C. H. WATER COMP.

FELL INTO A CISTERN.

A Five-year-old Child Drowned at Bellefonte.

Anna, the little five-year-old daughter of Michael Lamb, fell into a cistern on the property of Emanuel Noll, on North Allegheny street, Bellefonte, and was drowned before help arrived. The little girl was playing in neighbor Noll's yard. The two properties adjoin. The cistern was fifteen feet deep and about half full of water. A bucket of water was drawn from the cistern and the trap door left open for a few minutes. The little girl in some way fell through the trap door into the water.

The accident was discovered at once and assistance summoned. Great difficulty was experienced in getting into the cistern to get the little girl out. Finally by means of a long rake the little one was drawn to the surface, but life seemed extinct. Physicians worked over an hour endeavoring to resuscitate the girl but it was hopeless. Michael Lamb, the father, is a painter by trade.

Rushed With Work.

Charles Miner, the proprietor of the evaporating plant informs us that he now has about sixteen hands at work. Last week's output was of one thousand bushels of apples. The working force will be increased. Another new kiln will be built at once. Mr. Miner is buying apples in all parts of the county. For the farmer and owner of an orchard, there is a greater return we believe in selling the product than working it into cider, as was done before. The firm is running night and day and consider the crop will be large enough to operate until Jan. 1st.

A la Vigilance Committee.

The resident ministers of the town beginning to realize that the town is in need of some reforms, have organized themselves into a committee to take action against everything which they consider detrimental to the good morals and interests of the town. Every one will be ripped up the back we suppose, unless he toes the chalk mark the year round, and if this vigilance committee does its work impartially the town will closely resemble a 10-acre vacant patch with all of us on a dead run for more healthful climes.

No More Adulterated Vinegar.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Wells has decided that the chemist of department shall not be required to establish any method by which analysis of cider vinegar shall be made. The law requires that nothing but pure apple juice be used in the manufacture of cider vinegar and sixty days will be given dealers to dispose of all adulterated stock. At the end of that time prosecution will be made against all dealers in anything but the pure goods.

Opening Announcement.

The annual fall opening of hats and novelties in millinery, will be on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 4th and 5th, at The Globe, Bellefonte. Katz & Co. will have on exhibit many artistic representations of the latest Parisian ideas, and novel shapes in untrimmed hats, of styles which are exclusively confined to the firm. This firm always leads the display in millinery goods and this fall's effort will surpass all their previous ones.

A Unique Claim.

A unique claim has just been paid by an English fire insurance company. The claimant was sitting on the sea front on a bank holiday with his trousers turned up. A little ash from his pipe dropped into the tuck thus formed and burned a hole. After inspecting the garments the company paid for a new pair, the claims being under a general fire policy.

Found Dead in Bed.

Mrs. Mollie Minsker, a respected widow lady, was found dead in her bed at Crider's Exchange building, Bellefonte, on Monday morning by her little daughter. Death was attributed to heart failure. She leaves two daughters and was aged about 31 years.

Osborne Nominated for Senator.

The dead-locked Republican conference at Phillipsburg, ended by the nomination of Mr. Osborn, of Dubois, for senator, on Tuesday evening.

The dead-lock was broken by the withdrawal of Womelsdorf, when two of his conferees voted for Osborn.

The Clinton county conferees voted against making the nomination unanimous.

The Conference Deadlock.

The Republican senatorial conference of this district is still in a deadlock. At Phillipsburg, on Monday, they took 14 useless ballots, making in all 64. A resolution was then adopted adjourning the conference to 9:30 p. m. and instructed the president to ask the candidates to agree upon some measure of settlement or compromise.

A Big Crowd.

This morning a very large crowd went to Lewistown to attend the fair. The train was crowded when it left this station. At Coburn the coaches from the morning mail west were pressed into service and the train arrived at Centre Hall with only the combination smoker and mail.

Death of Thomas Collins.

