CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS. Nov. 24

The war with Spain has knocked Alger's presidential bee into a cocked hat.

Johnstown desires to be a new county seat for new county proposed to be created out of portions of Cambria, Somerset, Westmoreland and Indiana.

There is a war of whiskey rates be tween the trust and the big distillery going up at Terre Haute. Cheaper whiskey is likely to be the result.

Daley and Townsend, like Keeley, will die with their secrets. They will never reveal—since defeated—whether they would have moted for Quay or not.

Keeley, of motor fame, died in Philadelphia, a few days ago. Although his motor never moted, yet he has moted from things terrestrial to climes celestial.

Padded pay rolls have already made their appearance in Porto Rico, and parties drawing pay for positions not filled are being prosecuted. Quayism travels fast.

One of the amusing incidents of the late campaign was that of the Quay candidate for assembly, in Union county, making a fight on white hats. The white hat didn't go under, but the candidate did.

McKinley is at a loss whom to appoint as Ambassador to England. A fellow in his cabinet by name of Alger might do. If Alger is good enough for the cabinet why not good enough to be sent to England?

The supreme court sitting in Pittsburg, handed down an opinion a few days ago that a wife cannot assign an insurance policy as collateral for a debt of her husband. The case was an appeal from a decision of the Monroe county court.

In nearly all of the Western States the leading Republican candidates for United States Senator are bankers. Thus in Washington the foremost aspirant "has a barrel of money and the backing of Mark Hanna." And so in other States. Mark Hanna wants all the bankers and "successful business men" he can lay hands on.

Gov. Hastings is known among his admirers by the sobriquet of "Big Dan," on account of his fine large stature, and the New York "Commercial Advertiser" suggests that Governor-elect Stone should also be respectfully designated "Big Bill," as he stands 6 feet 3 inches in his stockings and is built in proportion.

Dr. Lee, of the state board of health, in his report takes up the subject of the pollution of streams that are water supplies for towns and cities and recommends that protective legislation be secured at the coming session of the Legislature. The action of Altoona and Reading in providing plants for the disposal of sewage is highly commended.

Ex-Congressman W. H. Koontz, of Somerset county, recently elected to the lower house, will, it is said, be a candidate for speaker in the house, at Harrisburg, as an anti-Quay Republican, and will have the support of David Martin and Senators Magee and Flinn. Democratic members can consistently vote for so good a man as Koontz and thus give Quayism another black eye, and put the lower house on the path for Honest Government.

The dignity of the law profession received a slight shock in Common Pleas court No. 1, at Pittsburg, the other day. While addressing the jury Attorney J. W. Holmes said that he was sorry to say that it sometimes happens that lawyers will aid their clients in an attempt to avoid paying an honest debt. The remark was pointedly directed against the opposing counsel, who appealed to Judge Stowe for protection against such a breach of ethics. The Court blandly replied: "Well, I have no doubt that it is true!"

THE PRESIDENTIAL PENDULUM.

The last seven Presidential elections have been carried alternately, with the regularity of a four-year clock, by each of the two great political parties. The record is:

1872—Grant, Republican.
1876—Tilden, Democrat.
1880—Garfield, Republican.
1884—Cleveland, Democrat.
1888—Harrison, Republican.
1892—Cleveland, Democrat.
1896—McKinley, Republican.

In 1900, according to the rule, the President should again be a Democrat.

Will history repeat itself? And who will be the man?—World.

A CLEAN ALLIANCE.

The only natural alliance in the Legislature would be an alliance between the Democrats and the Independent Republicans. They have the same aims and the same interests to serve in making laws for the Commonwealth. By uniting in the election of a Speaker of the House (the Senate being wholly in control of the machine) they could prevent much evil and accomplish much positive good. It would not matter whether the Speaker should be an Independent Republican or a Democrat, provided that he should be qualified for the position, and that he would organize the committees so as to promote honest and salutary legislation. Repeal of the existing nefarious ballot system, for example, can be accomplished only by a union of Democrats and Independent Republicans.

The next step in this alliance would be the election of some distinguished and worthy citizen to the position of United States Senator. This would be a victory over the machine in which the Independent Republicans and Democrats would have equal reason to rejoice. But any alliance, arrangement, compromise or deal of the Democrats or Independents of the Legislature with the machine for any ostensible object could result only in evil to the public interests. He who would sup with a certain personage must needs have a long spoon.—Philad. Record.

