—Miles Arney was home over Sunday from State College.

—Mrs. Harry Jenkins, of Bellefonte, was a visitor in town yesterday.

—Miss Grace Lee has gone to Altoona on a visit of a week among friends.

—Mrs. B. D. Brisbin is spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Lillian Ruble, at State College.

—Miss May Rhone, a clerk in the agricultural department, Harrisburg, is home on a short vacation.

—Victor Royer of Spring Mills, was in Centre Hall Monday, in the interests of a firm he represents.

—Mrs. Amanda Fisher and Miss Ella Bottorf, of Boalsburg, were guests of Mrs. W. A. Jacobs last week.

—Miss Winnie Wolf and her sister, Mrs. Zeigler, of Rebersburg, spent yesterday in town with friends.

—Mrs. Isaac Smith went to Altoona Monday on a short visit to her husband who is employed there.

—Mrs. J. B. Heckman, of Spring Mills, gave our sanctum a business call and sent her label up to 1900.

—Were pleased to have a call from our old friend, M. B. Duck, of Gregg, who had his label changed to '99.

—Miss Blanche Boal departed last Friday on a week's visit to her sister, Mrs. C. H. Meyer, at Millersburg, Pa.

—Isaiah Fleisher, of Philadelphia, was here several days last week on a visit to his father, Mr. Daniel Fleisher.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Moyer and little daughter, of Rebersburg, spent several days this week with friends in town.

—Rev. William M. Rearick and Mrs. Rearick, of West Milton, Pa., are guests at the home of his brother, Rev. J. M. Rearick.

—Phillip Bezer and Benjamin Gentzell, two of Bellefonte's horse dealers, were in town Tuesday looking up a market.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Shadle, of Williamsport, are here on a visit to Mrs. Shadle's father, Mr. John B. Bitner, west of town.

—Mrs. Susan McCulley, an aged lady of this place, fell a few days ago, sustaining several painful injuries, but fortunately no bones were broken.

—Dr. and Mrs. Alexander returned last week from Philadelphia, where the Dr. has been undergoing treatment for an affection of the spinal column.

—Squire W. J. Carlin, the Democratic candidate for Register, from Rebersburg, was in Centre Hall Monday putting the finishing touches to his canvass.

—John D. Meyer, now teaching school at Alexandria, Pa., is a candidate for the position vacated by Prof. A. R. Rutt, in the Bellefonte high schools.

—Rev. S. H. Eisenberg left Monday evening for Tiffin, Ohio. He is a delegate to the Reformed Synod, which meets in session there, and will be absent about two weeks.

—Candidates P. H. Meyer, of Boalsburg; H. A. Moore, of Howard, and Cyrus Brungard, of Millheim, were hustling around among the voters in town on Friday and Saturday.

—Mr. Jacob Wagner, of Tusseyville, left yesterday on an extended visit to Illinois. He will be accompanied by his son Rev. Will Wagner, of Glasgow, Pa. They will visit among friends and relatives in different parts of Illinois, and expect to be gone several weeks.

—Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Rhoads on Tuesday morning started on a journey to Cumberland county, per horse and buggy, accompanied by their accomplished daughter Ida, a-wheel, to stay three weeks. At Patterson, Pa., there will be a meeting of the ministerial, Sunday school and Christian Endeavor organizations in the United Evangelical church. Quite a number of others from other parts of the valley went along to attend the meetings. Miss Ida will go to Shippensburg to remain until September. She has a very large class at that place to instruct in instrumental music.

Worms for Bait.

Most all fishermen waste time a day or so before going out for angling in digging worms for bait. A better way is to go out after dark with a bicycle or other strong ray-throwing lantern on a lawn or into a grass field, when by throwing the light closely down into the grass you will find lots of worms on top of the ground, and instead of having to dig for them, all that you will have to do is to pick them up and stow them away in your can. Fish worms come out of the ground at night.

I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have used all kinds of medicines for it. SPRING MILLS.

Memorial Day Will be Suitably Observed by Our Veterans and Citizens.

At present every body seems to be busy whitewashing fences and out-buildings.

R. G. Kennelley one of our active young men, has been on the sick list for the last ten days.

The ladies of the M. E. church of our village, are making great preparations for Childrens service on the 11th. Always an interesting occasion.

