Laundryman J. H. Zong came here this week to get his plant in shape to start operations. He has located in Colyer's building. Owing to the delay in the arrival of one of the machines he has been delayed in putting out work. He is looking for it daily.

Bellefonte Has a Railroad Fight.

There was a lively time at the county seat on Saturday, from a squabble between the Penn'a railroad and the Central railroad.

The Central needs to build one mile of road to connect the Bellefonte Furnace with their railroad and to do this must cross the tracks of the Penn'a railroad, and for this purpose the Central set men to work for constructing an overhead bridge. The Daily News says:

The supervisor of the Penn'a came down from Tyrone and ordered the work to stop, which was refused. Soon after the Penn'a worktrain arrived on the scene, the supervisor again demanded that the Central men stop working there, but the latter again refused. Two carloads of limestone dust were then backed up along side of the excavation and the Penn's men began shoveling it into it, but as fast as they shoveled it in the Central's men shoveled it out. The train was then ordered to back into the yard where they loaded the big iron pivot of a turntable, weighing several tons, and this they dumped into the excavation, with the sarcastic request that they shovel that out. The men were then withdrawn from the work.

Superintendent J. W. Gephart, of the Central, said the difficulty would be amicably arranged with the Penn'y in a few days.

Worked at the Parsonage.

Yesterday the men of the Centre Hall Presbyterian congregation turned out in full force and with their teams, put in the entire day hauling ground and filling up and leveling the grounds around the parsonage. The ladies of the congregation did their share in the good work, and prepared a sumptuous dinner and supper for the good brethren, Mrs. Christine kindly giving them the use of her large porch, where tables were set, and over fifty persons comfortably seated—and well filled. A good social time was enjoyed and a great amount of work done towards beautifying the grounds.

Afflicted With Rabies.

A fine young heifer died for E. M. Huyett, on his cattle ranch, last Saturday, from hydrophobia. The heifer came from Buffalo Run valley and was bought with five others. A day or two after buying the stock the heifer became restless, which increased, and then ran wild over the country, jumping fences, frothing at the mouth and finally falling over a log in the mountain and dying. The rest of the cattle have been isolated. The state veterinarian will make an examination of the cause of the disease.

First-Class Townships.

Among the new laws approved by Governor Stone is one dividing townships into two classes. To be a township of the first class it must have a population of over 300 people per square mile; all the others are townships of the second class. There are some very radical changes in the officers who are to govern townships of the second class.

The Axe Glanced.

A couple days ago Samuel Snyder was cutting wood at his home. He made a strike at a block and the axe glanced, the blade striking him near the ankle, cutting an ugly gash. For several days he had to locomote with crutches but is now able to be around with a cane to aid him.

For Commissioner.

Adam Bartges, of Haines township, for county commissioner; has had years of experience as a successful merchant and for some years also as a farmer, would make a competent man for the office. He is well and favorably spoken of in that community.

Egg Hill Peach Orchard.

Speer Hettinger, of the west end of Egg Hill, has just finished planting 500 peach trees, which makes about 1800 trees set out by him within two years. Some of these trees were furnished by Mr. Colyer, on condition that he shall have the first two crops of peaches.

Last Friday, Evelyn Antonette, the nine-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asher Sankey, of near Potters Mills, died after an illness of only a few days. The funeral took place Monday forenoon; interment in the Sprucetown cemetery.

Chicken and Waffle Supper.

The ladies of the Lutheran church will have a chicken and waffle supper on the church lawn, on Tuesday, Decoration evening. Price, 25 cents. Ice cream and cake will also be served.

Wednesday morning the commencement address will be delivered by Hon. Henry K. Carroll, U. S. Commissioner to Porto Rico. An examination of candidates for admission will be held at the College Thursday, June 10th at 9 a. m.

The Great Wallace Shows.

Those of our readers who appreciate wholesome amusement should plan to spend the day at Bellefonte where the Wallace shows will exhibit on Monday, May 29th.

The Daily X-Ray, of Charles City, said: The afternoon performance was presented before a lent full of people, who were wildly enthusiastic over every feature. There is an absence of sameness about the Wallace Shows, every part of it being new, novel and artistic. Not a single thing on the bills was omitted, and when the magnificent exhibition ended the great throng filed slowly out, loth to depart from a place which had provided them with such a pleasant afternoon's entertainment. The performance with variations, will be repeated in the evening.

Decoration Services.

The Memorial services will be held in Centre Hall next Tuesday evening at six o'clock. Senator Wm. C. Heinle, of Bellefonte, will deliver the address of the day. The Potters Mills band has been secured to furnish music for the occasion. The Sons of Veterans will assist the G. A. R. in decorating the graves. All the Sunday schools in the town have been invited to parade with the orders to the cemetery. Co. B, of Bellefonte, will send a detail to Centre Hall in the morning to decorate the graves of two of its members, Privates Thomas and Murray.

Pushing Through.

The Commercial telephone company is pushing its line through to connect with the Home telephone company lines at Woodward. The men are erecting poles near Millheim and will work on through to Woodward. The switch board for the Centre Hall exchange will be set up in the bank building this week. There are twelve or fifteen phones to go up in the town and by a week or so the system will be expected to work with more satisfaction than at present.