Wanamaker on the Next Legislature.

It is an incontrovertible certainty that a majority of more than thirty of the next Legislature have been elected upon a platform of opposition to the return of Senator Quay to the United States Senate and are pledged to stand against all harmful machine legislation. Of the 133 members of the last Legislature who voted for Senator Penrose, and thereafter followed the dictates of the Quay machine, but 24 have been re-elected, or only 18 per cent.; while of the 76 who supported Hon. John Wanamaker 32 have been returned, or more than 42 per cent. Of the 50 Quay men who attempted to collect mileage bills for expenses never incurred only seven are re-elected, while the four anti-Quay men on the same committees who refused to render bills for money not expended have all been re-elected.

Senator Quay had a senatorial opponent in but one county of the State, Tioga, where both he and his opponent submitted their names to the people, Quay was overwhelmingly defeated by Charles Tubbs. In the Republican strongholds of Blair, Chester and Union counties seven members were instructed at the primaries to vote for Senator Quay, because no candidate was announced against him, but at the election these seven members instructed for Senator Quay were defeated.

Even the influence of Senator Quay in his own county of Beaver was insufficient to renominate the two men who had done his bidding in the last Legislature. State Chairman Elkin was forced to take down the two members from his own county of Indiana, whom he had led into betraying the people and whom he desired returned in the interest of the machine.

Corn and its Importance.

Corn is particularly an American product, having been unknown to the old world until after the discovery of the new, from which it was transplanted. It was known to the Indians as maize and was found by the early discoverers to be cultivated by them from New England to Chile. Fifteen years ago it was estimated that maize was eaten by a greater number of human beings than any other grain except rice. Its analysis shows it to be admirably adapted to sustain life and to furnish material both for the growth of human beings and domestic animals. The term corn in Europe, it must be remembered, has not had the same signification as it has in the United States. It has been applied there to any kind of grain. In Scotland the term corn is generally restricted to oats. The famous corn laws of Great Britain, over which there was so much controversy, referred to all sorts of grain—wheat, rye, barley and oats. The cultivation of maize was introduced from America into Southern Europe and Asia, and into Northern Africa, where it spread with great rapidity. In Great Britain the summer heat is not sufficiently intense to favor its production, and maize is very little grown in any part of Europe. Consequently, America must supply the principal European demand, the great increase of which opens an encouraging prospect for our corn raisers.

The Philadelphia grand jury has found true bills against M. S. Quay and R. R. Quay, father and son, for speculating with the public funds. The people of this State, tried this case at the recent election and rendered a verdict against him by defeating the most of his candidates for assembly. The case is now in the courts for trial.

A LONG THANKSGIVING DAY.

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is bright;
The gleam of the day and the stars of the night;
The flowers of our youth and the fruits of our prime,
And blessings that march down the pathway of time.

We thank Thee, O Father, for all that is drear—
The sob of the tempest, the flow of the tear;
For never in blindness and never in vain
Thy mercy permitted a sorrow or pain.

We thank Thee, O Father, for song and for feast—
The harvest that glowed and the wealth that increased;
For never a blessing encompassed earth's child,
But Thou in Thy mercy lookedst downward and smiled.

We thank Thee, O Father of all, for the power
Of aiding each other in life's darkest hour;
The generous heart and the bountiful hand,
And all the soul-help that sad souls understand.

We thank Thee, O Father, for days yet to be—
For hopes that our future will call us to Thee;
That all our eternity will form, thro' Thy love,
Our Thanksgiving Day in the mansions above.

Some Things to Learn.

Learn to laugh, not giggle; a hearty laugh is better than medicine, says an exchange. A well told story is as good as a sunbeam in the sick room. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. Learn to stop croaking about your neighbors; they are just as good as you are. If you cannot see any good in the town you live in, pull out and leave, and the people will thank you for it. Learn to meet your friends with a smile. A good humored man or woman is always welcome, but the pessimist is not wanted. He is a nuisance.

For broken surfaces, sores, insect bites, burns, skin diseases and especially piles there is one reliable remedy, De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. When you call for De Witt's don't accept counterfeits or frauds. You will not be disappointed with De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve; for sale by Smith & Crwaford.
