

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

—Clarke Carson, of Bellefonte, was a visitor in town Sunday.

—Mrs. Polly Meyer is visiting at her old home at Rebersburg, since Saturday.

—J. G. Dauberman is attending court this week at Bellefonte as a juror.

—Mrs. Sara Kline returned from Tyrone last Thursday after a visit of several weeks among friends.

—Mrs. James Alexander spent several days with friends in Millheim last week, returning again on Friday.

—Mrs. Flora Bairfoot came home last Friday after a visit of several weeks with relatives in Philadelphia.

—Miss Elsie Boal, of Tyrone, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. John Heckman, west of Centre Hall, since last week.

—Ex-County Commissioner John Wolf, of Rebersburg, arrived in town Tuesday evening on a short visit to his brother.

—B. H. Arney, adjoining theboro', ambitious to have his label to show good for 1900, called and ordered it thus.

—Miss Ida Rhoads, daughter of Rev. W. W. Rhoads, returned to her home here, after an absence of several months in Shippensburg, Pa.

—Mrs. George W. Ocker was among those from this section who attended the inauguration of Governor Stone, at Harrisburg last Thursday.

—Ex-commissioner Geo. L. Goodhart, of Centre Hill, gave our sanctum a call, and had his label set into '99; he reports many cases of grip in that section.

—Our old friend, Henry Stoner, of Tusseyville, gave our sanctum a call and put his label in shape to 1900. He reports grip cases over that way but it had not yet grabbed him.

—Aaron O. Detwiler, of Tusseyville, one of our valley's reliable and genial farmers, gave us a call yesterday afternoon. He has purchased all his father's farm stock and implements and the latter will quit farming.

—Rev. Ross, pastor of the Millinburg Presbyterian church, occupied the pulpit for Rev. Christine on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and delivered excellent sermons to a crowded house. He made a most favorable impression upon his hearers.

—Our esteemed friend, Henry P. Sankey, of Pottery Mills, was a pleasant caller, and set his label to '99. He has been a regular patron for over a quarter of a century and belongs to that good old stock whose word is as good as their bond.

—Attorney Walker and Paul Fortney, both of Bellefonte, were over last Sabbath evening, and attended services in the Presbyterian church, in company with some of our young ladies. When two such handsome young gents desire to find pleasant and pretty young ladies they know where to go to.

—E. K. Weiland, of Pueblo, Col., was a visitor in town on Monday, and in the course of his rounds looking at the changes wrought during the last eighteen years, since he left the valley, he dropped in to spend a short time at the Reporter office. Mr. Weiland is the eldest son of the late Dr. T. Weiland, of Linden Hall. Early in life he went west and at present is car inspector foreman on one of the large railroads entering Pueblo. He is also identified with several companies in gold mining. He will remain about two weeks at his home at Linden Hall before returning to Colorado. His brother, Dr. T. Weiland, Jr., is located in the same city, and has the position of passenger fireman on the Santa Fe railroad.

Watch for this Fraud.

The following item from Mahanoy City may be of interest to merchants, and may also be the means of saving them a few dollars:

Last week a slick agent representing a new grade of cocoon soap swooped down on the leading merchants of town and succeeded in taking quite a number of big orders for this commodity. The sample he carried was a superior article, and on the strength of this he had no trouble in working up a nice trade. The grocers who have received and paid for the soap have been simply bamboozled out of their money, as the soap delivered is vile and worthless, is of the consistency of thick molasses. Several of the merchants discovered the fraud, and had their money returned before the swindler could get out of town. Others are chasing him up with fair hopes of capturing him and recovering their cash. The agent is said to be working the towns as he goes along. It is supposed that he is now at Ashland or Shamokin. The grocers of neighboring towns will do well to give him the cold shoulder.

To the Public.

We are authorized to guarantee every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and if not satisfactory to refund the money to the purchaser. There is no better medicine made for a gripe, cold and whooping cough. Price, 25 and 50c per bottle. Try it. For sale by J. H. Ross, Linden Hall; S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Pottery Mills; H. F. Rossman, Spring Mills.

SPRING MILLS.

A Letter of Interest from that Flourishing Town.

C. C. Bartges printer, at present acting as clerk in the store of G. H. Long during the illness of Harvey Rachau. Mr. Bartges is an old experienced hand in the "institution" having served an apprenticeship behind the counter for several years.

Clayton Corman and Lloyd Bartges, of Coburn, were up this way on Sunday last and dined with Miss Anna Corman. In the afternoon they made a visit to Samuel Long and enjoyed a big turkey supper. Late in the evening they returned home, no doubt highly delighted with their visit.

