yet with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Meyer, in Centre Hall. Bruce Lingle, from Iowa, arrived here Sunday, to visit his mother and friends. Bruce looks well, and informs us they have an immense corn crop in Iowa, even ahead of the brag crop in Kansas. He was accompanied east by his wife and daughters, who stopped over in Altoona for a few days visit, when they will come on to Centre Hall in time for the picnic. -Mr. Aaron O. Detweiler, of near Tusseyville, was a pleasant caller last Saturday. Mr. Detweiler is a modern farmer, as is evidenced by his crops this year when there was a general complaint everywhere. A few days ago while out inspecting his corn, he found a stalk which was of more than ordinary height and he measured it. It was ten feet and nine inches long, a size of which few like it will be found in our valley.

-James Davis, a citizen of Winthrop, Beadle county, Dakota, stopped off to see his brother and sister near Linden Hall on his way back from attending the G. A. R. encampment at Philadelphta. It is about forty-five years since he left this county, and he has held several county offices in his western county. Mr. Davis is one of the '49-ers who left here for California, when the gold fever was at its height.

Chronic Diarrhoea Cured. This is to certify that I have had chronic diarrhoea ever since the war. I got so weak I could hardly walk or do anything. One bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me sound and well.

J. R. Gibbs, Fincastle, Va. I had chronic diarrhoea for twelve years. Three bottles of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured me.

S. L. SHAVER, Fincastle, Va. Both Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Shaver are prominent farmers and reside near Fincastle, Va. They procured the remedy from Mr. W. E. Casper, a druggist of that place, who is well acquainted with them, and will youch for the truth of their statements. For sale by J. H. Ross, Linden Hall; S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Our schools will open on Sept. 25th. As far as can be learned our directors have as yet not placed a teacher for our school here. We have a sort of 'one horse" school board at present which accounts for the above. If they had given some of our best teachers schools, instead of rejecting them for spitework, they would have a teacher for our schools but to please some of our "township bosses" they rejected some teachers that they would no doubt gladly take now.

The Boro Schools.

Editor Reporter:-The schools of Centre Hall seem to have been on a decline for a number of years, when last year it was agreed, or rather voted by the School Board to have a fourth room, and make it the High School. They introduced a 3 years' course, but John Hardenberg, a bright young for various reasons it was necessary to man of our town, left on Tuesday for Of course to some extent at first.

Of course the change made a great deal of work for the pupils in the High School during the first year, but this terms' work for them was not so hard. man, E. J. Swanger, left a few days

The schools started with a fair prospect of being up to the standard, with but one exception, viz., no written arithmetic for the scholars in the first year class in the High School. No one but the directors knew of this till school commenced, and, when the citizens found it out, there was a general "kick." Written arithmetic for those scholars. The clamer became pretty loud, and the School Board apparently got a little nervous, so a special meeting was called, and what did the Board do? Vote to put in arithmetic where it should be, and let the rest alone? They voted to make a general change in all the schools. This change was to take the advanced class of each of the lower three rooms and transfer it to the one next higher. This was a very beneficial (?) change for all the scholars. All the scholars in the Grammar and High Schools have lost on an average about fifteen minutes on each recitation. That amounts to a great deal in a term of school. And what is more, the class that needs written arithmetic did not vicinity of the Red mill dam, but not get it. They lose fifteen minutes on each of their other lessons though.
