The Season is on

FOR SUMMER OUTINGS AND PICNICS.

True, everyone enjoys spending a few hours or days in the mountains partaking of Nature's gifts, pleasing the eye with the picturesque, moss covered rocks, and the trees trimmed with their beautiful foliage, filling the lungs with the pure mountain air, and quenching the thirst with the bright sparkling water.

Then, too, there is another pleasing feature connected with these outings—that of opening the lunch basket, providing it contains some of Wolf & Crawford's Fine Cream Cheese, Sardines, Salmon, Potted Ham, Chipped Beef, Corned Beef, Olives, etc. We almost forgot to add a very important item to the above, "You Need a Biscuit." We have them.

Death at Bellefonte.

William Wallace Hays, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Bellefonte, was found dead in his bed of heart failure on Sunday morning. He had spent the evening before with some of his immediate friends. He was the son of Robert Hays, one of the original settlers of Bellefonte, who came there in 1814, and was 78 years old. He was the first to introduce the business of tanning in this county, which he continued until 1855. He then left this county and carried on business in Danville, Shamokin and Springfield, Ill., until the fall of 1870, when he accepted a position in the Interior department at Washington, which he held for 25 years, but on account of ill health was forced to resign in 1895. Since that time he has made his home at Bellefonte. His collection of United States coins is considered very valuable. His collection of 1794 cents in widely known among collectors. The members of Mr. Hays's family who survive him are his only daughter, Mrs. J. W. Gephart, of Bellefonte, and a brother, Alfred A. Hays, of Ashton, Mo.

First Wheat in Market.

Sellinggrove's first newly threshed grain of the season was marketed there on Saturday, and brought 75 cents per bushel. The farmer is expecting more than the average acreage. Potatoes are now selling at 75 cents a bushel, and the late crop, it is predicted, will be larger than in many years past. Old Seelyestelle beats Centre county by two weeks in this.

DIED ON MONDAY MORNING.

William Wolf, One of Our Earliest Citizens Succumbs to Disease.

The death of Mr. William Wolf occurred at about half past four o'clock on Monday morning, at his home, after an illness covering but a short period of time, at the age of 75 years, 2 months and 10 days.

His illness was caused by a tumorous growth on the liver and first manifested itself when on a trip to York, Pa., on June 20th.

He had gone there as delegate to the Lutheran Synod, and returned home suffering from the disease. It was not until June 30th that he became bedfast, and it was then that the chances for his recovery were small indeed. For over a week his death was looked for. He was growing weaker daily and there were times when it was thought that the slender thread of life would be severed ere it was. He remained conscious until near the end, recognizing the friends around him, and conversing with them.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Services will be held in the Lutheran church, Rev. J. M. Rearick officiating. Interment will be held in the Centre Hall cemetery.

William Wolf was the son of Jacob Wolf, one of the pioneer settlers in Miles township. He was born near Rebersburg, April 30, 1824, was educated in the public schools, and worked on his father's farm until he was twenty-two years old. He then entered the store of Henry Witmer, at Aaronburg, as clerk. The following year when Mr. Witmer moved to Centre Hall and entered the hotel business, Mr. Wolf accompanied him and took charge of the store in this place. Several years later he bought the store from his employer, and remained in the business until a few years ago when he retired from the firm.

In 1854, Mr. Wolf was married to Miss Anna Witmer, a daughter of his former employer. But one child was born to them, J. Witmer Wolf, now of the firm of Wolf & Crawford.

When Mr. Wolf came to Centre Hall this now lively town was but a hamlet of a few houses. He resided here since and has seen its steady growth to the foremost in the valley. It was then without postal facilities and he was the first postmaster appointed in 1858, a position he held for twelve years, and again serving in that capacity under President Cleveland's administration. In 1876 he was elected president of the Penns Valley bank, and served until several years ago when he was succeeded by Mr. Simon Harper to that position.

Mr. Wolf's vocation was that of a merchant, but he was identified with other enterprises during his life, until he retired from active business pursuits four or five years ago. He was a prominent member of the Centre Hall Lutheran church, and held various positions in that charge throughout his life. For a number of years he was a trustee of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary.

He was the brother of ex-Co. Commissioner John Wolf, of Rebersburg; Mrs. Daniel Ziegler, of Millheim; Rev. Dr. E. J. Wolf, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary; Henry Wolf, of Millheim. These with the widow and the son, survive him.

Eye Destroyed.

