COURT PROCEEDINGS

The Disposition of Cases up for Trial Since Monday.

August sessions of Centre County Quarter Sessions of the Peace convened on Monday morning, at 9 o'clock, with Hon. John G. Love, President Judge, on the bench, and all the court officers in their respective places.

Edmund Blanchard, brother of Jno. Blanchard, Esq., of the local bar, was admitted to practice law in the several courts of Centre county.

The list of grand jurors was then called and twenty answered to their names, out of the twenty-four drawn. John C. Henderson, ex-county commissioner and farmer, of Huston township, was chosen foreman, and received the charge of the court relative to their duties as grand jurors.

The arson cases from Taylor township were continued to November sessions, as one of the defendants has not fully recovered from his wounds.

The constables of the several boroughs and townships of the county then made their quarterly returns.

Court handed down an opinion on the case of Goodman vs. Condo, et al., burning of the Etlinger house at Woodward, resolving the questions of law reserved in favor of the plaintiff and sustaining the verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The decree makes ex-Sheriff Condo liable for the damages, $800, and costs, together about $1,000.

The first case called was, George K. Baker and Lizzie F. Wieland, executors of Joseph Baker, deceased, mortgagees vs. Wm. McBath, administrator of etc., of Lucella McBath, dec'd, co-mortgagor with her husband, Wm. McBath, since deceased. Verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $970.00.

Mike Trubitz and John Katchick were naturalized. They are from Snow Shoe township. Several others were rejected for the reason that they were not sufficiently acquainted with our form of government, and could not pass the test laid down by the court.

Com. vs. Willis Witherite, indicted for betrayal; prosecutrix May Estring. This case is from Boggs township and the defendant plead guilty and the usual sentence was imposed by the court.

M. Shires vs. E. H. Auman and Emma L. Auman. This case is an appeal from the judgment of a justice of the peace by Emma L. Auman, and the name of E. M. Auman was stricken from the record, and grows out of an insurance transaction, E. H. Auman taking out a policy of life insurance in favor of his wife in the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company, of Newark, N. J., and giving his note to the plaintiff for the first premium. Verdict in favor of the defendant, Emma L. Auman.

Com. vs. John Shuey, indicted first count, indecent assault; second count, assault with intent to commit a rape; prosecutor George Panyik. This defendant was prosecuted for attempting a rape on Dora Panyik, a nine-year-old daughter of the prosecutor, at a picnic at Clarence, between nine and ten o'clock in the evening of the first day of July last. The defendant could not be sufficiently identified by the prosecution, and at the close of the testimony did not warrant a conviction, and submitted the case to the jury on the question of costs. All the parties concerned being foreigners, David Chambers, of Clarence, was sworn in as interpreter. Verdict not guilty, but the defendant to pay all the costs.

Com. vs. Harry E. Korman, indicted for larceny, prosecutor George T. Bush. This defendant lives in Benner twp., and on the 22d of June took the bicycle of the prosecutor in Bellefonte and rode home on it and afterwards traded it off. Defendant plead guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, costs of prosecution and to go to the Reformatory at Huntingdon.

Com. vs. Hiram D. Blowers, indicted for betrayal; prosecutrix Catharine Cunningham. Defendant plead guilty and the usual sentence.

Wm. S. Brooks vs. Overseer of Poor of Spring twp. This case is an appeal from the auditor's settlement of the account of the plaintiff, who had been an Overseer of the Poor of Spring twp. in 1898, as made on the 13th day of March 1899, when the auditors disallowed a claim for costs amounting to $16.55 in a case wherein Mary Rider had sued the poor district for nursing a pauper and obtained judgment for $10. The defendants alleging that the case could have been settled for $8, before suit had been brought and that Brooks had been advised by the township's attorney to settle the claim, but would not do it. The auditors allowed the amount of the judgment, but refused to give Mr. Brooks credit for the costs incurred, whereupon Mr. Brooks appealed from the settlement by the auditor. Verdict in favor of the defendant district.

Com. vs. James Martin, indicted for betrayal; prosecutrix Mertie Ammerman; verdict guilty.

Com. vs. D. H. Bean, indicted for false pretense, prosecutor Samuel H. Deihl. The Commonwealth alleged that the defendant came to the carriage shop of the prosecutor in Bellefonte on the 18th day of September, 1897 and bought a buggy for $38.00, on four month's time, representing that he was the owner of the farm on which he lived in Taylor township, and asked the prosecutor to deliver the buggy that afternoon at Julian, which he did; the defendant receiving the buggy there and handing the prosecutor his note therefore, while in fact he did not own the farm at that time on which he lived, and sold the buggy on the 28th of September and on the first of October moved his family to Pittsburg. The defendant admits this, but alleges that he said to the prosecutor that he was a free holder, and further that he was the owner of real estate in the City of Pittsburg and at Latrobe at the time, producing deeds therefor. Verdict not guilty, but the defendant to pay costs of prosecution.

Com. vs. Samuel Styers, indicted for indecent assault, prosecutrix Gertrude Eisenhuth. This case is from Coburn and the prosecutrix alleges that on the 19th day of June last while she was in the defendant's place of business enjoying a plate of ice cream, the defendant made an indecent assault upon her.

Tremendous Downpour of Rain.

Late on last Saturday afternoon a thunder gust came over this vicinity with an unprecedented downpour of rain accompanied by some hail. The flood-gates of the heavens above us opened about 6 and continued open to 6:35 p. m., causing a precipitation of 1.84 inches of rain in 35 minutes. A rainfall like this to have continued for another hour would have caused a great flood and much damage along streams. During the night there was another rainfall of .36 inch; on Sunday morning there was another .14 inch, and during Sunday night .78 inch of rain. A total of 2.76 inches.