Some of our people are lamenting that they failed to secure their ice during the recent cold spell, apprehending that they let the golden opportunity go by. They seem to have forgotten that February follows January and is frequently a month of ice and snow. Don't fret gentlemen, the ice crop is not yet over.

Our excellent landlord D. H. Ruhl, by the way Republican candidate for the nomination of Sheriff, has been quite ill for the last week or ten days with the prevailing malady. His son Edwin who had been east on a business trip, returned last week similarly afflicted. Nearly every body in this neighborhood seems to be coughing and sneezing, of course much of it is the result of gripe, while considerable is simply from ordinary colds.

J. I. Condo of our village, carpet and rug manufacturer, has built up quite an extensive business by fair dealing and the superiority of his carpets and rugs. They speak for themselves. Mr. Condo does not manufacture carpet and rugs merely to admire and sell, but manufactures them to wear, and were it not for his facilities and improved machinery, he could hardly furnish the material for the prices he asks for the manufactured articles. He has now in the office a few samples of advanced spring patterns of carpets and rugs, the designs and colorings are very beautiful.

No country postoffice could well have a more efficient and reliable postmistress than we have at Spring Mills, although many of the questions asked concerning mail matter are unnecessary, frequently absurd and often foreign to the department, yet she cheerfully replies to them all in her usual pleasant manner, while many persons occupying the same position would simply walk away in disgust, but it is not so with our deputy, the accomplished daughter of postmaster J. D. Long. She is always a lady and gives everyone a polite and patient hearing, of course her friends are legion.

Andrew Corman and Jefferson Heckman are our present supervisors, and are again candidates for re-nomination. No doubt we have had supervisors equally as good, but unquestionably none superior. While placing our roads in a most excellent condition—never better, on a tax of three and one-half mills, these gentlemen have saved the tax payers over seven hundred dollars, simply by their thorough knowledge of road building and a sound judgment as regards where and how to economize without impairing any of the work. And then too, they gave every one an opportunity to work out their taxes if they so desired. These are considerations well worth remembering at the caucus on Saturday next. We know what our present supervisors have done, and would it not be wisdom to let well enough alone?

Daniel Schlegel plasterer, of our village, last August while lathing a room, and with the habit of holding a dozen or more nails in his mouth accidentally swallowed one, and felt no inconvenience from the unsavory diet, in fact the mishap had entirely escaped his memory. For the last month however, he has experienced considerable pain and feeling, as he expressed it, decidedly gripish, but no remedy seemed to afford him the slightest relief for the pain. On Friday last he was suddenly seized with a violent fit of vomiting and was utterly astounded at discovering that he had ejected his "lunch" of last summer—the lath nail. Since then he informed me, that he was feeling like himself again; this is a very remarkable case. Some people say that he has been feeling particularly well and proud since Thursday morning last, simply at being again "paw" to a new daughter—very likely.

David Barree is on the sick list. Dr. P. W. Letzell is kept very busy, he is out almost day and night; he recently bought a fine horse from Spear Hettinger.

J. Orvis Beatty and J. E. Lloyd are two of our candidates for constable; wonder which one will be knocked out. J. E. L. has a J. O. B. to buck against.

Elmer Hettinger and Miss Lizzie Rishel were visiting at the home of John Hettinger on Sunday. That was Elmer's last trip with his favorite horse that Dr. Letzell bought.

George Ream, of Green Grove, died on Monday morning of asthma and gripe. Mr. Ream was for many years a resident of Spring Mills, and a consistent church member; funeral this Thursday forenoon. He leaves a wife and four children, one daughter and four sons, John, engineer P. R. R. Co.; Will, employed by the Spring Mills dressemery; Frank, coach trimmer.

Items of Interest from that Section, as Given by our Correspondent.

James Wagner, of Linden Hall, was visiting his parents over Sunday.

Miss Ella Mersinger, of State College, is visiting her parents in our village.

Mrs. Levi Stump is slowly recovering from the effect of a severe attack of the gripe.

J. L. Runkle has purchased a fine new organ; we will now have music in another quarter.

Prof. Ed. Crawford organized a singing class in the basement of the Union church at this place.

L. E. Runkle, while cutting wood cut his foot quite seriously, and will be confined to the house for some time.

The office of constable has an unusual number of applicants; no less than six, some of them should prepare for disappointment.

Rev. Rhoads commenced a revival in Bethany church on Monday evening; the good weather the past week aided in the attendance.

An Interesting Letter from that Busy Town.

Last week must have been "drummers week," for town was full of them. Miss Maude Musser, of Rochester, N. Y., is home on a two weeks' vacation.

J. P. Condo and D. L. Zerby, two of our townsmen, are spending this week in Bellefonte.

The properties on Penn street, belonging to the late Israel Confer, were sold on Saturday to W. H. Smith, of this place, for seven hundred and ninety-five dollars.

