

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

—Miss Alberta Barr, of Tyrone, is spending several days at the home of her aunt, Mrs. James Boal.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Stover, of Bellefonte, visited with friends in Centre Hall yesterday.

—J. D. Minnick, of Ridgway, Pa., a student at State College, spent Sunday with Centre Hall friends.

—Miss Emille B. Swartz, of Bethlehem, Pa., spent several days the past week with friends in Centre Hall.

—Mrs. G. W. Husterman has been visiting her son Sumner V. Husterman, at Lancaster, Pa., since last week.

—Mr. R. D. Musser, of Spring Mills, one of the REPORTER'S valued friends, gave us a call a few days ago while in town on business.

—Mrs. B. D. Brisbin and daughters, Mrs. Beulah Boone and Miss Roxanna, spent a couple days with friends at State College last week.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Van Pelt left Wednesday morning for their home at Ithica, N. Y. They were here on a visit to their old home and many friends.

—George Krumbine left last week to take up his course in the Medical college at Baltimore. He has a year or two yet before he will come out a full-fledged M. D.

—George Dellett left Saturday for Camp Meade, at Middletown, where he expects to receive his discharge papers from the 17th Infantry, U. S. Army. Gearge may decide to re-enlist.

—C. F. Deininger, who was employed as clerk in the bank for about thirteen years, has severed his connection with that institution, and last week took his departure for New York City, where he will reside for the future.

—G. B. Snyder, last year principal of our public schools, was in town on Saturday gathering up his personal belongings. When he enlisted his departure was so sudden that he did not even have a chance to arrange his affairs, likened to the minute men of Revolutionary fame. He is one of the few who has apparently been physically benefited by army life. He goes to Chester Springs, Pa., military school as instructor in tactics in a few days.

Pulpit Shot at Alger.

Rev. Dr. Hamlin, in Washington, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, Presbyterian, where Vice President Hobart, Colonel John Hay, Secretary Wilson and other prominent members of the Administration attend, in his Sunday sermon said:

"Every department of our Government except one has issued from the war with the highest credit. That one is sadly discredited in the popular estimation. This estimation may be in some particular entirely wrong. It may lack knowledge of all the facts. It may underestimate the difficulties that have been encountered. It may misplace the blame. But it is not wrong in its verdict that there is blame. Whether there have been deliberate crimes against the lives of our soldiers, or the blunders of ignorance and incompetence that are as bad as crimes, the public does not yet know."

"But it does know that in Cuba they were but half-clothed, half-fed, half-sheltered, half-doctored when wounded or sick. It does know that the transports have renewed the horrors of the 'middle passage,' and that men have starved while supply ships floated aimlessly for weeks and months upon the ocean, and trains loaded with food and medical supplies stood unopened upon the rails. It does not know that somehow our soldiers have become objects of public charity."

"Meanwhile the War Office pleads the baby act! A Cabinet Officer, a Senator and a general pronounce the water at Montauk good after tasting it; the head of the Department in a public letter shields himself by throwing all blame upon his subordinates. In the same breath saying that there really is no blame, after all, and that war is not a picnic."

Rev. C. T. Brady, Chaplain, tells of the sufferings of the soldiers, and horrors of Chickamauga. He says:

"I personally saw men left in the hospitals in camps for 36 hours without any medical attendance whatever. I saw men in those hospitals suffering from fever with the rain beating down upon them."

"I saw men committed to the care of unskilled attendants when it was absolutely impossible for them to receive anything like the attention they deserved. I saw men suffering from fever lying with their mouths open and their mouths filled with flies. I wonder if I dare, being still in the government service, say more. There is much more that might be told if it were proper for me to tell it, but perhaps this will suffice. I had not intended to touch upon this phase of our experience at all, but when I think that these things have taken place in this, the richest, greatest and presumably the most advanced Nation on the face of the earth, I cannot hold my peace."

A stubborn cough or tickling in the throat yields to One Minute Cough Cure. Harmless in effect, touches the right spot, reliable and just what is wanted. It acts at once; for sale by Smith & Crawford.

SPRING MILLS.

What Has Happened of Note in Our Neighboring Town.

Corn cutting is about finished in this neighborhood. The crop is a very large one; during the week our farmers did considerable threshing, and report the yield as quite satisfactory.

School commenced here on Monday last. The little people really appeared glad, they seemed to be tired of the long holidays; of course Dr. D. M. Wolf, Mr. Derr and Miss Mabel Sankay occupied their respective stations.

The M. E. congregation of this place held a festival in the park on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. The refreshments consisted of an unusually large variety of eatables and drinkables, and gotten up in a very inviting manner. On both evenings the festival was very largely patronized by our people, and in consequence their treasury was very considerably augmented.

F. K. Sheary the young and active tonsorial artist of our village, is doing quite a lively business, and handles the razor in a very skillful manner, in fact is an expert. His parlor is not unlike a boudoir, everything cleanly and neat, and it is very rarely that two or more gentlemen are not waiting patiently for "next."