The cool weather we have had for the last week interfered very materially with garden planting in this neighborhood, that is the finishing touches.

A day or two since I saw a sample of almost pure iron taken from the "mines" of Samuel Burrell, which he struck while boring for coal. If Samuel has this quality of ore in any quantity, he might just as well let well enough alone, and allow some one else to operate for coal. His fortune is made.

Memorial Day will be observed here as usual. The old war worn veterans, sons of veterans, school children and citizens participating. The graves of the heroes who lie sleeping here beneath the church yard sod, will be decorated at 5.30 p. m. Addresses will be delivered by H. S. Taylor, Esq., of Bellefonte, and others.

Howard Rossman the live merchant of our village has just received a large invoice of fancy dry goods, hosiery, trimmings and ribbons. The dress patterns are very choice, in beautiful styles and guaranteed full lengths; the hosiery are all British sable and very superior. The entire consignment he is selling at about half value. In fact his establishment is well known as a vast bazaar of decided bargains.

Several bicyclists from Pine Grove Mills passed through our town Sunday.

Mrs. Fleisher, of Buffalo Run, is visiting her son, Thomas Fleisher, west of town.

Reuben Boyer has re-opened his ice cream parlor. Reuben furnishes a fine cream; try it, one and all.

The western cold wave reached us last week and many fear the decay of our corn which has been planted.

Jackson Weaver, our energetic blacksmith, has completed the stone work on his new house. Jackson is a hustler, and his work is commendable.

Our supervisor Adam Krumrine, is busy repairing our roads and is doing good work; hope he may continue until they are in first-class condition.

E. C. Wagner is being instructed in successful and practical farming by A. O. Detwiler. We should have more seeking the betterment of their occupation.

Prof. Calvin Nell accompanied by several others, passed through our burg on a fishing tour to Stone creek Friday evening. Prof. is quite a successful fisherman.

A genius in our town said one day last week that calling on young ladies could not well be prohibited, but late hours should be avoided. This is a great truth and is worthy of print, for the good of those to whom it may concern.

The new telephone company is rather slow with their work through here; the poles are set and wires on, but have no phones. Some of its patrons say if some move is not soon made for its completion they will cut the wires from their buildings to avoid danger of electric strokes which may occur along the line while these many storms are passing by.

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Rhoads on Tuesday morning started on a journey to Cumberland county, per horse and buggy, accompanied by their accomplished daughter Ida, a-wheel, to stay three weeks. At Patterson, Pa., there will be a meeting of the ministerial, Sunday school and Christian Endeavor organizations in the United Evangelical church. A party of students from State College were seen passing through our town last Saturday on a botanical expedition.

John Wieland has had his house repaired and a new veranda built to the front, which adds very much to the appearance.

One of our young ladies who has been known to occupy the hammock on the front porch from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m., with only intermission for dinner, had a bad fall recently. She claims the boys fled the hook nearly through for the purpose of having her fall; the boys claim the hook broke off because of excessive use. But it is all right now, papa got her hammock fixed.

Our report for grain and fruit is as follows: Grass looks very good, the wheat, where well protected looks well but where not protected during that very cold period the ground is bare; many fields are very spotted. The farmers are all through with their corn. There promises to be a very good crop of apples and cherries but no peaches and plums, at least in this section.

CENTRE HILL.

What Our Correspondent Finds of Interest in that Section.

The aged mother of William Stiver, near this place, is quite ill.

Miss Carrie Spicher, of Centre Hall, visited her friend Miss Florence Smith on Sunday.

Quite a number of our young folks attended the teachers' examination last Friday at Spring Mills.

Morris Burkholder and sister Effie visited among acquaintances in Nittany valley over Sunday.

Messrs. John and William Reish, of Centre Hall, visited at the home of George Hettinger on Sunday.

Irwin Stover, who has been visiting his parents for a few days, will leave this week for Niagara Falls, where he will resume his work. Irwin is quite an energetic young man.

Clyde has "troubles of his own," when calling at Centre Hill. He imagines that the boys are taking his bicycle. A large porch is an excellent place for a bicycle on Saturday night.

An Interesting Assembly.

Rev. James W. Boal, D. D., of Port Carbon, Pa., writes us the following note:

Westminster Church, Minneapolis, Minn., May 19, 1899.