Postmasters Must Work.

Postmaster General Smith has issued the following general order: "Postmasters at Presidential postoffices are required to give their personal attention to the business of their offices and must not absent themselves therefrom for a longer period than one or two days without authority granted upon written application to the department. A violation of this order will be deemed sufficient cause for removal."

Gathering of State Veterans.

For the State Encampment of the G. A. R., which takes place in Wilkesbarre the first week in next month, 2,000 delegates have already sent in their names. The relief corps connected with the G. A. R. will also meet there at the same time and it is estimated that fully 3,000 visitors will be in that city, including the wives and friends who will attend with the delegates. Governor Stone and staff and many generals of the rebellion and the late war are to be present.

Farmers Have telephones.

The Greenburg Argus is authority for the surprising statement that fifty per cent of the farmers in Greene county have telephones in their houses. The cheap service causes the general use. Some optimists assert that it will not be over three years before nearly every residence will be supplied with a telephone.

A Sure Crop.

An exchange says that an intelligent farmer has discovered that by planting onions and potatoes in the same field in alternate rows the onions become so strong that they bring tears to the eyes of the potatoes in such vast volumes that the roots are kept moist and a big crop is raised in spite of the drought.

Sudden Death.

The wife of David Hoover, living near Bellefonte, died suddenly at her home at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening, while sitting in a chair in apparent good health. Heart trouble was the cause of her death. Her age was about 70 years.

Dedicated Their Hall.

The new Grange Hall at Centre Hall will be dedicated Saturday, June 24th. Prominent speakers from the State Grange will be present and take part. A supper and festival will be held in the evening.

Suicide Near Loganton.

A man by name of Shrack, son of farmer Jesse Shrack, about one mile south of Loganton, hung himself in his father's barn on last Sunday morning. He was demented and about 55 years of age.

The deceased, Nathaniel Shrack, had been suffering for some time from dyspepsia, and, after having a somewhat restless night, arose on Sunday morning before the rest of the family, as usual, and kindled the fire, then went to the barn to feed the stock, which he did very carefully, after which he committed the rash act.

When Mrs. Shrack arose she prepared breakfast and waited a short time, and, Mr. Shrack not coming, she went to the barn in search of him, and not seeing him there, went to her daughter's only a few steps away. Not finding him there, she returned to the house, and she and her granddaughter ate their breakfast, after which Mrs. Shrack went out in the barn again and went up on the hay loft, where to her horror she found him hanging in a stooped position, dead.

She immediately notified her neighbors, and they came and cut the rope and immediately notified W. F. Moyer, J. P., who under the circumstances deemed it unnecessary to hold an inquest. Then D. M. Morris & Son, the undertakers were notified and they took charge of the remains and prepared them for burial.

The place where the suicide was committed is not high enough for a man to stand erect, but he no doubt was very determined, for he was found with the rope around his neck and he was on his knees and dead.

Deceased was a good citizen and the community feel very sad over his sudden death. He was aged 54 years and 4 months, and is survived by wife, one daughter and several grand children.

Will Do It Right.

The Sons of Veterans, who have determined to not allow the Fourth of July go by without being properly celebrated, will make a big day of it from the present indications. The boys have invited camps in adjoining towns to come to Centre Hall that day and help celebrate, and there will be quite a number here. A big parade is to be a prominent feature, and there will be other attractions along with this to keep the visitors from having that tired feeling. There is no attraction billed for any town in the valley, and there promises to be a big crowd here. The smaller boys are securing subscriptions to purchase uniforms. They will form a young regiment of "Young Americans," and will be in the parade.

Trying for a Railroad.

The people of Sugar valley have been vainly trying for a railroad through that section for years. There is the only direct of many roads through from the east to the west, but the movement never got beyond the road being built on paper. However now their chances seem good. The Lewisburg lumber road only has about ten miles to connect with them, and last week an enthusiastic meeting was held at Loganton to boom the building of the route. The road would extend from Loganton to Woodward, and already many miles have been built.

Plenty to do.

There is plenty to do in town for any man who has the least inclination to work, and laborers are scarce. A couple new buildings in course of erection with others being improved, gives all grades of labor employment for the time. The building boom which has sent this town forward during the last years, has apparently spent its force. There are enough dwellings for all and two or three stand empty, unable to rent, and there is small possibility for such another extensive spread as we have had for several years.

Too Old to Get Well.

Mrs. Mary Beck, of East Ridge, near Cherrytree, perhaps the oldest woman in that or adjoining counties, slipped and fell several days ago, fracturing her hip joint. Dr. E. R. Erhard, of Cherrytree, is the attending physician. He reports that, although the break will not heal, the woman has withstood the shock well and promises to live some time. On June 2 she will celebrate her 102nd birthday, and if her health permits her friends will make merry the extraordinary event.

Put Through Their Paces.

Last evening the Sons of Veterans made their first public appearance. They were out for a practice drill. The boys turned out to the number of twenty, nearly all of whom were in uniform. Guns were not plenty enough to go round, but in these piping times of peace, the balance were equipped with apparatus to answer the purpose just as well. James Sandoe, who saw months of service in the last war put them through their paces.