Potters Mills.

The protracted meeting in the M. E. church at Sprucetown is still in progress.

The new Telephone Company is getting the poles to their places along the pike.

Miss Sallie Wright, of Colyer, was visiting friends at this place over Sunday.

Misses Rena and Kate Shires, of Spring Mills, were visiting among friends at this place.

Michael Miller and wife, Mrs. Kate Carson and Frank Carson left on Wednesday morning for Spring Mills, and were guests at the celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller.

A Georgetown Goes for Georgetown.

For the Reporter: I will write you a few items, since Georgetown has no correspondent, while all other little towns have. This town lies along the railroad at what is called Polecat station; the inhabitants are mostly engaged in hunting, trapping and fishing. The girls must prepare their own wood when their beaus come and always have a warm stove ready for them. But that is what George likes, he having to come pretty far.

The next station above Polecat is Drum station; there the girls run the boys at the rate of 20 miles an hour, with one in arm and eye on another. Bill keep your eye on the silver when you go to Drum station; you will get the double bounce; they start in by the beat of the drum, daddy plays the march.

Perry has his eye on a bear, but brin don't come out of his hole for so long, but he thinks he will get him yet.

Good Roads and Their Advantage

The subject has been discussed by the learned and unlearned, and the more progressive countries have been making macadam roads for years past—even in the west, where they do not have the material by the roadside as we have it, but are compelled to haul it for miles, and sometimes have it shipped by rail and then often haul it six miles, even they find it cheaper than dirt roads. Not only are they cheaper in that respect, but they save on the wear of wagons, horses and man. What is more wearing on horses and man than to be ploughing through the mud; next to a balking horse when the faithful beast is nearly worn out, and how can it be otherwise. Dear reader place yourself in the same position, and see how much you can do under like circumstances. But with solid roads you can haul twice or even three times as much as you can through the mud, in half the time and half the wear on yourself and team. Time means money in the present age of our country. Can it be possible to make good roads with the supervisors and a force of men, say from 10 to 25, walking from 2 to 6 miles a day and then say you did a days work; you put in your time, but did little work. How many at the present time are willing to take the hammer and break stone? And if you are willing to compare with the cost of machine work. Compare the same with the sickle and the binder, and who will go back to the old-time way. A neighbor who owns property in both Gregg and Potter townships, and therefore finds it necessary to drive over the roads of both, has called my attention to the fact that Potter has better roads than Gregg, although they are not nearly as good as they ought to be. He says as soon as he crosses the township line he notices the difference. This difference in the roads of the two townships may be attributed to the fact that Potter township has two stone crushers and every year macadamizes several miles of road. Harris township has a crusher, Ferguson has two, College, Benner, State College borough, Spring and several other townships have each one; the result is that all these are mowing putting their roads in better condition than they ever were before, while the eastern townships beginning with Gregg, are still piling up loose dirt on their roads only to cause deeper mud holes during the rainy season, and when they do pile a few rods here and there they do not break the stone fine enough the result being that after a few weeks of driving over them many of the larger ones have rolled into the side ditches. Such work is a waste of the people's money and should be stopped at once. Now is the time to remedy this evil. A few more weeks and we will elect officers for the year; let us put in to the office of road supervisor energetic men, who will take pride in putting our roads in excellent condition, not old fogies, who, having driven over bad roads all their life time think their children don't need any better roads than they had. We build better school houses and churches than did our grandfathers. Have longer school terms, adorn our homes with fine furniture, pictures, books and musical instruments, hide our floors with Brussels carpet and almost cover our farmers with binders, mowers, planters, drills, shredders, etc., while our grandparents walked on bare floors, gazed upon chunked and daubed walls, cradled their grain and swung the scythe. Now since we have made so much progress in other matters, let us turn our attention for a few years to improving our roads. Think of the wear and tear of our wagons and carriages, the fatiguing of our horses, and our discomfort in traveling over roads that have no bottom during the wet season of the year, and then resolve to vote for no man for supervisor who is not in favor of buying a good stone crusher and beginning the good work at once. J. S. R.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Micanopy (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from La Gripe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for La Gripe, and its exhausting after effects; for sale by Smith & Crawford.

A Western Editor's Opinion.

This is the way in which the Centralia (Kan.) Journal editor answers a question propounded by a stock raiser: "A rural subscriber asks, 'Do hogs pay?' We know that a good many don't. They take the paper several years and have the postmaster send it back marked refused. Such a breed is usually two legged and unprofitable."

La Gripe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Eiden, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Gripe." Pleasant to take, quick to act; for sale by Smith & Crawford.