The turnpike company has in a manner repaired the bridge over a side issue of Penns creek—the spring at the upper end of the village. A thresher passed over it a day or two since, and the bridge shook as if afflicted with the ague; the most surprising part was that the thresher passed over safely. The entire structure should be rebuilt from the foundation, as about one-half of the frame work is decayed. Why not do the business properly, and erect an iron bridge?

Quite a large number of sight seers have been congregating in the shoe emporium of C. A. Krape during the week, to take a look at some monster potatoes Daniel Shreckengast has on exhibition. Four of the tubers weigh a trifle over a pound each and measure eleven inches in length, the four together making nearly a yard and a quarter of potatoes—can these monsters be surpassed? Mr. Krape should secure a few of these potatoes, scoop them out and display them as Chinese brogans.

D. H. Ruhl our jolly landlord had among his guests on Tuesday evening last, several lumbermen who were here buying walnut timber by the single tree or thousand feet, besides a number of commercial agents. During the evening they all collected in the smoking room and commenced telling stories, and the laughter created by some unusually "tough" yarn, could almost be heard through half the village. When it comes to telling stories and "tough" ones, your commercial traveler can generally extricate the linen from off the shrubbery, or in other words take the "rag off the bush." The party adjourned an hour or two before breakfast.

David Burrell one of our venerable citizens and a war worn veteran, was knocked down and considerably injured by a reckless cyclist on Wednesday evening last. The rider, a stranger whose destination was Millheim having left Bellefonte, was hurled violently against a fence but sustained no material damage. After ascertaining what his folly did, proceeded on his journey. He had neither a lantern nor an alarm bell on his bicycle, and notwithstanding rode straight ahead regardless of consequences. Had he injured only himself it would have served him about right, for hardly less than an idiot would ride through a village at a break neck rate of speed at night, without a lighted lantern or even the ability to signal an alarm.

The Spring Mills band will not play at the Lewisburg fair as advertised in their posted placards. Without any solicitation on their part, the secretary of the association communicated with them for terms etc., which proving satisfactory entered into a contract for the band to play one day at the fair and Thursday was specified accordingly the band made every arrangement for that day, and advised all their friends to the same effect, and as a result quite a large delegation expected to accompany them to the fair. However a few days since, C. D. Wolf, secretary of the association notified the band to report on the fair grounds on Friday instead of Thursday, of course annulling the contract. And in leaving here the secretary made the preeminently absurd request—especially when we have a railroad station almost at our very doors, that they should meet and accompany the Aaronsburg band, who by the way, intend driving to Lewisburg and will leave at midnight on Thursday. Of course the Spring Mills band would submit to no such nonsense and child's play and informed the secretary that the band declined attending the fair under his new and ridiculous conditions. If I am correctly informed, the association had a similar transaction with our band last year and with about the same result. Why such unusual and singular proceedings, is there a trick in it?

Potters Mills.

Miss Emma McCoy is visiting with Mrs. Carson at this place. J. F. McCoy left on Monday for Philadelphia.

Miss Shugart, of Bellefonte, is visiting at the home of Ed. Allison at this place.

L. A. Condo's child while swimming on Sunday evening fell and broke her leg; she is getting along nicely.

Mrs. W. W. Spangler who has been on the sick list for some time, is improving very slowly, and is not yet out of danger.

Clark Bible is on the sick list. J. O. Stover left on Monday for Crider's lumber camp, where he has a job of hauling.

The school teachers opened their schools on Monday morning for the winter term.

Bernard and William Spangler, of Chicago, are home for a short visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spangler. They will return to Chicago on Saturday.

The chestnut crop is very promising this season.

Jenks Not a Standard Oil Co. Man.

In reply to an assertion made by Dr. Swallow that the Democratic candidate was a Standard Oil company candidate and a corporation attorney, Mr. Jenks has written the following letter to C. M. Bower, nominee for superior court judge, who called Mr. Jenks' attention to the statement:

"My dear sir: In reply to your letter, I am not and never in my life was the attorney for the Standard Oil company nor any of its branches. I never was a salaried attorney for any corporation in my life except in one instance. When the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad Company was about to build its road to the Jefferson county coal fields in 1882, I agreed to act as its attorney from the time it crossed the Stateline until it reached Punxutawney. As soon as its first train of cars reached that point I resigned. My practice has been more largely a practice with individual clients than with any one I ever knew of."

A Mother's Awful Death.

The joy over the home-coming of the Company K boys, to Bethlehem, was marred by a most shocking accident, which occurred at the Union Station, the victim of which was a mother of one of the returning soldiers who had gone to meet her son.

Mrs. John Talbot, aged 54 years, was waiting the arrival of her son, Private John Talbot, when a freight train came along. In the noise and confusion, the anxious mother rushed to the front of the platform. In the surging of the crowd she had been pushed against the freight cars, drawn under the wheels and cut to pieces. Two daughters saw her awful death.
