The Season is out

FOR SUMMER OUTINGS AND PICNICS.

True, everyone enjoys spending a few hours or days in the mountains partaking of Nature's gifts, pleasing the eye with the picturesque, moss covered rocks, and the trees trimmed with their beautiful foliage, filling the lungs with the pure mountain air, and quenching the thirst with the bright sparkling water.

Then, too, there is another pleasing feature connected with these outings—that of opening the lunch basket, providing it contains some of Wolf & Crawford's Fine Cream Cheese, Sardines, Salmon, Potted Ham, Chipped Beef, Corned Beef, Olives, etc. We almost forgot to add a very important item to the above, "You Need a Biscuit." We have them.

Hail Columbia!

Different parties at Linden Hall inform us that with Tuesday evening's, 20, thunder storm, hail fell as large as walnuts, fortunately not in such numbers as to do great damage. The same storm in some of the eastern counties had such hideous appearance that many folks were badly scared and some believed the day of judgment at hand.

GRANGE ARCADIA DEDICATION.

An Interesting Ceremony on Saturday Afternoon.

Grange Arcadia, the new building erected by Pomona Grange, of Centre Hall, was dedicated on Saturday afternoon last, and the interesting ceremony was witnessed by a large number, members of the order, and the public generally. The new building has been in course of erection for nearly two years, and is a large and handsome one, being the most expensive and modern erected by any local grange for its meeting hall in the state. The building is erected of brick, and is two stories in height. On the first floor is a large room which has been designed for use as a town hall or for any public exhibitions. The room will seat several hundred people. At the western end is a large stage, with adjoining room for any purpose. At the main entrance is a ticket office, and on the opposite side of the hall is a commodious committee room. The stage is large and will be fitted up with scenery settings. A broad and easy flight of stairs leads to the second floor where the grange has its meeting rooms. The second floor audience room is designed similar to that of the first floor. It has a high arched ceiling with stage at western end, and the floor is covered with a new carpet of neat design. All the wood work is of oak and finished in oil, showing the natural grain. There are several rooms on the second floor which will be used by the order, as a library room, committee rooms, and for storing the regalia of the order. The building was designed to meet the needs of the order. For many years they occupied one of the rooms in the boro school building, and being compelled to vacate, and having no desirable location at hand, concluded to erect a home of their own.

The building has been erected at an outlay of between $4000 and $5000, but this amount does not express its actual cost. As much of the work as possible was done by the order gratuitously, and in this way its cost was greatly reduced.

The heating apparatus is placed in the basement, and hot air pipes lead to every room on each floor. The ventilation is secured through a process modern and efficient.

For the dedication ceremonies the front of the stage was handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and flowers. A choir of about twenty-five voices occupied the stage, along with the officers of the order and those who participated in the dedication ceremonies. The members wore full regalia and the officers wore jewels and bore emblems of office. The services opened with a prayer by Rev. F. F. Christine, after which the choir rendered a pleasing anthem. Master J. J. Arney, addressing the dedicating officer, Lecturer of the County Grange, Col. J. F. Weaver, announced that the order had erected a hall for the use of the order and that it should be dedicated to the service of the Patrons of Husbandry, in accordance with the forms and usages of the order. Col. Weaver responded by stating that he had been deputized to dedicate the hall if found suitable and satisfactory on inspection.

Master J. J. Arney stated that the Grange was ready to receive the keys from the architect, Edwin Foreman, who in a neat discourse handed over the keys of the building. The Master received the keys and turning to the building committee, Leonard Rhone, J. A. Keller, Perry Breen, Alfred Durst and J. J. Arney, stated that the building had been erected under their guidance, and asked whether the contract had been complied with. The chairman of the committee answered in the affirmative. The Master then congratulated Edwin Foreman upon the faithful performance of his work.

Master Arney then transferred the keys to the representative of the state grange, in evidence of the devotion and subordination of the order. To which the dedicating officer, Col. Weaver responded at much length in a beautiful peroration, touching upon the zeal of the order and its prominent position before the world.

The Assistant Steward, John Keller and Lady Assistant Steward, Miss Florence Rhone, accompanied by four altar bearers, Mrs. G. W. Ocker, Mrs. John Rishell, Miss Carrie Spicher and Miss Estie Ocker, retire to the adjoining room, where the altar had been placed, and returning, the four altar-bearers carrying the altar, preceded by lady assistant steward and followed by the assistant steward. They placed the altar in position.