Friday evening previous there was .23 inch.

Saturday evening's thunder storm was wide-spread. Rain came down in torrents in the vicinity of Farmers Mills, and considerable damage resulted to trees and fences.

At Pinegrove the rain was heavy, and fields destroyed by washouts.

Danger from Brush Fire.

On Friday afternoon Joshua Potter, farmer near this place, had a not too funny experience after firing a brush pile. A breeze started up just then and carried sparks into a timothy stubble field dry as punk. In less than a minute Mr. Potter was confronted by a first cousin to a prairie fire. He had to get-up-and-git without waiting on the order of his gitting, and fight fire in the stubbles. Help came, but the fire was stopped on reaching a plowed field. The Pinecreek school house was in imminent danger at one time.

Result: Ten acres of stubble field burned black including ten rods of Mr. Potter's fence, and forty rods of fence on the adjoining farm of Mr. Glace.

There was as miss in schedule about this—a rain set in a few minutes too late to put out the fire; or Joshua set the brush on fire ahead of time.

Water Shortage Over.

Since the heavy rains during the past week, the town has been supplied with sufficient water by the boro plant, and the scarcity is over for the present at least. The heavy rains, however, washed much dirt and ground in the reservoir and the plant from Saturday until Tuesday presented each patron with a sand lot. The water was very muddy during these days, and there was considerable complaint in consequence. To prevent this difficulty in the future, the council has a number of men at work covering the west and south clay sides of the reservoir with a stone facing. The rains washed down the clay bank and by this means they hope to prevent a repetition of the recent experience.

Lawn Sociable.

The K. L. C. E. Society of the Bethany United Evangelical church at Tusseyville, will hold a lawn social on the lawn adjoining the church, on Saturday evening September 2nd. Ice cream, cake, lemonade, candies, bananas, etc., will be served, and among the many entertainments of the evening will be a Guess Cake. Great interest is taken to make the evening an enjoyable one to all. We extend a cordial invitation to all to come and spend the evening pleasantly and socially; come and see what we have in store for you.

A Big Tomato.

Mrs. Keller, the estimable wife of ex-Co. Treasurer D. C. Keller, recently sent a monster in the tomato line to this office which so far as present records heard from, exceed the largest of them all. It was almost sixteen inches in circumference and weighed over two pounds. Several large tomatoes are reported in different parts of the county, but not one of them can come up to the one Mrs. Keller raised.

Lawn Social.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a lawn social at the parsonage on Saturday evening next, September 2nd. Ice cream, cake and coffee will be served; proceeds for the benefit of the church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The Reaper's Call.

Recent deaths: Thomas Akley died at his home near Snowshoe Intersection, on Friday. Age 63 years; survived by wife, son and daughter.

GAME LAWS.

Dates Between Which Game May be Legally Killed in this State.

For the benefit of sportsmen and others interested, we publish the time in which game may be legally killed in this state. The hunting season is close at hand and this digest should be cut out and carefully consulted.

English sparrow, kingfisher, hawk, horned owl, barred owl, green heron and night heron are not protected.

Fifteen days' time is allowed after expiration of season to dispose of game.

It is always unlawful to take or attempt to take any game except by the use of guns held at arms' length. Fine $50.

To have trapped game in possession, fine $20.

Fearfully and Wonderfully Made.

A Slate Run correspondent writes to the Wellsboro Advocate: As the result of a wager between John Callahan and Harry Holford the former ate 38 bananas, one-half of a watermelon, numerous apples and pears and topped off with one-half dozen cathartic pills, and was only fourteen minutes in doing it. After stowing away the above he went to his boarding house and ate a hearty dinner.

A New Physician.

Dr. John I. Robison purchased the dwelling and practice of Dr. J. F. Alexander, who is compelled to discontinue practice owing to ill health. Dr. Robison is a graduate of Jefferson Medical College, and for the past three years has been in the Polyclinic Hospital, Philadelphia, one of the attending physicians. He will remove to Centre Hall the latter part of this week and open his practice.

Another Veteran.

David Shilling, residing near Bellefonte, died last Sunday evening, due to illness incidental to old age, at the age of about 75 years. He leaves a wife and five children to survive him. The deceased was a veteran of the civil war, a member of Centre county's famous 148th P. V. I. His remains were interred in the Bellefonte cemetery on Tuesday.

Jewish Holidays.

Preparations are being made by the Hebrews to celebrate their coming holidays. The first event will be New Year and will be commemorated on September 5th and 6th. According to the Jewish calendar this will be the year of 5660. The Day of Atonement will occur in September 14th.

Died at Milesburg.

Michael Lebkicher died at his home near Milesburg last Saturday morning from a complication of diseases, at the age of 67 years. He was a member of Co. H, 148th Regiment, P. V. I., and leaves a wife and one son to survive him.

Barn Burned.

The Lewistown Sentinel says the barn of Robert Sigler in Dry Valley was struck by lightning on last Friday evening and destroyed by the fire that followed. There was a heavy loss in crops and implements, and also a mule and two or three calves.

Will go to Loganton.

A Lewisburg exchange says that the Kulp brothers have fully decided to extend the Buffalo Valley railroad into Loganton. The men are now at work on the extension and are working towards that borough.

Growing Shorter.

The days are growing shorter at the rate of two minutes per day. Not enough to be noticeable daily, but meaning almost a quarter of an hour each week.