My Dear Friend:—I seize a moment this morning to drop you a line, which you can dispose of as you see fit. I meet a number of old friends and have already made some pleasant acquaintances. I wish you were here to look in on the body so that you could form your own judgment of the men and the proceedings of the Presbyterian Assembly. I thank you that you are so thoughtful as to send me a copy of the Reporter occasionally. I always read it with interest. Hope you are well.

Mrs. Boal is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. C. Angle, in Shippensburg; Ham-ill is in college, and Annie is in the South. So we are scattered just now. We expect to be home in the course of a few weeks.

Perhaps a line from this beautiful city of the north west might be of some interest to you and to the readers of the Reporter. This is a beautiful country. Nature seems to be retiring with each other in giving so much to delight the eye; the waters, the rolling surface, the hills covered with green, give variety and beauty to the scenery. Vegetation seems to be about as far advanced as it was in Pennsylvania when I left home on the 15th of May. I find the people here very proud of their city and seem never to tire of telling of its attractions. It is to them the city of the north west. The chief industries here are the great flour mills and the lumber, both of which are enormous. There is great energy here among the people, a large number of whom are young men.

The great event here just now is the sessions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church. The Assembly was duly constituted yesterday. The opening sermon by the retiring Moderator, of Washington, D. C., was listened to with great interest, as it was a clear and forceful presentation of the mediatorial work of Christ. It had the true Gospel ring from the beginning to the end. The Assembly chose for its Moderator for the present year Rev. Dr. Sample, of New York, a former pastor of the Westminster church in Minneapolis, who is the present Assembly is holding its sessions. He is a man of strength, clear head, familiar with the law and order of the church, courteous in his bearing and gives promise of efficiency in the chair. The addresses made at the different names were presented for the honor of that position were of a very high order. The speeches were models of style and eloquence. Each candidate was capable of filling the position with ability and dignity; consequently the addresses were both sincere and eloquent. The Assembly is an imposing body. Six hundred Commissioners, representing a great church—more than a million communicants, whose mission work belts the globe and whose liberality has long excited pleasant comment, must excite interest wherever it meets to concert measures for the advancement of the Kingdom of Christ. The secretaries of the different Boards with one exception, will present reports, that they are free from debt. This is glad news, as the Foreign Board had feared that it would be obliged to report some debt. The Home Missions Board, come to report no debt. There are earnest and able missionaries here from both Home and Foreign fields. The ladies of the different Missionary organizations, with their warm affections and earnest zeal are here giving a new impetus and inspiration to the work. Very truly,

JAMES W. BOAL.

Established 1836. PUBLIC LEDGER PHILADELPHIA.

SPECIAL OFFER TO LEDGER READERS.

The Public Ledger offers to its readers in connection with a 26 weeks' subscription, and the payment of 50 cents additional, a copy of The Ledger's Unrivalled Atlas of the World. This Atlas has been especially prepared for the Public Ledger by Rand, McNally & Co., New York and Chicago, and is one of the best works of its kind ever offered to the public.

The Unrivalled Atlas of the World contains over 330 pages, elegantly printed on fine calendered paper, marbled edges, bound in English cloth, with handsome gold side stamp, size 11x14 1/4 inches. It contains 157 full-page colored maps, showing every country on the face of the globe, every State in the Union, principal cities, etc., with fine marginal index.

It contains nearly 400 fine engravings of the world's people, statesmen, soldiers, etc.

It contains a ready reference list of every town in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware.

It contains in a brief comprehensive form more general, practical information regarding the physical, historical, ethnological, governmental, financial, and commercial conditions of the world than any work published.

This Atlas is offered to introduce the Ledger to new readers with the firm belief that those who become acquainted with the merits of The Ledger will not be willing to give it up.

The Public Ledger is Pennsylvania's Greatest Home Newspaper, giving all the news of the day, classified and in complete form. In its columns every statement is verified and carefully edited; its news is therefore reliable and clear.

The Directors of many school districts have adopted the Ledger for supplementary reading matter in their schools, and placed a copy of The Atlas in each school library.

How to Get the Atlas.

Forward the price of 26 weeks' subscription, plus 50 cents ($3.62) to The Ledger and the name of your nearest express office. The Atlas will be forwarded by express, or if you are not near an express office include 52 cents for mailing and the Atlas will be mailed to your postoffice with The Ledger.