When the altar was placed in position the officers assumed their respective places about it and the chaplain offered up a fervent prayer. At the conclusion of the prayer the choir rendered a delightful selection.

Mrs. S. W. Smith as Flora, advanced and placed a basket of flowers upon the altar. Mrs. G. W. Ocker, Pomona, followed with a basket of fruits, and Ceres, Miss Carrie Spicher, with a basket of grain. The ladies each delivered an appropriate address as they placed their offerings upon the altar.

The Chaplain, James A. Keller then read part of the service and Col. Weaver proclaimed the hall dedicated to the use of the order. Music by the choir followed, after which Col. Weaver returned the keys to Master of the Grange J. J. Arney, who in turn presented them to the Steward, Biglow Shaffer.

This morning at half past eleven o'clock, a very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mrs. Mary McClenahan, at which her daughter, Miss Anna Elizabeth, was married to Mr. Ervin Lawrence Gettig, of Pleasant Gap. The ceremony was performed in the parlor, which was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants. The bride and groom were unattended, and took their places before the officiating minister, Rev. J. M. Rearick, promptly at the appointed time. Mr. Frank Fisher, of Boalsburg, presided at the organ, and delightfully rendered the wedding march. The bride was attired in a beautiful pearl-colored gown, and she was the picture of loveliness. Congratulations were showered upon the couple when the minister had pronounced them one, and preparations were made to serve the guests with an elaborate collation which was prepared with taste from all the good things in season. The bride received many presents from her friends which were both useful and ornamental, and attested the popularity of the bride. Guests were present from Boalsburg, Pleasant Gap, Bellefonte, and other towns in the county, to the number of about seventy-five.

Died at Farmers Mills.

The death of Mrs. Smith, widow of Emanuel Smith, formerly residing in Centre Hall, occurred last evening at about six o'clock, at the home of her son, Isaac Smith, at Farmers Mills. Her age would have been 83 years in October next. Her husband died several years ago. She was the mother of eleven children, leaving seven sons and a daughter to survive her. The funeral will take place on Saturday morning next, at ten o'clock. Interment will be made in the Union church cemetery at Farmers Mills.

A Piece of Iron That We Couldn't Lift.

On a Pennsylvania freight car the other day, the Bethlehem Steel Company loaded one single piece of armor plate that weighed 112,000 pounds. It is to be used in a Russian battleship.

We "figured" on this and come to the notion we couldn't shoulder this plate without the help of a stout little boy.

DEATH NEAR POTTERS MILLS.

Mrs. Mary Stiver Succumbs after a Long Illness.

The death of Mrs. Mary Ann Stiver occurred last Saturday evening, about eight o'clock, at the home of her son, William H. Stiver, a short distance north of Potters Mills, after a long illness.

Mrs. Stiver's maiden name was Mary A. Henneich, and was born in Aaronsburg in 1816. She was married to Michael Stiver in 1838, and the death of her husband occurred in 1888. Want Teachers' Salaries Raised.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction N. C. Schaeffer has requested a report from each County Superintendent that will show the progress of his district during the last quarter of a century. No such general report has been made since 1877.

Superintendent Schaeffer takes occasion to state that townships in some instances have been profligate in the expenditure of money, and in lieu of the State appropriation have lowered the tax levy. The State Superintendent asks an advance in the teachers' salaries so that the best of them may not be induced to take advantage of the boom in industrial lines and enter other pursuits, but be retained in school work. He also recommends the curtailment of charts, globes, etc.

Our Big Day.

The big day at Centre Hall on the 4th, promises to be no small affair, and there will be enough on the program to keep all interested and alive. The program and amusements are being arranged by the Sons of Veterans, and they have succeeded in getting in shape some first-class attractions. A big parade, sham battle, display of fireworks, games, etc., and addresses are scheduled. There promises to be a big crowd present judging from the sentiment of the people through the valley who say they are coming.

Reservoir Finished.

The boro reservoir has been completed and the finishing touches were placed on it last Thursday. It has been an expensive hole and the effort to make it hold water is considered to be the best that could be done with the hole and the little money available at the hands of the council. The springs are not supplying the town with all water needed, and every evening the town is cut off over night and turned on in the morning. This will continue until extremely heavy rains raise the springs.
