(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, March 6 .-- No week like that which has just been closed has ever been witnessed in the Pennsylvania legislature. There was a threatened riot eral turmoil participated in by the house, and all because Speaker Farr's committee charged to investigate the attempts at bribery all but refused to investigate. When the charges were published that inembers of the house had been offered money for their votes on the McCarrell bill the Quay faction poohpoohed the sug-gestion. When the Philadelphia Press gave instances then the house took up the charge. The speaker appointed a committee to investigate. It consisted of Representatives Kreps (Quayite) of Franklin, Voorhees (Quayite) of Philadelphia, secretary; Tighe (Quay Democrat) of Luzerne, Skinner (Quay Democrat) of Fulton and Koontz (anti-Quay Republican) of Somerset. The day following the appointment of the committee a number of newspapers, including several Democratic journals, made an attack on Mr. Skinner, of Fulton, on his record, with the result that he declined to serve upon the committee. Speaker Farr refused to accept the resignation,

On Tuesday the committee met and organized, with Kreps as chairman and Voorhees as secretary, and adjourned until Thursday night to hear witnesses. In the meantime five persons had been summoned, viz.: G. Nox McCain and J. P. Dwyer, of the Philadelphia Press, and Representatives Criste of Northumberland, Smith of Cameron and Engler of Lycoming, all of them Democrats. DEMOCRATS REFUSED BRIBES.

These were the men who, it is belleved, were offered bribes and indignantly refused them, but the committee refused to hear these witnesses on Thursday because, at Mr. Voorhees' suggestion, Kreps and Voorhees, with Tighe voting with them, adopted a series of rules which General Koontz claimed would keep out instead of admit testimony.

A bitter fight was waged in the committee that night. Koontz declared that the resolutions were an outrage, and that he would appeal to the house for redress. He said that he had witnesses present and ready to be sworn and the committee would not hear them under the rules. The committee meeting broke up with hard feelings on both sides and with Koontz still declaring that he would appeal to the house

That night the Ouay ring mapped out Republican parties are crying out a scheme to keep Koontz from making his speech to the house the next morning. Koontz also intended to ask for the tinctly outlined in the Altoona platform, on which the campaign was fought. That platform made it possible to elect the 37 members of the legislature who now play such a prominent part in the senatorial struggle, and who will continue to do so, and that, too, strictly within the lines and in full accord with the Democratic platform and the campaign. "The Democratic party of Pennsylvania, through its representatives in the legislature, and as now organized and conducted, is an honest body and will be responsible to the people for their action and the outcome of the senatorial contest.

QUAY VISITS SIBLEY.

The next morning Sibley practically declared himself out of the fight. He found that he could not break the Democratic lines for Quay, and besides he was taken sick at the hotel. He told some of his friends that he would no longer continue the fight against Guffey, and as soon as he recovered he would return

That day the Democrats of the state would have been treated to a rare show had they been in Harrisburg. Governor Stone's carriage, with "Boss" Quay inside with the governor, drove to the Bolton House, where both of these Republican machine workers stepped out and went up to Sibley's room, where they remained for half an hour or more. They tried to explain their visit by saying that they had called simply because Mr. Sib-ley was sick, but this did not "go down" with the Democratic legislators.

The result of Sibley's attempt and the splendid control maintained by Colonel Guffey was that today the Democratic lines are more solid against the old Quay machine and its corruptionists than ever before. The Quayites have been trying to disrupt the Democratic ranks by telling all sorts of stories about coalition with the anti-Quay Republicans. No Democrat has united with the anti-Quay Republicans. No Democrat has thought of it. On the other hand they are stand ing for purity in politics and for the Al toona platform behind that splendid old man Hon. George A. Jenks. Nobody thought of pulling down Mr. Jenks to put up some one else until Sibley came into the field and then proposed it that he (Sibley) might better serve Quay.

It becomes more evident daily that the Quay leaders are getting desperate, as shown by their tactics of last week. Quay lost three Republican votes, viz: those of Representatives Hersh and Yates, of Philadelphia, and Mackey; of Lackawanna, and it is said that there will be four or five more desertions in a week or ten days. As it stands now the Collars and Cuffs "old man" is 18 votes short of a majority. From this it looks as if the senatorial issue would have to go to the people. There is little chance of a choice being made. The Democrats will not go for a Republican.

GOOD THING FOR DEMOCRACY. Nothing better perhaps could happen to the party than to have the issue go before the people. The-S7 Democrats in the legislature have demonstrated to the people that they are for better governmentand against corruption. They have refused bribes and threats, and as the state is about due for another Democratic administration the party leaders are alive to the situation. There is every prospect of a bitter Republican factional fight in the state for the next two years by which the Democracy cannot but help to be benefited. The heat of the strife is so great that independent Republicans appointment of four new members on the committee, and the names given for ocrat) of Elk, Young (Republican) of Tioga and Moore (Republican) of Butler, the latter being of the anti-Quay faction. The Quayites fillbustered until new rule, declared the house adjourned, In an instant an appeal was taken by a large number of Democrats and Republicans from his decision, but he refused to listen to the appeal and ran away from the chair.

SCENES OF EXCITEMENT. A scene of the greatest excitement followed. Democrats and anti-Quay Republicans clamored vigorously for Farr to return, but he would not return, and so Hon. Ward R. Bliss, anti-Quay Republican, was named as temporary speaker and Representative Fow, Democrat, of Philadelphia, made reading clerk. The roll was called and 103 Democrats and anti-Quay Republicans answered to their names. A committee was appointed to investigate Speaker Farr's outrageous and arbitrary action, consisting of Representatives Clarency (Republican) of Philadelphia, Dixon (Democrat) of Elk, Palm (Democrat) of Crawford, Young (Republican) of Tioga and Koontz (Republican) of Somerset, This committee will report to a meeting of the majority on Tuesday night next. It is believed that Farr will be severely censured. It is the consensus of conservative anti-Quay Republicans and Democrats that it is not well to do any revolutionary act, and Mr. Farr will in all probability be given another chance. Another break on his part will undoubtedly result in the election of some leading Democrat, like Dixon of Elk, as the speaker of the house. The most conspicuous feature of the week from a Democratic standpoint, however, was the utter rout of Congressman Joseph C. Sibley by National Committeeman James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg. It will be remembered that these letters have stated that Sibley was working for Quny, while ostensibly scheming for Democratic unity. On Monday night last he threw off all disguise when he came up from Washington with a lot of letters printed in book form from Naother Democratic senators, announcing that if it was not possible to elect a Democrat they would prefer that Quay might be returned to the senate. The letters, as might be supposed, created quite a sen-sation, but not a single Democrat broke out of line. The fact that Sibley had thrown off disguise and was working openly for Quay caused them to pause. As soon as Colonel Guffey saw these letters he prepared a statement for the public, which is at once convincing and dignified

Colonel Guffey said:

"The distinguished Democratic United States senators and representatives, who are foreign to Pennsylvania and not in touch with her political conditions, mean well, and no doubt are honest in their expressions, but have heard only one side of the question about which they
