni cannot, under the laws of the republic, suffer anything more severe than a life imprisonment.

A Soul Lottery.

A soul lottery was held recently at Puebla-de-Los-Angeles, Mexico. The affair was under the superintendence of the local clergy and aroused much interest, many tickets being taken. There were three winners, and the results were announced as follows: No. 840, the soul of James Velasquez has been delivered from Purgatory and has arrived in Paradise. Nos. 41 and 762, the souls of Mme. Calderon and the old widow, Mme. Francisca de Parras, have been delivered from Purgatory and have entered into Paradise.

The next drawing will take place at the Church of St. Saviour on Jan. 1st, and the winning numbers will release four martyred souls from Purgatory with free right of entry into Paradise.
