Murder at Spruce Creek.

In a dispute over a game of craps at Spruce Creek Saturday evening about 6 o'clock at the home of Moses Pryor pistols were drawn, when John Matthews shot Pryor three times, from the effects of which he died. Pryor's wife seized a revolver and shot at Matthews and it is said wounded him in the leg. Nevertheless Matthews got away and has not yet been apprehended. Dr. Schrom, coroner of Huntingdon county, held an inquest on the body of Pryor at Spruce Creek. The verdict of the jury was not given out. The remains of Pryor were brought to Tyrone and prepared for burial. All parties to the affair are colored people.

THE WATER TROUBLE.

Doing Best to Serve Water, by Turning-off an "On-A-Midnight Pass.

The water situation has taken to the serio-comic, from the shortage, resulting in families been out by turns. A scarcity at the upper end is only remedied by shutting it off from the lower end of town. It is turned off each night, and on Sunday it was on two hours in the morning and again two hours in the evening, so enough might be stored to help the women through on Monday for washing. Surely this is the best that can be done under the circumstances, and only long and heavy rains will temporarily relieve the situation. Friday the water failed at three in the afternoon, and there was no water for the rest of the day. Saturday morning after nine the supply gave out, and there was no water until the steam engines shut down, which was done at noon. Since Sunday the supply runs short in the afternoon although three-fourths of the town from the hotel to beyond the station is cut off from six o'clock in the evening until six the next morning.

Various reasons have been advanced to account for the trouble, among which the following:

1. For want of a reservoir no water could be stored. (The large reservoir was completed weeks ago, when all springs were flush, but nothing for filling the reservoir.)
2. The springs had not all been developed. (All efforts to develop have failed.)
3. Bad men of the old water company have "let it run." (If one or two faucets can draw out all the water, it is evident there can't be water sufficient to supply about 110 faucets.)
4. The steam engines use up the bulk of the water when families have the first right under the laws.
5. There are being too many bath tubs put up using up water.
6. The present springs were guaranteed to furnish an abundant supply. (Don't believe that, the owners of the springs were not so foolish.) Besides, timely warning was given—the officers had eyes but couldn't see.

There they are. Take your choice. Suppose the goodly number still on the old line would attach to the new how much more serious would the situation be?

Sheriff Spangler says he was prevented from sprinkling his front windows! A comic affair took place at midnight a few days ago as a citizen began to use hose for laying the dust. Councilmen were hurriedly called and an infant row began which was lively for a spell, and all parties went to bed, the dust being laid. Queer if there should be no fun amid all this sadness. Besides the annoying water shortage, strife has been engendered, a large debt piled up and one of our best citizens lost his life—all the outgrowth of spite-work for revenge.

Storm at Eagleville.

Thursday afternoon, 20, the village of Eagleville, this county, was visited by one of the severest storms in its history. Thunder, lightning and hail were intermingled. Oldest citizens say it was the hardest storm experienced in that vicinity in years. While it was at its height the large barn of R. W. Clark was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. His stock was saved but his farm implements and grain were burned.

A Difference of Opinion.

Americans are noted for their devotion to ice water and the Englishman looks in undisguised horror at our habit of drinking quarts of the cold fluid when we are warm and tired. He is taught when a child that awful consequences follow washing in very cold water or drinking cold water when he is hot.

A New Law.

A new law, just signed by the Governor, prescribes a standard size for the fruit baskets. Manufacturers of baskets must plainly stamp as "short" baskets or boxes of less than standard capacity, and any marketman who sells undersized baskets of fruit not stamped "short" is liable to arrest and a fine of $25.

Need Not Use Stamps.

Old soldiers who are receiving pensions will be interested in the decision made recently by Commissioner Evans who says that internal revenue stamps need not be placed upon any pension papers. Many pensioners have been affixing these stamps to their pension papers, but according to this decision it would be unnecessary to do so.

Genuine Hydrophobias.

Dr. Leonard Pierson, the state veterinary surgeon, has been in Bellefonte for several days past on important business. Last Wednesday he made analysis of the brain of William Lowry's cattle that died on his farm in Buffalo Run a short time ago under suspicious circumstances. The doctor pronounced it a genuine case of hydrophobia.