Amos Parke, west of town, met with quite a serious accident recently, which deprived him of the sight of an eye, along with other injuries of no little consequence. He was working for Joseph Grossman, who is putting up a new barn on his property across near Tusseyville. A heavy blast had been placed to blow out some rock. The charge did not explode when expected and Mr. Parke, thinking the fuse had burned out, went back to relight the charge. When he stood over the hole there was an explosion, the broken stone striking him full in the face and right arm. A piece of stone entered his left eye and destroyed the sight. His right arm was fearfully lacerated, the flesh being blown full of particles of stone and ground. He suffered greatly, but has recovered sufficiently to allow him to make an occasional visit down to town.

Tenth Census District.

The tenth census district of this state is composed of the counties of Centre, Clearfield, Montour, Northumberland, Snyder and Union. The supervisor selected by senators Quay and Penrose, is H. A. Reed, of Sunbury. The census takers under him will be over 200. Applicants must apply to supervisor Reed. Centre county will have some 40 enumerators, one in each township and boro. In the interest of Harmony none but Quayites need apply. The state has been divided into 19 districts.

Horse Bites Child's Finger Off.

A four year old daughter of Wes. Nevel, Dr. Emerick informs us, lost the little finger of one of her hands, on Saturday last in a peculiar way. The little one was endeavoring to feed a pet horse some grass held in her hand, unfortunately getting too close to the animal's teeth the little finger was nipped off. The family resides across on the other side of the valley.

OUR FOURTH.

The Day Appropriately Observed in Centre Hall.

Our Nation's Natal day was appropriately observed in Centre Hall and the day was celebrated with the spirit of '76. The celebration was gotten up by the Sons of Veterans Camp, of Centre Hall. The day was fine, the weather being all that could be desired. The town was gayly decorated with flags and bunting and many beautiful effects were produced.

In the morning a parade of the order of Sons of Veterans headed by the Pleasant Gap band, was the feature. They were followed by a brigade on wagons and horseback dressed in grotesque and comical costumes. There was a continual banging of crackers and anything that would produce noise. In the afternoon a game of ball between the Rebersburg and Millheim teams was played on Grange Park. Other sports were indulged in, and the crowd was kept amused and interested. In the evening a cavalcade on horse back marshalled by postmaster Boal, paraded the streets of the town. The horsemen numbered about thirty. The band discoursed music throughout the day on Grange Park. The order was good in the town, and there was no trouble of any kind. Every one was out for a good time and they had it.

The Piney Oil Company.

The Piney Oil Company was reorganized in Bellefonte a few days ago, with the following officers:

President, H. Y. Stitzer, Bellefonte. Secretary, J. W. Alexander, Bellefonte. Treasurer, S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville. Solicitor, N. B. Spangler, Bellefonte. Directors: H. Y. Stitzer, D. B. Brisbin, S. M. Swartz, Rev. S. G. Shannon and N. B. Spangler.

It is the intention of the company to open a large operation at their coal vein, as well as to thoroughly prospect the land for oil.

The Piney Company was first organized at Centre Hall in the early days of the oil excitement, a farm was purchased in the oil field, and considerable money spent in prospecting for oil without making a strike. Latterly prospects are good for coal and this has called the company into life again.

Nothing would be more pleasing than a bonanza finally for the Piney stockholders, after many years of patient waiting. Then we'd sing:

"Oil at last at Blueville—
Money now to burn;
Whether school is keepin'
Needn't care a dern;
Hustlin' every which way
Mornin', noon and night;
Rush for board and lodgin'
Prices out of sight."

"Oil at last at Blueville—
Every foot of land
Not already taken
In corking good demand;
No more hard-up grumbles,
Not a single croak;
Everybody happy—
Then the native woke."

Robbed Near Selinsgrove.

Postmaster George C. Wagonseller, of Selinsgrove, was a victim of a highway robbery a few days ago. He drove to Shamokin Dam, and about midnight he started home. While coming through a closed bridge two robbers jumped out from a hiding place, one holding the horse and the other throttling the already thoroughly frightened Postmaster and both demanding his money. Under the circumstances Mr. Wagonseller felt rather liberally inclined and gave them $16, all he had with him. He also offered them his watch, but they refused to accept and disappeared.

Trout Caught.

The trout season closes on Saturday. Anglers had better luck than in the three previous seasons, and if all the catches were reported, the number of speckled beauties caught in the streams of this county would run high in the thousands. So far as reported to the Reporter office, the catches were as follows:

Walter Garrity, 1500; Rev. Rhodes, 750; editor Harter, 700; Rev. Christine, 500; F. Kurtz, 700. The largest trout we hear of was 14 inches, by section boss Osaman, of Poemills. Send in your luck and sizes; there are others who have good scores.