Thomas Collins, of Bellefonte, the well-known veteran railroad contractor, died at his home, on last Sunday morning of blood poisoning, due to arterial obstruction. He was 75 years old.

Mr. Collins, who was defeated as a Democratic nominee for Congressman-at-Large four years ago, had been for many years a successful contractor on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and organized a syndicate some years ago to go to Brazil and make extensive public improvements in that country. The steamer that bore the party South was wrecked, however, and many persons on board perished, though Mr. Collins lived to return home all right.

Have Some Bad Eggs.

The Parisville Ledger, has this lamentable lament to make: We have constant peace-disturbers within our limits, some, the worst, working with hidden hands, seeking to injure some of our most useful citizens in their business and characters; these veiled human hyenas work through tools who are induced to work up strife, while the actual fomenter keeps under cover and struts the street pretending with honied words to be a saint, and with fiendish glee gloats over his success in fomenting strife by the aid of tools, causing quarrels between neighbors among whom otherwise the best of feeling would prevail. Cowardliness, jealousy and malice of a few men, are the curse of a community, and you can't find a good deed in their lives, and they throw dirt at those who are public spirited and enterprising. What a blessing it would have been for this community if two or three men had never seen Parisville—all would have been peace, quiet, good-will.

W. C. Arnold Re-nominated.

Having disposed of a couple hundred post-offices in this district, Wm. C. Arnold planted them to bring about his third nomination for congress, notwithstanding he amounted to nothing during his past four years in congress.

The Republican conference met at Ridgeway on 22, and on first ballot nominated Mr. Arnold, he receiving the votes of the conferees from Clearfield, Centre and Clarion. Elk voted for Doliver, and Forest for Cook.

Arnold's two terms in congress have left nothing for him to boast of or that the district can be proud of. Arnold can't be re-elected.

Changing Connections.

The last week a great many have disconnected their service pipes from the water company's lines and tapped the boro pipe. After Oct. 1st, the company will charge all who remain on their service six months in advance and this is the reason there is so much haste in getting off. There are some who are hesitating about changing the service, as they are doubtful of the quantity of water the boro has to supply. The plant is not yet completed but it has practically been taken off contractor Malone's hands without a test.

Potter Township Teachers.

The Potter township teachers for the ensuing year are as follows: Centre Hill, J. B. Strohm; Egg, Hill, G. W. Smith; Cross Lane, Bertha Duck; Potter Mills, J. A. Bible; Cold Springs, D. A. Foreman; Rock Grove, E. S. Ripka; Pine Grove, H. B. Spangler; Loop, Corman Spicher; Fleisher's Gap, T. F. Farner; Tussey's sink, J. B. Fortney; Tusseyville, Cal. Spicher; Manor Hill, A. Florence Smith; Earllytown, R. D. Foreman; Pine Stump, Thomas Moore; Plum Grove, David Keller.

Quite an Increase.

The taxes to be paid by the citizens of the boro for 1898, next Saturday the last day when the five per cent. abatement can be had, will be by seven or eight mills larger than any before. The kick is beginning and more of it every year can be looked for. The town has spent money lavishly and indiscriminately, and now comes the fun of paying the fiddler. The heavy taxes cannot help but be detrimental to the advancement and good for the place.

Fire at Boalsburg.

The black-smith and carriage shop of John Wieland, at Boalsburg, was totally destroyed by fire on last Monday night.

All the tools, finished vehicles, stock of lumber, etc., were burned with the building; nothing was saved.

There was no insurance on the building but the contents were insured in the Centre Hall company for $1200. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Fire Supplies Here.

This week the supplies for the fire department arrived at the station. Two hose carts and about 750 feet of cotton hose is the consignment. The council ordered this a couple months ago. A hose cart we suppose will be stationed in each end of the town so as to be convenient when an alarm is given. What we need now is an organized department.

When you call for De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve the great pile cure, don't accept anything else. Don't be talked into accepting a substitute, for piles, for sores, for burns; for sale by Smith & Crawford.