Death Near Bellefonte.

Jacob Flack died at his home near Collins Furnace at Bellefonte, last Thursday morning, from consumption. His age was about fifty-one years. His remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery on Saturday morning.

Rattles Drank Baby's Milk.

The Huntingdon Journal tells this one: A farmer's wife living in Tell township had a couple of young children, one of them being very cross. One morning having a large amount of house work on hand and having no one to take charge of the child, left it to go in the back yard where it was toddling about and crying. After a time the mother noticed that the child's cries had stopped and that everything was quiet and went to look for it, she was horrified to see the little one sitting contentedly in the yard playing with two large rattlesnakes, having the tail of a snake in each hand and enjoying the music of the rattles. The snakes had been attracted by the child's milk as the bottle was empty. The mother was too much startled to make an outcry and in a few moments the snakes disappeared, and the child missing his companions continued crying. The next day a bottle of milk was set out there and the farmer was on the watch. The milk had been there but a short time when the snakes again made their appearance and were killed, one measuring five feet and nine inches having eleven rattles and a button, and the other four feet and four inches and having eight rattles.

Death of Judge Hoffa.

Hon. Cyrus Hoffa, died on Tuesday night at his home near Lewisburg. He was 62 years of age and is known all over the State as a prominent miller, having served at one time as president of the State Miller's Association. In 1883 he was elected as Associate Judge of Union county. He was also a director of the Union National Bank and of the Home Telephone Company. Since 1883 he has been president of the Buffalo Milling Company, which operates a large mill. The deceased was one of Union county's noblest and most useful citizens. In his death the editor of this paper mourns the departure of an esteemed friend.

Sudden Death of Cal. Bathgate.

Lemont was startled on Saturday night by the sudden death of Calvin Bathgate, one of its most esteemed citizens.

Mr. Bathgate was attending the Republican primaries in the school house on Saturday evening, when, at about 9 o'clock, he had an attack of apoplexy. He was taken to his home and about midnight he expired.

Mr. Bathgate was a veteran of the civil war and was wounded in one of the battles. He was a member of Co. D, 148 regiment. He is survived by a wife and five children. Funeral at the Branch on Wednesday morning.

Peach Crop a Total Loss.

John I. Boyer of Mt. Pleasant Mills, Snyder county, one of the largest and most successful peach growers in this State, several weeks ago was telling with pride that he expected a yield of 1000 bushels of peaches, and that he was the only peach grower in Pennsylvania who would get a yield of peaches this season. On Sunday, unfortunately, a hailstorm visited his orchard and destroyed them all. There are no other peaches in that county.

A Sensible Bill.

One of the most sensible bills passed by the legislature and now in force is known as the "junk bill," which prohibits boys under a certain age from selling junk unless accompanied by a parent or guardian. Heretofore junk dealers encouraged boys to bring brass, copper and valuable fittings to them and it had a tendency to make young boys dishonest. To stop this practice is the purpose of this bill.

Passmore Hotel Fire.

The Passmore house, in Phillipsburg, one of its leading and oldest hotels, James Passmore proprietor, caught fire last Friday morning and was damaged to the extent of $10,000, on which there is a partial insurance. Passmore's loss by reason of the house being closed will be considerable. The guests escaped. Some of the servants lost more or less of their clothing.

Bicyclist Evans Finishes His Trip.

Three weeks ago the Reporter made mention of a contemplated bicycle trip through the New England states, by Daniel K. Evans, son of Rev. Kreider Evans. The young man arrived at his home in Pottstown on Friday last, his trip finished and having covered a distance of 1350 miles through New England.

Big Liabilities.

In the United States Court, on Friday, David W. Holt, of Phillipsburg, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. He was a lumber man and coal operator. His liabilities amount to $906,372.68, but he has no assets. Andrew J. Graham, also of Phillipsburg, agent for a powder company, filed his petition. Liabilities, $16,368.58; assets, $109.

First in His Own Cemetery.

James McIntyre, a wealthy farmer, of Blair township, Blair county, recently laid out a cemetery on his farm for the free use of his neighbors, no other being near. While putting the finishing touches to the work of fencing in the plot McIntyre was stricken with paralysis and died. On Saturday he was laid in the first grave to be dug in the new cemetery.

