DEATH OF DR. VAN VALZAH.

The Prominent Spring Mills Physician Succumbs Sunday Morning.

The death of Dr. F. H. Van Valzah, the prominent physician at Spring Mills, occurred last Sunday morning at about half-past five o'clock, after an illness of several weeks, from pneumonia and an affection of the stomach and intestines.

Dr. Van Valzah was one of the most prominent physicians in this county, and in his death the medical profession suffers a great loss.

The son Frank H., was born at Millheim, February 18, 1847, and in his childhood the parents moving to Aronsburg, his education was begun there, his first teacher being Dr. D. M. Wolf, of Spring Mills.

In 1850 he entered Dickinson Seminary, at Williamsport. In the spring of the following year he began the study of medicine under his father.

The funeral took place Wednesday morning from his late residence at Spring Mills, and was largely attended. Interment was made in the family plot in the Spring Mills cemetery.

Fell into a Kettle of Hot Lard.

On Tuesday of last week, while George Armbruster, at Farmers Mills, was butchering, a little four-year-old son of Ham Shreckengast, while playing, fell backward into a kettle of hot lard.

Heroic Measures.

One night last week David Rearick, at Farmers Mills, heard a commotion among his sheep in the field. He found several dogs chasing them.

Well Patronized.

The chicken and waffle meals served by the Ladies of Progress grange for a building fund for the new hall, were well patronized last Thursday.

The following marriage licenses were issued during the past week: Harry W. Flack, of Spring twp. and Annie Keife, Bellefonte.

Married at Bethlehem.

Today, Thursday, at noon, Fred Kurtz, Jr., assistant editor of the CENTRE REPORTER, was united in marriage to Miss Emille B. Swartz, daughter of Mrs. Louisa Swartz, of Bethlehem, Pa.

LET LOOSE.

How an Editor Feels When He Commences With the Muse.

I would flee from the city's rule and law—from its fashions and forms cut loose—and go where the strawberry grows on its straw and the gooseberry grows on its goose; where the catnip tree is climbed by the cat as she clutches for her prey—the guileless and unsuspecting rat on the rattan bush at play; I will catch with ease the saffron cow and cowlet in their glee.

O, let me drink from the moss grown pump.

O, let me drink from the moss grown pump, that was hewn from the pumpkin tree! Eat mush and milk from a rural stump, from folly and fashion free—new gathered mush from the mushroom vine, and milk from the milkweed sweet—with pineapple from the pine.

Hunting Notes.

The Bradford hunting party came home on Friday. They had a fine time, although they got no deer, as the animals know it is best not to be near when the Bradfords are about, and in consequence the whole town was knocked out of venison.

Working Feely.

The heating and ventilating apparatus placed in the school building on trial this fall, has proven a success, and the board will keep it. A uniform temperature is secured throughout school hours, while the ventilation has been a decided improvement over exposing the scholars to drafts from hoisted windows to allow a change of air.

Two Horses Poisoned.

Last Thursday night a week some miserable wretch poisoned two valuable horses in the stable of Mr. Shuey, at Fairbrook. Shuey heard a noise in his stable the night before, but did not investigate.

Various Drawers.

An exchange says it takes a rich man to draw a check, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, a porous plaster to draw the skin, a toper to draw a cork, a free lunch to draw a crowd and an advertisement in your home paper to draw trade.

Died in Tyrone.

Ira D., son of Al Garmua, formerly of Bellefonte, but now located in Tyrone, died at the home of his parents on Sunday morning of tuberculosis of the brain, after an illness of two years, being confined to his bed for the past two months. He was aged over sixteen years.

Found in the Woods.

The body of J. Boyle, of Hillsgrove, Lycoming county, was found in the woods on Friday by hunters. He had shot himself after having quarreled with his sweetheart.

Large Saw Mill Burned.

The large saw mill owned by B. N. Schwenck, three miles east of Loganton, Clinton county, was destroyed by fire Friday night. Nearly all the lumber was also burned.

Married.

On Nov. 27th, 1898, at the residence of J. S. Housman, near Colyer, Pa., Simon W. Dugan and Bertha E. Fye, of Bellefonte, were united in marriage by J. S. Housman.

De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve has the largest sale of any Salve in the world. This fact and its merit has led dishonest people to attempt to counterfeit it.

WILL MAKE THE REPAIRS.

The Contractors Will Make Good the Boro Reservoir.

H. P. and Robert Malone, the contractors who constructed the boro water plant, have returned to Centre Hall, and will make the needed repairs to the reservoir which members of the council say is not satisfactory.

The council for over three weeks have been supplying the town with water from the reservoir. The fall rains raised the springs and the water famine is over.

No settlement has yet been asked with the council and all the stories going concerning withholding pay appear to be pure rot. When to their minds the job is satisfactory, the contractors will present their true bill to the council and payment will be forthcoming.

Last of the Clearfield Forests.

John N. Ake and John H. Patchen executors of the A. W. Patchen estate, a short time ago closed the sale of all the timber adjoining the Susquehanna River in Clearfield county.

Messrs. Ake and Patchen purchased from the heirs all the square timber belonging to the estate in the Delaware River, at Camden, N. J., for $25,000, and have leased the big Patchen mill at that place to manufacture it.

Save the Birds.

It is not to be wondered at that ruinous insects are multiplying so rapidly, and that trees, flowers, plants and vegetation, are being destroyed in a manner that is awakening attention all over the country.

Filled His Bond.

Capt. G. M. Boal, the newly appointed postmaster for Centre Hall, sent in his bond last Saturday and now awaits the arrival of his commission to take charge of the office.

Season Closed.

The legal season for deer closed yesterday, Nov. 30th, the state law allowing but thirty days to kill the fleet-footed game. The number killed in our mountains each year grows less, and a hunting party now-a-days is highly elated if they catch sight of a tail.

Ask for a Pardon.

Legal steps are being taken to present strong evidence at the next session of the State Pardon board for the pardoning of James Cornelley, of Bellefonte, who is confined in the Western Penitentiary for a five years' term, convicted of firing buildings in Bellefonte.

Putting up a Shed.