Leg Broken.

Last Friday afternoon, W. W. Spangler, Potters Mills' former postmaster had a leg broken below the knee. He was driving the hay rake when the horse became unmanageable and began to kick, striking Mr. Spangler below the knee, producing a compound fracture of the bone. He is improving as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

Wrist Broken.

While Mrs. James P. Coburn, on attending the reunion of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the club house at Hecla, a short time ago, in making a mistep was thrown down a short flight of stairs, fracturing her left wrist.

Where Rattlesnakes are Plenty.

Rattlesnakes are reported so plentiful in the mountains up Loyalsock creek in Lycoming county, that the lumber and bark jobbers are having trouble to keep their men at work, and many are deserting the camps.

DIED IN ILLINOIS.

David B. Geiss, a Former Resident of this Section.

Mr. David B. Geiss, a one time resident of this section, and the father of D. K. Geiss, of Centre Hall, died at his home in Illinois, on Thursday, June 29th. From the Manhattan, Ill., Weekly Record, we are able to glean the following.

Father David B. Geiss was born in Lebanon county, Pa., April 16, 1812. His parents were George Adam and Susannah Geiss, nee Bright.

On Aug. 18, 1834, he was married to Miss Sarah Kerlin. This union was blessed with twelve children, of which six are still living. In 1859 his companion departed this life, and in 1860 he was again married to Mrs. Catharine Runkle, a sister of his first wife, who preceded him in death in 1890. Of the six children still living are: William F., in Chicago; David K., Centre Hall, Pa.; Daniel K., Joliet, Ill.; J. K., Beloit, Kan.; Mary J., Girard, Kansas, and Anna C.; Manhattan, Ill. The only married daughter preceding the deceased was Mrs. Susan K. Wagner, the mother of Mrs. Mary Flink, Mrs. Ida J. Kerlin, Geiss Wagner, and Rev. W. J. Wagner, who was here recently to visit his grandfather, and preached in Grace United Evangelical church. This was the last sermon he was permitted to hear.

Father Geiss lived in Pennsylvania until 1867, when he came to Illinois, where he resided until his death, on Thursday, June 29, at 11.30 a. m., in Manhattan township, when he peacefully passed into his rest. The cause of his death was old age with its weaknesses, ending in dropsy. The departed arrived at an age of 87 years, 2 months and 13 days. He leaves to mourn his departure six aforesaid children and two step children, Mrs. John Cronmiller, of Joliet, and J. K. Runkle who has been residing with him. Also a niece, Mrs. Johnson, whom he raised from her infancy, and who now resides in Iowa.

In early life he and wife united with the Evangelical Lutheran church, the doctrines of which he faithfully advocated till the last, and yet, so situated as to be deprived of the privileges of the church of his choice, never neglected an opportunity to work with any other orthodox church, and for this reason for a number of years has been associating his labors with the United Evangelical church here.

The funeral services took place on Saturday, July 1, at 10 a. m., at the old home, Rev. F. W. Landwer, officiating, and who chose for his text Phil. 1:22. A large number of relatives and friends were present to show their respect and esteem for the departed. The interment took place in the Klingler cemetery by the side of his departed companion.

Married at Bellefonte.

On the Fourth of July John C. Kennedy, of Williamsport, and Miss Elsie Austin, of Bellefonte, were married at Methodist parsonage, Bellefonte, by Rev. Stephens. A wedding dinner was served at the home of J. Mitchell Leib, after which the bride and groom departed on a wedding tour. The bride formerly resided in Centre Hall, making her home with John Puff, and is well known here. Among the presents she received was a silver tea set. The groom is a plumber, and will reside with his bride in Williamsport, where he is employed.

Struck Water.

The creamery is having Al Krapp drilling a well, being obliged to do it to get fresh and clear water. A depth of over 180 feet was reached yesterday, when the drill tapped a stream sufficient to supply all the demands to be made upon it. In drilling the well, a mass of magnetic rock was struck, which caused pieces of iron and nails to cling tenaciously to the tools. In his experience in punching holes in the earth, and he has put down a number of wells, Al says he has but once before struck the magnetic rock.

Porch Social.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church, will hold a porch social at the home of Mrs. Frank Bradford, on Saturday evening, July 15th. Ice cream, cake, coffee, etc. will be served. Proceeds for the benefit of the church. All are cordially invited.