HERO OF TWO WARS.

Death of General Thomas F. McCoy at Lewistown.

General Thomas F. McCoy died at his home in Lewistown, on 20 inst.

His age was 80 years. He entered the Mexican war as first lieutenant of the 11th U. S. Infantry, and was breveted captain for gallant and meritorious conduct. At Moline del Rey, his superior officer having fallen, he commanded the regiment and was accorded the highest praise by General Cadwallader, the brigade commander. At the outbreak of the civil war, McCoy was appointed deputy quartermaster of Pennsylvania, and in 1862 was made colonel of the 107th Pa. V., remaining in active service until the close of the war. For his services in the battle of Five Forks he was breveted a brigadier general.

His son, lieutenant Frank R. McCoy, is a graduate of West Point and is in the service with the 10th U. S. Cavalry in Cuba. He was among the wounded at El Caney a year ago.

A Centre County Boy's Success.

Twelve years ago a young man from the Loop went to work at the State College as a day laborer with pick and shovel, says the Centre Democrat. He had not a dollar in the world, but was poor and friendless and took this means to make an honest living.

About this time he became acquainted with J. W. Houser, the painter, who became interested in him and gave him employment. He worked for Mr. Houser two years, then went to Philadelphia. This was ten years ago, and today this young man, whose name is John H. Glasgow, and who was born in Penns valley, is worth upwards of $50,000. He is a member of the Philadelphia council, a large owner of real estate and proprietor of a large hotel doing a flourishing business, corner of Vine and Second streets. This shows that you can't keep a Centre county boy down; they will get to the top put them where you will.

Miss Gebhart Starts the Furnace Fires.

At 6 o'clock on Monday morning Miss Mary Elizabeth Gebhart, daughter of Superintendent and General Manager J. W. Gebhart, applied the torch to light the fires in the plant of the Bellefonte Furnace Company. About 200 persons were present to witness the blowing in. This plant has been idle since 1890, when it was closed down by the Collins Brothers.

Two months ago a number of Philadelphians organized a new company, capitalized at a quarter of a million, and purchased the plant outright, as well as buying and leasing all the best ore mines in the county. More than 400 men will be given employment by the new company.

Clearfield Miners Uneasy.

The strike settlement in the Clearfield region of two weeks ago seems likely to be broken by the action of a small railroad. Up until this week the railroad ran a train from Reynoldsville to the Big Soldier collieries to carry miners ten miles to their work. About 400 men were handled in this way. Since the strike the railroad has declared the men must walk, and the miners called a mass-meeting, refusing to go to work. Two thousand men may go out.

Died in Mercer County.

Miss Lucy Durst, years ago a resident of this valley, died at her home at Greenville, Mercer county, on the 8th inst. She was aged about 75 years, and was a sister of Mrs. George Durst, now residing at Osceola, Pa. Miss Durst has many relatives residing in this section being connected with all the Durst families. Her family at one time owned the farm of postmaster Boal, where they resided.

A Big Document.

The recorder of Centre county this week received for recording on the county docket the articles of incorporation of the New Carnegie Steel Company, Limited. The docket is the longest one ever entered in Centre county, covering 111 pages of typewritten matter and when recorded will spread over more than fifty pages of the docket. Five million dollars is the capitalization of the new concern.

Will Make Constables Wardens.

The Pennsylvania State Game Commissioner has decided to place in the hands of every constable a copy of the act making constables of the state, game fish and forestry wardens and imposing a penalty of $50 or two months' imprisonment upon the official when he neglects or refuses to perform his duty.

House Split by Lightning.

During a severe storm Sunday afternoon lightning struck the house of Thomas Gleason, in West Clearfield, entirely wrecking it. The house was split from roof to cellar, but the front part, in which the family was gathered, was left standing. A cow on a lot was instantly killed.

Woods Meeting.

The United Evangelicals of Egg Hill will hold a meeting in the woods near the church, commencing August 11, and to continue over Sunday. Rev. C. F. Garrett, of Loganton; and Rev. H. T. Searle, of Clintondale, will assist Rev. W. W. Rhoads at all the services. Communion Sabbath morning.