J. K. P. Hall Nominated for Congress.

The Democratic congressional conferees of this district met at DuBois on 22, and on fourth ballot nominated J. K. P. Hall for congress, by acclamation.

Spangler, of Centre; Davis, of Clarion; Bell, of Clearfield, and Bowman, of Forest, withdrew after the first ballot. The conferees from Centre were Charles R. Kurtz, A. B. Hurd and P. J. McDonald.

But four ballots were taken and Mr. Hall's name was not presented until the last one, when all the other candidates withdrew and he was nominated unanimously. He returned to Ridgeway next morning and was met at the train by an enthusiastic crowd of Democrats and anti-Arnold Republicans, who heartily congratulated him and pledged him their sincere support.

Mr. Hall hails from Centre county and from the Milesburg family of Halls, which is the best and purest of Democratic ancestry.

Stolen and Recovered.

Last Friday evening John Bowersox, of Harrisburg, a hardware salesman, left his sample case of cutlery standing on the step while he went into the store to see the firm of Wolf & Crawford. Supposing this a law-abiding community, he was not concerned for the sample case, until he came for it, when he found that it had been stolen. The samples were worth about $40, and Bowersox searched every available place where it might be found, but without avail. Monday while cutting corn in a field on the edge of town, some parties found the case. The contents were intact. The thief evidently became afraid of his goods and hid it.

A Question to Settle.

The Northumberland county court will have a case of peculiar merit to settle in the near future. A family named Eagan moved into an empty house, the door of which they found open in Shamokin, without the knowledge and consent of the owner. This was a month ago, and since that time they have refused to either pay the rent or move out. The owner, not desiring to use forcible means of ejection, resorted to the law, serving some kind of notice on the tenants. The latter are laughing at the legal procedure, and the lawyers are looking for a fee in connection with the case. Contrary to the usual order of things, this is an instance where it isn't "cheaper to move than to pay rent."

Queer Pumpkin.

Farmer Hempfield, of near Belsano, Cambria county, has a very queer pumpkin vine on his place which he expects to exhibit at the Carrolltown fair. It started out like an ordinary vine, but when about three feet long the stem began to flatten out, and continued this shape until it was from twelve to fifteen inches in width, one inch thick and ten feet long, resembling a flat piece of green bark. It contains fully 1,000 tiny pumpkins about the size of walnuts.

Milton Fair.

The Milton Fair will be held, Oct. 4 to 7, and promises to be one of the best yet held by that Association. The new trolley road reaches the ground, and electric and steam roads give special rates to the grounds. Exhibits and attractions in all lines. Trials of speed in harness, under saddle and by bicycle each day.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued during the past week: Wm. H. Noll and Cora B. Twitmore of Pleasant Gap.

Chas. H. Lee and Sadie Fulton, of Walker twp.

L. H. McAuley and Emma Bergstresser, of Hublersburg.

Frankey A. Fye and Dora E. Bodle, of Romola.

Theodore G. Leathers, of Mount Eagle, and Miss Verna A. Bryan, of Roland.

Wm. Fischer Richel, of Farmers Mills, and Sallie Oliva Shaffer of Madisonburg.

Not a Large Crop.

Apples are not a large crop this year. Our own county may have half a crop which is more than needed for home consumption. Union county has few apples. York state which usually produces a large crop of apples, has none for shipment this year.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Aaron Thomas and family wish to extend their thanks through the columns of the Reporter to their friends and neighbors for their kindness shown them during their recent bereavement in the death of John Thomas.

A Private Plant.

A party offered to contract with Millheim for fire protection, 21 plugs at a yearly rental of $500, and families for hydrant for domestic purposes for $15 per year. This is three times what the Centre Hall Water Comp. charged.

Truth wears well. People have learned that De Witt's Little Early Risers are reliable little pills for regulating the bowels, curing constipation and sick head ache. They don't gripe; for sale by Smith & Crawford.
